

Chapter 774

Snow's eyes lit up. She looked happy. She smiled and said, "Let's take the opportunity to have dinner tonight."

Tom thought about it. He was free tonight, so he nodded.

Snow wanted to send Tom home, but she was rejected. Tom wasn't pretentious. Snow's friends, who mocked him, were also in the car. He would feel embarrassed to stay in the same car with them.

So he walked away on his own. When he reached the roadside, his Rolls-Royce was there. The driver got off to open the door for him and provided excellent service for him.

After Tom left, the woman in the back seat next to Snow said in confusion, "Snow, why do you treat Tom to dinner? He's no longer the second young master of the Howards. Judging by what he wears, he is at the bottom of society. Will it disparage us to have dinner with him?"

Snow was silent for a moment and said, "He looks poor, but he grew up with me. My grandfather and Tom's grandfather agreed with our engagement when we were young. We almost got married. It is rare to meet him. It doesn't matter to have a meal with him."

When the woman heard it, she immediately frowned and said angrily,

"What? You engaged with him when you were young. He is daydreaming! He can't match you! He should have self-awareness!"

Snow remembered that what Tom wore was simple, which might be worth less than three hundred dollars. He walked like an ordinary man. He was not as noble as before.

She admired Tom and regarded him as a talent before. He could live well without relying on the Howards. But it seemed that she was wrong. He was not talented and rich after being expelled from his family.

She was glad that she wasn't impulsive to marry him. Otherwise, she would have suffered along with him.

"I'll just have a meal with him. I won't be in touch with him after the meal." Snow said. She was not as gentle and elegant as when she just met Tom.

The woman said, "It's good. You're already engaged to Mr. Cox. If he knows that you have dinner with your childhood friend, he will definitely be angry."

Speaking of Mr. Cox, she was happy. She admired him and envied Snow. She even looked at Snow jealously and said, "To be honest, Snow, I really envy you. You can marry Mr. Cox. He is a big shot. And the Coxes is a lot better than the Howards. If you marry him, your life will be improved a lot. I really envy you!"

When Snow heard her, she smiled proudly and happily. She was right. It was a blessing for her to marry him.

the Coxes was a big family in G State, and Mr. Cox was very capable. When the master of the Coxes abdicated, Mr. Cox would directly take charge of his family. And then Snow would be the first lady of the Coxes. It was honorable. She would be much more superior to her peers.

Snow smiled and said, "It is due to destiny."

The woman rolled her eyes and said, "Snow, since you have promised to have dinner with Tom, you'd better tell Mr. Cox. You can ask him to accompany you so that he will know that you are loyal to him. And Tom will know that he can't court you and never dares to pester you again."

When Snow heard it, she frowned slightly and said, "Is that necessary?"

Anyway, she hadn't liked Tom for a long time. She was only loyal to Mr. Cox. She would just have dinner with her friend. If she should tell it to Mr. Cox, she was too limited.

However, the woman said seriously, "Hmph, it is necessary very much! Mr. Cox is chauvinism. If he knows that you have dinner with your childhood friend, who still has affection for you without telling him, what will he think? Snow, men are envious animals. Don't underestimate them!"

Snow was also shocked when she saw how serious her best friend was. If she was right, it was inappropriate for her not to tell Mr. Cox. And he would know it for his capacity and power.

After thinking about it carefully, Snow decided to do what her best friend said. She would tell Mr. Cox and go with him to avoid misunderstanding.

"It's been so many years. Will Tom still like me?"

After the car was started again, Snow frowned and said uncertainly.

Her best friend immediately retorted, "What do you mean? He definitely likes you. Didn't you see how he looked at you just now? He stared at you. I am sure that he will do something. You are the only daughter of your family and his childhood friend. He is poor now. Do you think that he doesn't like you?"

"Think about it carefully. It's really necessary to tell Mr. Cox. Or he will pester you after having the dinner tonight!" Her best friend analyzed with confidence. Snow began to believe what she said.

Indeed, Tom was an ordinary man and could only earn a few thousand dollars a month. He was completely different from her now. They met by chance and it was normal for him to reminisce about the past.

The more she thought, the more regretful she became. If she knew it, she shouldn't have invited him to have a meal. If Mr. Cox knew it, he might be unhappy.

"How about breaking my promise? I will not have dinner with him tonight." Snow thought about it and said.

But she was immediately denied by her best friend, "No, you've promised him and you have to go. What if he is shameless and goes to your home to look for you? He is your childhood friend and knows you well. So the best way is to tell Mr. Cox and go with him. He can humiliate Tom and Tom will retreat!"

Chapter 775

Wells International Hotel was a five-star hotel in H City, in which the accomodation and meals were expensive.

Tom had been here to have meals with some heads of business who had intended to curry favor with him before.

It so happened that the place Snow had arranged for dinner was also this hotel.

Tom originally wanted to go with Phoebe, but she said she was busy. Now Phoebe mainly focused on the family business, which made Tom quite helpless. Fortunately, since Phoebe had swallowed Heaven and Earth's Spiritual Fruit, she had soared to the Innate Realm. Although she was not very strong, she was definitely more powerful than other ordinary women.

So even if Phoebe was extremely busy, she would never easily feel tired. Otherwise, Tom would not let Phoebe work so hard.

Since Tom met Snow this time, he involuntarily recalled his childhood.

Snow was his childhood sweetheart and they had a good relationship since they were young. Their grandfathers had betrothed them. If it weren't for the incident five years ago, he would have married Snow.

Fate was really unpredictable. Tom had never expected that his fate would have changed so much.

Moreover, if it hadn't been for this big change, he would never have been able to reach this level because he used to reconcile himself to the situation.

It was actually not easy to say if it was a blessing or a curse.

Anyway, it was his fate.

Tom didn't like to put on airs, so he went to Wells International Hotel alone. On the way, he received a call from Snow and was asked if he arrived. Her tone was quite meaningful.

After hanging up the phone, Snow was asked by someone immediately,

"What's going on? Is Tom here?"

A lot of people looked at Snow. They were all young people who were dressed luxuriously and had extraordinary temperaments. According to their appearance, it was obvious that they were from extraordinary families. They all had a teasing smile on their faces and their eyes were full of disdain.

Snow nodded and answered, "Yep, he said he's on his way. He'll be here soon."

"Great. We haven't seen Tom for a long time. I don't know if he's been well for the past few years. Has he already made a fortune?"

"Are you kidding me? Five years ago, he was kicked out of the Howards by Samuel. He must be as miserable as a stray dog. Just think about it. If Tom leads a good life, then why doesn't he drive a car?"

"I think Tom is quite capable. Back then, he was famous in H City, and he was a member of us. Even if he was expelled from the Howards, he wouldn't live in such a bad state, would he?"

"Well, you don't know what's going on here. Do you really think that Tom is so powerful? It was only because he was the second young master of the Howards that he was able to get along with us. After leaving the Howards, it's impossible for him to make a difference!"

"You're right. By the way, he might want to renew acquaintance with Snow through inviting her to dinner tonight."

There were a lot of young people whose faces were wearing teasing smiles. It seemed that they all knew Tom, and they had a lot of resentment and ridicule towards Tom.

They were all descendants of noble families in H City. They had been in the same circle as Tom. Although they were in H City, they were not capable enough to get in touch with Tom at all, so they did not know that Tom, whom they looked down upon, had already become a big shot, and even their family would be willing to flatter him.

When Snow heard this, she immediately said hurriedly, "Don't talk nonsense. There is no close relationship between Tom and me, and I have no interest in him. Even if he comes to me now, I will treat him as an ordinary friend!"

Someone immediately said jokingly, "Snow, I remember you and Tom were childhood sweethearts. You grew up together, and your grandfathers had arranged child marriage for you. Maybe Tom came to you this time just to ask you to resume the engagement."

There was also a person beside her who smiled and said, "Yes, you are the daughter of your family, and looked beautiful and charming. When Tom sees you, he must want to pester you."

"Ahem!" At this moment, a tall, handsome man beside Snow coughed, and a trace of displeasure flashed across his face. He said to Snow, "Snow, do you have such a romance with Tom?"

When Snow heard this, she immediately panicked and quickly defended herself, "Brother Milo, don't misunderstand. Tom and I are just friends. We have no other relationship at all. The man I love is you!"

When Milo heard this, a smile appeared on his face again. He held Snow's hand and said, "Silly, why are you panicking? I was just joking with you."

Snow breathed a sigh of relief and immediately heard Milo say, "I am very interested in this Tom. I heard that he used to be very famous in this circle."

He narrowed his eyes and wore a meaningful expression. It was obvious that he was targeting Tom.

Milo used to manipulate people, especially women. Now that Tom suddenly became his fiancée's childhood sweetheart, he would not let go of this opportunity to suppress Tom!

Moreover, Milo also had a secret that no one else knew. He especially liked to suppress his rival in love. That would bring him a great sense of accomplishment!

Not long after, Snow's phone rang again. After a few words, Snow said, "Tom has arrived. He's coming here."

"Really? That's interesting."

"I really want to see how Tom has become."

"Tom asked Snow to have dinner alone. I wonder what kind of expression he would have when he came up and saw us. I'm quite curious about his reaction."

They all smiled meaningfully, treating Tom as the target for the prank.

Their aim was to help Milo to tease Tom, then they can curry favor with Milo.

Milo was the young master of the Coxes. They all knew that his status was high. If they could get along well with Milo, they would benefit from it.

Moreover, they had always disliked Tom. In the past, when Tom was the second young master of the Howards, they had been suppressed by Tom. Now that Tom was down and out, the first thing they wanted to do was to mock him.

Chapter 776

Tom came up according to the address that Snow told him. He didn't think so much. It wasn't that he wasn't smart enough, but that such a small matter was not worth his thinking.

Snow wanted to invite him to dinner, so he just came to the appointment. No matter what, Snow was his childhood sweetheart, so he still had to save her face.

However, when he came out of the elevator, he realized something was wrong because he heard a lot of people's voices, not just Snow's.

What was going on? Didn't Snow only ask him out for dinner?

Tom frowned slightly, but since he was here, he would take it easy. Tom didn't think too much. His relationship with Snow had ended, so it was nothing to come for a meal.

He opened the door, glanced at the room, and immediately saw that in the big box, there were more than forty people, all familiar faces. They were his friends from the previous circle.

Tom's arrival immediately caught everyone's attention in the box, and their eyes immediately turned to him.

"Look, it's Tom."

"Damn! I'm not mistaken, right? Is he really Tom in front of me? What a shabby wear! I'm afraid it's less than 500 dollars in total."

"It seems that after Tom left the Howards, he's living too badly!"

"Ha ha, in his condition, how could he have the face to reminisce with Snow? Isn't that a toad wishing to eat swan meat?"

"But why do I feel so comfortable when I see Tom like this?"

"Ha ha, me too..."

