

Chapter 695

Thud!

Sabina brought the object in her hand to Chuck. He took a look and heaved a sigh of relief. It was a man, so fortunately it was not Black Rose!!

But who was this man? Was he sent by Loomis?

In case Chuck failed to kill Sabina?

Yes, it must have been Loomis's doing.

"I think it's time for me to leave this place," Sabina said stoically.

Chuck was silent and asked, "You want to compete with Loomis for the position of the family head?"

This plan must be forestalled!

If Sabina seized the seat of the family head, with her ability, strength, and the terribly invincible foundation of the Yeager family, their overall strength would definitely be raised by a lot!

The situation would take a turn for the worse.

"Compete? You still don't understand. I was left to fend for myself and survived until now. I survived, so I am the next head of the Yeager family from now onwards!" Sabina announced. It was as if she had changed into another person.

Chuck was silent!

She was right. If the Yeager family took a fancy to her, they would nurture her in the form of cultivating her outside.

She knew this for a long time, and this had encouraged her to survive until now.

"I saw another person just now, and she also noticed me. I wonder, who does she work for?" Sabina looked at Chuck.

"Me," Chuck replied. She was talking about Black Rose.

"You're quite honest!" Sabina harrumphed as she tidied up her things.

Sure enough, the phone rang. It was a call from Black Rose who said, "I'm sorry, I was discovered."

Chuck was bewildered. Was Black Rose actually apologizing to him?

"It's fine."

"Okay."

The phone was hung up.

"Also, tell me in all honesty. Who you are?" Sabina asked.

"You really have no idea?" Chuck stared at her. Didn't she investigate him?

"I don't know. I didn't look up your information because it's not easy to meet someone who understands me. I don't want to look into it and make myself unhappy. I hope you don't have what it takes to soil my spirit," Sabina said slowly, one word at a time!

"Unfortunately, I do," Chuck admitted. What was there to hide?

Anyways, after she left, she would definitely find out.

"You do?" Sabina approached Chuck.

They were close at hand!

"The Yeager family was at fault first," Chuck said calmly.

"No, there is no right or wrong between families, only... a winner or loser! Now, I'll be the one to play with you. I wonder how long you'll be able to hold on," Sabina turned around and left.

"You're leaving, just like that?" Chuck asked flatly.

Karen's intention was to have Loomis be appointed as the head of the house. He could mess up the whole family, but Sabina was totally different from him. With her ability, she could bring the Yeager family's power to another level.

There was a huge difference between them!

"It's not easy to make me stay!"

"I could have stabbed you to death just now."

"I could have strangled you to death before you stabbed me."

"I let you go!"

Sabina turned around and smirked, "So did I. How do we judge this?"

Chuck walked up to her. After a moment of silence, he said, "Fix a bowl of noodles first. I'm hungry."

Sabina snorted and said, "Do you take me as your nanny?"

Chuck followed her home. She began to clean up simply. In fact, she was just writing a letter to assure her students.

Then, she cooked up two bowls of noodles, one for each of them.

After eating, she lay on the bed and slept.

Chuck came out and called Karen to ask about this matter.

When Karen heard this, she was startled and asked, "So, what's wrong with you, Chucky? You feel acquainted with her?"

"Well, I have this feeling."

"You..." Karen was amused, "It's fine. If you can't kill her, then just come back."

"Will that affect our plan?" This was Chuck's main concern.

"Yes, but there are other solutions. For example, I'll rush over to where you are overnight. Do you want me to do so?" Karen asked seriously.

What Karen meant was she could come over and kill Sabina.

She had weathered a lot of hardships over her life, so it was impossible for Sabina to be her opponent.

As long as Karen came over, Sabina would definitely die!

"She seems to be sleeping," Chuck said as he took a look inside the room.

"Huh?" Karen was surprised.

"You should come here, Mom," He said after a moment's consideration.

"Really? Then I'll come over. Wait for me. When I get there, you can come back with me."

"Okay, you'll reach overnight?"

"Yes, overnight. I'm hanging up."

