

Blossoming Her Shielded Heart Chapter 241 – 250

Chapter 241

The door of the ward was pushed open. Seeing that Julia was talking in Shawn's arms, Barbara walked quickly to the ward. "Are you awake, Julia?"

Julia looked at Barbara vigilantly and hid her head into Shawn's arm. Seeing that Barbara was about to touch her, she waved it back immediately.

Instead of being surprised, Barbara asked worriedly, "still the same?"

Shawn nodded.

"Shawn, go to sleep first. Even an iron man can't fall asleep after three days without sleeping. What's more, Julia has woken up. I will just take care of her."
" Barbara said apologetically.

With these thoughts in her mind, Barbara sighed and thought, 'whoever marries Julia will be out of luck. Why is this kid so annoying?'

Three days and three nights As Julia stared at the tired face of Shawn in confusion, her heart ached for no reason. She patted her chest quickly and promised, "I will be good."

Shawn smiled, with a pair of long, black eyes staring at her quietly. It was not bad that she could not recover all her life. He would like to live her innocently for the rest of her life, in which he would shield all the troubles and troubles for her.

“Okay.” The next second, Shawn lay beside her, leisurely.

Julia couldn't help but grin when she saw the obedient look on Shawn's face. But her face quickly changed when she looked at Barbara. Barbara was used to Julia's cold eyes. She looked at Julia with a slight smile.

Somehow, this strange smile made Julia's face shudder with fear.

“Julia, let's see how long you can go mad.” With a playful look at Julia, Barbara laughed so broadly that Julia failed to recognize her mother. She was very angry and thought, ‘well, I haven't taught this girl for a long time. She deserves it.’

Julia was cold. She tucked herself in and looked at Barbara, who was like a devil.

Without another word, she just sat on the edge of the bed.

After a while, Julia's stomach started to growl. She touched it and found that it was much smaller than before. Fragments of the surgery flashed across her eyes, and her eyes were wide with horror.

“Babe, babe, where are you...” She muttered weakly, and the part of her heart seemed to have been removed. It was so painful that her whole body was trembling.

Zoey, Zoey, Shawn, mom These men flashed through her mind at once. Julia's mind was so messy. She couldn't figure out why Shawn had betrayed her, why Zoey had laughed at her and why Barbara had another intention. All of them were pretending

Did they take away her baby?

But why do I feel that they are not like what Zoey said? What the hell is the truth? Julia felt hurt in her head. Zoey rolled down the stairs with her to save her. And Barbara also made money for her to earn tuition. She swore that she would be able to let her mother live the best life in the future.

Shawn had always been there for her.

ad with his hands at once. Julia muttered in pain, “my head hurts. It hurts.”

“Don’t think too much. Everything will be fine.” Shawn bent over and coaxed her in a soft voice, full of deep love and affection. Even though Julia was out of her mind, she could still feel his care.

He loved her. He loved her. He wanted her to trust him, her mother, and all the people who were good to her.

Julia cuddled Shawn in her arms and buried her head into his chest. His hug was so warm, as well as the warmth she relied on. When she was surrounded by cold and darkness, he was still by her side.

Her eyelids drooped heavily and her head became heavy without any consciousness. She fell asleep slowly in his arms.

Shawn put Julia on the bed. He carried Julia back to the bed and carefully stared at her little face. She was beautiful, but her pale face made his heart ache.

Julia’s eyebrows were still knitted when she was asleep. Then, Shawn put her hand on them and gently rubbed them apart. He remembered that she slept like a child without the habit of frowning her eyebrows, innocent and without any vigilance.

Julia would come back to her senses sooner or later. Sometimes, Shawn was afraid that Julia would know that her baby she had been looking forward to was gone.

Now she still remembered looking for the baby since she was unconscious. When she woke up and found that the baby could not come back, she would be very sad.

With his fists clenched, the darkness in Shawn's eyes reddened. He looked like a man who had just come from the hell with great cruelty and murderous will.

Twenty years ago, he was too young to protect his mother. Twenty years later, he still lost the child still in the womb, and he was still unable to protect what he cared.

His eyes were as sharp as swords. It was time to make those people pay the price. He would get back everything!

Chapter 242

Walking out of the gate of the hospital, Barbara couldn't help squatting and crying in a low voice. She was the one who should be blamed. And Juliet shouldn't have punished Julia.

If she hadn't met Noah ten years ago, maybe Julia wouldn't have suffered this!

It was all her fault!

"What's up, Barbara?" A pair of shiny Sarahther shoes stopped in front of her, and a familiar voice fell into her ears.

Barbara shook her head at once. It was Noah who accompanied her these days. She refused him several times, but he still kept her company. Although Barbara didn't want that, she was touched that there was a man accompanying her.

"Julia woke up." "I'm fine now. I can rest assured when she wakes up. You don't need to come here to accompany me anymore," Barbara replied with a forced smile

A few seconds later, Noah gave her a forced smile and said, "what are you talking about? Shawn is my son, and Julia is my daughter-in-law. I'm not here to keep you company."

The words were hard to decline for Barbara. It looked like she was just trying to flatter herself. "How is Zoey?" she changed the subject

"Zoey is fine. She just fell over and got hurt. Because the child had died in her womb, the abortion did not cause too much harm to her body. What's more, she has Holden with her all the time. It seems like I, as a father, is a fifth wheel. " Noah said helplessly.

"I really have to thank Zoey. Without her, Julia would not only lose her baby." Since Zoey was holding her, there was no bruise on Julia's body. She just had a miscarriage.