They had some concerns at first. If Tom really managed to achieve some success, they dared not laugh at him. But now that Tom dressed so shabbily for such an important dinner, it meant that Tom was really living a hard life.

Since that was the case, they had no scruples at all. They wanted to revenge get back at him all at once!

Who was Tom? He had sharp eyes. With one look, he noticed all the reactions of these people.

With his current ability and status, he was no longer in the same class as these rich second generations. Even their elders were like ants in front of Tom.

However, Tom was still disappointed. Originally, he thought that Snow really wanted to reminisce with him, but in the end, it was just his own wishful thinking. Snow had changed after all.

Tom took things as they came, and he was too lazy to leave now. He strode up and said with a smile, "It's quite lively."

Snow also walked up and said to Tom, "Tom, it's rare for you to come back. I called my friends in the circle to gather together. Do you mind?"

She said in a joking tone. There was no longer the friendliness in her words during the day. Instead, there was a little more coldness and ridicule, and her posture was much more arrogant.

Originally, she thought that even if Tom left the Howards, he wouldn't do too badly, but now it seemed that she overestimated Tom. She thought Tom didn't have self-knowledge and even wanted to reminisce with her.

Unconsciously, she looked down on Tom.

How could Tom not feel her state of mind? And Tom also found that when Snow spoke, she secretly glanced at the man next to her. Obviously, she cared about the man's thoughts. With that posture, Tom immediately knew that this man was most likely Snow's boyfriend.

He had never thought of continuing his relationship with Snow. Now that he saw Snow like this, he also showed a meaningful smile, "I do mind. Didn't you ask me to have a dinner with you alone? It's not convenient if you call so many people here, is it?"

When she heard his words, Snow's expression became even colder, and between her brows, she could not hide her disgust and disdain. She thought that Tom was still loving her. He was really a toad wishing to eat swan meat!

As for the others present, they showed an expression of "sure enough" and looked down on Tom even more. They also thought that Tom would be severely humiliated by Milo tonight!

Snow said, "What's the inconvenience? Everyone is in the same circle."

At this moment, a man in a white suit with thick bangs came out. He looked at Tom and said jokingly, "Tom, you asked Snow to dinner. Do you really want to chase Snow?"

"Who are you?" Tom asked deliberately in confusion.

The expression on this man's face immediately stiffened, a little embarrassed, and there was shame and anger in his eyes. Tom actually forgot about him? What the hell!

He immediately raised his voice and said, "I'm Damien. You don't remember me so soon?"

Tom pretended to be enlightened suddenly, as if he had remembered him. When Damien smiled again, Tom immediately said, "I don't know you."

"You!" Damien was so angry at him. He wanted to mock Tom, but he didn't expect Tom to be so mean even if he was so down and out now!

Another person came out. It was a woman with a slightly plump figure. She raised her head and looked at Tom with a disdainful look, full of contempt. She looked sideways and said, "Tom, I heard that you've been expelled from the Howards for the past five years. Now you live like a stray dog."

Her words were without any disguise, and she directly mocked Tom mercilessly. Especially the arrogant and disdainful look on her face was very disgusting.

Even Tom, who had such a calm temperament, was a little uncomfortable with such a sentence. Of course, he would not show this emotion. He pretended to be surprised and said, "Are you Bart?"

After Bart was recognized by Tom, the expression on her face became even more arrogant. She straightened her wizened breasts and said, "Yes. It seems that you still have some eyesight. You recognized me."

Tom smiled and said, "Of course I can recognize you. In the circle, you are the fattest, just like a pig. I didn't expect that after five years, you are still so fat. You usually eat a lot of pig feed, right?"

When she heard this, Bart's face was so angry that it twisted and she scolded angrily, "Tom, you want to die!"

The others present wanted to laugh when they heard this, but they were too embarrassed to laugh.

Bart was indeed very fat, but the parts like breasts, which should be plump, were wizened. Her figure was not at all beautiful, and many people called her a fat pig in private.

Chapter 777

"Tom, you're getting far too cheeky!"

"How dare you say that Bart is a pig? I think you are risking your neck!"

"You, the abandoned son of the Howards, can't even afford a car. How can you be so confident to mock Bart?"

"You'd better apologize to Bart right away, or you'll suffer!"

Suddenly, a lot of people began to scold Tom. They were so aggressive and mean, totally looking down on Tom.

When Tom saw that, he wasn't terrified at all. It wasn't that he was narrow-minded, but that he didn't have to show these people any respect.

But of course, he didn't curse. He just snorted and a strong aura suddenly emanated from him. Anyone who was seen by him could not help but feel fear, and their hearts trembled in that instant.

Their faces turned pale, and they didn't even dare to look Tom in the eye. Tom was very powerful now. If he wanted to, he could release all his strength and scare these nonentities out of their heads. He could even turn them into a vegetable!

The mental strength of the Major Perfection Realm of the Innate Realm was so strong that ordinary people could not bear it.

Tom quitted while he was ahead, and did not let these people wet their pants in fear. There was no need for him to do this. To him, his former playmates were now nonentities.

Today, he came over just to catch up with Snow, and that was all.

Even the young master of the Coxes, who was seen by Tom, was momentarily stunned and his heart beat much faster.

When he came to his senses, he was very angry in his heart. He was the Eldest Young Master of the Coxes, and he was so noble!

If Tom was still the second young master of the Howards in the past,

Tom might be able to be put on a par with him. However, now Tom was just a down-and-out nobody, and he was frightened by such a nobody, which was an absolute disgrace to him!

So he was angry at the moment.

Not only him, but also others present were in the same mood. They looked at Tom angrily and hatefully. Some men of hot blood even wanted to fight with Tom. Anyway, they outnumbered Tom. Even if they beat Tom up, Tom could do nothing to them.

Tom saw through them. Fortunately, they didn't do this. Otherwise, Tom didn't mind giving these "old friends" a harsh lesson!

"Snow, since you have so many friends with you, I won't disturb you."

Tom could tell the nature of the dinner tonight and didn't want to stay here at all. To him, it was a complete waste of time.

Snow was also frightened by the look in Tom's eyes just now. In that moment, she seemed to have seen the former high-spirited Tom. The power and arrogance Tom displayed were even stronger than before!

She didn't know what to do and subconsciously looked at Milo beside her, begging Milo for help.

Milo snorted. Originally, he didn't have any thoughts about Tom. He knew that Tom was just Snow's childhood sweetheart, but now he was completely down and became a stray dog. For such a nobody, he just had to give Tom a warning to retreat. But just now, that look in Tom's eyes frightened him and made him angry. Naturally, he wouldn't let Tom go so easily.

Then he smiled meaningfully and said, "You're already here. Why are you in such a hurry to leave? You're Snow's friend. As Snow's fiancé, I should entertain you well!"

He deliberately emphasized the word "entertain", and there was a meaningful smile on his face. Everyone who knew Milo knew that Milo was angry and wanted to humiliate Tom.

This kind of situation was very pleasant to them. They had a grudge against Tom, and it was great to see Tom being embarrassed!

Tom, on the other hand, ignored Milo. His eyes were always fixed on Snow from the beginning to the end. To be honest, he didn't care who Milo was and didn't take Milo seriously. He came here only because of Snow.

However, he felt a different look in Snow's eyes. Snow had changed.

He shook his head, sighed in his heart, and then turned around to leave.

But as soon as he was about to leave, someone immediately stopped him. It was Milo. "Stop! Is this a place where you can come whenever you want?"

He was rude, and his tone was much colder. For anyone else, such a situation would have scared them, but for Tom, it was no big deal.

Tom stopped and turned around. "Why, are you going to force me to stay?"

Snow was a little nervous. She said, "Tom, don't be narrow-minded. I called our friends to welcome since you rarely come back. I was just joking with you. Are you angry?"

She said nothing about the taunt she had just made at Tom. If Tom left, it would be Tom who was narrow-minded.

Others echoed, "Yes, Tom, are you really that narrow-minded? We're all friends. We haven't seen each other for so long. Don't take our joke seriously."

"Ha ha, after all these years, why have you become even more narrow-minded than before?"

"How disappointing!"

Some even said, "I think he's not angry, but afraid. After all, he's not doing well. Ha ha ha."

The smile on Milo's face became brighter. He looked like a master, took two steps forward and said to Tom, "Tom, right? They were just joking with you. You don't have to take it to heart.

You're Snow's friend. Don't worry, it's my treat tonight. It's free of charge. You can eat whatever you want."

Others also persuaded Tom to stay. They were here to mock and embarrass Tom. It would be so boring if Tom went back.

Tom fell silent, as if hesitating.

At this moment, Snow said, "Tom, come and sit down. I'll drink a toast to you."

Snow came over with a glass in her hand.

Tom smiled. After clinking glasses with Snow, he sat down.

Milo also sat down, and Snow snuggled up to him, lovely and gentle. He deliberately wrapped his arm around Snow's waist and there was a smug expression on his face. It was clearly that he was showing off.

Chapter 778

Tom knew Milo's behavior very well and laughed in his heart. Such childish behavior would naturally not affect his mood. He had no feelings for Snow as before.

After a while, a man said to Tom, "Tom, I don't know what company you are running now. How much do you earn in a year?"

Hearing this question, everyone was ready to laugh at Tom, and it was obvious that they wanted to see Tom make a fool of himself. They all knew from Snow that Tom had been expelled from the Howards five years ago and was now living a particularly miserable life.

Naturally, they would not let go of such an opportunity of treating him like a whipped dog.

Tom said, "I really don't know about the annual income. My subordinates would help me take care of it."

Tom didn't lie. He had already handed over all the business matters to others. He really didn't know how much he earned a year and he didn't care, but what he was sure of was that his annual income was an astronomical sum, more than all the assets these playboys could make for all their lives.

He was too lazy to say this. It was not that he was embarrassed, but that he thought it was meaningless.

But his reaction seemed to be s a demonstration of guilty in others' eyes. Another person said in a sarcastic tone, "Oh, judging from what you have said, your company is in a quite large scale? I don't know what company you are running. Tell me about it and see if there is any possibility of cooperation between us."

He was just teasing Tom and making fun of Tom in an implicit way.

Snow was also curious. Could Tom really start a company?

Tom did not answer immediately but drank and ate unhurriedly. His behavior made others especially unpleasant.

They thought that Tom was putting on airs in front of them and that it was shameless for him!

After serving himself with enough food and drink, Tom said, "Howard Group, have you heard of it? That's my company."

"Which Howard Group?" Milo asked.

Howard Group was not strange to them, because it was the largest enterprise in G State. It was not only huge in scale and involved many fields, but also developing at a really fast pace. It was conceivable that in a few years, it would definitely become the greatest business empire of H Country!

Tom said the full name of the Howard Group.

All of them suddenly quieted down.

Then there was a burst of laughter.

"Poof! Did I hear it right? You're the one who owns the Howard Group in G State?"

