

The Mans Decree Chapter 741

Chapter 741 Magic Spring Gone

Meanwhile, in Carlos' room, he was euphoric when he saw how the negative energy from Lyanna was constantly getting sucked into the vortex. Soon, I'll be the youngest Martial Arts Grandmaster in the martial arts world! Everyone's going to be so envious of me by then.

In exchange for a faster way to increase his ability, Carlos had to give up his manhood. However, it was deemed a worthy trade by him. In the martial arts world, only personal abilities matter! Women are irrelevant.

Right then, someone pushed his room door open.

Upon seeing that, Carlos hurriedly kept the vortex away with a wave of his hand before glaring at the intruder.

"Hey, b*stard! Don't you know how to knock?" Carlos roared.

"Mr. Xuereb, something happened to our magic spring! It has dried up!" the person said anxiously.

"What?" Carlos was stumped. "What happened? How could that be?"

The person shook his head and answered, "I haven't the slightest idea. I rushed over to check when I heard a loud explosion earlier on. When I got there, the water was already gone."

Carlos threw Lyanna a glance before shifting his gaze toward the person and said, "Bring me there. How could such a thing happen?"

The magic spring was a vital part of the Emphyrean Sect. Without it, the members of the Emphyrean Sect wouldn't have gotten so strong. In other words, the magic spring was the sole reason why the Emyrean Sect could overtake all the other clans in the southwest region.

Hence, Carlos was in utter shock when he heard the news. What do I tell Father when he comes back?

Powered by Hooligan Media

The moment Carlos left the room, someone sneaked in through the window.

It was Jared.

At that point, Lyanna was so weak she couldn't even utter a word. When she saw Jared appearing before her eyes, she was infuriated.

Upon seeing how weak Lyanna was, Jared instantly infused her with a shot of spiritual energy.

Lyanna recovered immediately. "Jared, You b*stard!"

She threw Jared a punch the second she regained her energy.

Jared backed away hastily and grumbled, "Hey! I just saved you! Why are you punching me? Is this how you repay me?"

"You b*stard! Where have you been? Where were you? Didn't you say I was going to be fine? I almost died!" Lyanna glared at Jared, livid.

"Well, aren't you all right now? I know Carlos had already lost his manhood, so he can't do anything bad to you. Now, let's get you out and seek revenge!" Jared smiled gleefully. He wasn't mad at all because he could understand Lyanna's anger.

Lyanna gritted her teeth and said, "You must kill him! I want to watch him die!"

"Sure, no problem." Jared nodded.

Behind the grand hall of Emyrean Sect, there used to be a stream of water flowing endlessly. However, everything had changed. The spring had completely dried up, and it was as if there had never been water there in the first place.

Carlos' expression turned grim at the sight. Gradually, he turned his gaze toward the source of the spring. He couldn't see anything but darkness inside.

He then picked up and threw a huge rock down the source to see if there was any water left at the bottom of it. To his dismay, all he heard was the sounds of the rock colliding with dry land.

"How did this happen? How did this happen?" Carlos thundered.

Right then, a Senior Grandmaster walked over and suggested, "Someone heard an explosion earlier, Mr. Xuereb. Could it be that someone blew a hole in the spring, causing the spring water to leak underground?"

"Who did it, then? Who?" Carlos glared at the members of the Emyrean Sect and fumed, "What have all of you been doing? You incompetent fools!"

What's going to happen to Emyrean Sect now that the magic spring is gone? Carlos was starting to panic.

The Mans Decree Chapter 742

Chapter 742 Teach You A Lesson

"It was me." At that moment, a calm voice sounded.

Everyone turned to look in the direction of the voice and saw Jared standing on a rock, staring back at them.

Lyanna was also there, standing right next to Jared. At that moment, she was glaring at Carlos with her wrathful eyes.

Standing behind Jared were the people from Mapleton whom he had rescued.

Carlos was baffled when he saw that someone had rescued Lyanna and the people from Mapleton. He looked at Jared and queried, "Who are you, kid? Why did you destroy the Emphyrean Sect's magic spring? Also, why did you rescue the people from Mapleton?"

"I'm a nobody. I just feel annoyed looking at you." Jared's lips curled into a smile.

Upon hearing that, Carlos was briefly stunned. I've seen him before. Poison King said this guy's a lunatic! He looked so miserable when he was dragged away. How dare a lunatic speak to me in such a disrespectful tone?

"You b*stard! How dare you speak to Mr. Xuereb so rudely?"

"This is Emphyrean Sect! Show Mr. Xuereb respect!"

"You must have a death wish, don't you? You deserve to die for the way you talked to Mr. Xuereb!"

One by one, the members of the Emphyrean Sect drew their weapons, defending Carlos and flattering him at the same time.

Powered by Hooligan Media

Jared couldn't help but smile when he looked at those bootlickers. "Mr. Xuereb, you guys said? Do you guys know he's not even a man anymore? He's nothing but a eunuch now! If you don't believe me, just ask him to take off his pants and see for yourselves!"

The members of the Emphyrean Sect were taken aback upon hearing that because most of them didn't know Carlos had been practicing black magic.

Feeling utterly embarrassed when everyone in the Emphyrean Sect stared at him, Carlos bellowed, "You imbecile! Seems like you really want to die, huh?"

"You're the one who's going to die!" After saying that, Jared leaped and dashed toward Carlos to punch him.

Carlos was petrified when he felt the strong gust of wind produced by Jared. How could a lunatic have such a high level of martial energy?

He frantically dodged and backed away in a rather pathetic-looking manner.

"Who the hell are you, kid? What's your relationship with the people from Mapleton?" Carlos questioned. When did such a young and powerful fighter pop up in Mapleton?

"I have nothing to do with Mapleton. You disgust me because you're neither a man nor a woman! I simply wanted to teach you a lesson," Jared spat with disdain.

Instead of attacking Jared right away, Carlos merely narrowed his eyes. He's too young and powerful to be just a commoner. He must be someone influential from some other clans. Since the Emyrean Sect is still growing, this is not the time to make enemies.

"Are you here for Lyanna, then?" He threw Lyanna a glance and continued, "I'm telling you, this girl is born with an aptitude to bewitch. Besides, she knows Seduction Technique. I'd advise you to not fall for her tricks!"

"Cut the crap! I'm willingly getting tricked by her! Are you not going to attack me? Are you just going to stand idly by after I told you I've destroyed the Emyrean Sect's magic spring? You're such a coward! If you're not going to attack me, then kneel before me! I might just let you live." Jared's patience had run out.

Carlos' expression turned grim, and he said, "You're trying to get yourself killed, kid."

With that, he dashed toward Jared and aimed a punch at the latter's chest.

At that instant, there was a faint red light flickering around his fist. It was obvious he was using black magic.

Jared grinned and stood steadily still. There's no way a Senior Grandmaster such as Carlos could ever hurt me.