

Chapter 799

"What's the matter?" Chuck was shocked.

With Yolanda's strong ability, there was absolutely no problem for her to deal with any troubles. If she could solve the problem herself, she would not call him.

If she called, it meant that it was a very serious matter!

"It's better to talk in person. I'm at the construction site. It's hard to explain the matter clearly over the phone!" Yolanda said. She was in a panic!

Yolanda had always been calm!

Something must have happened unexpectedly, and it must be a huge problem!

"Okay, I'll head over there immediately!" After he hung up, he drove to the construction site.

After Chuck bought the land earlier, he had visited the construction site once.

But he did not go again after that.

He knew that something must have happened at the construction site, therefore he drove as fast as he could!

When he arrived at the construction site, Chuck saw that many workers surrounded a spot. The construction had been ongoing for half a year, and the structure of the building was beginning to take shape. It was not a high-rise building, therefore the completion period would not take long.

But if something happened all of a sudden, wouldn't the construction be delayed?

Chuck was speechless!

What on earth had happened during this crucial period?

Chuck's car stopped at the entrance, and he ran inside immediately!

But at that moment, there was a sudden ear-piercing sound of a car screeching behind him!

Even Chuck who was a combat expert, felt uncomfortable upon hearing it.

"F*ck, look where you're going! Are you blind?" A young man in suit, who was driving a BMW X6, scolded Chuck.

Chuck frowned. He was in someone else's way. It was his fault. Chuck did not say anything, but moved aside silently.

"Get out of the way! If you block my way again, I'll beat you to death!"

The young man in the suit spat out his window and it dirtied Chuck's shoes.

Chuck's eyes turned cold!

"Is that Chuck?" At that moment, someone asked in surprise from the passenger seat.

Chuck felt that the voice was a little familiar.

He took a look inside the car and saw an extremely beautiful woman.

She had long hair, and was wearing a strappy top showing off her charming collarbones!

Oh!

Chuck remembered. It was his first year class monitor, Florence Mate!

At first glance, he could recognize Florence immediately. Chuck could also recognize the young man in the suit.

Florence used to be pursued by a rich boy, Hargus Stark, during their school days. He even kissed Florence in public, which became a well-known incident in school.

Chuck did not expect the two of them to still be together. They must really love each other!

Florence had transformed from the mighty class monitor to a beautiful woman.

Perhaps it was because they loved each other at an early age, but even though she was the same age as Chuck, she had the charm of a young woman.

"Florence Mate!" For Florence's sake, Chuck ignored his shoes were stained.

"Wow, what a big change! What happened to you? Did you quit your studies? Dropped out of school and you're now working as a construction worker?" Florence smiled with a mocking expression on her face.

"I..." Chuck explained casually.

"Are you the infamous Chuck Cannon from school?"

Hargus was surprised. He had seen Chuck before. But from his memory, Chuck was just an ordinary boy who was ugly and unnoticeable. But the person in front of him at that moment...

D*mn! How did he become handsome now?

His aura was also different.

So what if he was handsome? He had previously dropped out of school and started working since then. He must have worked at the construction sites, earned some money and dressed himself up. Therefore, he looked different.

But he was still a construction worker!

"Yes, it's him. How did he suddenly become so handsome?"

Florence's eyes lit up.

She thought she was mistaken earlier. Chuck looked different from how he did when he was a student.

At that time, when Chuck was a student, he wore cheap clothes and was extremely poor. They were in the same class. How could she not remember him?

But how did Chuck look so charming now?

Could it be because she had never looked at him clearly before?

It could be. Most people would dress up a little after they started working, but it was a pity that he was only a construction worker.

There wasn't much of a future as a construction worker. He could only earn a little money, even after working so hard. He would not be rich even if he worked for his whole life!

"Handsome? He's just average." Hargus was not happy as his girlfriend praised another man. He was jealous.

"D*mn. With such a handsome face, it's a shame that he's only a construction worker."

Florence shook her head and felt a little sorry.

"With his education background, what else could he do?" Hargus said with a smile.

