

Chapter 2521

Hector gazed at Sophia from head to toe as he spoke, with little regard for Darryl.

He assumed he was just a driver who posed no threat to him.

"You—"

Sophia, enraged by Hector's stare, said coldly, "Stop with the nonsense. I'm here today to tell you that Blakely Industries will not budge."

Darryl approached Hector slowly, his gaze fixed on him. "You must be the Cloudbrook City branch's Hall Master. Tell me, who is the Endless Sky Organization's Sect Master?"

'What?'

Hector was taken aback, and his subordinates assumed they had misheard Darryl.

'This man has a lot of guts.'

"Kid!" Hector did not attempt to hide his disgust on his face as he answered indifferently to Darryl, "What exactly did you just ask me? Do you wish to meet with the Sect Master?"

"That's right," Darryl said quietly.

"Who the f*ck do you think you are?"

Hector yelled.

'What the f*ck! This kid must have a death wish. How dare he talk like that without any shame?' It was a fact that the Endless Sky Organization's Sect Master was a highly mysterious individual with extremely high powers. That person was so secretive that not even Hector met them.

Darryl exhaled lightly and explained slowly, "I'm a friend of Miss Field's. I'm here today to help her settle this matter."

Darryl's words jolted Hector out of his trance and caused him to burst out laughing.

"Did you just say you've come to settle the score, kid? How the f*ck are you going to accomplish it on your own?"

His men could no longer suppress their laughter.

Hector shifted his focus to Sophia and teasingly said, "Sophia, where did you find this jerk? He claims to be able to battle against all of us! His mind had to be stuck somewhere."

Whoosh!

Sophia's beautiful face flushed crimson with rage and worry.

She was perplexed by Darren's confidence; there was no way he could win against so many people.

Sophia was about to speak when Darryl said to Hector, "I'm only going to say this once. Do not scheme against Blakely Industries."

Hector was so enraged that he roared, and his men, who had been waiting for them, emerged immediately with guns and torches, pointing at Sophia and Darryl.

'Crap!'

Sophia jerked as she panicked. There were only two of them, and their opponents had weapons. They were unmistakably the intended target.

When Hector spotted Sophia's look, he let out an evil chuckle. "There's no need for us to be this rigid, pretty Sophia. We don't hold any grudges against one another. Why don't you give up your Cloudbrook City business and join mine? I'll let things go."

"You—" Sophia was so enraged that she could not even say anything else. Her cheeks turned very red.

Hector was a bully for stealing her business and attempting to exploit her.

In a panic, she turned to Darryl and froze. He picked a tree branch off the ground nonchalantly and snapped it into twigs.

She grew quite apprehensive, and she blamed Darren for playing tricks at such an inopportune moment.

When he observed Darryl's act, Hector's eyes flared with a hint of menace. "Take him down!" He wanted to get rid of the reckless jerk who acted like a fool in front of him.

Bang! Bang! Bang!

As commanded, the men discharged their weapons.

In shock, Sophia wanted to warn Darryl of the gunshots, but what happened next surprised her completely.

Darryl moved his arm for a fraction of a second, and an explosion burst from the dozen twigs in his hand.

Boom! Boom! Boom!

The bullets from the weapons circled the men instead of striking Darryl. Before they could respond, they jerked and sank into pools of blood.

All of the bullets ricocheted off the twigs and struck between the men's brows; they were killed instantly.

Chapter 2522

'He's—'

Sophia's petite frame shook as she observed. She stared straight at Darryl, completely dumbfounded.

She thought that he was just her boss's respectable guest. She did not expect that he was powerful enough to block bullets with twigs and kill people that way. It was incredible.

"You—"

Hector locked his gaze on Darryl, his voice quivering as he struggled for words. He had a terrified expression on his face as if he had seen a monster.

Darryl rushed forward and used his hand to target Hector's acupoints without wasting another second.

Darryl moved exceptionally quickly. Hector could barely see him when his acupoints were jabbed, and he could not move an inch.

"What are you doing? I'm warning you; things will not end well for you if you offend the Endless Sky Organization!" Hector yelled. Despite his firm tone, his eyes were filled with fear; his prior proud and confident demeanor was gone.

He could not help but start trembling when he sensed Darryl's intimidating aura.

'Who is this person?' He's terrifyingly powerful.'

"Sir!"

Sophia walked forward in her heels as she stared at Hector with rage. "Kill him."

She was enraged when she remembered Hector's attitude earlier. She reasoned that she was merely getting rid of pests so that society could be rid of garbage like him.

"Mercy, please..."