"Ha ha ha! You must be joking. I've seen a lot of people who like to brag, but it's the first time I've seen someone like you! Why don't you say that the whole H Country is yours?"

"Interesting. Do you think your surname is Tom and so you own the Howard Group?"

Tom's answer immediately made them all laugh to death and they mocked him again without concealing it.

"Is it funny?" Tom said coolly.

A man laughed so hard that he was out of breath. He said, "It's funny. This is the funniest joke I've heard this year! The Howard Group belongs to you, Tom. Ha ha. Okay, this will be posted on my social media. There will definitely be a lot of people who like it."

Snow also shook her head, thinking that Tom was crazy. He was too affected by vanity to say such words. There must be something wrong with him.

Milo was also laughing. Of course, he wouldn't think that Tom's words were true. Howard Group, what kind of existence was that? It was the business tycoon that even their the Coxes had to rely on.

In particular, the chairman of the Howard Group was even more like a fairy. He heard that he was also a top cultivator in the incomparably profound realm and huge energy, which were beyond the scope of the understanding of the ordinary people!

And this Tom in front of him was just an abandoned son of the Howards.

But no matter what, it was still interesting for him to hear such a funny joke. He thought it was a laughingstock.

He waved his hand to signal everyone to stop laughing, and then he said to Tom, "It's amazing. It seems that we have misjudged you. I didn't expect you to be the mysterious chairman of the Howard Group. You're a super big shot!"

How could Tom not hear Milo's implicit ridicule? He said, "I am indeed much better than you small potatoes."

The smile on Milo's face stiffened a little. Originally, he was being sarcastic and wanted to see Tom being awkward. He didn't expect Tom to be so shameless to keep giving himself airs.

He clapped his hands and continued to ridicule in a weird manner. "Awesome!

Looks like we really met a big shot this time. I heard that Howard Group's assets are close to 500 billion dollars. It is an incomparably large business empire. Since you are the chairman of the Howard Group. You must be very rich, right? How about you pay the bill for tonight?"

He looked at Tom mockingly to see how Tom would answer.

The others also secretly called out "Good one." This move was intended to put Tom in a very awkward place.

If Tom refused, it would be a slap in the face and he would really become their laughingstock. If Tom dared to say yes, it would be even worse. It would directly bankrupt Tom!

The bill for tonight was very likely to be more than one million dollars.

They wanted to see how Tom responded to this.

How could Tom not understand? He sneered and said, "Didn't you just say it was your treat? Why, did you forget to bring money?"

Tonight's bill was nothing to Tom, but it didn't mean that he didn't cherish the money. He would rather throw the money into the sea than pay the bill for these guys.

Milo immediately sneered. "Ha ha ha, I'm giving you a chance to show off. After all, you're Snow's childhood sweetheart. By the way, I heard that you were the second young master of the Howards, but you were expelled from the five years ago. I wonder if this was true?"

Milo said this with banter on his face.

The others looked at Tom with mockery.

As for Snow, she also looked at Tom coldly. She felt that Tom was such a loser that she looked down on him from the bottom of her heart.

Tom looked directly at Snow and said, "Snow, did you call me here tonight to let these guys mock me and ridicule me?"

Snow did not expect Tom to ask so directly. For a moment, she was still a little flustered. After all, her image in front of Tom had always been very kind and elegant. Such a mean thing as ridiculing people did not fit her image.

Milo immediately said, "Humph, I wanted to do this! Tom, you trash, why don't you take a look at yourself in the mirror? How dare you ask Snow out for dinner? You don't deserve her. I'm warning you, Snow is my woman. I don't care what your relationship with her used to be. From now on, if you dare to pester her again, I can make you disappear from this world with a phone call. Do you believe it or not?!"

When Milo said this, he was extremely arrogant and domineering, which made Snow's heart melt. She thought that Milo was the most domineering man in the world. In contrast, Tom was just a clown!

Chapter 779

The others were also gloating at Tom to see how he would react. After being taught such a lesson mercilessly, average people would definitely feel an unprecedented humiliation and thus do something irrational.

And they were waiting for Tom to do something irrational. As long as everything went on as expected, they would immediately give Tom a lecture, for example, beating Tom up.

Tom sneered when he saw how confident Milo was. Originally, he didn't want to lower himself to the same level as Milo, because he didn't have a crush on Snow anymore, and she was just an old friend to him.

He should have been happy for Snow when she had found the one she wanted. But what Snow and Milo did disgust him.

He burst into laughter and asked, "Really? What if I refuse? What are you going to do to deal with me?"

When Milo heard this, his face darkened even more, and a grim smile appeared on his face. He took a step forward, and the accomplices beside him also took a few steps forward, surrounding Tom. Milo said, "If you really dare to do that, then I will give you a painful lesson!"

He threatened. As long as Tom dared to disobey him again, he would directly beat him up.

Tom roared with laughter. He was not angry but genuinely amused. It seemed that he was too low-key. Even an idiot like Milo dared to threaten him.

"Then show me." Tom said with a meaningful smile.

He thought that a small person like Milo was no different from an ant on the ground. But if the ant had been disobedient and dared to bite him and provoke him, then he didn't mind stepping on this ant with one foot.

Snow frowned. When she saw Tom's behavior, she didn't want to show any respect for Tom any longer. There was only endless disdain and disgust for him.

Tom was her childhood friend. Now that Tom was down and out, and she was planning to put in a good word for him and asked Milo to give Tom a job as long as Tom got along with her properly.

But now it seemed that there was no need at all. Tom was completely ungrateful, and such a person deserved to live a miserable life!

She said coldly, "Tom, I advise you to give up on me. I'm out of your league!"

When she said this, she had no feelings for Tom at all, only disgust.

When Milo heard this, he smiled satisfiedly. He even tightened his arms around Snow's slender waist, kissed her, and then raised his eyebrows at Tom triumphantly.

He was very satisfied with Snow's performance. There was nothing more satisfying than the current situation.

Tom used to be the Second Young Master of the Howards, and Snow was Tom's childhood sweetheart. Now, he was stealing women from Tom, and he liked this feeling the most.

Tom naturally saw through Milo's thoughts at a glance. To be honest, he didn't care about Milo, but Snow's actions really disappointed him. A friend who used to be very close to him had now actually become so realistic and mercenary.

He shook his head and said, "Snow, do you really think that I can't survive after leaving the Howards? You grew up with me, and you should know me very well. In your mind, I'm so useless?"

Snow was touched when she saw his gaze, but she immediately shook her head and denied it. She thought that it was just Tom's dying struggle. If Tom was really having a good time, he wouldn't be dressed so shabbily for such an important occasion tonight!

And Tom didn't even drive when he arrived just now, which is a complete sign of abjection!

She could understand Tom's downfall and even have some sympathy. But Tom kept pretentious, and he even claimed that he was the chairman of the Howard Group, which was completely ridiculous!

She sneered and said, "Tom, I'm really too disappointed in you. Originally, for the sake of being friends for many years, I was going to introduce you to Mr. Cox and ask him to arrange a job for you so that you could have a better life. I didn't expect you to be ungrateful and even go after me! Take a look at yourself, are you qualified to pursue me now?"

Snow felt much more comfortable saying this, especially Milo's encouraging and satisfied eyes, which made her happier.

Tom sighed secretly. At this moment, he had thrown away the last trace of concern for Snow. Now she was no longer the Snow he remembered.

"Well, for the sake of us all being old friends, I originally wanted to promote your family. But I didn't expect that you treated me like that, and let so many people to humiliate me for a promised meal." Tom said with a sneer. Facing the hostility and mockery of so many people alone, he did not have the slightest restraint or apprehension, where he appeared idle and generous. Anyone with strong observations would have noticed that such Tom could not be down and out.

"Snow, I admit I did have a crush on you in the past. But do you think I still like you after all these years? You're overconfident. Now I despise you."

Hearing Tom's words, Snow's face went an ugly green and she snorted heavily, "You!!"

She originally wanted to see Tom regretful, terrified, or even repentant, but she did not expect that him would dare to say something so outrageous.

She said directly to Milo, "Brother Milo, he bullied me!"

Milo nodded, his eyes fixed on Tom, full of hostility and coldness. With a wave of his hand, he said, "Beat him up!"

He was going to teach Tom a lesson.

Chapter 780

After hearing his words, many people immediately strode towards Tom with ferocious smiles.

"Tom is done. How dare he go against Mr. Cox? He's looking for death."

"I think there's something wrong with Tom's mind after all these years of miserable life. Otherwise, why would he do such a stupid thing?"

"This is going to be a good show. Tell me, will Tom kneel down and beg for mercy?"

"Of course he will. Since he has offended Mr. Cox, he's doomed."

"I have to take a picture of this and post

it to my friends later. Hahaha..."

At this moment, everyone was mocking Tom, thinking that he was going to die this time.

The corners of Tom's mouth also rose slightly, revealing a teasing smile. It was ridiculous that these people actually wanted to fight with him.

Since that was the case, it was necessary for him to give these guys a hard lesson.

"Tom, you piece of trash. In the past, you were the Second Young Master of the Howards and I didn't find trouble with you. Now that you're just like an ant, how dare you be so bold in front of us? You're looking for death! In that case, I'll teach you a bitter lesson."

Soon, a relatively tall young man rushed in front of Tom, with a grim smile on his face. Then he reached out and grabbed Tom's neck, trying to take Tom down.

He had obviously practiced some handholding moves, which were a little more powerful than ordinary people, but to Tom, it was no different from an ant.

When he came over, Tom did not hold back either. He just slapped him in the face and made a loud bang.

The man was beaten to spun three times at the spot, then fell to the ground. He was stunned, and half of his face was red and swollen, like a pig's head.

At the same time, he screamed in pain.

Tom didn't use much strength in this slap, or he would have knocked his head off. Although he didn't use all his strength, Tom also penetrated some internal strength into it. This was enough to make this guy suffer.

The others were stunned when they saw how easily Tom had dealt with this person. They did not expect Tom to become so good at fighting or so bold after five years without seeing him. He was clearly down but he dared to fight back. He was looking for death. He was definitely looking for death!

"Damn it, let's go together and kill him!" The young man who fell to the ground was so angry that he roared hysterically.

The others also began to get angry. Tom, this guy, did not kneel down and beg for mercy from them. He even dared to fight back and hurt people. This was unforgivable!

In addition, they themselves had a grudge against Tom. Just now, they had drunk a lot of wine, which made them bold and courageous. Now, all of them were filled with anger, shouting, and coming over from all directions and pouncing on Tom together.

They didn't believe it: they couldn't get Tom when they fought together?

They wanted to cripple Tom directly!

The curve of Milo's mouth was even wider. He had already seen Tom's miserable reaction. Such an abandoned son dared to challenge him. He was looking for death!

He had a hundred ways to get Tom unable to survive in H Country.

Even Snow felt good. She could only be happy to see Tom being taught a lesson.

