The Man's Decree Chapter 185 - 186 (The Man like none Other chapter 185 - 186)

"All the security guards, gather in Zone A! Someone barged into the district and attacked me..." yelled Kevin into his walkie-talkie.

He was merely stalling for time by asking Kai to release him. With regards to whether Kai did have a property there, he did not even bother to find out. Anyone could tell that he definitely was not!

"You jerk! My men will be here shortly. Just wait to be beaten up!" threatened Kevin as he glared at Kai viciously.

Mark, who had just heaved a sigh of relief, suddenly heard his brother-in-law yell in the walkie-talkie, saying that someone had barged into the district and beaten him up. Mark was immediately gripped with anxiety.

He was not worried about Kevin. Instead, he was afraid that his incompetent brother-in-law would cause unnecessary trouble. Initially, he only agreed to let Kevin work as the head of the security after he begged for the role profusely.

He had only joined for two days but was unwilling to do any work. Instead, he fooled around all day and acquainted himself with all the girls in the sales department.

When Mark and the other security guards arrived at Zone A, they saw Kai standing beside his car. Cold sweat immediately dripped down his forehead.

My fear has come true! My brother-in-law has really caused some huge trouble.

Mark quickly hurried over. When Kevin saw that his brother-in-law had arrived with backup, he immediately rushed forward and whined, "Mark, this man barged into the district and attacked me! You must teach him a harsh lesson."

When Zayne saw Mark rushing over with the other security guards, he smirked coldly. “Kai, let’s see where you can flee now. Although it’s not illegal to boast, you still need to pay the price for exaggerating. How dare you claim to be a property owner here and that you live in the mansion at the top of the hill? Why don’t you claim to be God?”

“I’ve lived for more than twenty years, but it’s my first time seeing such a shameless boaster like you.” Lydia hid a chuckle behind her hand.

The two of them stared at Kai teasingly, waiting for an exciting show to unfold.

However, Maria sighed. If Kai ended up getting beaten later, she would try to plead on his behalf and see if it would be useful. After all, she could not just stand idly by and watch him become crippled.

However, just when Zayne and Lydia were waiting for Mark and the rest to teach Kai a lesson, Mark slapped his brother-in-law. He was so forceful that Kevin almost collapsed onto the floor.

Stunned, Kevin stared at Mark with a look of disbelief.

“Why did you hit me? Are you crazy?” yelled Kevin unhappily.

“Yeah, I’m crazy. I shouldn’t have let you work here as the head of the security team. You’re now fired! Get lost and never come back!” ordered Mark as he snatched the baton away from Kevin’s hands.

“You...” Kevin glared at Mark furiously. “How dare you treat me like this? I’ll tell my sister!”

With that, he stomped away.

Zayne and the rest were dumbfounded when they saw Mark’s actions. Even the sales associate had no idea what was going on. Only the security guards who had tagged along knew that Mark was saving his own brother-in-law.

If Kevin stayed there and angered Kai further, he would be killed on the spot.

After Kevin left, Mark snuck a look at Kai with sweat dotting his forehead. He was afraid that the latter would refuse to let Kevin leave. However, since Kai remained silent, he heaved a silent sigh of relief.

The Man's Decree Chapter 186 (The Man like none Othere chapter 186)

Mark walked toward Kai briskly and apologized appeasingly, "Mr. Chance, I'm really sorry about this. My brother-in-law has just started work, so he knows nothing. Please forgive him..."

When Zayne and the rest saw the manager apologizing to Kai so subserviently, they were dumbfounded.

"Are you mistaken? He barged into your district, crashed a car, and even beat your brother-in-law up! Why are you acting so subserviently? Do people who work in the maintenance department have such good service?" asked Zayne as he stared at Mark incredulously.

"Yeah! When we wanted to come in to look at which houses to buy, the security guards stopped us. Yet, you're being so courteous to an intruder. You're making me doubt the capabilities of the maintenance department. Isn't he just an ex-convict who had gone to jail? Do you have to stoop so low? Do you actually think that he's a property owner here?" scoffed Lydia.

"If he can afford a house here, he wouldn't be driving a run-down Ford around. He even claims that the mansion at the top of the hill is his! He's just boasting. Since we work for the same company, I know him well. I'm his direct superior. This guy knows nothing other than to boast!" Zayne protested to the manager.

Mark looked at Zayne and Lydia before glancing back at Kai. He did not know what their relationship was, but judging from how the two of them kept mocking Kai, it was clear that they were definitely not friends.

Noticing Kai's silence, Mark could not stand it any longer. He said to Zayne and Lydia, "It's true that Mr. Chance owns property here and that the mansion at the top of the hill is his."

When Mark spoke, Zayne, Lydia, and Maria were flabbergasted.

"But, Mr. Carlson, the last name of the mansion's owner is Sullivan. I was the one who handled the paperwork," said the sales associate with a doubtful look.

"Are you mistaken? The mansion at the top of the hill costs at least hundreds of millions. How can a salesman who drives a battered Ford be its owner? I will never believe that..."

"You're a horrible manager! How can you be confused about who owns the properties? Do you think that Kai looks like someone who has a mansion?" Zayne and Lydia interrogated Mark.

Faced with their questions, Mark scoffed coldly. "Looks like you know more than me, the manager of the maintenance team, huh? Let me tell you this. It's true that the previous owner's last name is Sullivan. However, the mansion is now Mr. Chance's. If there's nothing else, you can leave now. You're prohibited from entering the district in the future."

Zayne and the rest were taken aback by his words. No one would believe that Kai owned a mansion that cost hundreds of millions.

"Can I leave now, Mr. Carlson?"

Kai did not want to waste any time with Zayne and the rest as he needed to hurry up with his training.

"Of course! I'm really sorry for taking up your time, Mr. Chance."

Mark's attitude immediately became respectful as he opened the car door for Kai.

Driving his severely damaged Ford, Kai drove straight toward the top of the hill. When he passed by Zayne and the rest, he rolled down the car windows and deliberately scoffed at Zayne.

"I don't believe it! I'll never believe it. It's impossible for him to own a mansion. I'm going to follow him and take a look for myself! He must be boasting!" roared Zayne like a madman.

Meanwhile, Maria watched as Kai's car zoomed away, feeling her cheeks burning. At this stage, she was certain that Kai was not boasting. After all, he could not possibly bribe such an important manager to play along with him.
