

Life at The Top – Chapter 1491

Jasper's words caused Malcolm to fall silent.

After a long while, Malcolm nodded slowly and said, "I have to admit that you're right."

"Mr. Laine, you should know about this. Back then, I worked in Proctor and Gamble, so I have some channels and connections. I know something about the situation you're in. I hope you can properly assess the risk of this scenario."

Jasper nodded and smiled. He said, "I got it. Thank you, Malcolm."

"So, about the company's problem..." Malcolm said.

Jasper said expressionlessly, "Leave it. To those who left, and those who chose not to cooperate with us because of this, it may turn out to be a wise and far-sighted choice for them. Or perhaps it might be a stupid choice. Who knows?"

"I told you, this is a test for me and for JW."

“After this blows over, I will reorganize JW completely. We’ll just treat this as the inevitable pain before the reorganization. It’s good that I don’t have to get rid of those people and systems by myself when it happens.”

Malcolm’s eyes lit up when he heard what Jasper said. Since Malcolm was the second-in-command of JW, Jasper would discuss a lot of things with him.

What more, the reorganization of the entire company was a huge deal. Even if Jasper had the absolute power to rule, he could not ignore the abilities and ideas of people like Malcolm.

Hence, Malcolm knew that Jasper had plans surrounding this for a long time.

“What is the direction of the reorganization?” Malcolm asked.

Jasper smiled and said, “If I can get through this safely, then JW will have completed the most primitive accumulation.”

JW Company was currently regarded as a large-scale private comprehensive company in Somerland, but in Jasper’s opinion, the company was just a child who had not even completed the early stage funding. This was the difference between Jasper’s 20 years’ worth of reincarnation memory and the strategic vision of people in this age.

“Whether it is for the company’s future development or overall plan, such a reorganization is imperative.

“But I am encountering great difficulties right now. If we can’t get through this, everything will stop just like what you’re worried about. If we manage to get through this, I plan to reorganize JW Investment Company and establish JW Holding Group.

“The headquarter will no longer be responsible for any specific business. The holding group will be the core it will have jurisdiction over all of JW’s subsidiaries. That day will be the day we announce JW to the world officially.”

Jasper’s words made Malcolm nod his head vigorously.

“Yes, such a reorganization should have taken place long ago! In this case, I will make relevant plans and submit them to you as soon as possible.”

“Okay, coincidentally, I lack experience in this area.” Jasper was also very pleased.

Malcolm got up and left after they talked a little about work.

Jasper took care of some business in his office when he received a phone call from Wendy.

Wendy wanted to come to work but Jasper stopped her and asked her to rest at home. After that, he also agreed he would stay with her after he finished his work. Then, Jasper had lunch in the company's cafeteria before he brought Julian and Henry to Suesville.

When the car reached the highway, Jasper received an unexpected but pleasant phone call.

“Lord Alvarado, if you call me even though you're very busy, then something urgent must have happened.”

Jasper's sentence caused Henry, who was just boasting how amazing he was in Harbor City after he burned Empire Meet, to shut up and listen.

“I've placed 5 billion with you and I'm worried that you'll run away with the money, so I don't think it's that bad to check up on you, right?”

Lord Alvarado sounded like he was in a good mood from the other end of the phone.

Jasper narrowed his eyes and smiled. “Didn't the little prince tell you? That money has become 10 billion now.”

“That’s what he said. Our money was with you this whole time. If I don’t see the money, I won’t feel secure,” Lord Alvarado chuckled lightly.

Jasper tapped the surface of the table gently and said, “Don’t worry, Lord Alvarado, if need it, I’ll transfer it back to you after the United States stock market becomes stable.”

“Is the money still at the equivalent position?” Lord Alvarado asked.

Jasper replied insipidly, “That depends on your choice.”

“Haha!”

Lord Alvarado laughed and said, “The little prince told me about it, so I won’t say too much about this. At this critical moment, I can’t help you with anything, but at the very least, I won’t hit you while you’re down.”

“However, this is not a small matter. The little prince wants to take his right to rule back and I want to take mine back too. Will that be a problem?”

“It’s your money, so of course, there won’t be any issues,” Jasper said calmly.

“Okay, I’ll discuss this with the little prince. We won’t let you work in vain. We’ll take 9 billion each and the rest will be your commission, what do you think?”

Jasper narrowed his eyes as a profound glint appeared in his eyes. He said lightly, “You think too highly of me. I made 2 billion just from this. What a good deal.”

“If it’s a good deal, then I’ll just assume you agree to this.”

Lord Alvarado paused and sighed. “Don’t think that our future is bright, we have our hardships that we can’t tell you about as well. This time, we’re really the bad people.”

“It must indeed be difficult for you to say something like this, Lord Alvarado.”

“Stop acting so weirdly. Just think of this as me owing you a favor.”

“However, my stance remains unchanged. The decision-making power is yours while the final say is mine. This is the bottom line.”

“As long as you two don’t regret it, ” Jasper said.

“Why would I regret a decision I myself make?”
