

Medical Genius's Unspeakable Marriage Chapter 500

Leanna brought Matthew back to her villa where everything had already been pre-arranged.

The Clematis Grass was prepared under Matthew's orders.

She had also found the person he had requested for—a young woman in her twenties.

The young woman looked nervous as she did not know what was going to happen.

“Mr. Larson, is this everything you need?”

Leanna looked nervous. This was a matter of life and death for her best friend and daughter.

After taking a quick look at her, he knew how she was feeling.

Nodding, he said, “Yes. You don't have to be nervous. It's a small matter.”

She started to feel a bit more assured, but her face was still tensed.

Throughout all those years, she had even dreamed of finding a cure for her best friend and daughter.

Now that it was finally happening, how could she not feel nervous?

Matthew had the young woman lie down, then he performed acupuncture on her through her clothes.

The Divine Acupuncture Skill produced sublime results.

Initially, the young woman was very nervous, especially when he took out the needles, so she started sweating profusely.

She thought that it would hurt, but when the needle poked into her skin, she did not feel a thing.

Moreover, she started to feel drowsy and slowly fell asleep.

While she was asleep, Matthew brought the Clematis Grass over.

At first, the leaves were all dried up. But, under Matthew's instructions, Leanna was able to bring it back to life.

Just that alone was enough for her to put her faith in him.

With the emerald green Clematis Grass in his hand, he slowly moved closer to the young woman's face.

Then, he poked a silver needle into an area in her cheek, which made her mouth open.

After placing the grass in her mouth, he pulled out a small porcelain bottle and poured two drops of liquid onto the Clematis Grass.

With the naked eye, one was able to see how fast the grass melted. Not long after, the grass disappeared.

He gently checked on the young woman's breathing and took a look into her eyes, then he nodded. "All good."

Leanna was astonished. “Is it done?”

“This is just the first step. We have to let the heart grow for now. After some time has passed and the heart has grown successfully, we can transplant it. Oh, right. During this time, she might feel a bit uncomfortable. The most important thing is that her energy has to be strong. Everything else can be done normally. You can let her exercise; it will be beneficial in this situation. I’ll come back again in ten days. By then, we will probably be able to save them.”

Leanna kept nodding as she kept every word he said in mind.

After that, she personally drove him back to The Grand Garden.

When he got out of the car, she was looking at him in a hesitant manner.

She wanted to ask him how he really felt about Sasha or even ask him if she still stood a chance.

Alas, she did not have the courage to say anything.

Even though she was like a goddess to another person, she did not have that confidence in front of Matthew.

Instead of going back to The Grand Garden, Matthew went across to The Grand Pavilion and arrived at Julian’s place.

Julian was sitting in the living room eating barbecued meat while Nicole was fast asleep.

Seeing Matthew come over, he quickly grabbed a stool and pushed it over.

“Come! The food just arrived. Eat while it’s still hot. D*mn it. What sort of reunion was that? I barely ate anything. That b*stard Leo is so stingy. What did he even order?” Julian ranted.

Matthew chuckled. Leo had been that way since they were in school.

If he felt like someone was of use to him, he would immediately run over and fawn over them.

However, if he did not think that they were of any use, he would stay far, far away from them.

It did not seem like Julian was going to help him tonight, so he secretly canceled many of the dishes he ordered. Hence, no one felt satiated after that dinner.