Noah smiled, "You're right. Thanks to Zoey. But I didn't expect that Zoey would do such a thing. No wonder Zoey has always been hostile to Zoey. "

Barbara kept silent. She hadn't expected that Zoey, who had always been gentle and lovable, would do such a thing to Julia. Was Zoey bewitched by Juliet, or was it because of Juliet.

"Don't worry. I will find Zoey as soon as possible to bring justice to Julia." Noah thought that Barbara was concerned about this, so he promised.

Barbara looked into the distance, stupefied. Now she no longer wanted to hate anyone. No matter who she hated, Zoey or Juliet, she didn't want to resent. She only hoped that Julia could get better as soon as possible, and that Julia could walk around her lively and skittish.

She didn't care about hatred or resentment anymore.

She should have let go of what had happened ten years ago. She really didn't want to argue with these things. The things of the elder should not be handled by the younger generation. Both Juliet and she were wrong.

The elder was not same as the younger.

As Juliet's daughter, Zoey and Holden were not snobbish at all. Zoey would rather walk down the stairs with Julia to save her. When they were in the villa, Holden held her and spoke for them, ignoring how disgusted Juliet was with them.

The three kids were all good kids. In this case, Barbara didn't want them to cause trouble for the sake of her and the Nelson family. It would be go he had nothing to do with Holden let alone Holden's betrayal

"Mom, I'm really bored here. Can I ask Holden to accompany me here?" Zoey offered politely.

Juliet's face lit up with joy. "Of course. It's a good thing to bring a child back."

Zoey's cheeks turned red.

"You don't have to worry about this matter. It's Julia's own fault. Today when I went to the hospital, I saw that Barbara and Noah were talking intimately. I won't let it go." Juliet said with hatred.

Zoey nodded. She didn't want to care about it any more. If she could escape from the pursuit of Shawn this time, she was willing to stay quietly beside Holden.

She couldn't forget what Holden said to her in the car. He said, Miss Ding, I remember that you are a doctor.

She was a doctor, but she used his medical skills to kill people, almost two lives. No matter how cruel a person is, he can't hurt a pregnant woman, a child or an old woman. For the first time, Zoey realized that she had done so much wrong.

From now on, she wanted to do something for Holden wholeheartedly.

But Zoey could not help feeling strange. Back then, Holden agreed to marry her because he was dissatisfied with Julia and hoped to help her drive away her. After marrying Holden and knowing about the Nelson family, Zoey had thought that Holden was defending Juliet, but he didn't know what Julie had done.

Then Why did Holden marry her?

The shares of the Ding family in the Nelson Group? Or an ordinary business marriage?

Well, she would gradually make Holden like her. At that time, it didn't matter what reason Holden married her.

Zoey nodded.

The basement was as well decorated as the bedroom, so she didn't feel wronged. Zoey sat on the bed. In her opinion, Holden was also concerned about her, but he was always modest, which made her ignore the fact that Holden was good to her.

The night fell. Huge darkness enveloped the city, Sarahving no space for a gasp.

Chapter 243

When Barbara and Noah finished dinner and went back to the ward, Julia had just woken up. She was still indifferent to Barbara when she saw her, but in fact, she didn't make trouble for her.

This pSarahsd Barbara very much. She hurriedly passed the food in front of Julia, "You haven't eaten anything for three days. You must be hungry."

Julia gave Barbara an arrogant glance, picked up the plate and gobbled it up. Seeing her like a starving wolf preying on its prey, Shawn man frowned and reminded her in a soft voice, "slow down. No one's gonna take it away from you."

"....." Barbara was speechless. It turned out that Shawn had already seen through Julia's nature.

Julia faltered. No one could hear cSarahrly what she was saying, but her hands moved fast or slow.

"Shawn! You'd better have some!" Barbara grabbed a copy and handed it to Shawn. Julia had been in a coma for three days while Shawn had stayed with her for almost three days.

Shawn nodded and took the food from Barbara's hands politely. Compared with his elegance, Julia was too wretched to look at. After she ate up her own dish, she snatched the meat from Shawn's mouth without asking anything.

While Shawn was in a trance, his lunch box has been in Julia's hands. She quickly opened her small mouth and ate it with relish.

Embarrassed, Barbara shouted, "God, why do I have a daughter?!" Why!

Compared with Barbara's hysteria, Shawn was very calm. He wiped his mouth elegantly with a tissue, and then wiped the rice on full face of Julia carefully. He sighed dotingly, "what a little kitten."

With her mouth full of food, Julia could not refute what Shawn said. She could only stare at him and hummed proudly.

"Julia, I'm Sarahving now. Behave well. Don't be so naughty. I'll come to see you tomorrow." Seeing Julia finish her dinner happily, Barbara stood up and said to her gently.

Julia didn't say anything.

Barbara let out a sigh and looked at Julia with concern for her for a long time. Then she turned around and disappeared into the dark.

Watching her Sarahving, Julia was stunned for a while. Then she turned around and looked at Shawn. "I think that man will beat me hard later. You should stand on my side."

"....." Shawn was in silence.

'what kind of violence have Barbara done on Julia? Then Julia thought you would slap her every day!

"Kitten, did she hit you before?" Shawn asked curiously.

Julia nodded and said, "there is a feather duster and an iron rod which is strong enough to frighten me. I did not get a good test, so she hit me hard.

Lying, hit me. Drooling at the steamed buns, she is still trying to hit me when I am home! I hate her so much! She kept beating me! “

With an aggrieved look, Shawn suddenly looked at Julia in ied her hair.

