

Billionaires Daring Wife by Sweet Lady Chapter 31

/ Billionaire's Daring Wife by Sweet Lady
Chapter 31 When Will We Meet?

"Nothing... Nothing. I was talking nonsense."

Jacob closed his mouth and kept silent since then.

He felt that if he dared to say anything else, he would be doomed.

"Jessica, ignore what he said. Take it, this is the gift for you." Pamela changed the topic quickly and handed a red envelope to Jessica.

Jessica had no choice but to look at Timothy for help.

"Take it" Timothy asked Jessica to accept it.

While taking the red envelope, Jessica felt that the amount of it must be huge.

This was the first time she visited Pamela. Not only did she not bring presents, but she also received a red envelope. Jessica felt the shame on herself.

Moreover, during dinner, both Timothy and Pamela put food on her plate constantly.

Looking at the food in her plate, she had no choice but accepted it.

She was overwhelmed by her husband and mother-in-law's hospitality!

After dinner, Jessica volunteered to wash the dishes.

This time, Pamela did not stop her, but washed the dishes together with her in the kitchen

Timothy and Jacob sat on the sofa in the living room and watched TV. Of course, Jacob was not that concentrated, he was always peeping at Timothy.

His eyes were full of curiosity, as if he was going to probe into every layer of Timothy's body.

"Timothy, do you really love Jessica?" Jacob couldn't help but asked Timothy.

"None of your business!"

Timothy gave his brother a cold eye and then continued to watch TV.

70-49 AM

2

"I think you must find a woman in a hurry in order to finish the task. And Jessica is a lady from a noble family. So she is eligible for the requirement of mom."

Jacob sat next to Timothy and carefully observed the expression of Timothy.

According to his investigation, Timothy and Jessica knew each other within a month.

It was a short space of time for a man and a woman to get married.

Moreover, Jacob knew that the woman Timothy really wanted to marry was definitely not Jessica.

"I think you've been very free recently. Are you telling me that you want to take over a few more companies?"

Timothy didn't care about his questions at all. As Jacob was threatened, he didn't dare to say anything any more.

He could only look at Timothy Landy with aggrieved eyes and murmured to himself. "Hmph. It doesn't matter. Time will prove everything. Let's wait and see what you will do if your ture lover comes back!"

While the two men sat in silence in the kitchen, Jessica and Pamela were enjoy chatting Pemala washed the dishes and then Jessica cleaned them with clear water. They had close cooperation in doing this job.

"Jessica, you can always come here with Timothy. There are only Jacob and me in this house. It makes me feeli lonely." Pamela didn't know what Timothy's attitude towards Jessica was, but she indeed liked Jessica, at least Jessica was better than the woman abroad.

Jessica nodded. Pamela felt much more satisfied about Jessica's obedience.

The whole process of washing the dishes was very relaxed.

After that, Timothy and Jessica were about to leave.

But Pamela asked them to wait for a few minutes in the living room, saying that she wanted to give something to Jessica.

About two minutes later, Pamela appeared with a small square box in her hand.

“This is the status symbol of the Landy family’s daughter-in-law. You are Timothy’s wife, it should be taken by you.”

As Pamela spoke, she opened the box to show a jade bracelet to Jessica.

Although Jessica didn’t know much about jade, she knew that the bracelet was precious.

She had already received a red envelope when she came here, and symbol, which Jessica felt uneasy.

“Mom, this is too precious. You’d better keep it yourself.”

Jessica hid behind Timothy and pinched his waist.

She originally wanted Timothy to help her to reject it.

Unexpectedly, Timothy did not say a word. He took the box directly and forced her to walk out of the house by holding her waist.

Jessica was stunned by his behavior.

“Timothy, you’ve misunderstood. This bracelet is too precious. I can’t accept it.” Jessica wanted to get out of Timothy arms, but her arms, but she was no match for Timothy.

“You are my wife. You can take it.”

After leaving the house with Jessica, he opened the box, took out the bracelet and put it on Jessica’s wrist.

Under the moonlight, Jessica’s wrist looked slender and beautiful with her fair and smooth skin.

“Okay, let’s go home. We still have something to do.” Timothy was secretly teasing

“What? What’s the matter?” Jessica was confused at first. After looking into his intimate eyes, she remembered what happened not long ago.

Then, her cheeks blushed slightly while her mouth and brain lost control.

At the end, she returned to the apartment with Timothy.

It was a long night of sex, which lasted longer than before.

Jessica almost run out of her energy, so she was always begging for mercy. It wasn’t until she called Timothy in several intimate ways that he turned to be rarely gentle.

Although it was getting too late, Jessica was forced to make love with him with bleary eyes.

In a trance, Timothy seemed to said something to her, but Jessica was too tired to hear clearly.

The next day, Jessica was woken up by a call.

She picked up her phone and pressed the answer button directly.