However, what happened next stunned them all, who couldn't even close their mouth.

Tom did not move. He was still standing there, facing the people from all directions. He was very relaxed with his movements, just like he was flapping flies. In less than a minute, he mercilessly slapped all these people to the ground.

And it was very neat. They were not at the same level at all.

After a while, the ground was full of people lying on all fours, unable to stand up. Tom's internal strength penetrated into their body, causing them to scream in pain. That scene was extremely wonderful.

"This..." Milo was stunned and his eyes were about to pop out. He looked at the scene in front of him in disbelief. He never expected that Tom would be so powerful that he completely exceeded his expectations!

Especially now that Tom fixed his eyes at him, he subconsciously trembled and was scared for the first time.

He swallowed his saliva and said to Snow angrily, "Didn't you say that Tom is trash? What's going on now? Why is he so good at fighting?"

Snow was also very confused. In her impression, Tom had indeed practiced martial arts, but he was definitely not so powerful!

"I, I don't know. He used to be ordinary..." There was also some grievance in Snow's tone.

Tom clapped his hands as if he had done something very insignificant.

Then he slowly walked towards Milo and Snow. The expression on his face was very thought-provoking, which immediately made Milo even more afraid. He also stepped back and said quickly, "Tom, what do you want to do? I advise you not to mess around!"

Snow saw that something was wrong. Tom was about to hit someone. She immediately said, "Tom, don't be impulsive. Mr. Cox was just joking with you. Mr. Cox is the eldest young master of the Coxes and has a noble status. If you touch Mr. Cox, you don't know how you will die!"

"Really?" Tom had already walked up to Milo and Snow and looked at them with a half-smile. "It seems that I really can't offend the Coxes."

Milo saw that Tom seemed to be frightened, that he was afraid of the Coxes, and did not dare to attack him, he immediately breathed a sigh of relief. His originally bent body also began to straighten up. He coughed twice and said majestically: "Tom, I was just joking with you. I can't tell you're so good at it. It's not bad. I admire you very much. You can come to my company and be my security..."

With a bang.

As soon as Milo finished his sentence, Tom slapped him in the face. He hit him in the face and made him spin around. And he fell to the ground, with his gold-rimmed glasses knocked off.

"You, you, you, how dare you hit me?!"

Milo was furious, his eyes full of anger and violence.

Snow also pointed at Tom and trembled. "You, you, Tom, how dare you hit Mr. Cox? You're done. You're done!"

The others also felt that Tom was crazy and actually dared to hit Milo. It was nothing to sneer at him. If he really hit Milo, it was completely different.

For a moment, they all looked at Tom as if he was a dead man, thinking that Tom was going to die!

Chapter 781

Of course, Tom would not take such a loser to heart. When he saw that Milo still dared to be so arrogant, Tom smiled, looked down at him and said, "Really? Am I doomed? I'll wait and see."

Milo was now completely out of his mind. His eyes were burning with anger. He had never been humiliated like he was today. As the young master of the Coxes, his was so noble. In his circle, he was flattered by everyone.

If Tom was still the Second Young Master of the Howards, Tom had the right to fight him, but Tom was just an abandoned son, a loser whom even his own family didn't want. Tom had no right to fight him or teach him a lesson!

Milo swore in his heart that he must punish Tom. He wanted Tom to die, and only if Tom died miserably could he cool down.

"You're dead, Tom. I swear, you're dead! I want not only you to die, but also your family to be buried with you!" Milo's eyes were filled with fire. He gritted his teeth and spoke with great hatred.

However, his words irritated Tom. Originally, Tom did not care too much about him. For such a weak man, he just wanted to beat him up and teach him a lesson. However, it was unforgivable that Milo dared to threaten him with his family.

He laughed in anger and stepped forward. When Milo wanted to stand up, he stepped on Milo's body and pushed him to the ground. Milo couldn't struggle at all and couldn't even breathe. His face turned red.

"You're just as weak as an ant. How dare you threaten me with my family? I think you're tired of living." Tom's tone was extremely cold, like a voice coming from hell, which made Milo immediately shudder. The others present were also frightened by Tom, and their faces turned pale.

They had never seen Tom like this before, so they had a kind of extreme fear and regret in that moment. If they had known that Tom was so horrible, they would not have gone against Tom.

At the moment, Tom was like a lunatic with mental problems!

At this time, Milo didn't give in. Although he was very scared, he still clenched his teeth and threatened Tom, "Tom, if you have the ability, you can kill me now! Otherwise, when I go back, I will try my best to retaliate. You and your family, don't want to live! I, Milo, have never been humiliated like this by someone. You are the first and last! I want you to die, and your whole family will be buried with you!"

Milo's cold tone made everyone present feel scared, thinking that Tom had really caused a big trouble this time. Unless Tom was going to kneel down and apologize to Milo, it would really involve the whole the Howards.

Tom laughed. It had been a long time since he had been threatened by such a weak man. It was interesting that this man was his childhood sweetheart's fiancé.

Seeing that Tom could still laugh at this time, Milo was even angrier. If his eyes could kill people, then Tom had been killed at least a hundred times.

"It seems that you are very confident in yourself." Tom said with a half-smile and let go of Milo.

In Milo's opinion, this was an act of cowardice, so Milo was secretly happy. But of course, Milo would not let go of

Tom. Milo stood up, pointed at Tom, and said proudly and domineeringly: "Tom, you're dead. I can kill your whole family with just one phone call!"

Tom said, "Really? I'm looking forward to it."

"You won't cry until you see the coffin!" Milo snorted angrily, then he took out the phone directly, dialed it, and said to Tom, "I'm calling my men now. If you have the guts, don't leave!"

In fact, he was already warning Tom. If Tom was a normal person, he would definitely run away in fear at this time, unless he really dared to kill Milo. But it was obvious that the result of killing Milo was much more serious!

Tom just stood there with his arms folded across his chest and looked at Milo with interest to see what kind of big shot Milo could call.

But in the eyes of everyone, it was a crazy behavior, completely brainless.

Those who had just been beaten by Tom stood up one by one and stared at Tom with hatred and anger in their eyes. They knew that Tom was very capable of fighting, so now they did not dare to attack Tom anymore. They knew it was asking for an insult.

At the same time, they also began to call their hatchet men over. Today, they were beaten up by Tom. With their temper, they would definitely not let go of Tom!

If Tom was still the second young master of the Howards in the past, they couldn't help it even if they were beaten up. After all, their family backgrounds were still not comparable to that of the Howards. But now Tom was just a stray dog. How could he compare with them?

It would be strange if they didn't take revenge!

Snow did not have any sympathy for Tom now, but only hostility and hatred, thinking that Tom did not save her face. Especially Tom's words just now completely irritated her!

Tom sat down and ate leisurely. He seemed to be very relaxed, not taking the current predicament seriously at all.

He hadn't eaten dinner yet, and he was indeed a little hungry now.

After ordering so many delicious dishes, he naturally wouldn't waste them.

Now that he had reached the Major Perfection Realm, his appetite was much better than before and he ate much more food. After ten minutes, he had eaten almost ten people's meals, which made everyone present shocked.

But they didn't think so much. First, they were ordinary people, unable to understand the horror of the Major Perfection Realm. Second, they were already full of anger and hatred for Tom, which made them lose their normal reason. They thought that Tom was like a hungry ghost who hadn't eaten such good food for a long time, and he just wanted to eat a full meal before he died.

So the atmosphere now seemed a little strange. There were so many people in the big box, all standing there, looking at Tom with hatred and anger, while Tom, the only one sitting there, ate leisurely.

After a while, Milo's phone rang again. When he saw the call, his eyes lit up and he was excited. After the call was connected, he talked a few words, and his face turned red with excitement!

Laughing at Tom, Milo said arrogantly and recklessly, "Ha ha ha, Tom, you trash, you're dead. The men I called are here! You wait to die!"

Not long after he finished speaking, the door of the private room was quickly opened. From outside, a group of people rushed in. They were extremely fierce and frightening.

"Who's the blind bastard who dares to offend Mr. Cox? Do you want to die?!"

Immediately, there was a loud voice, full of power.

Tom was stunned when he heard this voice. Then as he looked up and saw the man, he was stunned.

What a coincidence. The person who called over by Milo was Tom's acquaintance.

Chapter 782

It was one of Rufus's men who were famous in their community. He had seen Tom a few times and was extremely respectful to Tom. He was afraid that his inappropriate actions would provoke Tom so he behaved himself in front of Tom.

The reason why Tom remembered him was that he was good at flattering.

It never occurred to him that this guy was the one Milo had called for help. What a coincidence.

Tom thought that the person Milo had called this time was from the Coxes. He thought before that he would call Rufus directly and ask him to come over to play a show. Now it seemed that there was no need for this.

When Milo saw this man, a fawning smile immediately appeared on his face. He quickly stepped forward and said respectfully, "Master Kyro, you're here. That's great. I've been waiting for you for a long time!"

Others present also showed a respectful expression when they saw Master Kyro, because they all knew that he was powerful. He was the confidant of the legendary Rufus who had been outstanding in G State for the past two years. Nobody could tell how powerful he was now!

In particular, they heard that Rufus worked for the mysterious chairman of the Howard Group, and he had a promising future. Even the people from the Coxes were inferior to Rufus.

As for Master Kyro, Milo had known him for a long time, and the Coxes's cooperation with the Howard Group a while ago was because of the help from Master Kyro.

Because Milo achieved cooperation with the Howard Group, he was valued by his family.

He was now the potential heir of the Coxes.

Now that something happened to him, the first person he remembered was powerful Master Kyro!

Just then, Tom dared to call himself the chairman of the Howard Group. It would be great that he called Master Kyro over.

Master Kyro was not tall, or even a little short, but he had an overbearing aura, followed by a group of tall and powerful bodyguards. It was obvious that he was a big shot. So when he came in, his class crushed everyone.

He strode over, raised his head and chest, very arrogant.

Now he really deserved what he had. As the confidant of Rufus, his current strength was terrifying. Even the Coxes had to curry favor with him!

He wanted to make friends with Milo. After all, Milo was the eldest son of the Coxes. There was a high probability that he would take over the Coxes in the future. It just so happened that he had nothing important to do when he received a call from Milo, so he immediately brought his men over.

With his power and strength, it was a piece of cake to teach a martial artist a lesson.

It was such a simple thing, and he could still sell Milo a big favor. Why did not he do?

"Mr. Cox, I heard there's a bastard who dares to offend you. How dare him! He's risking his neck!" Kyro said loudly, full of energy, and at the same time, his eyes swept across the whole scene.

Everyone who was scanned by his eyes did not dare to look straight at him. They quickly lowered their heads and showed a respectful expression.

He was very satisfied with the awe these people had for him, which made him feel very proud.

It also made him feel the pleasure of being respected that only a big shot like Tom could feel. Speaking of it, he had not met the chairman for a long time. It was really hard to meet him.