After hanging up, Chuck turned around and got a fright. Instinctively, he sent whoever was behind him a kick. No sooner than Sabina had just woken up and rubbed her eyes, she was sent flying.

She was thrown onto the bed in a sorry state!!

"Are you not in your right mind?" Sabina climbed to her feet.

"I know who your mother is now. No wonder. Your foundation is so weak, yet you are still able to reach this level," Sabina dusted off the footprint from her body.

Chuck didn't answer her.

Sabina began to pack up her things. She said, "Your mother is coming, so I have to hide. I'm going back to my family. I wanted to sleep, but you called your mom over. Would you believe it!"

Sabina left with her bag.

Chuck, of course, stopped her. Sabina glanced at Chuck and asked,

"Blocking me, are you?"

"My mum wants to kill you, it's futile for you to flee anywhere," Chuck shook his head.

"Maybe, but maybe not," Sabina said indifferently.

"Do you have the confidence to hide?" Chuck thought that someone like her would never be as confident as she was now for no reason.

Sabina shook her head and said, "Give it a rest. You betrayed me even when I treated you to food. My effort has gone to waste now."

"The next time we meet will be your death! It won't be negotiable. You've done something wrong. You shouldn't have betrayed me!" Sabina said as she left.

Chuck didn't stop her.

He sat at the door until dawn broke. Soon, Karen and Black Rose reached. Karen walked into the house and looked around, then she said with a strange expression, "This girl is a bit special. She's decisive. It's not mere fortuitous that she can survive until now. She's truly strong..."

"Let's go back," Chuck had not slept all night. He could actually hold Sabina up last night. After all, there was a bomb in his possession. But since Sabina could survive until now, she was certainly not so easy to kill.

"Alright. I overlooked one thing. This girl's ability is very different. It's lucky that you didn't use bombs last night, otherwise, there would be a big problem!" Karen's eyes were sharp.

From the situation of the house, Karen could tell her character.

Sabrina was circumspect!

Karen didn't know who would emerge as the winner. She believed that Chuck might die first.

"Hmm," Chuck was absent-minded. This time, no lives were lost. He had originally come here to kill someone, but he did not expect to meet a person who would seem like a comrade.

Chuck, Karen and Black Rose left and returned to the United States. Chuck called Loomis.

"Chuck, did you manage to kill Sabina? I can't get in touch with my people," It was really Loomis behind the assassination attempt earlier.

Just in case he failed!

Sabina had been looming large on Loomis's worries, hence she had to die!

"No, I didn't."

Loomis snorted, "You didn't? Do you know what it means for her to still be alive?" He was enraged.

"I'll immediately help you seize the position of the family head. Be prepared," Chuck hung up the phone. Where had Sabina gone? Did she go back to the Yeager family?

Chapter 696

Loomis was so enraged that he almost smashed his phone.

"Help me? You couldn't even kill Sabina. What are you helping me with?"

He smashed an antique plate beside him. The bodyguards in the room trembled because of Loomis's wrath. It was no joke!

"Mr. Loomis, don't worry. Sabina didn't die, so we'll go and kill her! Gather a few more people and we'll go hunt her down!" One of the bodyguards said tremulously.

"Yes, Mr. Loomis. It's just a woman, isn't it? Chuck couldn't kill her because he is not strong as you!" Another bodyguard said.

Loomis snorted furiously and said, "It's not that easy to bring her down. But you're right. How can that fool, Chuck, be compared to me?"

"Yes, he's an idiot! Compared to you, he's far behind."

"Right, all the information has been given to him, but he still couldn't kill her. What is he if not a fool?"

Loomis's men immediately began to flatter him.

Loomis raised his hand and said, "Enough. Get a few more people to find Sabina and kill her. Bring her head to me! Am I clear?"

"Yes, Mr. Loomis. You can rest assured!" The bodyguards were confident!

How powerful would a woman be? Furthermore, they were the Yeager family's bodyguards!

Once they showed themselves, they would become one of the top ten combat masters in the world. It was just that they had joined the Yeager family and hid their identities.

"Get going! Don't let me down!!" Loomis was ferocious. If he had killed Sabina, he would be one step nearer to the position of the head of the Yeager family!

