

Chapter 1305

Sabrina said nothing.

She really did not want to answer Marcus's call but when she was going through her nightly skincare routine, she placed her phone on the top of her bedside drawer. Her husband who was already lying in bed saw the incoming call and immediately answered, then placed the phone beside her ear.

Sabrina turned and glanced at her husband. She was afraid he would get jealous. When he was jealous, she would suffer. Throughout the afternoon she had already been tormented by him in his office. Mere hours had passed since then. She trembled at the thought of it but she knew how strong he was. He could regain his strength within half an hour.

"Uhm...Cousin Marcus... It's already past eleven p.m. Why are you calling a "Uhm...Cousin Marcus... It's already past eleven p.m. Why are you calling at this late hour?" Sabrina asked.

On the other end, Marcus smiled wryly and said, "I've been accompanying my grandfather in his room. As long as he remains awake, I cannot leave him. He just fell asleep, so I took the chance and left."

Actually, Marcus had not been honest with her. If he was really accompanying his grandfather, it did not matter whether the old man was asleep or not; he could still leave the room for a second to make a phone call.

However, tonight, Lori Gibson and her mother, Jennie Gibson had visited his grandfather, bringing with them a little girl. The herbs that they had left under his grandfather's pillow touched the entire Shaw family.

Especially the old man himself. After

Especially the old man himself. After all, he practically brought Jennie up himself, loving her like his own. That was why he grew close with her again within a short period of time.

That night, both Jennie and her daughter, Lori stayed beside the old man, passionately talking to him about the events of the past and telling him some jokes.

The old man, who was in poor health, ate as much as half a chicken thigh, and even drank milk and ate a salad. He looked much livelier.

Watching as the old man grew livelier, Marcus and his parents grew increasingly grateful to the mother and daughter duo. After dinner, the two of them stated that they wanted to accompany the old man for a chat with him, so Marcus's father agreed. However, even when it was past 10 p.m. at night, Jennie and her daughter did not even mention leaving.

Marcus knew what they wanted. It was obvious that they wanted to stay in the Shaw family residence! Staying with the Shaw family would mean that they were protected by the Shaws; it was much better than staying alone outside.

As they talked, Lori yawned. Old Master Shaw immediately ordered, "Housekeeper, quick... Prepare two rooms for Jennie and her daughter..."

"Grandpa!" Marcus interrupted him in time. "Grandpa, it's already past ten p.m. at night; aren't you going to let the servants go to sleep?"

The old man said, "It's already so late?"

Marcus stood and smiled politely at the mother and daughter duo. "Aunt Jennie, Lori, tomorrow I'll get the servants to prepare two rooms for the two of you, so please, stay with us. But it's too late today, we don't have time to clean up the rooms. I'm

s. But it's too late. Say, we don't have time to clean up the rooms. I'm sorry that the two of you have to stay at a hotel tonight. See, the moon is hanging high up in the sky..."

"Yes, yes, you're right!" Jennie immediately answered. "Marcus is right, Lori; we can't keep rambling off with your Grandpa Shaw, it's late, so we need to go."

With that, Jennie said to the old man warmly, "Uncle, I'll go back to the hotel now. But I'll visit you on time tomorrow. Remember to eat more; don't forget to eat more."

"Alright, alright, quick, go home now, child," Old Master Shaw said happily. Only then did the mother and daughter, and the little girl leave the Shaw family residence.

Marcus was indeed deeply bothered by their appearance. Up till now, he had yet to call Sabrina, he still did not know what had happened to her. At this thought, he immediately took

Marcus was indeed deeply bothered by their appearance. Up till now, he had yet to call Sabrina, he still did not know what had happened to her. At this thought, he immediately took out his phone and dialed her number. He just wanted to find out what happened.

However, Sabrina had answered the call for almost a minute now, but still, she did not answer his question.

"Sabbie, Sabbie, are you listening to me? Are you mad at me for what happened this morning? Please listen to my explanation..." On his end of the phone, Marcus called out to Sabrina.

However, on her end, Sabrina who was being held in Sebastian's arms against her will accidentally let out a soft cry. "Ah..."