Milo stepped aside and pointed at Tom. He said loudly, "Master Kyro, the person who offended me just now is that bastard! He goes too far. It's okay he despises me, but he said a lot of harsh words to insult you!"

Kyro followed Milo's gaze and looked in Tom's direction. "What, how dare you speak ill of me? Let me see who is..."

All of a sudden, he paused and was standing there in a daze.

When he saw Tom, he was stunned. This strong contrast made him stand still for a long time, unable to come back to his senses!

Milo had not noticed Kyro's expression. He was so excited that his face began to turn red. He strode towards Tom and raised his head arrogantly. He sneered at Tom, "Humph! Tom, you bastard, how dare you hit me? You're doomed! Do you know who I am? How dare you disrespect me, you beggar?!"

"Now that Master Kyro is here, you are a dead man!" Milo couldn't stop talking since he was so excited. He thought he was the winner now, and Tom was the prey that was about to be killed by him. He could tease and torture him wantonly. "Tom, do you think you've learned little martial arts and are the number one in the world? You're too naive! These rules of the world are all about power, connections, and strength! If you ran away just now, I wouldn't be able to do anything to you for a while, but you dare to stay. Ha ha ha, now you have no place to hide!"

Now Milo was extremely arrogant and thrilled, thinking that Tom was the meat on his chopping block, and he could do whatever he wanted!

But Tom seemed not to hear what he said and continued to eat without even looking at him, which made him very unhappy.

"Humph! You are indeed bold. Since that's the case, then go to hell!" After saying this, Milo turned to Kyro and said, "Master Kyro, show this bastard your strength."

However, when he turned around and saw Kyro clearly, he finally felt something was wrong.

Now Kyro's face was pale, and his eyes were filled with fear and panic. There was a lot of cold sweat on his forehead. He was in an abnormal state, and even his feet were trembling slightly.

"Master Kyro, why are you..."

As soon as he finished speaking, he saw an incredible scene that shocked him.

Kyro hurriedly ran to Tom and bowed deeply to Tom. He was incomparably respectful and terrified, "Chairman, good evening!"

The whole room suddenly became strangely quiet. Everyone was stunned and stared at Kyro in a daze. They could not react at all. Why was Kyro, who was so powerful, so respectful to Tom? Were they hallucinating?

Chapter 783

"Whom are you calling a beast?" Tom raised his head and looked at Kyro indifferently. His eyes were cold and there was no anger in them. But to Kyro, it was like a lightning strike, almost making his whole head to explode!

Even his whole body began to tremble. He couldn't close his mouth, and his teeth were chattering all the time.

He knew how powerful Tom was. Even his immediate superior, Rufus, achieved today's results because he had followed Tom. Even if it was Rufus who was in front of Tom, he had to be respectful and did not dare to be impetuous.

In particular, in addition to Tom's status and power, he was even more awe-inspiring and terrifying for his unfathomable strength. Tom was a supreme master in the Major Perfection Realm of the Innate Realm, and a nonentity like him couldn't definitely bear the consequences to provoke Tom!

Usually, when he was in front of Tom, he would try his best to please Tom, but just now, he actually scolded Mr. Howard for being a beast, and he had even claimed that he would revenge for Milo...

Thinking of this, he felt a lack of oxygen in his brain. He felt like he was going to faint and couldn't even breathe!

Without any hesitation, he knelt directly in front of Tom and kowtowed forcefully, pleading bitterly, "I'm just blind and don't recognize you, boss. Please show mercy to me. I'm just a nobody. I'm here kneeling down to beg your mercy..."

"Bang." Kyro kept kowtowing without any hesitation. Soon, his forehead was already drenched in blood.

His action was absolutely shocking to so many people present!

Not only Milo, but everyone else had heard of Kyro. They knew that in G State, Kyro was a big shot. Even their elders had to be respectful in front of Kyro for fear of offending him. But

Not only Milo, but everyone else had heard of Kyro. They knew that in G State, Kyro was a big shot. Even their elders had to be respectful in front of Kyro for fear of offending him. But such a big shot actually knelt down to Tom like this?

It was so incredible. They couldn't believe what was happening in front of them. They just thought they were hallucinating.

It wasn't that they couldn't accept the fact, but it all seemed too magical.

Tom was quite satisfied with Kyro's action. He thought that Kyro was indeed a sensible man who knelt down to apologize immediately.

Otherwise, although he would not kill Kyro, he would definitely fire Kyro. With his current status and his business empire, even if he fired any of his subordinates, including Rufus, it would not affect him.

"You reacted fast enough." Tom put down his chopsticks and looked at Kyro with a faint smile.

Seeing Tom like this, Kyro finally felt a little relieved. He quickly said, "I'm so blind that I didn't recognize you, my boss. Please forgive me. Please!"

Tom waved his hand, looked at Milo, who was already stunned and sweating profusely, and said, "You have a good relationship with Milo? He just called and made you come over to help him."

Kyro was sophisticated. How could he not understand Tom's words? He quickly denied it and said, "No, no!

Boss, this is all a misunderstanding. I don't know this guy!"

Then, with a fierce look in his eyes, he asked Tom, "Boss, do you want me to help you get rid of him?"

He made a gesture of cutting the throat, and his eyes were vicious.

His words were appreciated by Tom. Originally, he didn't have a deep impression of Kyro. He only knew that Kyro was a subordinate of Rufus. Now it seemed that Kyro was quite capable.

When Milo heard this, he finally came to his senses. His face immediately turned pale and he said to Kyro, "Master Kyro! What's going on? Is something wrong? Tom is just an abandoned son of the Howards. He has been living a miserable life. How can he be your boss?"

His face was filled with disbelief as he said these words excitedly and quickly. It was not that he had to be unable to accept the fact, but that what was happening in front of him was too impossible for him to imagine. It was just like someone suddenly told him that there were dinosaurs in this world, and they were right in front of him.

It was a complete violation of his many years of experience, so his first reaction would be to think that this must be some high-tech synthesis, and it was fake!

However, when Kyro heard this, the coldness in his eyes became even more intense, and there was even a murderous intent!

Milo actually dared to humiliate his boss in front of him like this. If he didn't teach Milo a lesson, it would be dereliction of his duty!

"How dare you!" Kyro yelled out, "Milo, you nonentity, how dare you humiliate the boss? You committed a capital crime!"

After saying that, he immediately took two steps up and slapped Milo's face heavily. The slap was so strong that half of Milo's face was swollen!

Milo also flew out backwards.

Kyro was also a martial artist. Although he hadn't reached the Innate Realm yet, the slap he gave in anger was so powerful that it was not something that a playboy like Milo could bear.

Milo was beaten so badly that he almost fainted. His head was buzzing.

This slap finally woke Milo up. He finally realized that he had really gotten into trouble this time. Snow's childhood sweetheart was not an abandoned son, but a real big shot. As the chairman of the Howard Group, Tom was just like an immortal to him. How could he provoke Tom?

At the same time, he was extremely ashamed and regretful.

The humiliation was not because of Tom, but because of Snow. If it weren't for Snow, he wouldn't have offended a big shot like Tom!

As for regret, if he had known that Tom was so powerful, he wouldn't have dared to offend Tom like this!

After slapped Milo, Kyro looked carefully at Tom. He caught a flash of satisfaction in Tom's eyes. He was even more delighted and wiped off his cold sweat. He had done the right thing this time, or Tom would not have let him go so easily.

"Someone!" Kyro shouted, "Tie Milo up and throw him into the sea to feed the sharks!"

"Yes, Master Kyro!"

Suddenly, behind Kyro, several strong men rushed out to subdue Milo.

Milo had never seen such a scene before, and now he was scared out of his wits.

Chapter 784

"I was wrong. I was wrong... Don't throw me to feed the shark. I don't want to die. Woo woo..." Milo was so scared that he started to cry loudly. At this moment, he was no longer arrogant. Instead, he was already scared out of his wits.

He struggled desperately, but he, a playboy who was weak for indulging, was no match for these burly men. Like a chick, he was soon tied up by them.

In this case, he was so scared that he wet his pants. Urine dripped down from the pants.

When Tom saw that Milo was such a coward, he immediately laughed

When Tom saw that Milo was such a coward, he immediately laughed disdainfully.

Being such a coward, Milo dared to go against him. He had no idea what he was up against.

When the rest of the people present saw Milo's awkward look, none of them dared to laugh at him. They were all trembling and panicking, afraid that Tom would focus his eyes on them.

After all, they had mocked Tom just now!

If Tom really decided to give them a lecture, they would be doomed.

Even people like Milo were nothing in front of Tom, let alone them.

Just then, Tom looked over, which scared them to death. They all knelt down on their knees and begged for mercy. "Chairman, I was wrong. It was our fault just now. It was our fault that we didn't know who you were. We offended you, chairman. Please forgive us. Please spare us..."

"Please let us go, Chairman, woo woo..."

In a short while, these playboys knelt down, kowtowed, and slapped themselves on the faces. The scene was impressive.

Tom had no intention of making things difficult for these nobody.

Soon, he looked at the only person standing there, Snow.

Snow was still standing because she was already dumbfounded completely.

She stood there as if she were a puppet. Her eyes had no focus and she looked at Tom in a daze.

Seeing her like this, Tom didn't want to take her seriously.

In any case, Snow was his childhood sweetheart, and they had feelings for each other before. If it weren't for the incident five years ago, they were very likely to be married by now.

It was destiny that they were in this situation.

Tom sighed in his heart. In fact, he was quite happy to meet Snow this time. If Snow was still the same as before, he would help Snow's family.

But now it seemed that there was no need at all. He and Snow were like strangers.

He hinted at Kyro with his eyes and left.

Kyro understood Tom's meaning and breathed a sigh of relief. At the same time, he had to lament Tom's magnanimity to let Milo go.

With Tom's current status and ability, killing Milo was like killing a chick.

He gave Milo a hard kick and scolded, "It's your lucky day. The chairman is generous and shows mercy on you! Next time you dare to be so ignorant as to offend the chairman again, I will

would help Snow's family.

He gave Milo a hard kick and scolded, "It's your lucky day. The chairman is generous and shows mercy on you! Next time you dare to be so ignorant as to offend the chairman again, I will torture you to death!"

After Milo was kicked hard, he curled up like a prawn, so painful that he couldn't breathe.

However, he did not dare to have any resentment or hatred, because he knew that Kyro was right. As the chairman of the Howard Group, he could kill him easily.

After Tom, Kyro and the others left for some times, the whole room was still strangely quiet.

Everyone was stunned and could not make a sound.

What happened just now was too shocking for them.

It was like a dream. Before that, who would have thought that the abandoned son of the Howards, who they looked down on, would actually change and become the prestigious chairman of the Howard Group?

It was just as ridiculous as the story of an ant on the ground suddenly turning into a divine dragon in the sky.

Soon, they couldn't help but look at Snow, who was still in a daze. They all realized that Snow had missed a great opportunity this time!

