

Chapter 711

Chuck had certainly thought it through. Adriana was so domineering and he was definitely not a simp. Why should he indulge her capriciousness and ridiculously strong desire to control?

"I am very sure. Please ask them to leave."

"No, I won't! Chuck, you're so ungrateful! I'll remember what you said forever!" Adriana was enraged.

Adriana had never been so angry before. She didn't think she'd get this angry but Chuck had really pushed her to her limit.

He made her angry, but she couldn't find a way to vent it out.

"That's up to you." Chuck shrugged.

They were so hostile towards each other, it felt as though a war was about to break out.

"Chuck, I really wanted to kill you just now!" When Chuck said that they would be enemies forever, the murderous intent erupted in Adriana's heart in that instant.

If it was someone else, Adriana would have the person killed instantly. Only Chuck could have gotten such special treatment.

"Hmm!" Chuck still didn't care. He then said, "Get someone to take the gold away. I don't need it!"

"I won't let them leave. This is for you. It doesn't matter if you accept it or not. I want to see your casino be full of gold." Adriana did not allow any room for negotiation.

It was her first time giving a gift to a man, but stubborn Chuck was not willing to accept it!

This was a great blow to Adriana!

He didn't want to talk to Adriana anymore. Why should she be bothered with his casino? Why?

Seeing that Chuck was leaving, Adriana felt anxious. She had something prepared since she initially thought that Chuck would like the gold and would thank her. Then, she could start building a good relationship with him.

However, things didn't go as she had expected them to!

It was just like before - Adriana was so angry that she felt herself almost go mad, but still, she would not bear to do anything to him.

"Stop, Chuck!" Adriana got off the car.

Chuck stopped.

"I won't argue with you, but can you just please accept what I have given you. Is that okay?" Adriana lowered her voice.

Nelson was dumbfounded. It was the first time he heard Adriana surrendering to a person.

Chuck sighed. If Adriana was more polite and less bossy, Chuck would not have refused her. However, she was not like this at all!

"I'm being humble for the first time. What more do you want? I do really think that your casino will look good with the gold pavement."

"I'll figure out what the gold is worth and pay you back for them," Chuck replied.

"No, it is for you. Do you like it?" Adriana asked, looking hopeful.

"I don't like it." Chuck said as he went back into the casino.

If Chuck liked it and accepted it, what would this mean?

In an instant, Adriana's expression turned cold. She was fuming as she got back into her car.

Nelson didn't dare to offend her, but he had no choice. He had to comfort her. He said, "Miss, don't be angry. I think Chuck just doesn't know what's good for him. He is a b*stard! Other men would be so grateful to get a gift from you. He did it on purpose and wanted to look superior!"

Hearing Nelson bad mouthing Chuck, Adriana frowned and said, "Don't talk about my man!"

Nelson shivered, "Yes, most definitely!"

"Get the men to continue. I'll give it to him even if he doesn't want it! Also, when his casino opens, throw him a big opening ceremony." Adriana ordered.

Nelson thought to himself, "What's going on?"

Did Adriana just surrender?

This was simply unbelievable!

Shouldn't she teach Chuck a lesson to scare him right away?

Why was it different this time?

"Sure, I'll get that done, no worries!" Nelson answered blankly. He was too astonished. Adriana seemed to have morphed into a completely different person.

"You look very surprised!" Adriana asked.

"Yes, I thought that Chuck was too..." Nelson did not dare to continue.

"Chuck is the first man I have ever fallen in love with. Since he has successfully gotten my heart, it's making me not give up on this. The more he rejects me, the more I want him to truly fall in love with me and be my man..." A glimmer of light shine flashed through Adriana's beautiful eyes.

Yes, Chuck made Adriana angry yet still made her like him so much. This was such a huge dilemma.

The key fact was that Adriana actually liked feeling like this.

Nelson trembled when he heard this. He really couldn't understand it!

"Drive." Adriana said as she closed her eyes.

How could Nelson dare delay?

He drove away immediately.

Suddenly, Adriana opened her eyes. "Call Willa to come and see me."

"Yes!" Nelson took his cell phone out.

Chuck was startled when he heard the sound of the car leaving. He didn't expect Adriana to leave so quickly.

Adriana really wasn't going to do anything? Chuck was too lazy to think about it. It was better for her to leave so that he could relax.

When Chuck walked back into the casino, he told the people to stop but unsurprisingly, they didn't. Chuck then grabbed a person and was ready to beat him up!

He had no choice but to resort to violence.

He wondered if they would leave now!

"Please don't. If we can't finish it, we'll be screwed. Please don't do this. I beg you. I still have a family! Please! Let us continue!"

One of the men knelt down, and the other workers followed. Chuck sighed and let go of his hand. Adriana's order must be fulfilled even at the cost of the people's life.

These people were innocent.

"Chuck, what should we do now?" Patricia asked. She was in a daze. Who exactly did Chuck meet a while ago?

It was someone who could send so much gold in such a short period of time. It wasn't some ordinary person, was it?

She could see from a distance that it was a woman who got out of the car a moment ago. Patricia could also see that her figure was perfect.

Patricia didn't know why but she felt uncomfortable.

"Forget it. Find someone to assess the value of the gold." Chuck wanted to pay Adriana back.

"Okay." Patricia immediately took care of the matter.

"By the way, where is Auntie Logan?" Chuck asked. Willa was just here a moment ago.

Where had she gone?

"I don't know, but I saw her getting a phone call. Maybe she's on the phone somewhere." Patricia said.

"Alright." Chuck nodded.

"Chuck, would you like to grab a drink?" Patricia asked him as she had no other friends except Chuck.

"Okay." Chuck agreed.

"You know, I actually think the gold pavement is fine. It looks elegant."

"Yeah, not too shabby, ain't it?" Chuck forced a smile. What else could he do anyway?

"Miss, she is here." Nelson announced when Willa approached the car.

There was not much expression on her face. She showed no fear, only indifference.

"Such a disgusting face! Give her a slap!" Adriana ordered. She wanted to vent her anger and seeing Willa's face only made her more annoyed. Thus, this was the perfect moment for her rage release.

Nelson nodded. He got out of the car and quickly made his way towards Willa.