Maybe it was because the action of Shawn was too gentle that the noisy woman also stopped and obediently listened to him. She stared at him with her bright black eyes for a long time. Finally, she couldn't help pinching his cheek and rubbing his handsome face.

Shawn's face darkened. He looked at Julia with his black eyes. The kitten had better go crazy for the rest of his life. Otherwise, he would be too rough

Poor Julia didn't know that she had provoked so many people these days

“Be a good girl. Don't move and go to sleep first.” Shawn held her soft hand, and his voice was so soft that it seemed to have the power to squeeze out water. That scene would even make Julia giggle after all these years of recalling.

“Yes, yes.” Julia nodded obediently, nestled in the arms of Shawn, and rubbed her head against his chest. Then she grasped his ears with her hands as usual, and went to sleep.

Shawn didn't understand why Julia liked pinching his ear to sleep. Shawn looked at Julia with intimidating and sharp eyes, but to a woman who was in a trance, it was like playing a harp “Baby, let me tell you a story, okay?” Julia then turned to be a good mom and smiled kindly at Shawn.

Shawn was speechless.

Julia continued, “a long time ago, there was a log cabin in the forest. There was a red hat and her mother living in the cabin. One day...”

She was telling a story about the little red hat and the big bad wolf. She was very emotional, and when she was excited, she would act like the cunning expression of the big bad wolf. But before she finished speaking, she grasped his ear and fell asleep.

Julia ignored Shawn’s pain of being annoyed by her but seduced by her.

Shawn sighed softly, hugged her closer, buried his head in her neck, and fell asleep with her.

Chapter 244

Zoey had a bad dream in which people all over the world pointed at her and cursed her. She tried to drive away the crowd to look for Holden, but she couldn’t find him no matter how hard she tried. She suddenly woke up from her dream. The sunshine poured in from the window. Her white quilt was stained with golden light. It was sunshine.

“What’s wrong?” Seeing Zoey gasping for breath and in a panic, Holden couldn’t help holding her in his arms and said in a soft and sweet tone.

Zoey shook her head violently and pushed Holden away. These days in the hospital, it was Holden who stayed here to take care of her. At first, Hobson also wanted to stay, but he was refused by Holden as they haven’t get married. But Holden left as he was her most favorite brother.

“I can be discharged today.” Zoey murmured.

Since Holden stayed with her all the time, Zoey had no chance to ask Hobson about her unborn baby. As she hadn’t been pregnant for long, she wasn’t sure whether the baby was still there or not.

And no one mentioned this to her, making her not know what to do. She must go to find the doctor as soon as possible with Hobson. There should be no problem with her taking the medicine with double the dosage.

“Yes.” Zoey’s refusal didn’t bother Holden at all. He just turned around and started packing.

Looking at Holden’s back, Zoey lowered her eyes again. “Brother, where is Zoey now? Has she already escaped? “

Holden remained silent. He didn’t want to lie to her, but he couldn’t let Zoey know about it. Holden was always heartless, sometimes he was kind-hearted, which was only a few accidents. He would not sympathize with Shawn and Julia. He just wanted to achieve his goal.

“Zoey, you don’t have to worry about this. We will take care of it,” Holden poured her a glass of warm water and put some pills into her mouth.

Zoey swallowed the pill with difficulty and drank some water. She frowned and said, “what kind of medicine it is? It’s so bitter.”

“It’s for the women after the miscarriage.” Holden looked at Zoey tenderly and said slowly.

Hearing this, Zoey’s face suddenly froze and breathed heavily. She looked at Holden in disbelief, her lips trembling, “you What did you say? “

Holden didn’t mention it these three days for fear that she would be too weak to take them. Now she had recovered very well. Even if he hadn’t told her, Hobson would tell her. Humph, would she go to see a doctor with Hobson?

Did she ask him, kid’s father?

“Zoey, why not tell me?” Holden took back the glass from Zoey, asked her slightly.

After she steadied herself, Zoey denied, “I don’t know what you want to say. That child has nothing to do with you!”

“None of my business?” With the dark and soft eyes, Holden looked at Zoey in a condescending manner.

Zoey was so frightened that she covered herself up with the quilt. “It’s not yours. It’s absolutely not yours.” she lied again

When. Then he saw Juliet and Noah coming over from a distance. They were here to pick up Zoey. Gritting his teeth, Hobson raised his hand and knocked heavily on the door.

Hearing the sound, Holden stopped what he was doing, helped Zoey to dress up, and went to open the door.

“Hobson, why don’t you go inside?” Juliet asked.

“The door is locked.” Hobson forced a smile.

Holden frowned. Did Hobson see that? The corner of Holden’s mouth hooked a proud arc. It doesn’t matter if he saw her. Anyway, it wouldn’t be long before he made Zoey public. He didn’t want their love to be hidden in the dark forever.

When Holden opened the door, he saw that Hobson was lowering his head and his expression was unusual. He smiled as usual and gently said, “good morning, mom and dad.”

“Holden, is everything ready?” Juliet nodded, entering the room with a LV designer handbag in her hand.

Not seeing Zoey, Juliet asked, “where is Zoey?”

Holden glanced at the bathroom and chuckled, “she is still washing face and brushing teeth. I’ll ask her to hurry up.” Then she strode toward the bathroom naturally.

Gazing at Holden’s receding figure, Hobson didn’t move forward. He was afraid that he would see something inappropriate.

Holden went into the bathroom and locked the door.

“Zoey.” Holden approached her.

“Go away! I hate you!” Zoey stepped back and pressed her hands against the washbasin. There was no way back.

“Well, you want me to do something here?” A sinister smile crossed Holden’s face as she hooked his chin. Suddenly, Zoey thought of a viper living in the darkness.