That was right. Originally, Snow was the childhood sweetheart of Tom. Now that Tom became prestigious and was willing to eat with her, there must be some affection for her. But now, it was ruined by herself.

As the person involved, Snow had only now come to her senses. Her eyes were filled with hot tears, and her heart was filled with remorse. She burst into tears!

Thinking of what she had just said to Tom, she felt extremely regretful and ridiculed. Tom was so powerful as the chairman of the Howard Group, and she actually ridiculed Tom!

If it wasn't for what she did tonight, with her relationship with Tom, she would have been able to renew her relationship with him.

But now, she had nothing...

This feeling of regret was so strong that she could not bear it. Her eyes rolled over and she fainted.

Not long after, Milo also received a call from his home. They scolded him and deprived him of the identity of the young master of the Coxes. At that moment, Milo was ashen and fainted.

The scene was once chaotic.

On Tom's side, his mood had returned to normal after he left the hotel.

What happened just now did not affect him at all.

Kyro kept bending down and carefully following behind him. His posture was extremely low, afraid that an inappropriate move would provoke Tom.

For him, the current Tom was just like the ancient emperor. Staying by Tom's side, he felt the horror as much as accompanying a tiger.

He didn't feel this way in front of Rufus or any big shot.

"You seem to be afraid of me?" Tom suddenly turned around and looked at Kyro with a half-smile.

Kyro was already nervous enough. When he saw Tom's eyes, his mind went blank. Before he could understand what Tom said, he quickly said, "Chairman, I am terribly sorry. Please forgive me!"

As he spoke, he kept slapping himself.

Although his lesson to Milo just now was approved by Tom, it didn't mean that he was completely acquitted.

That was because Milo called Tom a beast just now. This was definitely a big mistake!

Tom was a little speechless. Was he that scary in Kyro's eyes?

"Why are you so nervous? Am I that scary?" Tom said helplessly.

Kyro wiped away his cold sweat. "Chairman, your aura is too strong. As your subordinates, I am frightened."

Tom waved his hand and said, "Okay, you can go back."

Kyro nodded and quickly retreated, not daring to disturb Tom anymore. He found that as long as he stayed by Tom's side, he would feel extremely great pressure. If time went on, he suspected that he would have a heart attack.

After Kyro left, Tom looked at a place with deep eyes and said with a smile, "Friend, you've been following me for so long. Should you show yourself now?"

Chapter 785

Tom looked at the dark place where no one was there, which was weird. Some passers-by wore strange expressions, thinking that he had seen something spooky.

The timid woman showed a frightened expression and quickly kept a distance from him, thinking that Tom either wanted to grandstand or he was a lunatic.

But after Tom spoke, there was still no motion in the dark place.

For the people around, it seemed that Tom was talking to himself.

"This man is talking to himself. Is he crazy?"

"In my opinion, he is grandstanding. He tries to scare people. There are a lot of boring people like him."

"I don't think so. Maybe he saw something creep. After all, the Ghost Festival is coming."

Tom didn't care about the strange eyes of these passers-by. Of course, he couldn't have been wrong. He thoroughly checked the place. In fact, he had already noticed someone following him, and the man was a powerful expert. But he hadn't made a sound just now. he just wanted to see who was following him.

After distracting Kyro, he began to Speak.

But after he finished speaking, the man still did not appear. In the eyes of others, he was really talking to himself again, which was quite awkward.

He didn't feel awkward. He twitched the corners of his mouth and showed a meaningful smile, "In that case, don't blame me."

After he finished speaking, two coins appeared in his hand. Then he seemed to be very relaxed. The coin bounced out of his hand at a very fast speed. In the dim night, the track was invisible. After hearing a buzzing sound, the coins flew out.

With two puffs, they hit towards the dark place. Seemingly, they had pierced into something hard.

Then, a tall figure came out of the dark, with two deformed coins in his hand, smiling meaningfully, "It's really rare to meet an expert like you in H Country."

He spoke in English not Chinese. As soon as he finished speaking, the two coins disappeared from his hand and bounced directly against Tom's head and shoulder.

Moreover, he didn't stop after spring the two coins but immediately sprang two round steel balls, which were even faster than the coins. In a blink of an eye, the balls had reached Tom. Worse still, it flied toward Tom's eyes.

They were more powerful than bullets.

If Tom didn't dodge and was hit, even at his level, he would be seriously injured. Not to mention he would be blind, his life would be in danger.

If it were someone else, experts like Pence and Marlin, would definitely not be able to escape and be killed.

For Tom, he didn't have big movements, with two more coins in his hand, which happened to hit the two rapidly flying steel balls, they collided fiercely, creating two bangs noise and some sparks, and the two balls were shot down.

His response was elegant and calm. The man's eyes flashed with surprise and fear to see this.

At the same time, Tom also saw who the man was.

A white man who was not particularly tall, even a few centimeters shorter than him, but his aura was extremely powerful, especially the vibe that emanated from him was extremely domineering. And he was vigorous.

In an instant, Tom could tell that he was a top powerful master of Major Perfection Realm of Innate Realm, even at the level of Reid.

And he didn't look very old, about forty years old.

It was not simple. A foreigner who came nowhere actually had such strength.

Tom narrowed his eyes and immediately thought of this foreign master must be the superior of Jack and Tom, who he had defeated a while ago.

Now that he dared to trouble him, he seemed to be confident in herself.

"You must be the superior of Jack and Tom." Tom said directly.

Surprise flashed across the man's eyes. Obviously, he didn't expect Tom to be so accurate and guess his identity at once.

"What's your name?"

He was the leader of Jack and Tom, and he came here for Tom this time.

Ever since he learned that Jack and Tom had been defeated by a master in H Country, he had become interested in Tom.

Although he was in H Country, he was not afraid of Tom at all. This was because of his strength and the confidence of his country.

He was a 5s-level super adept, and his country was the most powerful in the world today. These were his born pride and confidence, so he never took a master of H Country seriously.

He also thought he could win the champion of the Kungfu Cup. He wanted to win the champion trophy openly, announcing to the world that Country M was also the number one in terms of martial arts.

In just an instant, Tom felt his confidence and squinted his eyes slightly.

It was funny. He hadn't troubled these foreigners who came to him first. How arrogant he was!

It could be seen from this that over the years, there were not enough trained younger masters ready to take over from the older generation in H Country. So, these foreigners were so arrogant and dare to act wildly.

The passers-by were surprised to see a foreigner come out. They did not expect that a person was hiding in the dark, and they did not see him. And he was a foreigner.

In particular, the aura of this foreigner was so terrifying that they could not help but be afraid.

Over the years, the impression of the foreigners was powerful was ingrained. Now they couldn't help but be afraid when they saw the foreigners.

Seen from the situation, this foreigner seemed to have some conflicts with Tom. Seemingly, Tom was in danger because he had offended foreigners.

In this case, they did not dare to stay any longer, afraid that they would be affected. So, they slipped away quickly.

Seeing this, Tom shook his head slightly and felt speechless.

A master said it well. What H Country lacked now was not economic strength, but national confidence.

There was still a long way to go before achieving the goal of national self-confidence.

However, Tom believed that no matter how tortuous the road ahead was, the Chinese people could cast off an inferiority complex and regain their confidence. He had always thought that the Chinese were not inferior to any other races in the world.

"I'm Tom, Chief Instructor of the Military Intelligence 3 of H Country"

Tom didn't hide his identity. It was not necessary.

Hearing his name, the leader nodded
faintly and said, "A while ago, you hurt my two men and they lost a lot of money. Is that true?"

He said this in a questioning tone, with an air of superiority.

Chapter 786

Tom was very unhappy with his attitude. He was a foreigner. How dare he be so arrogant in another country? And he took the attitude towards not only him but also his country.

"So do you come here to take revenge on me?" Tom smiled and said meaningfully.

He was discerning and had already seen through the foreigner. The tall foreigner was powerful and had extremely vigorous vital energy and blood. He could easily live to 150 years old. But Tom could easily defeat him.

If the foreigner wanted to fight with him, he would be defeated easily.

The chief also grinned and showed his white teeth. He took off the hat. He was handsome and fierce, and his eyes were as bright as the sun. Even in dark, when Tom looked at him, he felt being burnt.

Tom was very surprised. He could tell at a glance that the foreigner practiced martial art skills of H Country. When Tom was young, he saw similar cultivation methods. The members of some ancient sects in H Country looked straight at the sun in the noon to make their eyes destructive.

Ordinary people couldn't look straight at the sun at noon because it was too bright. But people who took secret medicine and practiced some martial art skills could make it. After a long time, their eyes would be as bright as the sun.

An average master would soon be unable to bear looking at them. So he would show his flaws and be easily defeated.

"It's interesting. You seem to despise H Country, but you practice the martial art skills of H Country." Tom said sarcastically.

The chief snorted heavily and disagreed with Tom. He said coldly, "You just like to brag as if all the Kung Fu in the world came from H Country! My martial art skills of practicing eyes come from Red Sun State. Your martial arts are not even comparable to those of Red Sun State."

When Tom heard it, he knew that what the foreigner learned was from Red Sun State, which was learned from H Country.

He felt sad.

H Country was indeed very weak more than a hundred years ago. And a lot of the treasures of H Country were taken away to Red Sun State, including a lot of martial arts knowledge.

At this moment, Tom felt that his country was weak in the era. It was so painful to live in the era.

He closed his eyes. At this moment, he thought of the era in which the country suffered from war many years ago.

And at this time, his aura had changed.

Suddenly, the foreign chief felt it and frowned in an instant. He was surprised and malicious, "Is he enlightened suddenly?"

He was right. Tom was suddenly enlightened.

He was enlightened spiritually rather than physically. He learned something and his mental strength gradually increased.

"Damn it, how can he be suddenly enlightened at this time?" The foreign leader cursed in anger. At the same time, he was extremely jealous. Only people at his level knew how rare it was to be suddenly enlightened. If they were unlucky, they couldn't experience that in a few years!

But Tom was suddenly enlightened when he was talking to him. It was really infuriating.

Even though the foreign chief was a talent, he wasn't be enlightened for three years.

So he wouldn't allow Tom to continue. If Tom got stronger, his country, Country M would be affected!

As soon as he thought about it, the foreign chief started to attack. He attacked him without any sign and sound. Almost in an instant, he was in front of Tom. He looked ferocious and sneered. He punched a certain acupoint on Tom's neck.

He used 90 percent of his strength in the punch. Once he hit him, Tom would die even if he was a top master of 5S-level!

It was said that it never rained but it poured.

Since he was fighting with such a potential master from H Country, he had to kill him with all his strength.

Tom was suddenly enlightened for a moment and his spiritual power increased rapidly. It was profound and mysterious.

It was his first time to be suddenly enlightened after he reached Major Perfection Realm of Innate Realm. He felt that he returned to more than a hundred years ago in an instant. He felt the struggle of his nation.