"This guy was so poor when he was a student. He only had an allowance of 500 dollars every month. Besides, this guy used to like me before."

"Liked you?" Hargus was even more pissed. "Then, why are you still staring at him?"

Florence's face turned red. She did not realize that while she spoke, she kept staring at Chuck. How did he change so much?

Florence could not believe it.

Florence sighed and thought to herself, "Looking at his handsome face now, I should have been more proactive in the past. If I had known, I would probably have agreed to date him. But unfortunately..."

However, it was the right decision to ignore him at that time. If she was with him, she would have to suffer with him.

He was just a construction worker!

"Nothing. Chuck, if you don't earn enough from this construction site, you should come to my husband's construction company! We'll offer you a job!" Florence said.

"That's not needed! What are you two doing here?" Chuck asked.

His construction site had always been handled by Yolanda. When Florence mentioned about their construction company earlier, Chuck suddenly wondered if his site was handled by Hargus' construction company.

It must be. Otherwise, why would they be at the construction site?

It was such a coincidence.

"What does it have to do with you?" Hargus was in a bad mood.

His construction company handled the construction. In order to expedite the construction period according to the boss' demand, three workers fell down earlier and died as they did not wear any safety belts. They went over to deal with the matter.

When a worker dies, the construction project must be halted.

It was better for the matter not to be known by many people.

"Chuck, are you working at this construction site? If you're not, then don't be nosy!" Florence also said coldly.

"Hubby, let's get out of the car and deal with the matter. If the boss of this project comes over, it will be a problem." Yolanda had always been in contact with them.

She knew that Yolanda was the supervisor, but they had never met the boss before.

The construction site was huge, with billions of dollars of investment put into it. The boss must be filthy rich. Although Hargus was rich too, he could not compare to him at all.

If the boss was angry with how the project was progressing, he could even terminate the contract with Hargus' company.

That would make Hargus suffer a great loss!

After all, it was a problem with their workers.

They squeezed into the crowd. Chuck saw through the crowd where there was blood on the ground. He was shocked and then sighed. It turned out that a few workers died at the construction site.

Chapter 800

The construction workers were hardworking, and the money they made did not come easy.

If the workers died, it meant that the bread-winners of three families were gone. Yolanda had not encountered such a situation before, and it was not easy to deal with.

Chuck called Betty.

"Betty, three people died at my construction site. Please help me find out about their families!"

"Yes, I'll look into it right now! Please wait a moment!"

After Chuck hung up, he squeezed his way into the crowd.

It was not the first time that Chuck had seen dead men. However, it was the first time he had encountered such an incident.

Chuck's emotions were complicated, but he had to be conscientious when it came to dealing with the matter.

Chuck decided to compensate the same amount that Hargus would compensate the families, although Chuck did not need to be responsible for it.

"Hubby, the death of these people really came at a bad time. D*mn it, couldn't they have been more careful?" Florence was angry.

They had to compensate for their death!

700,000 dollars each!

"Whatever," Hargus said. "It doesn't matter! Well, Declan, you and the other three are from the same hometown. Ask their families to come over to retrieve their bodies, and I'll give compensate them each with 300,000 dollars!"

Florence was secretly delighted. Her husband was so smart. He would only pay them 300,000 dollars each instead of 700,000 dollars to keep their families quiet!

"What? Only 300,000 dollars? Aren't you too heartless?"

"It's a person's life! It should be at least 700,000 dollars!"

"We've been working for you for some time. How can you be so heartless?"

The construction workers were mostly from the same hometown.

When they heard what Hargus said, they were all anxious. They all had families to support.

The bread-winners of the household was gone all of a sudden. What would happen to their family members?

300,000 dollars was not enough!

"What are you all arguing about? They did not wear any safety belts. Why are you blaming me for their death? I'm losing 900,000 dollars to compensate them. Who can I claim the money from?" Hargus was angry.

"Boss, you can't say that. You have asked us to speed up the work. You also said that as long as the speed and quality is there, we don't need to worry about anything else!"

"Are you crazy? If I ask you to die now, would you listen as well? They did not wear their safety belts, so they were asking for death. I'm doing my part by compensating them 300,000 dollars each! Whoever is not satisfied, just get out of here!"