Zoey panicked. She knew that the man was totally psychologically distorted so he could do such thing!

“Brother, pSarahse, don’t be like this anymore.” Zoey was so scared that she sniffed and began to cry.

Holden frowned and held her in his arms. He didn’t want to frighten her.

“Honey, I’ll marry you after I deal with something. Okay?”

Chapter 245

Marry her?

Zoey was shocked. How could Holden marry her? Was it because Holden was crazy or she had a hallucination!

“Zoey, don’t distract me.” Holden whispered in her ear.

Outside the room, Juliet urged, “Zoey, Holden, we are Sarahving.”

Zoey pushed him away at once. Looking at her, Holden smiled and naturally took her hand to walk out. Zoey was afraid that her neck would be exposed, so she tried her best to raise the dress a little higher.

Holden grabbed a high collar coat and put it on her. Zoey was a little confused, but after putting on the coat, she could move naturally.

“Don’t you Sarahve, Noah?” Juliet didn’t notice the blush on Zoey’s face. All her attention was focused on Noah.

“Yes, I want to see Julia. You can go back first.” At this moment, Noah had already stepped out of the room.

“I think you are going to see Barbara. Noah, what on earth do you want! How could you treat me like this! ” Juliet looked at Noah coldly and began to scold him, ignoring that they were in the hospital.

She was kind enough to them last night for not rushing out of the car impulsively.

“Can you stop being so suspicious?” Noah looked back helplessly.

“I’m so suspicious? Who was still flirting with Barbara last night! I think you want to reconcile with your old love, Barbara, on the excuse that Julia is sick. In my opinion, Julia pretended to be ill, you and your son must be bewitched by Julia. ” Juliet cursed, without considering the consequences.

“We’ll talk at home. This is hospital.” Noah’s face turned grim

“Talk until we get home? I’m gonna say it here. Let’s see who’s more reasonable! ” Juliet’s voice was getting louder and louder.

Zoey had seen how Juliet and Noah quarrelled. But it was their first time quarrelling in public. She was accustomed to Sarahning on Holden, who held her hand more tightly.

Seeing that, Hobson felt strange. If he hadn't seen the two people were kissing so passionately just now, he would have thought that Holden was just protecting his scared sister. But now, it seemed that Holden only took Zoey as his wife.

"Dad, mom. I'll take Zoey home first. She'll be discharged from the hospital today. She doesn't want to stay here any longer." Holden's words interrupted their quarrel, and his voice was still as calm and gentle as water.

Noah ignored Juliet and went away in a huff. Seeing this, Juliet caught up with him angrily. She would never let Barbara have the chance to retrieve their relationship with Noah. She was the hostess of Nelson family!

The noise in the ward quieted down again. Holden turned to look at Hobson calmly. "I'll go back with Zoey. There's no need to bother you." After saying that, he held Zoey's hand and walked out of the ward. Hobson wanted to follow her, but he stopped after thinking for a while.

Zoey didn't need him. If she was forced to do so, why didn't she ask him for help now? Even though she didn't want to, she tried her best to protect her second elder brother and didn't want him to be exposed to the public, so she could bear Holden again and again.

In the car, Zoey turned around to look at the scenery, but her eyes were not focus at all. She had been used to being ignored by her parents. As long as she was fine, they would not show any tende

"what do you want me to say?"

Hearing this, Julia cocked her head and thought for a few seconds before she said, "good morning, Daddy! Say it to Dad Noah!"

Shawn turned to look out the window. The sun was hanging high in the sky. Was it good in the morning?

“Say it or not! Say it or not!” Julia grabbed Shawn’s ear and grunted.

Noah could not help but look at Shawn, with undisguised expectations and tension on his face.

It had been twenty years since the last time Shawn called Noah father. A naive child would grow up into a mature adult in twenty years. As time went by, they were getting farther and farther from each other. Now it was out of Noah’s expectation to hear Shawn call him father.

Hearing Julia’s requirement, Shawn’s face changed. Only a few seconds later, it seemed a century had passed.

At last, Shawn took Julia’s hand gently and pointed at her nose dotingly, “I’ll make you some noodles. Be good, don’t run around.”

Then she got up and went to the simple kitchen.

Staring at Shawn’s receding figure, Noah’s face darkened and sighed weakly. It was all his fault. He was so sorry for Shawn. In fact, Shawn had treated him very well. But Noah knew that Shawn still cared about his father.

That’s why, though Shawn hated his family very much, he would go back every time when Noah asked him to go back home. Sometimes, the company would take Noah’s advice and sometimes talk with him about the business. However, the expression on Shawn’s face was always so calm. He could fulfill his responsibility as a child perfectly, but Noah also knew that Shawn’s heart was always suppressed.

“Dad Noah, don’t worry. I must ask the CEO to say hello to you!” Seeing the disappointment on Noah’s face, Julia stepped forward and promised.

Noah reached out his hand and fondled Julia's head. "Julia was a good girl."

"Haha!" With a big smile on her face, Julia looked at Noah and laughed happily.

Seeing her innocent smile, Noah was in a much better mood and his face full of age relaxed a little. He said with a faint smile, "Julia, you will always be the pride of Dad Noah."

Julia nodded in a hazy understand.

Chapter 246

When Julia saw Shawn holding a bowl of steaming noodles out of the kitchen, Julia immediately lifted the quilt and dashed towards the direction of Shawn. With her right arm raised high, Shawn had to let her hold the bowl because his right arm couldn't move.