He had never experienced that before.

His eyes even turned red and he was sad for his nation.

But the foreign chief reacted fast and didn't give him enough time. He sneaked attack Tom.

Generally speaking, the people who were during the enlightenment were hard to dodge the master at the same level.

But Tom could make it. He felt it when the foreign chief wanted to kill him. So he immediately opened his eyes and woke up from the state.

He looked at the foreign chief.

At this moment, the foreign chief, who was smooth and fast, suddenly paused. In an instant, he was nervous.

It was incredible for him. People at his level had a tenacious mentality. Only the legendary masters of God Becoming Level could affect their minds.

But at that moment, his mind was affected by Tom's look.

But he was a master of 5S-level and grew up in battles. He returned to normal in less than a tenth of a second. It seemed that he didn't pause.

However, a tenth of a second was enough for Tom.

Tom made the most timely response to the punch from the foreign chief in an instant. He took half a step back and leaned back. He dodged the punch at a tricky angle.

At the same time, he also fought back against the foreign chief.

The foreign chief was confident about the sneak attack, and he did not expect Tom to dodge it. And he also fought back against him. Tom was exquisite and he had to fight back.

Thus his sneak attack had already failed.

Bang bang...

In just a second, they had already punched each other. They were extremely fast and burst out powerful air, which swept around.

"You broke the rules. As the law enforcer of H Country, I have an obligation to arrest you." Tom said faintly and fought faster.

Chapter 787

In an instant, the foreign leader felt unprecedented pressure, and he couldn't see anything but darkness.

It was as if the whole world had suddenly darkened, and the sky had fallen. It was terrifying.

He felt Tom's sudden change, and his heart beat violently a few times. His face turned pale in an instant. It turned out that Tom didn't exert his whole strength just now.

But his reaction was rather fast. In an instant, he dodged Tom's hard punch.

However, even if he managed to dodge Tom's first punch, he could not avoid the second, let alone Tom's subsequent brutal and savage attack .

"Hey!" The foreign leader felt great pressure, but he was not flustered. As an experienced master, he would not panic so easily. He had never thought that he would not be a match for this Chinese.

He had absolute confidence in himself. In addition to his absolute martial arts talent, he believed more in the science and technology of Country M by which he was transformed, and he believed he was definitely not a person who a Chinese who could defeat.

It was his absolute admiration for science.

However, he was still overthinking, because he did not know who he was facing.

Tom raised his eyebrows in surprise when he saw that the foreign leader could react to his initial attack and fight back. "Interesting."

Originally, he thought that this foreign leader was at most at Reid's level, but now it seemed that he had underestimated him.

Most importantly, he could feel that this foreign leader had an aura similar to that of a powerful master in H Country, and his moves were simple and direct.

Although such a move was very direct and could concentrate all of his strength on one point to exert the greatest power. But the fineness of the move was still not as good as H Country's martial arts, and definitely worse than his.

Tom was not in a hurry to defeat him immediately but deliberately suppressed his realm as if he was on a similar level as the foreign leader in order to observe his moves and playing methods.

As the foreign leader fought, he became more excited and relaxed. At the same time, he became more and more confident, because he thought that he had already understood the strength of this Chinese, and he could not be defeated by him.

Moreover, he was such a young Chinese. If he could kill this Chinese here in H Country, it would be exciting!

At the thought of that scene, his whole body became excited, and he could feel the blood pulsing through his veins.

For a moment, his attack became even fiercer, and a disdainful voice came out of his mouth. "How dare a lowly Chinese say that he can beat me?"

Tom didn't say anything. It seemed that he really couldn't beat the foreign leader for a while.

The foreign leader continued, "A strong young man like you shouldn't be in H Country. What shouldn't exist should disappear."

After saying this, his entire imposing manner also ushered in a huge change. He struck his fists in the direction of Tom, as if a thousand arrows were fired at the same time, covering Tom's entire body in an instant. As long as Tom was a little careless and got hit, he would suffer a heavy blow.

Tom had to lament that this foreigner's Kung Fu was indeed very good. If it was Reid, he might not be his match.

It was a pity that such a strong man had met him.

After observing the foreign leader for a while, Tom had almost learnt all his opponent's moves and playing methods. A playful smile appeared on his mouth and he said, "That's it. Lie down!"

After saying this, Tom's movements changed again. He actually played the same moves and methods as the foreign leader, even the momentum was the same.

Sensing Tom's change, in an instant, the foreign leader's pupils dilated and he blurted out, "That's impossible!"

There were no words to describe the shock in his heart at this moment. The Chinese in front of him actually copied his playing style, and it was even so exquisite. At that moment, he seemed to see another himself. How could this be possible?

However, Tom did not give him the chance to react. His speed suddenly increased. In an instant, he was in front of the foreign leader. He punched out and made a sound explosion. The foreign leader took the punch in a hurry, but immediately, Tom's second, third, and fourth punches were thrown at him... They had already landed on him, and the strength was so great that it seemed that every punch had enormous strength in it, which made his whole body tremble!

Finally, when he received the twelfth punch, he couldn't take it anymore, because he had already felt his blood churning and even his internal organs were injured. If he continued, even if Tom's fist did not land on him, he would have to be shocked and get an internal injury!

In the nick of time, he reacted as if he was right. He took out two daggers from his pocket and aimed them at Tom's neck.

This was his secret weapon. He had forgotten how long it had been since he took out these two daggers.

Because all these years, his opponents were all like ants, and he could crush them with only his pair of fists.

Now Tom was the first opponent he had encountered in all these years whom he couldn't defeat with his own punches and kicks, and he had to pull out his trump card.

When Tom saw his action, he was not surprised at all. Instead, he smiled and said, "So this is your trump card. I'm sorry, but you're dead."

He could not see how Tom moved. Before the foreign leader's dagger could cut his neck, he kicked the foreign leader in the stomach. His strength was as strong as a 100-yard car. It hit the foreign leader heavily and knocked him out.

After flying for more than 20 meters, he fell to the ground.

Tom's kick directly destroyed the actionability of the foreign leader.

The foreign leader spat out a mouthful of blood, his face like gold paper, and his eyes revealed disbelief and fear. He had never expected that Tom's strength was so strong that he was completely fine in the face of his trump card and seriously injured himself with one kick.

"That's impossible, that's impossible!"

The foreign leader was furious. Soon, he saw Tom's teasing eyes. He realized that from the beginning, Tom did not take him seriously. He had been fighting with him for so long just now, only because he was just learning his methods!

Chapter 788

What a despicable H Country man!

The foreign leader could not help but complain.

But he didn't stop. Realizing that Tom would not let him go easily, he endured the pain and stood up, turned around, and ran.

Now, he was no longer a match for Tom. Even if he stayed, he would end up dead. If he didn't run now, he would have no chance.

"Wanna run? Impossible."

Tom sneered.

He immediately rushed in the direction of the foreign leader at a faster speed. This time, the foreign leader was actually so bold to assassinate him, a senior military officer, in the territory of H Country, which was a great offense. If he let the foreign leader go like this, then he, the Chief Instructor, should fire himself.

The foreign leader sensed Tom chased after him at a faster speed. He was so anxious that he wished he had two more legs to escape!

At the same time, his heart was filled with regret. If he had known that this damn man was so powerful, he would not have come to provoke him!

But it was too late to say anything now. He could imagine that once he was caught by Tom, he would end up in a terrible situation. After all, he committed a crime first.

In less than two seconds, Tom had already caught up with him, so close to him like his shadow. Sensing Tom's breath, the foreign leader's heart began to despair. He knew that he could not run away.

However, at this moment, he suddenly saw a woman appear in front of him. She was looking at him in astonishment. He was delighted and made a move.

For a moment, his speed suddenly increased. Almost instantly, he caught this woman and threw her heavily at the rockery on the side.

"Ah!!!"

The woman was immediately frightened and screamed.

She was not an ordinary person, and her cultivation had reached the Extrinsic Peak. However, the gap between her and the foreign leader was still huge. She had no ability to resist at all, and even her clothes were torn. Even if she had a good psychological quality and was fearless, she could not help but be frightened now.

Because she was flying too fast, once she hit the rockery, she would definitely be doomed. Even if she didn't die, she would be crippled.

At that moment, she felt the coming of death, and her whole body was terrified. It was as if the whole world had suddenly darkened and she was about to die the next moment.

When Tom saw this, he frowned deeply.

Because in such a hurry, he saw clearly what this woman looked like. It was Lexie, the spoiled princess from Capital City.

He didn't have time to think about why Lexie was here at this time.

At the critical moment, Tom made a choice. He gave up chasing the foreign leader and rushed towards Lexie. Just as her body was about to hit the rockery, he hugged Lexie and held her tightly in his arms.

However, because of the strong inertia, and he was now less than ten centimeters away from the rockery, his back hit the rockery heavily.

The rockery was knocked down, and he couldn't help but moan.

It was clear that he had been hurt in the back.

Even though he had reached the Major Perfection Realm, and his physique was already incomparably strong, he had not yet reached the God Becoming Level. He was still a mortal, so being hit heavily by the rockery and the sharp stones immediately made him injured.

He was so annoyed that he was about to catch up with the foreign leader and kill him, but suddenly Lexie appeared and ruined his plan, which really made him depressed!

And now the position between them was quite awkward. Lexie pressed against him, and their bodies were extremely close.

The most embarrassing thing for Tom was that Lexie's lips had hit his lips just now, which made his lips bleed.

Lexie's heart thumped, and she was stunned. For a moment, she couldn't come back to her senses. She was obviously frightened.

Tom was in pain. Seeing her look like a chump, he said helplessly, "Hey, princess, why are you still in a daze? Can you get off me first?"

"Yes? Well, sorry..." When Lexie heard Tom, she came back to her senses. She looked at Tom and agreed, but in her actions, she still did not move like an idiot, which made Tom furious.

He was still lying on the rockery, and his back was pinched by a few sharp stones. It didn't cause huge damage to him, but he was not supposed to suffer this.

He didn't get hurt in the fight with the foreign leader just now. Instead, he was injured because of Lexie. He was very depressed!

"What aren't you moving? I told you to get up quickly. You are too heavy!" Tom said in a rude manner. He suspected that Lexie was a curse to him. Every time he met Lexie, nothing good would happen. Damn it!

Lexie finally came back to her senses. She realized that her whole body was over Tom's body in an absolutely intimate position. She immediately blushed and breathed much faster.

Especially Tom was panting now, and the strong smell of male hormones sprayed on her face, causing her body temperature to rise, and she was burning.

She had never been so close to a man before.

It was more intimate than that at the banquet last time.

Therefore, she was a little confused and she wanted to get up quickly, but in a hurry, because her feet were scratched by some sharp rubble on the ground, the pain attacked her all of a sudden and she was too weak to support herself. With an ouch, she fell back on Tom.

