

Sir, You Don't Know Your Wife Chapter 556

Fass nodded in agreement as he stroked Lynette's head. "Nettie, I will definitely get back at her for you!"

Upon hearing that, Lynette wiped away her tears and nodded. "Thank you, Uncle Fass—"

All of a sudden, the ringing of a phone interrupted what she was about to say. He lowered his gaze and realized that it was his phone that was ringing. Thus, he answered it.

"President Leonard, I have identified that person you wanted me to investigate!"

The corners of his mouth curved upward in a playful arc. His voice was steady and cold. "Which family is he from?" He thought to himself, No matter who it is, I'm going to make him suffer! Hence, he wasn't really interested as he listened to the voice coming from the phone.

"President Leonard, that person is the heir to the Lowry Family, the president of Lowry Family Conglomerate, and the most powerful person in Asia!"

The heir to the Lowry Family?! The president of Lowry Family Conglomerate?! The most powerful person in Asia?! That was Mason Lowry?! This isn't a joke, right? How could that man be Mason Lowry?! That familiar feeling he had when he first saw Mason surfaced in his mind again. Don't tell me it's really him!

He widened his eyes and squeezed his phone strongly—so much so that the veins in his arm stood out. He couldn't believe that he had met the legendary Mason Lowry! However, the investigation results brought back by his assistant could not be wrong! He felt as if his breath was stuck in his throat—he could neither breathe it out nor push it down—and he felt as if he was suffocating. He asked incredulously, "Is it really him? Are you sure?!"

His assistant was a little confused but nodded affirmatively. "There is no mistake!"

Without any warning, he suddenly threw his phone to the ground ferociously. He roared in fury, "How could it be him?! Is it really him?! How can that damn girl's backer be somebody from the Lowry Family?!" This time, we offended the entire Lowry Family!

Lynette was startled by Fass' sudden and abnormal actions. Thus, she immediately stepped forward and asked, "Uncle Fass, what's wrong? I've already dropped out of school. Could it be that Janet still won't forgive me?"

She gritted her teeth. Janet must have done something to their companies again for Uncle Fass to be so furious! What a b*tch! I've already dropped out of school! How can she still not forgive us?!

"It's over! Everything is over! Both my company and your father's company are done for!" Fass roared. He was so furious that he stretched out his hand and pointed at Lynette. At this point, he couldn't care less about their uncle-niece relationship anymore!

"What's wrong?! Why did you mention the Lowry Family just now?" Ronald looked puzzled. We were just in the middle of concocting plans to get back at Janet; why is he saying that we're done for after answering his phone?

Fass had a tense expression on his face. Looking at Ronald with reddened eyes, he said in a grave voice, "Do you know who that man sitting in the principal's office was?"

"Who was it?"

"The heir to the Lowry Family, the president of Lowry Family Conglomerate, and the most powerful person in Asia!" He spoke slowly, repeating everything his assistant had told him, word for word.

"What?!" Lynette and Ronald both widened their eyes in shock at those words. They were so shocked that they couldn't help shuddering involuntarily.

"Fass, stop joking with us!" Layla stepped forward and grabbed Fass' hand.

Fass roared, "I'm not in the mood to joke with you!" It's over! We're done for! The Lowry Family is famous for holding grudges! We spewed all those insults just now; I'm sure that man will not forget it! No wonder; no wonder he knew that Shields Enterprise was negotiating a huge business deal with the Moss Group. How could the man standing at the top of the business world not know about something like that?!

Sir, You Don't Know Your Wife Chapter 557

Fass thought back on what Mason had said just now. This man also knows that Leonard Enterprise is being suppressed by the Davis Corporation overseas! Could it be? Could it be that the Lowry Family is the mysterious investor that invested in the Davis Corporation?! The more he thought about it, the more terrified he became!

"What do we do now?" Ronald seemed at a loss for what to do. He didn't know how to vent out the anger in his heart. We only came here to support Lynette. I can't believe we accidentally offended such an influential person! No wonder Mr. Goldstein kept trying to persuade Lynette to drop out of school. He completely disregarded the Shields Family and the Leonard Family. So this is the reason why! If we had known that that man was Mason Lowry, we would never have confronted him! Argh; we shot ourselves in the foot!

Fass sighed and frowned. "Let's just go back first!"

On the other side, Robert felt a lump in his heart after he successfully persuaded Lynette to drop out of school. It made him feel extremely uncomfortable.