“Jessica, where are you now? Do you live in our new house?” On the phone, Simon’s tone was full of anxiety and care.

Jessica, who was extremely sleepy, was completely awake when she heard Simon’s voice.

She moved her body and leaned against the bed.

“I’m together with my friend!

Knowing that Louise and Simon had made love on the wedding bed in her new house, she didn’t want to live in that house any more.

Because... It was disgusting.

“I went to our new house today but found you were not there. I am afraid that you may got trouble. I just call to make sure that you are safe.”

Simon’s tone was as gentle as before, but for Jessica, it was useless.

"How do you think about the advice | gave you last time?" Jessica didn't want to talk to Simon. This man made her sick.

As soon as Jessica finished speaking, Timothy, who was lying next to her, hugged her waist and put his head on her leg

Jessica was afraid that Timothy would speak, so she covered Timothy's mouth with her hand.

Timothy did not make any noise on purpose. He just found a more comfortable position and continued to sleep.

Only then did Jessica relieved and wait for Simon's answer.

"Jessica, can I meet you? I have something to talk to you."

"There's no need to talk anything else. I'm just asking you, will you give me 25% of the shares of TY Group? If you refuse, you should deal with Louise by yourself."

The reason why Simon called Jessica today was that he had made a choice between Jessica and Louise after thinking for a whole day.

Louise had been dating with several men, which had cuckolded him, so he would never married her.

Compared with Louise, Jessica naturally became a candidate for his wife again

After all, they were all Brant's daughters. It was the same for him to marry one of them.

That was why he remembered Jessica's virtues and went to their new house to look for her.

"Of course I'll give you the shares, but Jessica, I want to meet you."

The bedroom was very quiet, so Timothy could hear Simon's words without turning on the loudspeaker.

Although Timothy was lying with his eyes closed, he began to punish Jessica with his hands.

The sense of itching spread from her legs to her whole body, making Jessica almost let out a gasp.

Man was really scary when he got jealous.

"When?" Jessica asked Simon, as her breathing was bumpy and her speech speed got fast.

Inside her body, she felt a small flame begin to burn slowly.

Timothy's action was undoubtedly to adding gasoline on this small flame.

It was unreliable that "a man who get up early is fragile". As a matter of fact, women were much more fragile.

"Jessica, you heard weird. Are you ok?"

Simon didn't give the location and time of the meeting. His attention was focused on Jessica's strange tone.

"It's okay. I just accidentally hit my hand. Give me the time and location first. I'm busy."

Jessica clutched the bedsheet tightly with his free hand and felt torturous when enduring Timothy's increasingly crazy behavior.

However, no matter how she tried to dodge, she was always failing. It was badly infuriating

Billionaires Daring Wife by Sweet Lady Chapter 29

Billionaires Daring Wife by Sweet Lady Chapter 32

/ Billionaire's Daring Wife by Sweet Lady
Chapter 32 Living Hell

"How about this noon?" Simon suggested.

"Okay, where shall we meet?"

"In the coffee shop outside the TY Group."

"All right. See you then."

Timothy took Jessica's phone away and hung it up immediately when she finished speaking.

Then he turned over and laid down on Jessica.

His eyes were filled with desire.

“Mrs. Landy, you were crossing the line by calling another man in front of me.”

Timothy sounded angry. Obviously, he was jealous now. Jessica found it interesting, so she pinched his face playfully.

“I am spoiled by you.”

“Are you? I don’t mind spoiling you more.”

With that, Timothy lowered his head and kissed her. Jessica couldn’t retort him anymore since she was too busy kissing him back.

It was getting hotter and hotter in this bedroom

At first, Jessica thought this was just another regular morning sex.

She realized later that Timothy was trying to stop her from meeting with Simon by being over clinging today.

Therefore, she pushed Timothy away mercilessly and headed to the bathroom when he tried to do it again.

This man was addictive. She had to be cautious not to fall for him and get manipulated by him.

More than an hour later, Jessica arrived at the coffee shop Simon mentioned.

Simon was already there.

The coffee shop, which used to be bustling with business, didn’t have any customers today except for the two of them and the staff.

Besides, the shop seemed to have been renovated. In front of Simon, a large bunch of red roses was in full bloom.

Simon must have booked the entire coffee shop for her. Jessica thought to herself.

“Sorry, I’m late. There was a traffic jam on the way.”

Jessica sat opposite Simon. Although she was apologizing, she didn't look like she felt sorry at all.

In the past three years, she had waited for Simon so many times on their dates. Simon was always late and sometimes didn't show up at all.

What she remembered most was once she had arrived late for one or two minutes because of heavy rain and had been scolded by him so mercilessly.

Simon was now in the position she had been in their relationship in the past.

You were everything to me when I loved you.

However, since I didn't love you anymore, you were nothing to me now.

"It's okay. I just arrived." With a warm smile on his face, Simon handed her the roses. "Jessica, this is for you."