Just as Tom was about to get up after her, he was pressed down by Lexie again and knocked on the rockery behind him. He gritted his teeth in pain.

He couldn't help but get angry and scold, "What are you doing?!"

Lexie realized that she was wrong, but

Tom's attitude made her very unhappy. She got angry again and snorted, "I didn't mean it. Why are you yelling at me?"

Tom's plan was ruined by her, so he had no good feelings for her. Now it was so painful that he lost his temper. "How dare you to scold me. If I hadn't saved you in time, you would have been doomed! You don't thank me for saving your life, but scold me. So that is the way you treat your savior."

Lexie was angry and abused him, "Bullshit! Did I ask you to save me? You're the one who meddled!"

"What's wrong with you?" Tom was so angry with her that he raised his head and slapped her on the butt. "Yes, I was the one who meddled. I should have watched you kill yourself! It was really bad luck for me to meet a woman like you. Now get out of here! Don't press me down!"

However, Lexie immediately widened her eyes and looked at Tom in disbelief as he slapped her on the butt. How dared this man to slap her butt!

Chapter 789

To her, this was simply unforgivable!

She was a rich lady, and her grandfather was Joseph. In ancient times, she was a royal relative, and Tom, no matter how powerful his martial arts were, could only be considered a martial artist at best. This was an unforgivable offense to her!

Tom felt the amazing elasticity after the slap. He was also stunned for a moment and realized that it was really inappropriate for him to do so.

After all, Lexie was the granddaughter of Joseph, and most importantly, he was already married. Wasn't he flirting her just now?

"You, you, you..."

In an instant, Lexie's face turned red, her eyes widened, and she stared at Tom shyly and angrily!

Tom had gone too far.

But strangely, she was only ashamed but not as angry as she had imagined.

Tom coughed twice at once. He also knew that it was not appropriate for him to do this. He could not flinch at this time. He glared at Lexie and said, "Cut the crap. Get up from me. My back is hurt."

Lexie glared at Tom fiercely. Originally, she wanted to scold him, but soon, she did see a few more drops of blood on the ground. Apparently, it fell from Tom's body. Her anger disappeared in half.

Although she was very unruly and arrogant, it didn't mean that she was ungrateful. If Tom hadn't saved her in time just now, she would have died.

So she silently got up from Tom and deliberately glared at him to hide her uneasiness and express her anger at him.

Tom heaved a sigh of relief and got up from the ground. He found his back was drenched in blood. He shook his head. He had never thought that he, a master in the Major Perfection Realm, would get hurt because of Lexie.

He wondered that if Lexie was the scourge in his previous life and had come to collect debts from him in this life!

Lexie finally saw that Tom's back was full of blood, and on the rockery and on the ground, there was also a lot of Tom's blood. It was conceivable that Tom must have been very painful just now.

At this moment, her last resentment and shame towards Tom had disappeared. Indeed, Tom was hurt because of saving her.

"Are... you okay?" Lexie said coolly, unwilling to admit that it was her own recklessness that caused Tom to suffer such a serious injury. She just kept his kindness in her heart.

Tom waved his hand and said unhappily, "I'm not going to die yet."

After that, he pointed a few acupuncture points on his body to stop his blood from flowing.

"Why are you here?" Tom looked at Lexie and said.

This time, Lexie appeared too suddenly, and the timing was so fishy, which made Tom feel very puzzled. If he didn't know Lexie's identity, he would inevitably doubt whether Lexie was with those foreigners.

Lexie snorted and said, "H Country is so big. I can go wherever I want. It's none of your business."

Well, it was no use asking. Tom really didn't want to talk to such an unruly princess. Since he couldn't afford to provoke her, he could avoid her, right?

So he turned around to leave.

When Lexie saw his action, she was stunned for a moment, then quickly stopped him. "Hey, where are you going?"

"Go home." Tom said without looking back.

It was quite dark, especially after the fight between Tom and the foreign leader just now. The street lights nearby were broken. One or two of them were still on, but the lights flickered, which was frightening. Lexie was immediately afraid. She said quickly, "Hey! Stop!"

She quickly took a few steps forward and chased after Tom.

Tom frowned, turned around helplessly, looked at her and said, "What do you want, princess?"

Lexie hated the look in Tom's eyes, as if she was some kind of scourge. At least she was a super beautiful and noble woman. Usually, many people would vie to play up to her. However, this guy was not interested in her at all and avoided her as if she was carrying some kind of virus. What a hateful guy!

Facing Tom's question, she was also embarrassed to say that she was scared and wanted to follow Tom. She rolled her eyes and snorted heavily, "You just took advantage of me and now you want to leave? No way!"

After saying this, she was immediately proud of her wit.

Tom's face immediately darkened. What was this Lexie going to do? She really didn't make any sense. He had saved her just now, and now she dared to retaliate.

"Make it clear how I took advantage of you. I was saving you just now." Tom frowned and said unhappily.

Lexie snorted and said, "It doesn't mean you can touch my butt. I'm a virgin. I've never been taken advantage of like this before. You have to give me an explanation!"

Tom waved his hand and cursed. He had no intention of taking advantage of Lexie just now. It was getting late and Phoebe was still waiting for him at home, so he turned around to leave.

Lexie had been feeling good about herself, but seeing Tom leaving, she panicked again and said, "Stop!"

But Tom just ignored her and continued walking.

Tom was getting further and further away, and there was a whistling wind around her, which sounded eerie and immediately gave her goosebumps. Although she pretended to be so bold and fearless, she was especially afraid of ghosts and gods and never dared to go to a dark place alone.

Now she was so anxious that she was about to cry. She was too proud to say that she was afraid, so she shouted loudly, "Tom, if you still dare to leave, I'll tell my grandfather that you molested me! You don't want to be responsible for taking advantage of me!"

When Tom heard this, his mouth twitched, and he was instantly furious. In an instant, he had a strong impulse to teach Lexie a lesson right away.

He had never seen such an unruly and unreasonable princess!

Chapter 790

However, he controlled himself because he knew that Lexie had a special identity and he could not do anything to Lexie if she had not made a huge mistake.

So he pretended that he didn't hear her and continued walking.

This time, Lexie was completely panicked. Especially when there was a dog barking sound not far away, which was frightening. Lexie was so scared that she shivered and couldn't even move her feet. Her feet were nailed to the ground.

"Tom! You bastard! If you continue walking, I'll really tell grandpa that you molested me... Hum..."

She actually cried while speaking. It seemed that she was scared and aggrieved. After hearing that, Tom immediately stopped and frowned.

He sighed heavily in his heart. He admitted defeat. He was truly unlucky to meet a woman like Lexie!

He was seriously doubting whether God had sent a Lexie to hone him or even torture him when he saw that his strength had improved too quickly and smoothly.

He looked back and saw Lexie's weeping but beautiful face, seeming she was really panicked and aggrieved. Tom couldn't leave anymore. If he really left Lexie here, he didn't know what crazy things she would do.

Although he had a clear conscience and he did not mean to provoke Lexie.

But in fact, he did touch Lexie's butt, and if it was really spread to Joseph, even if he didn't punish him, it would still be troublesome.

Rationally, he still had to appease Lexie.

So he walked over and said to Lexie, "Miss, what do you want?"

When Lexie saw Tom coming over, her originally panicked and aggrieved mood immediately alleviated. Tom's existence gave her a sense of security, and she quickly took a few steps forward and approached Tom.

Just then, she stepped on something soft, which startled her. She reflexively threw herself into Tom's arms and hugged Tom tightly, "There's a snake!"

Tom was speechless.

He was confused. Lexie, who had just been nagging him about being taken advantage of her, actually throw herself at him now. What was going on?

However, the first thing Tom felt was Lexie's soft and sticky body, which was so close to him that his male instinct came out at once, and his heart beat faster involuntarily!

Lexie's figure was really good. She was indeed a martial arts practitioner, and her upgrowth was especially good.

Ahem, he shouldn't think that.

Tom's face stiffened as he tried to push Lexie away, but Lexie held him tightly like an octopus, making him unable to push her away for a moment. The scene was very awkward.

"Hey, what are you doing? Let go of me! Who's taking advantage of who!"
Tom said loudly.

Lexie was still in a panic and said quickly, "Snake, there's a snake!"

Tom looked over and rolled his eyes. It was not a snake but just a hemp rope, "What's wrong with your eyes? It's not a snake. It's a hemp rope."

"You're lying to me. I clearly stepped on it just now!" Lexie's body was trembling slightly, and Tom was embarrassed. Tom felt it hard to resist his desire.

Fortunately, he controlled his body very well. Otherwise, it would be indecent to be found out by Lexie.

And if it was found out by Lexie, he would have no room to defend himself.

"Look back yourself if you don't believe me." Tom said helplessly. He was really speechless about Lexie.

When Lexie heard this, she slowly calmed down and dared to look back. Sure enough, what lay on the ground was not a snake, but just a long hemp rope.

She heaved a sigh of relief and breathed right on Tom's face. The fragrance made Tom's heart rippled involuntarily.

"All right, all right, let go of me quickly, lest you say I take advantage of you again!" Tom said resentfully with a straight face.

Lexie was holding Tom now, and she had calmed down and felt safe, but when she saw Tom like this, she was immediately unhappy. She snorted and said, "Hey, what's your expression? Do you dislike me?"

Tom sneered, "It seems that you know very little about yourself."

Damn it!

Lexie gritted her teeth angrily and became fearless and rebellious. Since Tom disliked her so much, she had to be closer to him!

Therefore, under her impulse, she made an impulsive action!

She was completely brainless, and she reflexively lifted her feet and kissed Tom on the mouth.

In fact, her speed was not fast. According to Tom's reaction, he could have avoided it completely.

But the worst thing was that Tom did not notice it at all. He was still in a half-daze, and he never thought that Lexie would be so unruly, so before he could react, he was kissed by Lexie...

For a moment, he was completely stunned and stupefied.

Even at this moment, Lexie also realized something was wrong. What was wrong with her? Why did she take the initiative to kiss Tom?

So their current posture was particularly strange. The two of them kissed on lips and widened their eyes. They looked at each other in shock and confusion.

After three seconds, Tom came back to his senses. He quickly pushed Lexie away and wiped his mouth as hard as he could, as if he had been kissed by a pig.

Lexie was very shy at first. After all, it was her first kiss. There were countless young talents in the circle who wanted to kiss her but didn't have a chance, but now her first kiss was given to others in such condition. If it were any other man, he would be so happy. How could he wipe his mouth and spit like Tom?

At that moment, the corner of her mouth twitched violently. This damn Tom must be a gay!

But she immediately remembered that he had a wife, and her mood immediately worsened.

There was an urge to cry.

"Damn Tom, why would kissing me hurt you so much?" Lexie said this almost through her teeth.

Tom looked at her with disgust, "Yes, I would rather be kissed by a pig."

"You!!" Lexie was even angrier.