Therefore, Sabina must die!

Loomis sat down lazily, smirking at the thought that he was going to be the family head!

Sabrina must be killed, and Chuck had to die too!

At an extremely ordinary bar.

There was an old man at the counter who was mixing drinks. The bar was silent, given that there were not many customers. Suddenly, the door opened and a woman with a backpack came in.

The drunken old man immediately came to his senses. He walked out of the counter, and knelt down, greeting, "Miss!"

"Please drop the formalities," The woman said.

"It's a must. Miss, you have finally come to look for me. I thought you were..." Sean, the old man, said.

"Dead?"

Sean didn't dare to answer her.

"When I came out from home at the age of four, I was fully prepared to meet my death at any moment. However, the stronger I held on to that thought, the longer I could live until today!" As it turned out, this woman was Sabina.

"Yes, Miss Sabina. Your ability is the strongest amongst the Yeager family's descendants. Otherwise, the Old Master wouldn't..."

"It wasn't Grandpa who asked me to go out back then, it was Greatgrandpa," Sabina shook her head. There was a huge difference between them!

"Indeed! Then why did you come here now?" Sean was confused. Sabina should have come here on the day of her 20th birthday.

If she was still alive, it meant that the test had reached its end. Then, she would be able to recover her identity as a member of the hidden Family.

However, Sabina didn't come over that day. Sean had felt a twinge of commiseration and thought that she was dead.

"I met an interesting person. But never mind, let's not talk about him first. Tell me everything about the Yeager family right now," Sabina said.

When she came out of the house, she knew that everything about the family had nothing to do with her before her 20th birthday. She absolutely could not get in touch with any of the family's industries!

In addition, she couldn't use her identity to get money from any of the family's properties, so everything regarding the Yeager family was cut off from her!

For the past few years, Sabina had always kept the promise. It was the first time for her to have stepped feet into the family's estate.

Therefore, she knew nothing about what was going on with the Yeager family.

She didn't even know when Loomis got married. After all, her test hadn't ended at that time, and she wasn't part of the Yeager family yet. Hence, she was not qualified to know, let alone attend the wedding.

"Yes, please wait for a moment."

Sean immediately went to close the door, but some customers wanted to come in. However, he ignored them and directly closed the door. The customers outside cursed before leaving.

"Miss Sabina, what do you want to eat? There's caviar, steak and..." Sean asked.

"Noodles are fine."

Hearing this, Sean was startled. Then, he asked her again, "Will that be enough?"

After all, every meal enjoyed by the members of the Yeager family was extravagant beyond belief. Every day, there were different kinds of delicacies being served.

"Yes."

"Please give me a minute then, Miss Sabina," Sean went to prepare the meal.

After serving the noodles, he looked at Sabina in shock. She actually finished the noodles, down to the very last drop of soup. His cooking skill was rather awful!

He had rarely made noodles.

"Tell me now." Sabina was full.

"Well, your family's situation is pretty bad now. The Old Master is seriously ill..." Sean sighed and briefed Sabina everything about the Yeager family's recent condition, including Loomis's marriage and Chuck's big fuss!

"What? Did Chuck make a mess of my family?" Sabina frowned. Behind the thick glasses were her beautiful but cold eyes.

"Yes, the situation was very dangerous at that time. He had a bomb in his hand when he threatened the Old Master, Mr. Loomis, and Miss Stacy and took them hostage. Chuck challenged the prestige of the Yeager family! He deserves to die!" Sean became angry as he spoke.

"Then?"

Sabina asked impassively. Chuck, did a pretty good job of messing up her family, she'd give him that!

"Then, Chuck's mother, Karen Lee, suddenly appeared and defeated the strongest person in the family. She took the Old Master and left. After he came back, he was suddenly ridden with illness!" Sean was worried.

"He came back and was ridden with illness?" Sabrina looked surprised.

"That's right!"

Sabina stood up with a glint in her beautiful eyes. She guessed, "Things are probably not that simple!"

"The doctor examined him. It was his physical illness that broke out."