Hector's face bled as he sensed Sophie's murderous energy. He almost fell to the floor after losing his balance.

He wanted to turn and leave, but he could not; his acupoints were sealed.

"Wait!"

As he looked at Sophia's angered face, Darryl smiled lightly and said, "I have some use for him."

He turned to Hector and asked, "What do you think? Do you agree with my request?"

"Yes, I agree..." Hector nodded like a chicken bobbing its head. He was not an idiot. How could he not understand Darryl's intention?

"Hello..." Hector was drenched in sweat as he yelled into the phone. "Pass my command. From now onward, none of the Hall members may bear any ill will toward Blakely Industries."

The task assigned by his superiors was important, but it was more vital to keep his life.

Hector fawned over Darryl as soon as he hung up the phone. "Is that correct, Your Excellency?"

Darryl ignored him and turned to Sophia with a smile. "Okay, your problem has been solved. You should go back first because I have some other things to attend to."

He remembered something, so he said, "Oh, by the way, about the lady who was with me. Please notify her that I will be waiting for her at your company. I will return after I have completed my business."

Darryl figured that it would be inconvenient to bring Jewel with him for their meetup with Hector and when he attacked the Endless Sky Organization's internal division. It was better for her to stay put.

'Uh—'

When Sophia heard Darryl, she was a little hesitant. It was a little impolite of her to leave him alone, considering he was her boss's esteemed guest. However, she could not say anything else when she saw his firm expression.

"Sir, please take care," Sophia murmured before turning and walking away.

"Your Excellency!"

Hector became distressed when Darryl took a step, and he begged, "I've done what you asked; mercy—"

A smile emerged on Darryl's face as he replied in an indifferent tone, "What's with the rush? I still need a favor."

"What kind of favor?" Hector was close to tears. "What exactly does he have in mind?"

Darryl paused for a while before he responded calmly, "Take me to your leader, and I will spare your life."

Chapter 2523

'Wait, what?'

When he heard Darryl's request, Hector jolted and shook his head like a pellet drum.

"No way! Our leader has a strange personality, and she hates it when her subordinates take the initiative to look for her."

Darryl furrowed his brows and strolled across to him, unconcerned. He forced Hector's lips open and took out an elixir before stuffing it into his mouth swiftly.

Gulp!

Hector could not react quickly enough and swallowed right away.

"What...what did you feed me?" Hector was terrified as he glanced at Darryl.

Darryl smirked and returned his stare. "Are you familiar with the Heaven Cult Elixir?"

Right.

He had given him Heaven Cult Elixir!

"Heaven...Cult Elixir?" Hector shook internally and sweated profusely as a result of his shock. He remembered the Grandmaster Heaven Cult from a decade earlier in the World Universe. It was a powerful cult, and the Grandmaster of Heaven had fed the Heaven Cult Elixir to his subordinates to control them.

There were rumors that the victim would rot and die if they did not take any antidote within a year.

Hector knew because he was a member of the world of cultivators.

The more he thought, the more panicked Hector became; he stared at Darryl.

"What...what do you want from me?"

Darryl kept a calm expression on his face.

"It's simple. I'll give you the antidote. All you have to do is take me to your leader. Otherwise, you can wait for your days to be over."

"Fine..." Almost in tears, Hector had to agree.

He was genuinely very hesitant to take Darryl to the leader. The Endless Sky Organization had strict restrictions, and no one could meet the leader if she did not ask for them.

However, he had no other option at that point.

He was powerless to refuse. He trembled at the prospect of his body rotting to death in the absence of an antidote.

When Hector agreed, Darryl smiled and unsealed his acupoints.

He was not worried that Hector might flee after he had forced him to take the Heaven Cult Elixir.

"Your Excellency, I need to find out where our leader is," Hector replied hesitantly as he took out his phone.

He had to inquire further because the Endless Sky Organization's Hall was dispersed across the Middle Terra, and its leader was mysterious with unpredictable tracks.

Hector obtained information very soon and turned to Darryl. "She's in Middle Terra.

Let's go."

'Middle Terra?'

Darryl nodded and set off with Hector.

Meanwhile, at Skyepeace City in Middle Terra.

A beautiful manor sat on a hill on the east side of Skyepeace City. The historic structures nearby served as the Endless Sky Organization's stronghold. It was also the Sect Master's temporary abode.

A woman with a curvaceous figure sat in the manor's hall at that moment.

At first appearance, she looked like she was about 30 years old. She covered her slim form with a lavish gown and veil. Her beautiful face was partially visible through the veil, with a melancholy aura. She appeared divine and inscrutable, like if she were a deity from above.

