

Chapter 1326

"Ah, Seany..." Jennie looked like she was caught unprepared, but her voice was incredibly alluring.

Sean had been thinking the entire way that Jennie had definitely been beaten by Gloria to the point where her hair was a mess, her face was bruised, and her nose was bleeding.

He never expected that Jennie would look nothing like that.

Jennie's face was definitely swollen.

She also had some swelling around her eyes.

However, Jennie was still Jennie.

Standing tall overseas for so many years still needed some skill.

The most basic thing was, as she said herself, flirting. She had long since mastered that skill.

After calling Sean, she had found the nearest hotel as fast as she could. Of course, she would not mistreat herself either, and she still found an international hotel.

They had everything she wanted there.

Even skincare products were very perfectly provided by the hotel.

That made everything easier.

Looking at her pathetic state in the mirror, Jennie could not help but hate that woman who beat her up.

She first resisted the pain and washed her hair clean. After putting on some medicine, she then tidied up her hair that had almost been pulled out, putting it into a bun like a young lady.

After that was her face.

It was definitely not okay remaining black and blue, but Jennie was a makeup master.

After a few thick layers of powder, her face was no longer black and blue.

However, the swelling was still there.

Jennie suddenly thought of something. Beauty could be rich as well; even the fat could be alluring and beautiful!

She only needed less than fifteen minutes before she turned her swelled up face into a work of art.

Hey!

Since her face was swollen, her wrinkles were gone as well.

That was certainly a lucky break.

However, she had just been beaten up, and if she really looked that spirited, Sean would definitely think she had been lying.

With a flash of inspiration, Jennie put a few vague fingerprints on her cheeks. That way, her beautified face looked pitiful, as if she had just been beaten up.

She then made her swollen eyes look like they had been crying.

Looking at herself in the mirror, even she was impressed.

Even though her face was swollen, she still looked seductive and alluring.

And she also had a pitiful look.

She was too good.

At that moment, Sean knocked on the door.

Jennie walked up with her tearful eyes and swollen face that was full of fingerprints; on her body was a towel that only covered the important parts. After looking through on her body was a towel that only covered the important parts. After looking through the peephole, she opened the door.

Sean was stunned, and Jennie acted shocked and embarrassed. "Ah..."

After that, her tone changed. "Seany, you... How did you get here so quickly? I thought it was an employee. Seany, I can't meet a man looking like this, you... You shouldn't come in, go outside for now."

As she said that, she pretended to push Sean outside.

She did not use any force at all.

Sean was very fit himself, so how could she move him if she pushed him?

Sean suddenly pushed the door open, and Sean forced himself inside.

He slammed the door shut before using his hand to cup Jennie's cheek. "Your face was beaten to this degree?"