Hargus was in a rage!

"How can you do this?" Yolanda's beautiful eyes were cold.

After all, it was a precious life. How could it worth so little? Now was not the time to be cheap.

How could he compensate them less than the standard amount?

"Miss Lane, I'm the unlucky one. They did not wear the safety belts. What does it have to do with me? I'm also a victim here!" Knowing that he could not offend Yolanda, he became a little polite!

"Anyhow, you can't do this!" Yolanda knew how hard it was to work at the construction site.

The dignity of the deceased would be lost if the compensation money was even lesser.

"I don't think it's a big deal. I have done what I need to. I should've let them know that if they wanted to die, they should die further away from me and not get me into trouble!"

"What! How can you say that?"

"When you first asked us to work at the construction site, you said that each of us would get 700,000 dollars if anything happens to us! Now that there is an accident, you do not keep to your promise?"

Hargus stirred up their anger!

It caused the workers to be furious!

"What are you talking about? I'll only pay 300,000 dollars. If you don't want it, just leave!" Hargus had nothing to fear. His father was influential, therefore it was easy for him to deal with such things.

"You are too heartless!"

"My three friends died in vain!"

They could not do anything about it. What else could they do?

Hargus was very proud of himself. As expected, he had to be fierce.

Yolanda was furious. That person was too outrageous. She regretted engaging with such an irresponsible construction company!

"Hubby, you're awesome. You've saved more than a million dollars. I want to buy a necklace with the money!" Florence said happily.

"No problem!" Hargus shrugged.

Was it not better to buy a necklace for his wife? Why should he give the money to those people?

"Hargus, you are too heartless!" Chuck squeezed his way through the crowd.

"What does it have to do with you? Chuck, you don't have the right to talk here!" Hargus was furious.

"Chuck, are you crazy? Who allowed you to speak here? Just shut up!" Florence was furious as well.

"300,000 dollars is too little. Compensate two million for each life!" Chuck said.

"Who is this person? Is he from our construction site?"

"I have not seen him before, but he is right!"

Chuck earned their support!

"How dare you! Two million dollars? Do you believe that I would kill you? To kill someone like you, 50 thousand dollars is enough! Be smart and get out of here!" Hargus said angrily.

"Get out!" Florence pushed Chuck away.

Chuck was a combat expert. How could he be pushed away by a woman who did not know how to fight?

"Two million dollars, not a penny less!"

"Who the hell do you think you are? You're just a poor man pretending to be righteous, aren't you? Declan, who told you to allow him to work in my construction site?" Hargus snorted and shouted.

Chuck appeared at the construction site on which he was contracted, therefore he must be a worker at the site!

Florence could not stop laughing. It turned out that Chuck was a worker at her husband's construction site.

What a good-for-nothing man! How dare he try to be righteous?

Did he have the ability?

He really was ignorant!

"He is not from our construction site!" Declan looked at Chuck again. He shook his head as he did not recognize him. The other workers also shook their heads and said that they did not know him.

At the construction site, they met each other every day. How could they not know each other?

Chuck's face was too unfamiliar.

"What? If you are not from here, then get out of here! You have no right to be here! Declan, ask someone to get rid of him!" Hargus shouted.

Declan did not move. He was particularly dissatisfied with the way Hargus was dealing with the matter. How could he still obey Hargus' instructions?

"I'm here and no one can make me leave!" Chuck walked closer toward Hargus.

That was his own construction site and project. Who dared to ask Chuck to leave?

"No one can make you leave? Are you kidding me? Who do you think you are?" Hargus laughed.

A poor man who dropped out of school unexpectedly was so shameless to say those words.

It was an eye-opener for Hargus!

Florence said disdainfully and scornfully, "Chuck, you weren't so silly back then. Why are you so shameless now?"

"Get out of here. This is the construction site I have been contracted with. There's no place for you here! Get out!" Hargus walked over and pushed Chuck.

Hargus was angry when Chuck stood still, even after he had pushed him. How could this silly construction worker not move an inch?