The man sitting on the sofa could tell what Robert was worried about. Thus, he stood up and nonchalantly said, "Don't worry. I won't let the Shields Family do anything to you."

Upon hearing those words, Robert seemed stunned for a moment before he nodded with a smile tugging at the corners of his mouth. "Thank you, Young Master Mason!"

Mason smiled and lifted his delicate eyebrows. He had quite a favorable impression of Robert. At least, Robert persuaded Lynette to drop out of school. It will serve as a great example. Let's see who else will dare to bully Janet again in the future!

Not long after that, Janet put away her phone and got up. She lazily walked to Mason's side and quietly said, "I'm going back to class!"

Mason nodded in response and followed her.

Watching their backs as they left, Robert heaved a sigh in relief. It sure is hard to be the principal. It's only the second day of school, and I've had to overcome such a huge challenge!

The students were still in class. Therefore, not many people were outside at the moment. Just as Janet was about to round the corner and go up the stairs, she suddenly stopped walking. Her eyes darkened. Before she could ask the man why he was following her, strong arms grabbed her arms and pressed her against the wall. I can't move!

Her entire body was pressed underneath Mason's body, and a familiar smell vaguely came from above her. She didn't even notice it, but at that moment, her heart rate sped up and her breathing became ragged! Then, a familiar deep voice slowly sounded from above her head. "Are you not going to explain?"

The meaning behind his words was clear, and she immediately understood it. However, she deliberately blinked at him with an innocent expression. Swallowing lightly, she slowly spoke in an emotionless voice. "Explain what?"

When he heard her reply, he nearly laughed from frustration. His tone was rather evil as he said, "Why don't you explain how you hacked into Shields Enterprise and Leonard Enterprise?"

The man was practically pressed against her ear as he whispered those words. Therefore, it made her head feel fuzzy and her ear feel tingly!

"Oh?" She raised her eyebrows at him and fearlessly replied, "That's what you were talking about?" As she spoke, she squirmed slightly and freed a hand. Then, she reached her hand into her pocket to take out her phone. The screen of her phone instantly lit up, and she explained, "I asked my hacker friends to help! Why?" She pressed her hand against his chest and deliberately asked, "Why... Do you want her contact information too?"

Mason glanced at the chat log on the phone and believed her words!

When Janet saw that he was not saying anything, she provocatively said, "Aren't you going to let go of me? Do you know what place this is?" The university is such a sacred place; doesn't he know what kind of posture he is using to press me against the wall?

Sir, You Don't Know Your Wife Chapter 558

How will I explain this situation if we're seen by the students?

"What place this is? You're mine. So what if we are seen?" Mason pressed himself against Janet, his thin lips touching the tip of her nose. His voice was very low as he whispered, "The tip of your nose is quite cold!"

It's ticklish! Janet felt an itch in her nose from the rubbing. Thus, she tried to avoid him. Taking advantage of the man's unpreparedness, she pinched the meat on his waist. "Your muscles are pretty firm!"

His lower jaw tightened slightly for a moment, and his breathing became rough. He fell silent for several seconds. After that, he regained his composure, lifted her chin slightly, and lightly said, "Then, why don't you tell me how you managed to restore Woodsbury University's system?"

"By luck. Do you believe me?" She lazily replied, narrowing her eyes to look at the man in front of her. She had no intention of concealing anything from him; she simply wanted to tease him!

Her words brought a smile to his face as he lifted his delicate eyebrows slightly. "Even Professor Hobbs of the computer science school couldn't do a thing, and you managed to restore the system to normal by luck? Tell me; what kind of magic hands do you have?"

"I'm sure you know what kind of magic hands I have!" She narrowed her eyes and deliberately let her breath blow against his neck.

Feeling the hot breath blowing against his neck, his ears turned a little red. Those words overlapped with what happened a few days back when she used her hands to get him off! This woman is such a seductive little charmer. He did his best to force his breathing back to normal. There was a trace of wickedness in his black eyes as he stared at her intently. His voice was very deep. "Tell me; what is your codename?"

In this industry, any professional hacker worth their salt would have a codename. Judging by her ability to restore Woodsbury University's system, she should be at the top of the hacker rankings. Therefore, he was very curious about what her codename was!

"Codename?" She mulled over it for a bit. Then, she asked with an innocent look. "Why don't you take a guess?"