"How could it be so coincidental?" Sabina shook her head and explained, "I've been out for so long, and my experience tells me not to underestimate anyone. Karen Lee must have done something. She owns a technology company. What are her research findings? No one knows."

"This shouldn't be possible, right? How could it be that sort of thing?" Sean immediately questioned. Birth, aging, sickness, and death. Would these laws of nature be undermined?

"I just said not to underestimate anyone. Karen is not as simple as you think. She is hiding a lot of things." Sabina was alert.

Sean was speechless, but he still felt that it was impossible.

"Well, Miss Sabina, you can go back to your home now. The Old Master may pass on any minute now," Sean sighed.

"No, I want to see Karen Lee first. I need something from her to save grandpa!" Sabina said coldly.

"But, Karen Lee is very powerful. Even Roger was unable to deal with her. It's definitely much more dangerous for you to go there!"

"Danger lurks everywhere! But we have no choice. I must find her! She must have done something to grandpa!"

Sabina said with great certainty. Sean thought for a while and told her, "If you must meet Karen Lee, then you'd better catch someone as a hostage. That will be safer!"

"Who?"

"Her son, Chuck Cannon!" Sean grunted coldly, "Last time, if it weren't for Karen, Chuck would definitely be dead. If you capture him, she will definitely listen to your every request."

"Capture him?" Sabina's eyes gleamed!

"Miss Sabina, Chuck shouldn't pose a difficulty to you," Sean continued.

"No? Have you seen him before?" Sabina snorted coldly.

"No, but I heard he's just mediocre," Sean was also an intelligence officer of the Yeager family.

Therefore, he was slightly aware of Chuck's current situation.

"Mediocre? He managed to bring away that woman from the Yeager family. Yet, you still regard him so lightly?"

"Yes, Miss, you're right. But to you, Chuck is just a piece of cake!"

"You haven't even fought with him, so how would you know?" Sabina frowned, her emotions acting up.

"Do you mean that you've already fought with him?" Sean was curious.

When Sabina had been given the test, he knew that she was a talent that was worth the training. With her current temperament and strength, it wouldn't be an exaggeration to say that she was superior to any of the Yeager family descendants.

Sixteen years of training had finally bred a worthy talent.

"Yes."

"Well, with your strength, it'll be easy to capture or even kill him. Why didn't you kill him?" Sean could not believe that Sabina had met Chuck. She should have taken his life!

Why was Chuck still alive?

"Why should I kill him?" Sabina snorted.

Sean was shocked, "What are you talking about? He undermined the prestige of the Yeager family. He almost massacred the family members. His death wouldn't evoke any remnants of pity!"

"I didn't know who he was when I met him at that time. Besides, he..." Sabina curled her lips.

"What did he do? Did he do something to you?" Fury billowed through him like a wave.

"No, he's not interested in me, and nor am I. So, nothing happened. Don't think too much about it," Sabina scoffed.

She was telling the truth. Chuck had suddenly appeared and spent the night in her house. He had even slept on her sofa that night.

A flurry of his snores had rattled throughout his sleep. Nothing had happened between the two people other than a sibling-like experience.

With the similar experience binding them both, she was like a brother in Chuck's eyes, and Chuck was like a sister in her mind.

Even if they slept together on the same bed, nothing would happen.

She was relieved, and so was Chuck.

Maybe it was because Chuck understood her, and she did too.

Hearing this, Sean breathed a heavy sigh of relief, "Thank goodness. You are of noble status. How could you be touched by that kind of person? He shouldn't even touch one of your fingers. He is not qualified to!"

Sabina was secretly muttering under her breath.

Fingers? That dude even draped his arms around her shoulders though?!

There wasn't any awareness of gender between the both of them.

"I know. I won't let him touch me. Furthermore, I treat him as my sis..."

Sabina stopped abruptly. She didn't even finish her words yet.

"Miss, what did you say??" Sean was astonished! What did this mean?

Sisters? Wasn't Chuck a man?!

As an elder, Sean just couldn't figure it out.

"Nothing. Don't tell anyone that I've swung by," Sabina warned.