"It's true that you've contracted this site, but don't you know that this site is mine?" Chuck said flatly.

Chapter 801

"You really know how to joke around! This construction site is yours?" Hargus laughed with mockery.

He roughly knew how big the investment of the construction site was. The land alone was worth over 100 million, not to mention the cost of investment for the construction.

How could someone possibly own such a place if he did not have at least three billion dollars of net worth?

How would someone like Chuck, who had dropped out of school and worked at a construction site, be able to afford the site?

It would be difficult for Chuck to even earn 10 million dollars. How could he become the boss of the construction site?

"Chuck, I did not expect you to be so vain! How could you say such a shameless thing?" Florence said with contempt and disappointment.

At first, she thought Chuck had changed a lot since they last met. She instinctively had a good impression of him because he was in good shape and was good-looking.

After all, women were also lascivious.

Chuck's figure was much better than Hargus'. She had been with Hargus for so long that she was aesthetically tired of him.

But the good impression she had on Chuck was completely ruined by his shameless words earlier.

What a shameless man!

"Yes, it's mine!" Chuck stepped forward.

"Get out of my way!" Hargus yelled at him. It was a waste of his time!

"You are so shameless! Get lost!" Florence could not stand it anymore.

"You don't believe me? It doesn't matter. I will terminate the contract with you!" Chuck said.

Hargus was a man with no conscience. How could such a person build a good construction site?

It would be better to terminate the contract as soon as possible.

There was no problem in finding another construction company to replace them.

"You're so good at pretending! Terminate the contract with me? Who are you kidding?" Hargus laughed.

"Chuck! You're here!" At the same time, Yolanda appeared out of the crowd.

Hargus frowned. He knew that Yolanda was the manager of the project because they had been dealing with her. He could not believe that Yolanda knew Chuck.

Even Florence was shocked.

"Yes, I am. Terminate the contract with them and find another construction company."

"Alright, I'm sorry, I..." Yolanda did not expect that Hargus was such a person. He was really heartless!

"Don't blame yourself. You didn't know." Chuck shrugged.

"Miss Lane, is he really the owner of this site?" Hargus was still in doubt.

Yolanda's behavior told him that Yolanda and Chuck knew each other and they had a good relationship as they addressed each other casually. If Chuck was really the owner of the place, why did Yolanda directly call Chuck by his name?

Shouldn't she address him formally?

"Of course, I'm working for him."

Hargus immediately stared at Chuck, while he was still full of doubts. "Florence, didn't you say that this guy was poor?"

"Yes, he was poor. You were not in the same class with him, therefore you don't know him. He was poor since he was schooling. I have never seen him buy any good clothes and food. How could such a poor person be the owner of this place? It's impossible!" Florence said disdainfully.

When Chuck was a student, he was obviously not from a rich family. He dropped out of school not long ago, so how did he manage to earn so much money? It was really impossible!

Unless Chuck had deliberately pretended to be poor.

Hargus was silent for a moment, then he nodded and said, "Well, I don't think he's rich either, but the way Yolanda is treating him..."

Yolanda would not help Chuck for no reason, would she?

"They must know each other," Florence analyzed.

"That's right!" Hargus' doubts vanished at once. There was no reason to suspect!

"Stop pretending, Chuck. It's not funny! Get out of here!" Hargus said with a smile.

"You are the one who should get out of here. Hargus Stark, we'll terminate the contract with you!" Yolanda said coldly.

Hargus was stunned and furious. "Yolanda, how dare you! You'd better think it over. Chuck is just your friend. Is it worth it to terminate the contract with us because of him? If your boss finds out about this, you can just resign and get out of here!"

"That's right. You're such a fool. How could you simply terminate the contract? Who do you think you are? How dare you!" Florence scolded.

She was extremely furious!

"Yolanda, forget it. You don't need to terminate the contract. How about we purchase his company instead?" Chuck shrugged and changed his mind.

Chuck was building his own business empire, therefore he needed a professional construction team. In fact, he could take the opportunity to start building one himself.

