

Chapter 1345

This woman! Even the thought of Sabrina drove Rose crazy!

She immediately walked up to Sabrina, raised her hand, and gave her a big, tight slap.

Sabrina: "..."

"Sean! Who was she hooking up with again today? Now that we caught her in the act today, we need to send her to Sebastian immediately, to show him her true colors! And Old Master Shaw too! No matter what, we need to show the old man his granddaughter's true personality! It looks like she's even worse than his fake granddaughter!"

As she spoke, Rose raised her hand to slap Sabrina again. Right then, someone barged into the hotel. "Don't hurt my daughter! Whoever hurts her will have to deal with me!"

Hearing this familiar voice, Sabrina's heart ached. She turned and looked at Gloria, who had rushed here in a fit of panic. "Mom, why are you here! What are you doing here?"

After the questions left her lips, she

After the questions left her lips, she regretted them, feeling as if she should not blame her mother. She only came to the Grand Sage International Hotel at a moment's notice, so how did her mother know she was there?

Unless someone informed Gloria ahead of time.

Sabrina looked at Jennie and asked, "It's you? You called my mother here?"

"It was me!" Sean took the responsibility onto his own shoulders. Jennie and Sean had reached an agreement beforehand. Once Gloria arrived, he would claim responsibility for the incident.

For the past week or so, Sean was mesmerized by Jennie; he obeyed her every command.

"I was the one who informed your mother and requested her presence here. She's an elder of the family, and we're in-laws, so we should resolve any problems face to face. If the fact that you're having an affair is proven, and we caught you red-handed, then we have no choice but to ask your mother to bring you home."

"Exactly, as they say, fish begin to stink at the head! Your daughter embarrassed both the head! Your daughter embarrassed both the Shaw family and the Ford family!"

This was the perfect moment for Jennie to flaunt her talents; her forked tongue could raise a storm in South City.

But Gloria was a knowledgeable and cultured woman too. At this point, she had to remain calm.

Gloria stood in front of her daughter protectively and looked around her. "You claim that my daughter is having an affair, but where's your evidence? Show me your evidence..."

Before Gloria could finish, the man who was hugging Sabrina ten minutes ago barged into the hotel too. With feigned shock in his eyes, he looked at Sabrina, then Gloria. Then he shifted his eyes to Sean and Rose, and finally to Jennie and Lori.

After running his eyes over everyone present, he immediately pushed the two security guards away and pulled Sabrina into his arms. "Sabrina, don't be afraid. I'll protect you, no matter what happens. I'll stand beside you..."

With an exceptionally calm expression,

Sabrina looked at the man who was hugging her. "What do you have against me? Why would you want to harm me like this?"

The man feigned outrage. "What happened to you Sabbie. Have you... Have you gone mad from anger? Don't worry! It's okay, even if we can't be together, I'll protect you ..."

Sabrina: "..."

She was so angry that smoke was practically billowing out of the top of her head. She lifted her hand to slap him.

But at that moment, a man dressed in a black suit barged in. His appearance shocked the hotel workers.

The first thing the black-suited man said as soon as he barged in was to reprimand Sabrina. "You're too naïve!"

Then, he did not say anything else but walked swiftly to the man hugging Sabrina. With a swift kick, the man flew into the air. Then, the black-suited man walked toward his victim again and stepped on his chest harshly. "Confess! Are you Lori Gibson's simp?!"