She was the Endless Sky Organization's Sect Master. Darryl would have been taken aback if he had seen her because she was Jackie Yale, the Illusion Sound Sect's previous Cult Master.

She did establish the Endless Sky Organization. She departed the battlefield three years ago after stealing Darryl's Seven Treasures Exquisite Pagoda during the fight between the Nine Mainland and the Raksasa Tribe. She proceeded to grow her own force covertly.

After three years, Jackie's Endless Sky Organization had become a worthy opponent to Elysium Gate.

Chapter 2524

Jackie sat there without an expression on her gorgeous face, looking as cold as ice.

The Endless Sky Organization got involved in the business world in the past six months because they wanted to expand their forces by controlling the corporate groups.

However, their plan was disrupted by the sects of cultivators in the Nine Mainland.

That infuriated her.

"Master!"

"He's here." An elite female disciple walked forward and announced courteously as she showed a unique black jade slip.

Jackie's expression changed when she saw the jade slip. She stood up immediately and walked to the antehall at the back.

She noticed a man in a black robe in the antehall when she arrived. He emitted an intimidating aura with a slight smile on his grim face.

It was Zhang Jue.

"It's been a while since we met. How are you?" Zhang Jue greeted her with a smile when he noticed Jackie's entrance.

Yes, he was one of the Endless Sky Organization members. One could say he founded the organization with Jackie.

Zhang Jue left without a word after the treaty between the Nine Continent Army and Raksasa Tribe was formed because he knew that he had no place among the forces in the Nine Mainland. Therefore, he founded Yellow Sky Trading in secret and met Jackie by chance. When she realized her ambition, he established the Endless Sky Organization with her.

However, Zhang Jue was unwilling to expose his identity because he was sly. He had been letting Jackie manage the organization while he pulled strings from behind the scenes.

Jackie smiled at him. "Mr. Zhang, how spontaneous! Is there a reason why you're here?"

Phew!

Zhang Jue took a deep breath and replied in an unhurried tone, "Do you know that Darryl Darby's back?"

'What?'

Jackie's delicate figure jerked when she heard that. She froze as a hint of fear emerged on her gorgeous face.

Jackie was confident that Darryl would not get a chance for revenge when she took the Seven Treasures Exquisite Pagoda from him because he was paralyzed then. She did not expect that he would regain his powers after that. She was happy with Darryl's subsequent disappearance after the war between the Nine Mainland and the Raksasa Tribe ended.

She was shocked to find out that he had returned after he was missing in action for three years.

Zhang Jue smiled lightly when he saw her expression. "You don't have to worry; he did not return to Elysium Gate. He hid his identity instead. I guess he intends to investigate the Endless Sky Organization."

He maintained a confident smile as he talked, but he was actually indescribably frustrated.

He waited for Darryl for an ambush at Cloudbrook City in the Yellow Sea Continent a day ago, but he did not show up. That annoyed him very much.

Jackie's eyes shone as she listened to him.

"What's your opinion on that? What should we do?"

Zhang Jue pondered for a moment before he replied unhurriedly, "It's simple. You should order the Endless Sky Organization to attack Elysium Gate. It'd be best if you ambush the Carter family to capture his women. He will certainly show himself, and I'll ambush him when the time comes."

"No way!"

Jackie's expression changed, and she objected immediately. "Endless Sky Organization is in its developing period. Our effort all that time will be gone in a day if we fight Elysium Gate head-on. No way!"

She did not want to take the risk because she had put too much effort into the Endless Sky Organization for the past three years.

'F*ck!'

A hint of annoyance flashed past Zhang Jue's face when Jackie rejected his idea.

'Women are soft-hearted, indeed.'

He was extremely dissatisfied with Jackie at the moment. The two of them already had their differences on the path of Endless Sky Organization's development. He had wanted to eliminate her, but he had been holding it in all that time. He could no longer do that since she objected to his suggestion.

However, he was good at hiding his intention behind a smile, so he did not act out on the spot.

"Fine, we'll get people to find out Darryl Darby's tracks before we decide what to do," Zhang Jue said with a smile.

He poured two cups of tea and handed the one with some medicinal powder in it to Jackie as they talked.

The powder was an extremely potent medicine known as Happy Powder.

He had already thought of everything. He knew that Jackie was an arrogant woman, and she would never conform to his opinions, so he planned to make her his. She would not oppose him regardless of what he said when that happened.

He acted quickly. Jackie did not notice a thing.

When Jackie took a sip of the tea, a smile appeared on Zhang Jue's lips.

"Master!"