"I've seen his father's company. They have the capability, and the projects they've completed are also good. That's why I chose to cooperate with them. I think you can acquire their company," Yolanda said.

"You're going to acquire my father's company? Aren't you over your head? My father's company has a market value of one billion dollars, you..."

"It's only one billion. Why are you so proud? You're so ignorant." Chuck shrugged.

Hargus was furious!

What did he mean by only one billion?

Did he even have one billion dollars?

"Betty, are you free? Great. Please help me acquire a company. I don't know the name of the company, but the name of the company owner's son is Hargus Stark. Okay, I'll wait for your update." Chuck shrugged.

Betty was a negotiation expert. The owner of such a company was not worthy of Betty's attention. However, she was nearby coincidentally, therefore it would be quick for her to make a trip there. She could do it quickly with her speed of driving.

Hargus and Florence looked at each other in dismay!

"Is he really the owner of the site?"

"I think it's possible. He sounded serious over the call. If he was not the boss, he would not have that kind of aura!"

The onlookers whispered to each other.

"Chuck, you even made a phone call? You looked quite believable when you spoke that even I almost believed you."

Hargus mocked him, "You want to acquire my father's company? Do you even have the money?"

"Well, just wait and see." Chuck shrugged and said, "Yolanda, send someone over to get the 6 million dollars. We'll pay for the compensation. After all, it was not easy for them."

"Okay, even if you did not say it, I would have done the same." Yolanda did it immediately.

"Wow, this boss is really good. He's so much better than Hargus!"

"If he really acquires Hargus's father's company, I will definitely work for him!"

"Me too! It's much better to follow such a boss!"

The workers were excited.

Hargus was so angry that he felt like punching Chuck.

"Chuck Cannon, why haven't you acquired my father's company yet? Do you know where my father's company is? Do you need me to tell you?"

"Hubby, look at him now. How can he afford it? He's just a swindler!" Florence did not care.

Hargus laughed out loud. He was even a little scared earlier. As he wanted to say something, he received a call. He took a look at it and saw that it was from his father.

Chapter 802

"Dad, why are you calling me? It's fine, only three people died. I can solve it!" Hargus answered the call and said.

"Hargus, what the hell did you do?" The voice over the call was filled with anger!

"Dad? Why are you scolding me?" Hargus was speechless.

"I want to kill you! Why the f*ck do I have such a useless son? Sh*t, they even came looking for me to acquire my company!"

"Dad, are you kidding me?" Hargus was shocked. His eyes were wide open. He moved his eyes and stared at Chuck.

"Hubby, what did Dad say?" When Florence saw the shock on her husband's face, she wondered if something bad had happened.

"Brat, do you think I'm kidding?"

"Dad, even if someone wants to buy our company, you don't have to sell it," Hargus muttered.

"Don't sell it? The people who came looking for me know everything about us. Any information can destroy us both. Dare I to refuse them?"

"What? Dad, is this true?" Hargus was petrified.

"I don't have time to joke with you. Compensate the workers immediately!"

Hargus was so shocked that his jaw dropped. "Dad, is the person who wants to buy our company named Chuck Cannon?"

"If you know him, apologize to him at once! You've really put us in trouble! When you're back, I'll beat you to death!"

Hargus' face was full of shock!

"Hubby, what's the matter?" Florence felt uneasy.

"He... he really is the boss here. He... he has asked someone to acquire our company." At that moment, Hargus' feelings were complicated!

Chuck had something in his hands to blackmail them!

"What? He is really rich?" In an instant, Florence was horrified.

How could that be?

When Chuck was a student, he was so poor. How could he have so much money now?

Or was Chuck actually rich but pretended to be poor when he was schooling?

Florence felt uncomfortable.

"He really bought Hargus Stark' father's company. This is really awesome!"

"I'll follow a boss like him from now on!"

The workers were so excited!

What was there to worry about when the new boss compensated so much money to the deceased workers?

"Chuck, please let my family go. I'm sorry. I..." Hargus felt as if there was a stone in his throat, which was hard for him to swallow.

"I have been very kind to you. I've merely purchased the company. By the way, before I forget, be careful when you're doing business in the future, as I'll have people keep an eye on you," Chuck shrugged and said.