She wasn't going to tell him so easily. After all, that would be so boring!

He chuckled in response, and his voice became low and hoarse. "Then, what is your friend's codename?"

"Oh, her?" She blinked. "She doesn't have a codename. Her real name is Lara!"

"Lara?" He murmured under his breath. All of a sudden, a flash of doubt flitted across his mind. 'Sandra' is her code name as the divine doctor, and Lara is her friend! Then... 'J'Adore' might very well be her friend too! After all, she once went to Markovia to treat somebody from the MX! What's more, the name itself starts with 'Ja', which carries some similarities to her name. Maybe... she might actually be 'J'Adore' herself! Pursing his lips, he asked, "Do you know—"

Unexpectedly, a bell rang before he could finish speaking and effectively interrupted him mid-sentence.

"What?" She looked up, not understanding what he wanted to ask.

At that moment, the sound of footsteps came from the corridors of the school building. It was most likely the teachers returning to their office after class. He turned his head away and slowly relaxed his hands that had been pressing her under him. "Go back to your classroom. We'll talk when we get the chance!"

After saying that, his thin lips pressed down lightly and landed on her cherry lips. It was as light and gentle as a dragonfly skimming across the surface of water!

"How are you going to deal with Shields Enterprise and Leonard Enterprise?" Janet asked softly while tugging at his hand and pursing her lips. She once heard that this man was notoriously hateful and had a habit of holding grudges. Therefore, she was curious about how he was going to handle today's affairs.

Upon hearing those words, Mason simply raised his eyebrows and said in an icy voice, "Do you remember Hedd Cardiff? His father's company has been suppressed for three whole months now, and all his resources in Sandfort City are gone. The entire Cardiff Family is banned for life from collaborating with any company in Sandfort City!"

Sir, You Don't Know Your Wife Chapter 559

When Janet heard what Mason said, she was stunned. How can I ever forget about Hedd Cardiff? He had uttered such offensive words to me during the Autumn Car Racing Championship! Although I later heard from Sean that the Cardiff Family ended up in a terrible situation, I didn't ask too much about what he meant back then. Now, I find out that Mason took his anger out against the entire Cardiff Family! Moreover, he wiped out all their resources in Sandfort City! That's equivalent to telling the Cardiff Family not to touch me! Based on what he just said... Will the Shields Family end up in the same situation? She smiled. The corners of her lips were lifted in an incredibly wicked smile. "Is that all you know how to do? Don't you have more interesting methods?"

She wasn't trying to make fun of him. She simply felt that even though the Shields Family was bad, it wasn't to the point where they couldn't be forgiven!

When Mason heard what she said, it immediately aroused a competitive feeling in his heart. He lifted his eyebrows slightly. "Then, how do you think I should punish them?"

"Hmm..." She smiled at the mischievous idea that flashed through her head and said, "Let's make Lynette write repentance letters for an entire month! As for how to deal with Ronald and Fass... I'll leave it up to you!" Since Lynette refuses to apologize, then I'll make her write repentance letters for an entire month to reflect on her mistakes! This will serve as a small punishment in her life!

He fell silent for several seconds after hearing those words. When all is said and done, she is still too soft-hearted. Still, she has already said as much. It's not like I can't do that.

"Okay!" He nodded, his black eyes staring into her delicate and beautiful eyes.

When she heard the footsteps in the corridor getting closer, she moved away and prepared to leave. Then, she turned back abruptly and unhurriedly said, "By the way, military training starts tomorrow. I'm going to stay in school!"

She thought that the man would be rather disappointed. After all, the military training would last for half a month. She was half-certain he would miss her since they couldn't even meet up during that time. However, he curled his lips indifferently after hearing that and faintly answered, "I know!"

She felt a little disappointed by the man's reaction. So, he won't miss me at all... Forget it; I won't miss him either. She laughed self-deprecatingly and said emotionlessly, "Okay. I'm going back to class now!"

Mason did not seem to think too much about it. His lips curved upward, his eyes were wicked, and his voice was rather indifferent too. "Okay!"

After that, Janet absent-mindedly took out her phone to play. Her fingers tapped on her phone lightly and pulled up the message Lee had sent to her.

Lee: 'Janet, the person who placed the order brought forward the time by five days. He asked us to head to Yobril on the 5th!'