Jessica took the flowers over without any changes in her expression and replied calmly, "Thanks."

Simon stared at this woman opposite him. For some reason, the longer he looked at her, the prettier she became.

Now he thought Jessica could be considered as a real beauty with noble, innocent temperament.

Compared to her, Louise was nothing but a cheap slut, whose dirty words last night made him disgusted.

Simon had an urge to slap himself on the face. Jessica was smarter and prettier than the shameless bitch, Louise. Why did he fall in love with the latter?

Fortunately, Jessica knew nothing about his relationship with Louise. Simon decided to win Jessica's heart back.

"Jessica, I'm sorry." Simon looked into Jessica's eyes affectionately, reaching out to hold her hand. Before he could touch her, Jessica withdrew her hand.

Simon was embarrassed. "I've been reflecting on myself these days. Sorry that I've been a jerk to you in the past three years."

impatient,

Jessica looked a little frowning

"Simon, 1..." She wanted to ask Simon about the 25% shares of TY Group but was interrupted by him.

"Jessica, can I finish my words first?"

Simon was begging, whose voice was full of remorse and self-blame.

Taking a deep breath, Jessica suppressed her impulse to leave right now and remained silent.

"Both Louise and I have explained about what happened last time. We were framed and I've been hating myself for making you the scapegoat ever since that day. I wanted to be responsible for Louise and chose the TY Group over you. Please trust me. I'm very sorry about that. You've done so much for me while I wronged you over and over again. I am really a jerk..."

"Well, I agree with your last sentence. You're really a jerk" Jessica turned one corner of her mouth up, sneering at him.

Simon, who didn't expect Jessica to reply like this, sat there still in a daze.

"Jessica, you..." His face was full of astonishment. Was this aggressive and powerful woman the same Jessica he used to know?

"Simon, I'm here for the 25% shares of TY Group today. I'm not in the mood to hear you explain other things. Be more decisive like a man. Will you give it to me or not?"

"Jessica, when did you become like this? You're still blaming me, aren't you?"

"I couldn't care less about what's between you and Louise. Simon, I don't love you anymore." Jessica threw the flowers back at Simon. She had no interest in taking gifts from a man she didn't like. "If you continue to talk about such boring things, I'm afraid I'll put an end to our meeting right away."

With that, she stood up from the chair.

Simon grabbed her wrist before she could move.

"Jessica, are you dating another man? Who are you with these days? You barely have friends!"

Provoked by Jessica's attitude, Simon stared at her angrily. The previous gentleness on his face was nowhere to be found.

He had been vigilant about being betrayed ever since Louise's incident. The sudden change in Jessica's attitude made him wonder if she was dating another man now.

Jessica shook his hand away while she looked down at him condescendingly like a queen.

"You should have seen this day coming when you were sleeping with Louise in our bedroom. You cheated on me first. Why can't I date another man?"

direct

Jessica's words were a confrontation against Simon.

To be honest, his hypocrisy made her disgusted.

He still lied to her even when she already knew the truth. What a jerk!

Simon's eyes were filled with astonishment as if he had suddenly realized something. "You came back on my birthday night, didn't you?"

Otherwise, the door to the closet wouldn't be opened.

Simon thought he had remembered it wrong. Now that he thought about it more carefully, what had happened that night was obvious.

"It doesn't matter if I came back or not. The old Jessica was dead. You are facing the new me after rebirth. I'm going to make you and Louise cry in pain and regret for everything you have ever done! You remember what I said today!"

With that, Jessica left with pride.

Simon came back to his senses after about ten seconds and ran after Jessica outside the coffee shop immediately, shouting at her back, "Jessica Capen, you bitch! I swear I'll make you kneel crying!"

Jessica ignored his words completely. All Simon could see was her indifferent back.

As her back disappeared gradually from the sight, Simon punched the wall beside him furiously.

Instead of getting back with Jessica as he had planned, he had a big fight with her.

Thinking through everything that happened since his birthday, Simon was sure that Jessica had something to do with all the trouble the company had experienced.

This was the first time that he had been fooled by a woman. He swore that he was going to make her pay for

At the same time, Louise was in the office of TY Group.

Irritated by the photo Priscilla texted her, she swept everything on the desk to the ground.

In the photo, Simon was giving a bunch of roses to Jessica in the coffee shop.

Ever since that night, Louise had noticed that Simon was becoming more impatient when he was with her.

Of course, she didn't have feelings for this jerk.

She would definitely abandon him once he became useless. After all, Simon was a scumbag who betrayed his woman and child.

"Jessica has been incredibly lucky recently. She signed the contract with YH Group and seduced Simon to rekindle his love for her. What a vixen! Louise, for the sake of your career, you must stop the two of them from getting back together."

Priscilla was also anxious, afraid that she would lose her cash cow once Louise broke up with Simon.

