His men immediately stopped when they heard Fang Hong shouting and didn't dare to move an inch.

"You probably know nothing about this casino's background," said Fang Hong as he gnashed his teeth viciously. "Even if you can walk out of the casino alive today, your days are numbered. I suggest you behave...AHHH!"

Fei lost his patience before Fang Hong could finish his piece.

PAK!

PAK!

PAK!

He pulled Fang Hong by the collar and slapped him so hard a few times that his entire mouth was filled with blood!

"How dare you threaten my Big Boss?"

Although Fang Hong's men wanted to charge over, they didn't dare to.

They could only stand by and watch as Fang Hong was slapped viciously.

The sound of footsteps coming from outside became denser and denser. It was evident that many people had surrounded the office on the second floor.

NH

The gamblers downstairs in the main hall sensed something amiss. They didn't expect such a commotion on the second floor.

After gambling here for a long time, many knew that nobody who went upstairs would come out as the winner.

No one bothered you for small winnings at the casino, but the moment you raked in a pile, it was impossible to walk out with it!

Either give up your money or your life!

All these years, it seemed like no one succeeded in leaving the casino in one piece with billions of dollars.

Even the God of Gambling lost to the casino.

"You can win money, but you won't live to spend it."

"Those people know nothing about the rules. They must have gotten greedy and couldn't stop and won too much!"

"Exactly, just win a little and don't make it hard for the casino."

Many people shook their heads. They sighed at the loss of an expert gambler who could actually win money from this casino but was going to end up dead. Some people gloated over their misfortune purely out of jealousy.

NH

Everyone knew the formidable Qing Sect backed most of the larger casinos. This casino in particular, had the support of the most powerful Ox sub-sect.

So they were always arrogant and had no regard for anyone else.

But Jiang Ning and the others had the gall to win so much money from them. It was like placing a target on their backs with their own hands.

More and more bouncers kept going upstairs. The crowd could almost envision Jiang Ning's corpse getting dragged downstairs like a dead dog.

Meanwhile.

On the second floor.

Fang Hong's legs went limp as Fei held his throat. He was completely immobile.

Dozens of men circled Jiang Ning and the others until it was impenetrable.

"Mr Fang, you were the one who said we have to follow the rules," said Jiang Ning calmly. "Are you going to admit you lost?"

Fang Hong opened his mouth. But before he said a word, Fei threatened him viciously, "You better think twice before you speak! You have only one chance!"

NH

Fei gradually grabbed his neck harder, and Fang Hong's face instantly flushed red!

An intense sense of suffocation made him feel as though he was going to die at any moment!

"I admit...that we lost," said Fang Hong as he gritted his teeth.

Fang Hong stared at Jiang Ning hard, as if Jiang Ning was a corpse.

No one had ever walked away with a few hundred million from here!

And no one dared to provoke the Ox sub-sect from Qing Sect!

"Change their chips!" said Fang Hong immediately.

Very quickly, someone ran over and cautiously tallied Jiang Ning's chips. They were worried that any miscalculation might send Fang Hong to his death.

"It's a total of US$532 million," said the accountant after checking thrice.

The four elderly men almost wanted to cry. Although they were loaded, they still felt devastated by it.

More importantly, it was a complete embarrassment for them.

NH

“Change them,” said Jiang Ning calmly.

After Jiang Ning gave his International Bank Alliance private card number, the accountant instantly transferred the money over.

Jiang Ning stood up without even looking at them. Then he walked over to Fang Hong and reached his hand out to pat him on the face.

“As you said, we have to follow the rules.”

Jiang Ning turned to leave and Zhou Jin followed behind him immediately.

He made a name for himself in the city with his gambling today.

Zhou Jin won these four opponents and even saw through their plans with Fang Hong. He was too incredible!

Zhou Jin's name was going to spread through Las Vegas quickly without a doubt.

Jiang Ning came out of the room on the second floor.

The bouncers standing on the side immediately made way without daring to fight him.

Jiang Ning didn't even look at them. He didn't care about them at all as he walked down the stairs with Zhou Jin and Fei behind him.

Fei had Fang Hong by the neck with a vicious look on his face and gave all the gamblers in the main hall a huge shock.

These men...were actually still alive?!

They were alive and even held the manager, Fang Hong, hostage.

"This casino can't afford to lose," said Jiang Ning loudly. "They only want to win and are sore losers. I'm sorry, but I don't indulge such acts!"

NH

Some of the gamblers in the main hall couldn't help nodding secretly.

This casino was far too ungracious.

It was such a huge casino, but it was such a disgrace as well.

Fang Hong looked a little upset when he saw those people's expressions, but he didn't dare to say a word. His mouth was filled with blood and reeking with its scent, so Fang Hong was worried he would vomit the minute he spoke.

Everyone gave way to Jiang Ning so that he could walk straight to the door.

Several of the casino's bouncers followed them to the door.

"Alright now, Mr Fang can send us off on his own. You've all been too kind," said Jiang Ning as he stood at the door and turned to glance at those bouncers before looking at Fang Hong.

Fang Hong shook his head, so everyone stopped without daring to go closer.

Jiang Ning stopped a car, and Fei dragged Fang Hong into the car immediately. Then the engine roared, and the car zipped off. No one dared to give chase at all.

After going for over 100 meters, the car suddenly stopped. The car door was opened, and Fang Hong was kicked out by Fei. Then the car engine started again, and whizzed off into the distance.

“Brother Fang! Brother Fang!” shouted his men as they hurriedly ran over to help Fang Hong up.

“Find them now! Find them!” shouted Fang Hong with his face swollen. “You’re all useless! What are you standing around for? Chase them!”

Fang Hong trembled in anger. His voice became shrill while his face was severely distorted and terrifyingly ferocious.

“I will kill you all! Kill you all!”

Fang Hong had never suffered such humiliation in all the years he managed this casino. When had anyone pressed his face on the ground to rub dirt on it so publicly?

There were so many people watching. What were they going to say about him tomorrow?

Fang Hong was furious, but his subordinates couldn't do anything to appease him.

They only knew that one of their surnames was Jiang and knew nothing about their identities or backgrounds. How could they investigate them?

Fang Hong was so furious that they didn't dare to speak.

Inside the taxi, Fei was exhilarated.

“Trying to swindle us? I just want to smash their casino to smithereens!”

Zhou Jin appeared like there was fear lingering in his heart. It was too exciting to work for Jiang Ning and Fei.

Jiang Ning was nonchalant even when he was surrounded by nearly a hundred men and didn't seem nervous at all!

Zhou Jin felt as though they didn't weren't surrounded by those men, but Jiang Ning was the one who had surrounded them!

“Big Boss, where to now?” asked Fei excitedly. Fei didn't feel much when they won over 500 million bucks, but it was thrilling when he could beat up Fang Hong!

“Of course, we will gamble until Zhou Jin becomes completely famous,” said Jiang Ning as he glanced at Zhou Jin. “Let's go to the next casino.”