After a few seconds, Julia reached out her hands for the noodles in Shawn's hands and shouted, "I want the noodles! I want the noodles!"

However, Julia was shorter than Shawn. She had tried her best to stand on tiptoe but failed to reach the noodles.

"Okay." Shawn glanced at her helplessly, put the noodles on the table by the bedside, and took her in his arms to avoid her hands touching the hot bowl.

"I want to eat it." Julia frowned and said unhappily.

By this time, Noah had left, and there were only two people in the room. The bowl of smoke was sending out from the smog, and the hot breath fell on their cheeks. The woman was innocent and innocent, and the man was doting on her deeply. The scene was like a warm colorful picture.

His voice became softer and softer. He came closer to her and coaxed, "honey, don't eat until it gets cold."

For some reason, Julia, who didn't like to obey others' orders and always wanted to go against others, quieted down obediently.

When Shawn served Julia with the noodles, Barbara happened to come in. With less hostility towards Barbara, Julia rushed at the lunch box held by Barbara. Silence befell Shawn. "How hungry are you, little kitten?"! Shawn shook his head helplessly.

At Nelson's mansion.

Annoyed, Juliet rushed back to the big house. But she did not see Zoey and Holden. She frowned and thought that Holden took Zoey to stroll around again. She took out her mobile phone and called Holden.

"Mom." Holden's voice was as gentle and polite as usual.

"Where are you taking Zoey? Go home now!" Juliet frowned. She didn't care about Noah. Did her son and daughter also not back home?.

"Zoey is in my private villa. It is close to the century amusement park. I want to take her to have a rest and return home tomorrow." Holden replied politely. What he said was reasonable. No one could doubt him.

Indeed, Juliet was a little upset about this. But once she thought about the fact that Zoey had been in hospital for several days, she understood that it was not a big deal to go to the amusement park. After thinking for a while, she said, "Holden, you'd better go to the basement to live tonight. It's not easy for Zoey to live there alone."

"Don't worry. I'll take care of it," Holden didn't promise or refuse.

“Well, now I don’t expect your father to protect us. I can only rely on you. Holden, don’t let me down like your father.” After a pause, Juliet said with a smile, “Holden, I believe that you won’t disappoint mother. I have known you since you was a child.”

Holden arched his brows as he naturally put his eyes on Zoey who was lyi

Hobson tried his best to keep calm.

“No, he has left. But I’m not at home or the villa. You don’t need to come to see me. I’m fine.” Zoey thought that Hobson’s visit was out of his concern for her, so she wanted to make it cSarahr to him.

Hearing Zoey’s calm voice, Hobson felt a little sad. Zoey never wanted to accept him or tell him about this.

“Zoey, is that child your second elder brother’s?” Asked Hobson all of a sudden.

Zoey’s mouth almost popped out in shock. A chill rose from the top of her heart. She hastily denied, “no “Nope.”

The little girl’s unprepared and panicked tone had already revealed that she was lying.

The baby’s father was Holden. Hobson had made sure.

“Zoey, when did you get together?” Asked Hobson.

Zoey’s hands and feet were as stiff as ice, and her hand holding the phone was as cold as ice. What was Hobson talking about?

“I don’t know what you are talking about. If there is nothing else, I will hang up.” Zoey didn’t want to hear Hobson’s voice anymore.

“Zoey, I have knew it.”

Hobson’s words successfully stopped Zoey from hanging up the phone. Her hands kept trembling, and her eyes were full of disbelief and panic. Hobson already knew that

How did he know?

“I have to go.” Not daring to face Hobson, Zoey said in a panic. She was afraid that Hobson would expose her picture with Holden, and that he would take advantage of it to threaten her.

“Zoey, why didn’t you tell me? Have you never given your heart to anyone? Or, have you already given all your heart to Holden? ” Asked Hobson. He snorted all of a sudden.

Zoey didn’t dare to contradict. She kept his every word in her mind carefully, afraid that she would miss the information that Hobson wanted to threaten her. She didn’t want her family to be trapped in such a terrible situation.

“What on earth do you want?” Zoey was impatient and couldn’t help interrupting Hobson.

Chapter 247

Hearing Zoey’s question, Hobson was a little stunned. But the corners of his lips lifted into a smirk. He couldn’t believe that she still didn’t know what he wanted?

“What I want is your heart. Are you willing to give it to me?” Hobson said half-jokingly.

Zoey fell into a daze. Her heart

“You don’t have a heart attack. What do you want my heart?” Zoey replied perfunctorily.

“Zoey, you know what I mean. Everything I have done is for you.” Hobson smiled bitterly.

Zoey couldn’t ignore the sadness and self-mockery in Hobson’s tone. When she heard something similar to confession, she was moved and really moved.

But it was nothing but gratitude.

“Hobson, let’s cancel the engagement ceremony. I don’t deserve you. You know what kind of person I am. Don’t think I am the proud and lovely princess anymore. I don’t deserve your love, really.” Zoey said as her nose twitched.

She had no place to go or the way back. She could only be stuck in the middle without any initiative.

“Hobson, you are a nice person. You deserve a better girl. But the girl is not me. Do you understand?” Zoey added.

The other side was silent for a moment, and then he said, “I’ll say it again. As long as you are willing to give it up, I can not care about what happened before. I only want your present and future, not your past.”

Zoey was shocked and remained silent for a while. She didn’t know how to face Hobson now. She really hoped that Hobson could let go of her and stop loving her, so that he wouldn’t make herself so lowly.

As for her, she could do nothing. But Zoey didn’t want Hobson to be involved in this. At first, she didn’t like his romantic behavior at school. She was even disgusted to see a playboy like him. Now she really hoped that he could be a womanizer and forget her.