She was still counting on Louise to realize the dream of becoming a top agent for her.

Louise grabbed the phone tightly. Just then, the landline in the office rang.

It was the company's resources department, telling them that another actress would replace Louise in a show.

"You can't do that. That show was supposed to be..." The phone was hung up before Priscilla could finish her words.

"What should we do, Louise? That was the last show you had. What exactly happened between you and Simon? Is he going to allow the top management of the company to bully you like this?"

Louise's face turned pale in anger. Without answering Priscilla's question, she slammed the door and left.

Billionaires Daring Wife by Sweet Lady Chapter 33

/ Billionaire's Daring Wife by Sweet Lady
Chapter 33 There's something

When Louise went to Simon's office,

Simon had already returned.

"Simon, the resources department just gave another one of my plays to other actresses. It's too much."

Despite the resentment towards Simon, Louise knew he was the last to be offended considering the fact that he was her boss.

She could only say this in a slightly aggrieved and sweet voice.

Men liked women who could arouse his desire to protect them the most. Louise did a good job in this respect.

Simon looked at Louise's face, troubled by the quarrel with Jessica just now.

The sight of Louise further aroused his anger.

"Knock on the door before you enter my office. Don't you know the most basic manners?"

Simon said in a tone was very bad. Louise reminded him again and again of the night when she was raped by several men.

"... I was wrong. I'll knock on the door when I come in," said Louise panicked. She put her hands on her stomach, trying to signify that she was pregnant with his child.

Much as Simon found her distasteful, he still cared about the baby in her belly.

"I approved. Louise, you're pregnant now. You can't continue working so hard like before. Besides, there are a lot of new entrants who need to be trained. My approach is killing two birds with one stone."

Simon said this to Louise, looking so hypocritical that it was disgusting.

Louise knew that this was merely Simon's platitudes.

"Simon, you're brooding over what happened that night, aren't you? That night I fainted, but I'm sure that those gangsters didn't touch me at all. The marks on my body were left after they pinched me. Simon, you have to believe me. I really wasn't touched by those gangsters."

Tears welled up in Louise's eyes. She was not an ignorant girl. She could tell whether she had been touched by a man or not.

It was impossible for her to feel nothing the next day if they took liberties with her.

However, Simon, who had managed to control his anger, was irked at her words.

"You can go out first. I'll be busy with my work."

He was not going to believe her words based on what he had heard that night.

Simon found her more and more disgusting, thinking it was the right choice for him to give up her to train other actors.

Knock, knock, knock...

Just as Louise was about to say something, there was a knock on the door outside the office.

"Come in... Simon said.

A girl in a pleated skirt and a white t shirt came in timidly with a stack of documents in her hand.

"Mr. Simon, are you looking for me?"

Louise's face clouded at the sight of her.

She was a member of TY Group, named Tracy, and her status was second only to hers.

"Louise, you may go now," Simon said coldly.

"Simon, she is the one who is going to replace me, right?" laughed Louise. She realized how heartless Simon was.

She was naive!

Simon was silent, and Louise left the office angrily

The corner of Tracy's lips curled into a mocking smile.

Jessica, who had left the coffee shop, rushed to the set. Because she took a morning off, she had a lot of work to do in the afternoon.

Fortunately, Jessica's basic skills were very solid. The shooting went smoothly, and the workload was acceptable.

While she was resting, Mrs. Kimi leaned into her ear and said, "Jessica, I helped you get a part for another show, but there are a few investors who want to see you tonight."

Mrs. Kimi didn't say it clearly, but from her tone, Jessica knew what it meant.

Seeing her at night meant...

"Okay, I see."

Mrs. Kimi was surprised to see Jessica agree so readily. "I'm not done yet, Jessica. The reason I told you about this is because the show I won for you is very popular. If you take the chance, your career is sure to scale new heights. If you don't, you may never get the chance again."

"Well, I know what to do," replied Jessica. She knew that her manager was in a difficult situation.

Those investors asked to see Jessica at night. Didn't they just want to sleep with her?

If she didn't agree, the deal wouldn't be done.

Her role would fall through.

But Mrs. Kimi and she were unwilling to sleep with others in exchange for resources, so for a moment, they didn't know how to make a choice.

"Mrs. Kimi, don't worry. I'll go over tonight and do my best."

It was Jessica who was going to face the music, but in the current situation, she became the one who comforted Mrs. Kimi.

"I'm glad you understand" Mrs. Kimi looked at Jessica apologetically. In this mixed entertainment industry, it was hard to keep one's original aspiration.

In the evening, Jessica called Timothy and told him that she had dinner with a few investors.

There was a long silence on the other end of the phone. "Well, be careful."

Jessica nodded. It was a habit for her to call Timothy.

Her husband was supposed to know where and who she was going to see at night.

However, Timothy didn't think in this way.

