

My Dreamy Old Husband

Chapter 151

Suddenly, Sophia became a little excited...

Nathan lifted his head and looked at her flushed face as he felt curious.

The family of three then reached the car park. After helping Sophia and Nathan into the car, Michael kissed her face and said, "Take good care of Nate."

He closed the door afterward, but he didn't enter the car. Sophia held her breath as she quickly lowered the car window and asked, "Aren't you coming with us?"

He shook his head. "No. I have a plane to catch tonight. I need to get back to the film set. You stay at home and take good care of our son."

As the car drove away, she gazed at Michael from afar through the lowered car window. Suddenly, she had an urge to jump out of the car and follow him.

What a shame. I'm already mentally-prepared...

After they were gone, Michael went into another car that had tinted windows. There were already several people in the car, including Harry, Daniel, and a man with a creepy mask dressed in black.

When he got into the car, he patted the shoulder of the masked man. "Nate is fine."

The masked man had a pair of eyes without lashes, and he closed them, revealing the scars on his eyelids. The part of his face under the mask was completely damaged.

Then, he slowly opened his eyes and looked at Michael before nodding his head. "Thank you."

The car drove away...

After Michael was gone, Sophia didn't seem to be as enthusiastic as before. Instead, she couldn't help but miss him at all times. Sometimes, his figure would mysteriously pop up in her mind.

She finished watching all of Michael's movies using her iPad, and she even watched them repeatedly. Everytime she watched a movie with Michael in it, she would always think to herself, Oh, my God. This is my husband! Oh, my God. My husband is so handsome!

Even Nathan noticed that ever since Michael left, Sophia was often in a daze, and she wouldn't answer him when he called her. Whenever this happened, he would shake his head and sigh.

Oh, women! There are a few things that a woman shouldn't touch, such as drugs, cosmetic products, jewelries, cats, and Michael. Once she becomes addicted to any of these, it will lead to bankruptcy if she is lucky; if she is not, it will drive her insane.

Looking at Sophia's actions, Nathan felt that he was about to have a little sister sooner or later, so he started taking notice of girl toys. He even hid some candies and clothes that girls liked in his little closet as welcome gifts for his sister.

However, a few days later, he was furious as he threw away all the candies and clothes that he had hidden for his sister.

This is too much!

Recently, Sophia hadn't been playing games with him because she spent all her time on video calls with Michael.

Every night when she came home, she would turn on her laptop and start a video chat with Michael. At night when everyone was sleeping, she even snuck inside her blanket to call him secretly.

Whenever they weren't calling, they would have a long chat through Messenger.

This is too much! She is starting to ignore me!

Since the first day Michael left, she had been acting this way.

The next day, it was still the same.

On the third day, nothing changed.

On the fourth day, she immediately went back to her room after getting home to have a naked video chat with Michael, completely forgetting Nathan.

When he stood behind her angrily, he could see through the video that Michael seemed to be in a hotel room in only his underwear as he walked around the room shirtless. Sophia's face was burning while she chatted with him.

Daddy has crossed the line! He actually sacrificed his body to compete for attention with me!

At the moment, Sophia was completely addicted to a poison called 'Michael'. It took a long time for her to notice Nathan's troubled face, so she quickly comforted him, "Darling, what's wrong? Who bullied you?"

Nathan crossed his arms as he looked at Michael's annoying face on the screen. Michael even said to him on purpose, "Darling, call me daddy!"

He became so angry that he turned away and left, but before that, he reminded her, “There is a double experience point event today in the ‘Swordsman Game!’”

She knew that he was furious, so she quickly revealed a cute face to Michael and said to him, “Hubby, I need to end the call now. Nate wants me to play games with him!”

As soon as she ended the video call, she cupped her tiny, blushed face.

Wow! That’s Tay Tay—the dream guy of billions of girls around the world!

She felt that she had completely fallen into his trap.

In the meantime, Nathan waited in the room next door for half a minute, but Sophia didn’t appear, so he came over again angrily. “Why aren’t you coming? I’ve been waiting for you for a long time!”

Therefore, she hurriedly grabbed her laptop and went into his room before logging into the game with him.

There was another event today in the game that offered players double experience points, so the game was packed.

Call Me Taylor brought Sophia and Nathan to defeat some monsters as the family of three lived happily together. They even bought a house and owned two pets in the game, and their decorations were dope. Everyday, they fought monsters and upgraded themselves, living the perfect life.

The family of three made new parent-child outfits in the game again, and Call Me Taylor also changed her former flirtatious outfit to a more domestic one.

In the game, Nathan also called Call Me Taylor ‘mommy’ for the first time.

On the other side of the planet, in a hotel, Harry barged into Michael's room with a laptop.

"Dad! Dad! I can't believe that little brat, Stanley, actually hit me! I want you to hit him back! Look at that little brat. He thinks he owns the world now. I've heard that he has become the president of his school's Esports Club, and he is now rallying everyone in his club to cause mischief!"

When he rushed to the front of Michael's laptop, he could see him playing the game while wearing his green frog pajamas. However, he was training his new female character.

As Harry looked closer, he saw that Michael had found himself a good-looking husband in the game with his new character. He was now typing a few adorable emojis on the keyboard to flirt with the other male character. He kept on calling the male character in the game 'hubby', and it was so perfectly faked that Harry almost slapped him in the face just by looking at it.

"Old man, can you not be this disgusting? You are playing a female character, and you even found a husband! Eh, you even have a son! Is he calling you 'mommy'? Don't you know how to spell the word 'shame'? Oh, my God! Old man, are you actually a pervert inside? Is this body actually holding a woman inside? Ew, what a pervert. Stay away from me! Stay away from me!"

Harry became even more dramatic as he clamored for a long time before approaching him. He saw that Michael, who was a big man, was using a female character to flirt with another man in the game.

Michael gave him his excuse. "Can't you see that I'm exploring my character? I'm shooting a scene as a transgender dancer in two days. I'm now playing as a girl in the game to try it out."

Even though it was a perfect excuse, Harry still felt that he was a pervert.

Then, he pulled over a chair and sat next to Michael as he watched him act as a woman for the rest of the day.

The Michael in the game was very flirtatious. Even though he had put on a more domestic outfit, it still didn't change who he was—every word he typed was filled with a thick sense of flirtiness!