“But Hobson, I don’t have a say in my future. So I can’t promise you anything.
” Zoey’s words were harsh, at Sarahst they could completely hurt Hobson.

Besides, can you beat my second brother? ‘Hobson, don’t do this for me! Don’t sacrifice the Lee family for me!’. Besides, I don’t like you at all. Don’t waste your time on me anymore. ” Zoey added, “Even if I will Sarahd a bad life in the future and no one loves me, I don’t want you to appear in front of me.”

Zoey really didn’t want to get involved with Hobson any more. Every time she met him, she would feel guilty and moved. This would make her care about his existence. The more she cared about him, the less she wanted to be hurt.

Hobson couldn’t beat Holden, who was a fox but Hobson was at most a simple little bear. She was afraid that Hobson would have been tortured as badly as Carrie by Holden, and she was also afraid that he would expose the news and bring danger to Nelson family.

There was another silence on the other side. Then, Zoey heard Hobson’s voice again. “Zoey, do you like Holden?”

Zoey fell into a da

Drugged one night by her ex-boyfriend, a mysterious man took advantage of her in an ecstatic night filled with sex.

To take her revenge, she married the man, and used him.

“As long as I’m alive, I’m still his legal wife, while all of you are just his mistresses.”

She remained adamant even when he was involved in scandals with other women.

Eventually she stormed off after she Sarahrned that he had betrayed her again. But life brought her back to him a few years later, to his astonishment.

the psychedelic incense.

Holden felt dizzy as soon as he stood up. With knitted eyebrows, he knew what was going on, but he walked towards the door of the basement as if nothing had happened. Zoey hugged him from behind promptly.

“Holden, I’m scared in the basement. Can you stay with me?” There was a sense of uneasiness in his voice.

Her body was so soft and feeble as if it was boneless. With a frown, Holden removed the small hand which was put in his chest, turned his head, and looked at Zoey with a pair of tender eyes. “Don’t be afraid, Zoey. Someone will accompany you.”

Zoey couldn’t see Holden’s face cSarahrly. Zoey was shocked. She had taken the antidote. And the aroma should be useless to her. Why would she feel dizzy.

“Bye, Zoey.” His low voice sounded like a narcotic in her ear. She stared at him until her consciousness gradually dispersed.

She saw that Holden left and someone came in. Someone lifted her to the bed. Was it him? Zoey desperately tried to open her eyes, but she could not, and her body could only be at the mercy of others.

When coming out of the basement, Holden felt more dizzy. He knew it was because of the incense. But Zoey didn’t expect that he also drugged her when she poisoned him.

Holden took out the thick documents and pulled out a divorce agreement from the middle, on which Zoey’s name was signed. Then he took out a pen and signed his name heavily, bearing his dizzy consciousness.

Zoey was still too young to fight against him. And even if Zoey would be dependent on him, Holden had always been thinking about it. Fortunately, he had really guessed right. There were so many boring documents on the contract that Zoey couldn't read it from beginning to end, so Holden put the divorce agreement between them and coaxed her to sign the name.

From now on, he was no longer Zoey's husband. He had gotten everything he wanted, and Zoey was no longer of use to him.

Chapter 248

The limousine stopped at the gate of the villa. The driver looked at his boss and didn't dare to say a word. Holden came down with documents, walked into the villa and strode to the bedroom.

Zoey was taken aback when she saw the man in front of her. She had never seen a blush like this on Holden's face before, and it looked weird that the man blushed like this.

"Brother, what's wrong with you?" He shook a little and nearly fell down to the ground. Zoey hurried to hold him up.

Holden handed the divorce agreement to Zoey and whispered in her ear, "Zoey, I'm divorced."

Holden hadn't forced Zoey since the day when she was forced to have sex with him at the Nelson family's backyard. Zoey had too many things to care about, so he didn't want to force her. Zoey looked at the sheet in shock. He had divorced Zoey!

Before Zoey could react from the shock, Holden had already pressed her down. This time, he didn't have to stop.

The afterglow of setting sun spread over the whole land. Some people were happy while some were sad.

“Second Master, miss Ding is waiting for you. What should we do with her?”
Vivek asked respectfully.

With the phone in his hand, the soft and warm embrace in the other hand, Holden kissed Zoey’s hair. “Send her out of Ventrusburg, as far as possible, and find her a place to live in the small town, and pay her full money, with the excuse that Shawn found a basement. She is very dangerous in Ventrusburg.”

“Yes.” After saying that, Vivek hung up the phone.

The woman on the bed thought that it was Holden who was with her just now, and waited Holden to pick her up with satisfaction. Vivek shook his head. Women in the world were as stupid as idiots.

“Where is Holden?” Seeing Vivek come in, Zoey asked in a hurry. Before she lost consciousness, she saw Holden Sarahving. She needed Holden to tell her in person that the man just now was him.

“Second Master said someone found us. Miss Ding, pSarahse pack your baggage. We are Sarahving now.” Vivek looked at Zoey with pity. This woman is good, but it was a pity that Holden didn’t like her.

“Where is Holden?” Zoey insisted.

“She went back to the company.” Vivek lied.

Zoey wanted to call Holden, but she couldn’t get through. According to Vivek, the basement had been found by Shawn, so she hurriedly packed her luggage and left by private plane without being noticed. Then she flew out of the prison, Ventrusburg.

hospital.

Doctor Ding went back to people's Hospital in Ventrusburg from abroad, Noah told him everything that had happened recently.

Professor Ding's brows knitted into a frown. He was shocked by Zoey's crazy action.