Even though Jessica hung up the phone, Timothy still maintained the posture of answering the phone.

He looked out of the blue window with sharp eyes and asked himself over and over again, "Timothy, didn't you say you wanted to dote on your woman? Now that she's working hard in the entertainment industry, you're useless."

Jessica went to the place as Mrs. Kimi told her. It was the most expensive business office in s City.

Although the name of this business office sounds very elegant, she knew inside of it was full of carnal pleasures.

It was a place for spending money like water, which popped into Jessica's mind as she took a look at its name.

People who frequented to this place were millionaires.

Jessica told the waiter standing at the door why she came, and the waiter led her to a private room.

Before she could go in, Jessica heard music similar to that of a DJ in a dance hall.

The corner of her mouth twitched slightly

She looked into the private room and saw several men hugging each other.

They were estimated to be in their forties, with big bellies and some even bald.

The alcohol made them flush, and they never stopped pawing women around them.

Someone saw Jessica and said excitedly, "Miss Sandgren is here. You have kept us waiting for so long. You deserve a fine of one glass."

Jessica felt the smile on her face stiffen, but she knew she couldn't be avoided, so she drank a glass of wine.

While drinking, she glanced at the women's faces from the corner of her eye.

Some of them were famous in the entertainment industry, and some were popular campus beauties who had just graduated from college...

Without the pure and cold persona, they were all just investors' toy!

In particular, an investor's hand had reached into the skirt of a girl. Jessica could see she had been biting her lower lip.

She felt so disgusted, but she had to maintain a smile on her face.

"Miss Sandgren is so forthright. I've never seen such a unique person as you."

One of the investors cast a fiery gaze on Jessica as if he was trying to see through her.

"President Smith, it's nothing. Just call me Jessica."

"That's sound strange. Let me call you

Jessi.”

President Smith was very satisfied with Jessica. Half an hour after Jessica sat down, he had been feeding wine to her.

Jessica, who had a good capacity for liquor, was fine after drinking a few glasses.

However...

But her body was heating up slightly.

Jessica looked warily at the other women present. Some closed their eyes and let the other investors do whatever they wanted. Some did not even have the strength to resist.

Her heart thumped as she realized that there was something wrong with the wine!

Soon, President Smith grabbed Jessica’s wrist, trying to pull her into his arms.

He was turned on by Jessica.

He was just about to vent.

as a ma

He was a man who had dallied with plenty of female actors, but Jessica was the kind whom he found novel.

“President Smith, I want to go to the bathroom.” Jessica kept her remaining sanity and did not let the old man get his way.

She just wanted to give it a shot so she came here, and had no intention of going to sleep with her.

In particular, the old and ugly man in front of him was not appealing to her at all.

“How about I go with you? I want to go too.” President Smith’s eyes fell on Jessica’s slightly open chest, and his meaning was obvious.

He was hinting to Jessica that she wouldn’t be able to escape tonight either way

“No... No need...”

Just as Jessica finished speaking, the door of the private room was opened suddenly

The cold wind blew into the room, and all the people who were dizzy were unprecedentedly awake.

Even the few actors and girls quickly pulled up their clothes and escaped from the pair of claws under their skirts.

Everyone looked at the door, surprise filling their eyes

Billionaires Daring Wife by Sweet Lady Chapter 34

/ Billionaire's Daring Wife by Sweet Lady
Chapter 34 I Knew My Husband

The person at the door was not the waiter or the manager of the business club, but Jacob!

Jacob, who was tall and handsome, was in stark contrast to the others in the private room.

As soon as he appeared, he attracted everyone's attention.

He outshone all the men in the room.

With Jacob looking at Jessica coldly, President Smith immediately let go of Jessica.

After working in this industry for so long, it was natural for President Smith to understand what Jacob meant.

He quickly ordered Jessica, "Hurry up to serve Mr. Landy."

Jessica didn't know why Jacob came, but he just appeared in time and saved her.

She quickly walked to Jacob.

President Smith followed Jessica to flatter Jacob. "Mr. Landy, you... Why are you here?"

To ask Jacob to come to these occasions was as difficult as inviting God. Now he should come uninvited, so President Smith asked him with fright.

"I'm also an investor in the new show. Can't | come?" Jacob glanced at President Smith. He then whispered to Jessica proudly, "Jessica. Did I look very handsome when I appeared?"

Jessica was rendered speechless.

She knew that Jacob was not here by chance. Maybe he came because Timothy told him to do so.

Jessica didn't say anything. But when others saw this, they thought that Jacob was flirting with Jessica.

It seemed that Jacob was quite interested in Jessica.

It was a pity for President Smith that he didn't succeed in sleeping with Jessica.

But if he pleased Jacob with Jessica, it might be rather helpful to his business.

With power and money, men could get any kind of woman.

Jacob sat in the most conspicuous position. Soon, a waiter came to clean up the mess on the table and served them new exquisite and delicious dishes.