"Don't worry. I'm on your side," Sean answered sincerely.

Sabina looked at him again and understood what he meant. Sean was taking her side and was confident that she could eventually become the family head.

"Wait, what are going to do? Are you going to meet Karen Lee or Chuck Cannon?" Sean asked.

"There must be something wrong with grandpa's situation, so I have to meet her. You don't have to worry about how I'll do it," Sabina said, trotting away.

She was convinced that Karen must have done something to Brooke after she had taken him away. In that case, if she wanted to save Brooke, she had no choice but to waylay Karen!

However, she certainly couldn't meet Karen directly because she knew that Karen had defeated Roger. Although Roger was old, Karen had to be very powerful to be able to defeat the most powerful fighter in her family.

Sabina would not underestimate anyone!

Therefore, she had to meet Chuck first. At the same time, she was not sure if Chuck would agree to see her or not.

No, it should be the other way round since he had betrayed her. Otherwise, why was she on the run now?

So what if Chuck could empathize with her? He didn't know how to express his gratitude. Sabina let him go, and he returned the favor by stabbing her in the back.

Chuck was a b*stard!

The more Sabina thought about it, the harder she gritted down on her teeth. She vowed, "Chuck Cannon, if you kill even one of my family members, I'll hunt you down!"

Sean was bemused as he sighed, "Miss Sabina, as far as I know, Mr. Loomis has been planning something recently. Please be careful!"

However, Sabina had already left and wouldn't be able to hear his advice. Thinking of this, Sean sighed even more. The fight between family members was atrociously gruesome.

If Sabina could become the head of the family, the Yeager family would improve at a faster rate. It wouldn't be impossible for them to surpass the Whitlock family one day.

The efforts of the Yeager family for dozens of generations had eventually been suppressed by the Whitlock family. Under Sabina's leadership, it would just be a matter of time before the Yeager family would emerge as the strongest and most powerful family in the world!

Sean smiled with gratification, hoping that Sabina could succeed in it.

What was Chuck going to do?

Loomis's strongest opponent, Sabina, was going to compete for the position of family head. If she became the family head, he would be in great trouble!

Hence, Chuck had to help Loomis as soon as possible. Otherwise, he would be doomed.

Sabina's ability was not to be underrated!

Karen had already gone to attend to other things, and Willa had other business to do as well. There was a task for Chuck, which was actually handed over to both him and Black Rose.

Yvette wanted to tag along, but Chuck didn't allow her to.

Karen had given some tasks for Yvette to do. Yet, she wanted to help Chuck first before carrying out her own tasks. Chuck certainly did not want to inconvenience her.

He couldn't stand to exhaust his wife.

Meanwhile, what was he supposed to do?

In fact, it was very simple. Previously, Chuck had failed to kill Sabina and was actually a little annoyed by it. At the most crucial moment, he had actually failed to kill her.

Perhaps, he had been too caught up in the emotional connection between them. In his heart, he had already treated her as a bosom friend.

Sigh.

He didn't know what she regarded himself as.

Chuck exhaled deeply. Right now, he was on a mission to eliminate another competitor of Loomis.

This time, the target was not a woman, but a man.

Through the information provided by Loomis, he found the opponent's location.

It was a hotel. Loomis said that his opponent liked to have fun, so Chuck was clear that he only needed to assassinate this guy.

This time, they could definitely do it. Chuck and Black Rose had already discussed their plans. Black Rose said, "Loomis is actually tricking you so you can meet your death here. Do you understand?"

Her voice was icy.

"Of course I do, but he doesn't know that I'm utilizing this challenge to train myself. What do you think? Have you come up with any good plans?" Chuck was quite casual and treated this as training for himself.

"Let's get close to him first," She said.

"Why don't we pretend to be a couple?" He suddenly thought of a plan and suggested.

"Hell no, who wants to be a couple with you?" Black Rose was ruffled. In her opinion, Chuck harbored malicious intentions towards her.

Chuck was speechless and explained, "Oh my god. We're just pretending, it won't be real. Or have you been wanting to actualize our fake romantic relationship into a real one?"