Hargus turned pale as he was frightened, "Please, don't!"

"Compensate them quickly. Otherwise, if I'm in a bad mood, I am not sure whether something bad will happen to your family."

Hargus was shocked. "Quick, go and bring six million dollars!"

"Hubby!" Florence was at a loss.

Bang!

Hargus slapped her.

Florence's beautiful face was red and swollen. She covered her cheeks and said, "Hubby, why did you just slap me?"

"Why are you still standing here? If you waste any more time, just try my kick!" Hargus was about to raise his hand again.

Florence was so frightened that she ran to the car and drove off to withdraw the money.

"Mr. Cannon, please wait for a moment. The money will arrive soon. I hope you will let my family go. Please!" What else could Hargus say?

He could only beg Chuck piteously!

"If you had just compensated them honestly just now, wouldn't it have been easier? Why did you make things so difficult?"

Hargus was full of regret. He sighed for a long while.

It turned out that he was the silly one!

However, he could not turn back time.

Yolanda asked someone to bring over the money, while Florence brought the money over too. Each victim was compensated with four million dollars!

The workers' eyes were full of tears as they finally had a good boss!

Once everything was settled, the construction work was halted for that day and would resume the next day.

Hargus got into his car, looking depressed. Florence walked over to Chuck and passed him a note which read, "Chuck, I've had my eye on you since we were studying, but I did not say anything. I've always liked you. This is my Whatsapp number, you can contact me anytime..."

Florence's intentions were obvious. It would not be a problem even if he wanted to sleep with her.

"Are you coming or not?" Hargus shouted on the other side.

"Why are you so loud? You're so annoying." Florence scolded him with a cold face and said to Chuck gently, "Chuck, just send me a message, I'll be free any time..."

Florence then walked over to Hargus impatiently.

Chuck glanced at the note in his hand and threw it into the trash can.

Florence said that she had liked him since they were schooling? Chuck did not believe her one bit.

Florence was indeed beautiful and her figure was perfect, better than most women. 2

But Chuck was not interested. He would not be interested in a woman that Hargus had played with before.

Chuck was not that desperate.

When Yolanda heard what Florence said, she thought no one would be able to resist such a beautiful woman that took the initiative, but Chuck remained unmoved.

Yolanda smiled.

"What did you say to Chuck just now?" Hargus said coldly.

"Nothing." Florence was indifferent.

"Nothing? Do you think I'm stupid?"

"What do you think I said to him? Look at yourself. Chuck is wealthier than you. Don't you know?"

"You want to betray me?" Hargus was furious.

"Betray? I don't even like you, how can I betray you?" Florence sneered, "People must always aim higher! Meeting Chuck again today, it must be destiny. I want to grab this..."

Bang!

Hargus slapped her, and Florence began to fight with him furiously.

Since the construction site matter had been settled, Chuck told Yolanda seriously, "I might be away for a while!"

"You're leaving again?" Yolanda's heart sank.

He had only been back for a few days!

"I'm not leaving the country, I'll still be here. I'm going to a place to train myself."

"How long will you be gone?"

"I'm not sure. It might take fifteen days or up to a month. During this period, you don't have to report to me about everything. You can make your own decisions."

"Don't worry, leave it to me!"

Chuck was assured, knowing that Yolanda would take care of his businesses. He would go to the place mentioned by his mother and return as soon as possible!

Chuck also knew that his mother had brought up the matter at that moment because she sensed that Sabina's revenge was about to begin.

When Chuck drove away, Yolanda sighed sadly and said, "Be careful. I'll work hard and wait for your return."

.....

"Are you leaving again?" Quinn laid in Chuck's arms.

It would only be for a few days, but Quinn could not bear to part with him.

"Yes, you know what's going on now. I have to strengthen my skills." Chuck did not want to leave either, but he needed to leave for a better future.

"I'll support you." Quinn had no choice but to agree. Chuck had changed after his return.

That kind of burden was one of the sources of her comfort.

"I'll wait for you to come back!" Quinn said.