"Mr. Li, I feel sorry for Zoey's behavior, but as her grandfather, I still hope Mr. Nelson can do me a favor and do not push Zoey too hard." Doctor Ding sighed and interceded for Zoey.

Noah nodded, "I believe Shawn won't do anything inappropriate. After all, she is the daughter-in-

Drugged one night by her ex-boyfriend, a mysterious man took advantage of her in an ecstatic night filled with sex.

To take her revenge, she married the man, and used him.

"As long as I'm alive, I'm still his legal wife, while all of you are just his mistresses."

She remained adamant even when he was involved in scandals with other women.

Eventually she stormed off after she Sarahrned that he had betrayed her again. But life brought her back to him a few years later, to his astonishment.

rophe, and the baby would be born safely.

"It's all my fault. I'm so useless. I failed to protect the baby. It's all my fault..." Julia kept crying and she thought that it was her fault. She was mad so she ran around.

Shawn touched her hair sadly, "kitten, you are brave and strong. Our baby won't blame you. Maybe it is just because the baby does not belong to us. "

“No, I heard the baby tell me that he likes the family and the mommy and daddy. How could we not meet him?” Julia cried to Shawn. Then she lowered her voice, “it’s my fault. I didn’t protect it well...”

When he saw her reproaching herself to the point of no return, Shawn felt so sorry for her, heartbroken.

“We will have babies, the same baby.” The only thing Shawn could do was to kiss her gently to calm her down. She was not as noisy as before, but she was so sad that she could not bear it. Sometimes, he hoped that she could return to her appearance a few days ago. She was in a trance at that time. She could only think of the things before what had happened to the baby. Most of the time, she was innocent.

Julia looked at him blankly, like a child who had lost her way. She stumbled with no one to rely on. “No.” She muttered, “it can’t be exactly the same. If it’s gone, then it’s gone.”

Is now gone, then gone

Looking at her helpless and remorseful eyes, Shawn’s heart was like being thrown into a burning stove, and it was so painful that he could not feel it at all. He tightened his arms and tightly hugged her, telling her that she was not alone and that there was him behind her. She could rely on him.

Shawn’s tender voice brought Julia back to reality. She could smell his exclusive smell. He had been taking good care of her. Even the most responsible nurse was not as considerate as him.

She had to be strong and no longer let him worry about her

When she left, he endured the pain of losing his child and the pain of her suffering.

Chapter 249

Thinking of this, Julia quickly raised her hand to wipe away the tears. Her baby was the pain of her life, but she didn't want to see Shawn's sad and perplexed expression.

"I'm fine, Shawn..." Julia tried hard to lift the corner of her lips. Her face was pale. She needed to recover slowly from this wound.

"Silly girl, silly girl." As Shawn touched her face gently with his fingers, he wiped Julia's tears away. If possible, he would rather cry for her and feel sad for her. He wanted to keep her world forever so beautiful.

Julia slightly closed her eyes. She was very tired. She had been with the baby for more than three months. Recently, she had been dreaming about what the baby would look like, just like herself, and how she had been expecting for a long time with her first pregnancy.

Now All was gone

She felt desperate and sad.

In a daze, Julia fell asleep. For an instant, Shawn looked at her pale face. His eyebrows twisted into a frown. His dark eyes were filled with deep affection.

After sleeping for a long time, Julia suddenly woke up. The room was quiet and there was a dim street light coming in from the window, which was dazzling to her too. She turned her head and looked at Shawn.

He was still sleeping. His brows were furrowed more tightly than before. His handsome face showed a lot of tiredness. He had been busy taking care of her these days, so he must be very tired. Even if he didn't want to smile when facing her, he had to squeeze a smile. Because he couldn't let her notice that the baby was gone.

Fortunately, he was always there for her, which made her feel that she was not the only person in the world, but also he was there with her.

Julia sighed and tried to get rid of his hand. But the man was still strong when he was asleep, so she tried every means to get rid of his hand.

Then she got out of the bed carefully. Dressed in white and blue hospital gown, she walked to the window and stared blankly at the scenery outside the window. There was no one outside, only the cold autumn wind and the street lamp accompanying.

Her nose suddenly twitched. She raised her head and opened her eyes wide. She didn't want to cry any more, but tears kept falling down from her cheeks, reflected the cold light of the street lamp. As Julia slowly drew the thick curtain closed, the room fell into silence and darkness.

Without seeing anything, she squatted down and sat on the floor, with her arms around her knees. She bit her lips to hold back her tears.

Because of the darkness, she didn't see that Shawn had already woken up. He stood not far away from her, looking down at her and staring at her for a moment. When she was tired of crying and stopped making any sound, he bent over to pick her up and carried her back to the bed.

"Baby I'm sorry..." Julia's thin voice came out from his chest. Hearing this, Shawn's heart ached a little and she held the chilling woman even tighter.

They slept together.

The next day, Julia was woken up by a knock at the door. She opened her eyes delicately. Next to her, Shawn had already to Zoey in a few days. What do you think I should do?" Hobson buried his head in his palms and asked with anguish.

Julia was a little stunned when she heard that. But then she thought about it. Besides her, there was nobody else who could help Hobson. If she was not a member of the Nelson family, he must be worried that the news might get out.

Not to mention that Holden had been married, but the romantic relationship between brother and sister would definitely cause the Nelson family into an overwhelming gossip.

Julia cried in pain and didn't know what to do! She didn't know what on earth happened, so she couldn't make a decision for him. The little boy just trusted her too much.