Sitting next to Jacob, Jessica felt like ten thousand ants were crawling around her body with her feeling extremely hot.

She didn't think she could hold on to the end of the meal.

leaned over to Jacob's ear and said, "I'm not feeling well. Shall I go back early?"

Jacob nodded. "My brother is outside. But Jessica, I think it's good if you stay here."

"Why?"

"I really like it when I'm enjoying my life while my brother's in coldness."

Jessica was dumbfounded.

She made an excuse and left the private room. When the wind in the corridor blew on her, she felt better.

Jessica then left the business club. As soon as she walked out of the door, she saw Timothy leaning against a car smoking.

The man's tall figure was half-hidden by the night, looking mysterious and handsome.

He was like an emperor of night.

"Timothy," Jessica called.

Timothy, who was thinking about something with his head lowered, fixed his eyes on Jessica. Seeing that she was wearing thin clothes, he took off his windbreaker.

"I don't want to wear it... I'm very hot now." Jessica spoke a little bit coquettishly.

Her voice was gentle. Listening to her, Timothy felt as if he was scratched by a newborn kitten slightly.

The usually dull woman, after drinking, suddenly behaved differently. Seeing this, Timothy smiled slightly.

He held Jessica's cheek and said gentler. "Don't mess around. You'll catch a cold without a jacket."

After that, he helped Jessica to get on the car.

"You're actually fierce to me." Jessica was very aggrieved, while Timothy looked at her with more interest.

This scene was seen by a person in another luxury car at the entrance of the business club.

The black car looked so mysterious against the night.

From the outside, it was impossible to see what was inside the car.

However, from the inside, people could see what happened outside clearly.

A woman in an apricot dress was inside the car, her eyes fixed on Timothy, who was holding Jessica's waist.

Her beautiful eyes were filled with astonishment and disbelief.

Sitting next to this woman was an extremely handsome man. He looked more feminine and evil compared with Timothy and seemed not so optimistic.

“Did you see that? Actually, he doesn’t have to be with you. Do you think a man like Timothy will love you for the rest of his life? You just aroused his desire to conquer. Without you, he’s living well.”

“That’s impossible. I don’t believe it.” The woman bit her lower lip desperately, trying to suppress her emotions, but sadness appeared in her beautiful eyes.

“You don’t believe? Then we’ll wait and see.” The man smiled sarcastically and reached out to pinch the woman’s chin. “I am the man who suits you best.”

Finally, the black car started slowly and drove in one direction.

In the other car, Timothy, who was about to start the car, looked at the black car far away.

Of course, it was impossible for him to know that the people who were sitting in that car were all his “old friends.” He just glanced at it casually.

“Timothy... I feel bad... It’s so hot...”

Jessica, who was sitting in the passenger seat, began to pull her clothes, and her fair skin was exposed to the cold air.

Of course, she was wearing other clothes under

Although she didn’t reveal something that she shouldn’t, her exposed slender neck and exquisite collarbone was very attractive.

At first, Timothy thought that Jessica had a high temperature because he had drunk too much.

But now it seemed that her behavior was strange.

Timothy knew better than Jessica about all kinds of intrigues at business dinner.

"Is there something in the wine?" Timothy asked.

Jessica nodded. "I feel terrible after drinking it."

"Damn it." Timothy started the car and rushed back to the apartment.

He would never let his woman continue like this. Three years had passed, and it was time for him to return to his track.

Because Timothy drove fast, they finished the 20-minute drive in ten minutes.

When the car stopped, Jessica lost control of her body completely.

If it weren't for the seat belt, she might have slid down the seat.

After Timothy unbuckled Jessica's seat belt, he carried her out of the car.

"Timothy... Timothy..." Jessica was totally in confusion when she was carried by Timothy

"Yes, I'm here." The man's voice was steady, and it sounded no different from before.

"I'm so hot... and uncomfortable." Blushed, Jessica put her head on Timothy's shoulder.

But she began to touch Timothy's face and put her arms around Timothy's neck.

Sometimes, she even rubbed her cheek against Timothy's cold face, which made Jessica feel comfortable.

His woman drank wine that had strange things in it at the banquet. If he didn't send Jacob there, the consequences would be disastrous.

On the one hand, Timothy was angry, but on the other hand, he found it interesting

He knew that nothing would happen to Jessica in the end because he was in control of these things.

But after drinking the strange wine, Jessica's behavior cheered him up.

It was true that drunkenness made coward bold.

When Jessica was making out with him, she either turned off the lights or covered both of them with a quilt.

She never took the initiative to do that like tonight.

“If you want to get up tomorrow, don’t play with fire, okay?”

Carrying Jessica, Timothy walked to the elevator. Although his expression did not seem to have changed much, his voice became more hoarse compared to just now.

control

“Timothy... you... have to yourself.”