She did not reply to him. 5th? Today is the 2nd, which means we'll be leaving in three days! Looks like the medical condition is quite serious. Bringing it forward as they please? Why didn't they ask me beforehand? How arrogant!

Those thoughts ran through her head, and she was about to reject their request. However, Lee sent another message saying: 'The other party also increased the reward by 500 million!'

When Janet saw the words Lee sent to her, her lips curved upward in response. She stuffed her phone back into her pocket and put her hands in her pockets, suddenly feeling her mood changing for the better! 100 million a day! It's worth it!

On the other side, Mason's lips couldn't help curving upward as he watched Janet's joyful back. Taking out his phone, he dialed a number. A familiar steady voice sounded from the other side of the phone. "What's the matter, Young Master Mason?"

Mason raised his eyebrows and slowly instructed, "Sean, from tomorrow onward, send all the documents that I need to look through to Woodsbury University." From tomorrow onward, I'm going to be an 'official' lecturer at Woodsbury University!

Sir, You Don't Know Your Wife Chapter 560

"Also, ask Black Python and White Python to return. I have some tasks for them!"

Sean was stunned for a moment, then he nodded. "Okay!"

Just as Mason was about to hang up, a name flashed through his head suddenly. Thus, he continued, "Tell the head of the MX that the Lowry Family Conglomerate would like to meet her in the next two days for a business deal. Please confirm the time with her."

After listening to the last sentence Sean said through the phone, he narrowed his eyes. After this meeting, I'll finally know just who on earth J'Adore is!

Meanwhile, Janet walked back to the classroom, pulled out her chair, and sat down. Several people resting with their heads against the table looked up when they heard the sound of the chair scraping across the ground. As soon as her classmates saw her, they immediately gathered together and whispered among each other.

"She really came back! I wonder why Lynette left!"

"Tsk. Tsk. There's no helping it; Lynette was so arrogant that even her father and her uncle couldn't protect her!"

"I heard another man came to the school just now and entered the principal's office too. It seems like he was here to support Janet!"

"Support her? Who is it? Did you see his face clearly?"

"How do I know? I only heard about it!"

When Abby heard Janet's name, she immediately woke up from her sleep. As soon as she saw Janet, her tired face instantly broke out into a cheerful grin. Blinking, she asked, "Did Mr. Goldstein do anything to you?"

Sharon and Summer looked up too. "That's right. We saw Lynette walking out of the school with her bag when we were in the field just now! Did Mr. Goldstein reprimand you?"

Janet arched her eyebrows charmingly as she lazily and amusedly said, "It's not like I did anything wrong. What can Mr. Goldstein do to me?"

When everybody in class heard those words, they immediately looked at Janet. Tsk! Those words sound absolutely crazy yet incredibly reasonable too! Before they saw Lynette packing up her stuff and walking out the school gate, they thought Janet would be the one to suffer in this incident. This is so unexpected! Who could have imagined that Lynette would be forced to leave? Besides, Lynette has such powerful forces backing her. How did

Mr. Goldstein persuade her to drop out of school? Could it be that the forces backing Janet are greater than Lynette's?! But, didn't the freshman class of the performing arts school claim that Janet came from the countryside? Moreover, she has nobody behind her, and her parents don't love her either. Her strength shouldn't be larger than Lynette's toe in comparison!

Therefore, everybody felt that the entire matter was extremely strange. They couldn't wrap their heads around it! Aside from that, there was something else they couldn't figure out either. How did Janet restore Woodsbury University's surveillance system? Professor Hobbs' hacking skills are among the best in Sandfort City! Even with his level of skill, he was helpless. Therefore, it's impossible for Janet to restore the system with her amateurish computing skills! Unless... she has another hidden ability. Could it be that she actually has greater computing skills than Professor Hobbs? But, is that even possible? Not only is she the top scorer of the college entrance exams, but she also applied to take three majors at once. And now, she might have high-level hacking skills too?

Everybody could only wonder about it. Even so, they felt that it was impossible.

"Janet, were you the one who restored the school's surveillance system?" Abby held Janet's hand, hoping for an answer. On the other hand, Sharon and Summer looked at Janet with overwhelming curiosity reflected in their eyes too.

Janet felt helpless and secretly sighed in her heart. "To be honest, I only got lucky thanks to Professor Hobbs. He already wrote most of the codes before me. All I needed to do was bring in the formulas and reorganize the codes to restore the system!"