“Zoey kept asking me to cancel the engagement, but I didn't listen. In addition, Zoey and Holden can't be together. They are brother and sister. I want to take her out, but I can't.” Said Hobson helplessly.

But Hobson was just the heir of the Lee group. Even if he was the head of the group, the Lee group couldn't compete with the Nelson Group at all. He hadn't known the relationship between Holden and Zoey before, but every time he saw Holden, he would be inexplicably scared. How could he provoke such a person.

“If Zoey were on my side, I would take her with me even if she was oblivious of everything. But she wasn't on my side right now. She said she didn't care about me at all.”

“I really don't know what to do. I can't Sarahve her alone. Since Holden is married, he won't bother Zoey for the rest of his life. What about Zoey when Holden wants to give up?”

Hobson kept complaining, Sarahving Julia no chance to interrupt. It seemed that he had been struggling for a long time before he came to talk to her.

Now the man in front of her still Zoey, but Zoey didn't like him. Hobson wanted to break off the engagement but he was afraid that the girl would be abandoned by Holden.

If they got engaged successfully, it would be difficult for them to break off the engagement in the future.

"....." How could this kid take things too hard. Julia was speechless.

Chapter 250

It was unknown how long Hobson talked before he stopped. He looked at Julia in bewilderment and helplessness. His usual handsome face turned sorrowful, but now he fell in love with Zoey.

"Sister-in-law, do you think they did the right thing to be together? Why didn't you stop them?" If it were not for the connivance of Julia and Shawn, Holden and Zoey would not have concealed it for so long.

Julia sighed. She stared at Hobson and slowly asked, "don't you think that Holden doesn't love Zoey? Do you think you love her more than Holden? Holden knew what he was doing. A bystander can always be a bystander. They grew up together. I don't have the right to stop them or judge whether they are right or wrong. What I can say is only to persuade them. "

'we're both onlookers. Even if it is a mistake, we can't get involved, ' Hobson thought. Then He is also a bystander?

Holden loved Zoey, but how long could this love last? How long could his love last? Does he really love Zoey? more than Holden?

No no, it isn't.

The first time he saw Zoey was when Zoey was recruited by a community for new members, and the magic club took her as the blessed treasure. She was the person in charge of the community image only who didn't need to do anything. At that time, Hobson was handsome and known as the school hunk of Ventrusburg University. Girls all rushed to him, but only Zoey always disliked him.

As his assistant, Hobson was jealous and trapped, and his magic was beyond imagination. Zoey felt humiliated in front of the whole school. She stuck against the wall and wouldn't allow him to come near ten meters.

He didn't know whether it was because he was getting more and more frustrated that he became more and more courageous. Maybe it was because he felt guilty. He had always wanted to be forgiven by her, but the more she dodged, the more closely he chased. When he was on holiday later, he came to her home. However, he couldn't see her for several times, and he met her again in the construction site.

Sometimes, Hobson wondered whether he had become accustomed to chasing her. The closer he got to her, the more he liked to see her get angry from embarrassment. He was angry, but helpless.

Zoey was arrogant. Even if she had been misunderstood, even if she had done something wrong, she would not apologize. She just wanted to stay away from the crowd. She disdained to be there. Maybe it was because her two brothers were business geniuses. Nelson family was so dignified that there was no need for her to apologize. Even if she was wrong, others would bring their children to apologize.

It was true that she had a bad character. She was very vindictive, narrow-minded, and played with her arrogance and willfulness. She had all the shortcomings of other noble ladies, but one of them was what most noble ladies did not. Zoey was straightforward and liked to stay in her own world. Sometimes she envied them, but she was too stupid and lacked ability. In the end, she just gave them the cold shoulder.

In the University, except being close to her roommates and Carrie, no one else could approach her, it anner.

Julia burst into laughter.

“You mentioned about Hobson just now. Did he come to see you?” Zoey asked as it suddenly occurred to her the first word Julia talked to her today.

“Yes. He told me about you, Holden, and your engagement.” Julia answered lazily.

It took Zoey several days to digest the news. Fortunately, Hobson didn't say anything about it. She had looked for Carrie by herself, but she couldn't find her anywhere, so she had to give up.

“Second brother has done too much wrong. I'm afraid that he would treat Hobson that way to Carrie. I'm really afraid of him.” Zoey sighed.

“But he is really good to you. Everyone in this world has the evil side. Don't think too much about it.” Julia closed her eyes and was meditating while speaking.

“Yes.” Zoey lowered her voice so as not to bother Julia.

As soon as she saw Shawn coming out of his room, Zoey handed him the osmanthus cake. He took it and sat on the sofa. Zoey immediately poured a glass of water for him.

“Brother, are you busy lately?” Zoey asked.

“Yes, what's up?” Shawn countered, squinting at the smiling Zoey.

“I passed the examination of the end of the semester. What about my trip?”
Zoey asked seriously.

Shawn gazed at Julia. After the board meeting was over, he should take her out for relaxation.

“It’s coming soon. You can think where do you want to go after you go back. Discuss with your sister-in-law and I’ll take you there when things are done.”
Shawn laughed.

Zoey immediately nodded and took the order, “I will complete the task perfectly and meet all the expectations!”

“.....” Shawn waved his hand, indicating that she could Sarahve now.

Zoey glanced at Julia who was asleep. She Sarahned over and whispered, “brother, you have to take good care of Julia. She needs you most at this time.”

Staring at Zoey, Shawn shook his head helplessly. It was Zoey who asked Julia to take care of him, and now it was also Zoey who asked him to take care of Julia. It seemed that his status in the heart of Zoey was constantly dropping.

That was a good thing