Jessica suddenly said seriously. Her beautiful eyes looked like two glass beads with lights in them.

“Control? It seems that you’re not very drunk.”

It took two or three minutes to get home from the car. Timothy had never felt that time passed so slowly.

He carried Jessica to the bed, planning to clean her face with a towel first.

But Jessica hugged him like a koala.

“Mom left. My Dad didn’t want me anymore, and my boyfriend chose another woman. Timothy... Will you leave me behind?”

Without the ability to think like an adult, Jessica was more like a little girl at the time.

“You are my wife. We will be buried together after we die. I will not leave you.”

Timothy’s heart softened after he heard what Jessica said. She gave him a feeling that no woman in the past 20 odd years could give him.

People didn’t believe in love at the first sight because they hadn’t met one.

And he did fall in love with Jessica at first sight.

“Honey, I knew you were the best.”

Hearing Timothy’s words, Jessica showed an extremely satisfied expression. The next second, she kissed the man’s thin lips.

Timothy had a fire burning in his body because of Jessica’s behavior. Now his reason disappeared without a trace as the woman took the initiative to kiss him.

He grabbed Jessica’s head with his big hand, pressing her under him.

The atmosphere suddenly became strange and their body temperatures were rising.

Jessica felt that her discomfort had eased a lot.

Billionaires Daring Wife by Sweet Lady Chapter 35

/ Billionaire’s Daring Wife by Sweet Lady
Chapter 35 Something Happened

In the warm light, two people were holding hands with their fingers intertwined.

very obedient

and

She was cooperative.

It would be a very intimate night for both of them, and even Jessica might not be able to get out of bed tomorrow morning.

However, there were always a few accidents in life.

Just as Timothy was about to get down to business, his phone rang untimely.

He casually picked up the phone and wanted to hang it up. But when he saw the strange phone number, the desire faded from his eyes.

Timothy frowned slightly. After hesitating for a few seconds, he finally picked up the phone.

On the other end of the phone, a gentle female voice with some fears sounded, "It's me, Timothy."

"What's the matter?" Timothy's tone was so cold that the surroundings fell Jessica was lying on the bed. She slowly rubbed Timothy's back. "Honey... I'm feeling bad..."

Timothy had to gently rub Jessica's head and say, "Good girl, wait for me for a while."

His voice was soft as water. But when the woman on the phone heard that, she started sobbing in panic, "Sorry... I'm sorry, Timothy, I didn't call you at the right time."

Timothy hung up without saying anything.

This time, he turned his phone off and kissed Jessica again.

As for that phone call, it totally slipped his mind.

That night, Jessica was like a small boat floating in the ocean with the lapping of the waves, and bobbing up and down. She didn't know which direction she should go. She could only follow where Timothy led.

It was a small dose in the drink, but it was very strong.

It was not until after four o'clock in the morning that Jessica, who looked tired out, finally fell asleep.

The sheets were already scratched all over. Timothy carried Jessica to the bathroom. After they had both cleaned up, he hugged her to sleep.

Early the next morning, Jessica was woken up by a call from her manager.

She picked up the phone in a daze. She hadn't said anything yet, Mrs. Kimi abruptly asked, "Jessica, you've been confirmed as the supporting actress in that show. Were you okay last night? How many calls have I made to you?

Why didn't you answer them? Or... Or have you."

Mrs. Kimi thought they were lucky when she was shortlisted for the new show.

It was a nonstarter for Jessica to break out of the encirclement without sacrificing her chastity.

Unexpectedly, this morning, the director of the show called her and told her that she had confirmed Jessica as the supporting actress.

Mrs. Kimi was overjoyed. But then she was worried. Before Jessica met the investor, she already told her if she went against her original intention, she should give up. But after one night, Jessica got the role, which made her have to think more.

"Mrs. Kimi, nothing happened to me last night. Maybe it was because of my husband that I got the role."

Jessica glanced at someone who was sleeping with his arm around her. The scene of them sleeping together last night flooded into her mind like a tide. She even felt a fiery pain from that secret place.

Her cheeks became blushed in an instant.

"Ah, who the hell is your man? Is he really the founder of King Group? Jessica, has a miracle happened in your life? How could you have met such a perfect man? Your experience can be made into a tv drama about a C.E.O.

who falls in love with an ordinary woman."

Mrs. Kimi's screams made Jessica's ear hurt even through the phone.

Jessica trusted Mrs. Kimi very much, so she did not hide Timothy's identity.

"I don't know if he's the founder of King Group, but one thing is for sure, he's the eldest son of the Landy family."

"Oh my god, you have been truly in a league of your own recently. The eldest son of the Landy family was also a legendary figure. For so many years, people have only heard his gossip in the market and have never seen him in person. It could be said that he was something of a mystery, and so was the founder of King Group. I didn't expect such a big shot to be your husband."

