

Time Travel to Become Your Sweetheart Chapter 10

Chapter 10 Becoming A Mother

That night, Jane did not have nightmares. She slept well and woke up feeling refreshed. It turned out that it felt so good not to stay up late and work overtime to do the design.

The VIP ward of the top private hospital was comparable to the top suite of a high-class hotel. Jane could ask for anything she wanted.

However, Jane still hadn't seen female lead's mysterious husband, William, all morning, and the phone never rang.

Jane picked up her phone and dialed the number of herself in her previous life. A mechanized female voice came from the microphone, "Hello, the number you dialed is not in service...."

It turned out that her phone charge was not overdue. Actually, no one cared about her.

Jane felt surprised. Why did the female lead have no friend?

She checked the phone records and found that many calls were from unfamiliar numbers. She could not guess which of them was William's phone number.

In the phone, the only contact saved was his Grandpa, Colin.

Thinking of the plot in the book, Colin was the only one who cared about Jane. She thought that neither she nor the female lead should cherish his sincerity.

After a long time, he finally picked up the phone.

"Hey, Grandpa...."

Jane thought for a while and decided to call him in this way.

"Jane, how are you?"

On the phone, Colin seemed to be quite worried. When he heard the news of Jane being kidnapped yesterday, he was anxious and accidently fell from the second floor.

Colin didn't want his children and grandchildren to see him like this, so he didn't go to the hospital. He slept and didn't wake up until this call.

"When Dayton returns from kindergarten, I'll ask William to take him to the hospital to see you."

Colin talked to her with concern for a long time before hanging up the phone.

Jane was dumbfounded when she heard the beep on the phone.

In the book, the female lead married William at the age of twenty. This year, she was only twenty-six, which was the same age as her.

The difference was that she, Jane, had never been in love before, and was still single. After coming here, not only did she have a husband, she also became a mother. She didn't know how to face it!

The female lead was about to cheat on William. How could she face him?

"Madam, the dessert you want is specially airlifted from Paris to ensure the freshness of the ingredients to the greatest extent possible."

There was a knock on the door, and a servant from the Duncans came over to deliver dessert to Jane.

The female lead loved dessert so much and was extremely demanding on the ingredients. The cost of this dessert was over ten thousand.

No wonder she had such a fat belly.

She had looked in the mirror. The female lead was at least ninety percent similar to her. She was the kind of beautiful woman with bright eyes and white teeth. Her oval face was different from those plastic faces with heavy make-up. She was beautiful in a natural way.

However, after giving birth to the child, the female lead probably did not pay attention to her body. She had a fat belly and liked to wear a dress that easily exposed this shortcoming. No matter how beautiful a woman was, she would never look good in this way.

"Thank you, and I'll award you this dessert."

Jane nodded and swallowed her saliva. Although she had no resistance to expensive desserts, she immediately became rational when she thought of her fat belly.

There was obviously something fishy about her kidnapping. Only the Duncans could guarantee her safety. Before the truth was revealed, she could not leave William.

William didn't have any feelings for the female lead. Now with a fat body, she would be even more disgusting in his eyes. Jane rejected the dessert and told the servants not to prepare it in the future.