Mrs. Kimi's worries seemed to have been blown away by a tornado. She was no longer worried about Jessica's future career.

The Landy family was a powerful presence in the entertainment industry. Whoever they wanted to support would be the next superstar.

"No wonder the YH Entertainment would sign you. I told you there must be something wrong with it. But I didn't expect you to sweep the C.E.O. off his feet. Jessica, good job."

"Mrs. Kimi, but I am also a capable actress."

"Jessica, you will have to take good care of that boss, okay? It's time for us to make a fortune." Mrs. Kimi was so excited that she had forgotten her original intention.

Timothy was rich and good-looking, so they earned a lot anyway.

Jessica, "..."

It felt like there was a generation gap between her and Mrs. Kimi. What should she do?

Jessica hung up the phone. She noticed that it was getting late so she planned to get out of bed and wash up.

But Timothy put his hand tightly around her waist.

Every day when she got out of bed, she had to use all kinds of tricks to get the man to let go of her.

Today was no exception. Jessica escaped from Timothy's control with all her might. She felt her legs so weak that they were not like hers anymore, and she felt awkward and stiff when she walked.

Jessica was brushing her teeth in the bathroom and followed by Timothy, who hugged her from behind.

The man put his chin on Jessica's shoulder, but one of his hands was moving across Jessica's body.

"Come on! I will have to go to the set."

Jessica answered in a lisp while brushing her teeth. But she was answered by the man who pinched her waist.

Jessica screamed in pain and glared angrily at the man reflected in the mirror.

“Jessica, would you like to go back to Landy family with me?” Timothy’s voice sounded muffled and he looked a little reluctant.

“Sure, but I don’t want anyone to know that I’m Mrs. Landy yet.”

Even Mrs. Kimi, whom she trusted the most, was won over by Timothy. If anyone knew her identity, no matter how hard she tried in the entertainment industry, she would not be able to rival the title of “Mrs. Landy.”

–

“But when I go back, I don’t know what kind of danger I will encounter.” Because there were too many dirty and helpless things in the rich family, and it’s only been three years since Timothy escaped from it.

But the situation was getting worse and worse. He had to go back.

As his mother said, even if he did not care about everything in the Landy family, he could not hand over the inheritance. The Landy family belonged to him and Jacob, no one outside could get involved.

Proud as he was, how would he allow himself and his family to be trampled on?

“With you by my side, I won’t get hurt,”

Jessica said. She didn’t understand why Timothy said going back would be dangerous, but as his wife, she respected all his choices.

“Mrs. Landy, did you know your answer make me really want to love you again, like what we did last night?”

Timothy felt that he loved her more and more now. She was like the poppy. He tasted it once and would never get rid of it for the rest of his life.

Timothy was just joking, but when Jessica heard that, she seemed to be facing a formidable enemy.

“I can’t do that anymore... Or I’ll really die.”

After saying that, she even closed her legs together subconsciously.

“Okay, I was just joking. Hurry up and wash up. I’ll send you to the set later.”

Timothy let go of Jessica and began to wash up beside her.

After breakfast, he sent Jessica to the set.

When Jessica walked to the set, Mrs. Kimi immediately came to her with a gossip look.

"Tsk, tsk, tsk, I seem to feel the smell of dating."

"We're not just dating. He and I are already married."

"Let me show you something." Kimi mysteriously took out a magazine, when she turned to one of the pages, she said excitedly, "Louise has been completely abandoned by TY originally belonged to her, Simon actually gave them all to a new actress, Tracy William."

"That's to be expected."

Jessica was not too surprised. After what happened that night, Simon and Louise would not go back to the beginning.

Simon was so calculating, how would he continue to support Jessica?

That would make things difficult for himself!

"Louise, that shameless woman took Simon away from you. So other women could also do the same thing. That is called karma."

Mrs. Kimi was so happy. If Simon knew that the woman he had abandoned had become Mrs. Landy, how regret he would be!

"By the way, there's a rival show between you and Doris today. That woman came to the set a long time ago. She probably wanted to make trouble. It would be better to be careful."

Jessica nodded, then followed the makeup artist to the room and started making up.

Sure, before putting on makeup, she exchanged her cosmetics with Doris's while the makeup artist was not looking.

Doris was a jealous woman, she had to guard against her.

If Doris put something bad in her cosmetics, she would be the one who would suffer losses in the end.

Today, the content of her rival show with Doris was that after living in the palace, Jessica became the only love for the emperor. As the imperial concubine, Doris was blinded by jealousy and led a group of concubines to bully Jessica

"Nice, Jessica. Being the supporting actress of the new show, how did you play with those old men last night?" After putting on makeup, Doris sneered at Jessica, who looked like Helen, the one who could launch a thousand ships by her heavenly beauty.

—

She had put some bad medicine in Jessica's cosmetics, so Jessica would make a fool of herself later