

Chapter 1031

He was so arrogant that he didn't take Tom seriously at all.

Tom frowned again, but he didn't want to argue. He said patiently, "I said if you have arrived Country M?"

"Of course. Where else could I be?"
The other party said impatiently, which made Tom uncomfortable.

Tom continued, "Do you need my help? If not, I'll hang up."

Tom really didn't want to talk to such a person. If he had a good attitude, it would be fine. But it turned out he was rude and arrogant, Tom naturally did not bother to talk to him.

"Hey, you can't hang up." He sounded a little reproachful on the phone, then said, "By the way, do you have a car? Come to the airport to pick me up."

"I don't have a car," Tom said.

However, the other party directly scolded, "What the hell? Aren't you Phoebe's husband? Phoebe is so rich now, and she didn't buy you a car? I don't want to talk to you so much. I'm at the airport with two friends. Find a car and pick me up now. Okay, that's it."

After that, he hung up the phone.

Tom's expression immediately darkened. This so-called cousin really didn't take him seriously!

Did his mother-in-law not tell the cousin his identity?

If it was someone else, Tom wouldn't talk to him anymore and just blacked him out. However, this person was Phoebe's cousin anyway, and his mother-in-law also called to take care of him. He still had to be patient.

But he still called his mother-in-law and said, "Mom, is this cousin you're talking about really a top student? Why do I feel like he's a gangster?"

After saying this, Tom was also quite puzzled. He was now a Half-step God Becoming Level master. Any country leader would have to be polite to him, but this so-called cousin did not take him seriously.

His mother-in-law said, "Yes, of course, he is. He has a lot of connections in Country M. You went to Country M suddenly, and I'm worried about you. Well, he is a little grumpy. Maybe there's something urgent. If you're free now, get a car to pick him up."

Since his mother-in-law said so, Tom could not say anything more. He could only sigh and agree.

With his current status and methods, it was easy to find a car.

There were actually a few rich people among these people from H Country, but Tom didn't look for them. Instead, he got a Volkswagen Jetta and drove it to the airport. No matter what, he just needed to take this so-called cousin back.

The airport was a little far from H City, and Tom drove for almost an hour before arriving.

His cell phone rang several times on the way. It was the cousin who called to urge him.

Finally, when he arrived, he saw cousin Jax, a fancily dressed young man with slick hair. He looked like a trend-setter. He looked very roguish and didn't like a top student at all.

And with him were two tall and burly white-skin people, who looked as roguish as him.

After Tom parked the car, he walked over and greeted, "Cousin, I'm here."

When Jax heard it, he immediately looked over and saw Tom. He frowned and looked very angry. He scolded Tom, "I thought you died on the road. It's been an hour before you came here!"

He was too disrespectful. Tom's expression immediately darkened and he said, "Mind your language. It's not right for you to talk to me like this."

"Oh, are you putting on a show for me?" Jax said roguishly. "I heard from my relatives that you are the son-in-law of my aunt's family. Don't take yourself too seriously."

Tom narrowed his eyes. Everyone who knew him knew that he was a little angry.

Jax could not help but shudder at Tom's aura, and his face turned a lot paler.

"You have to apologize to me." Tom stared at him as if he could see through him. Jax had never experienced this feeling before, which thrilled him.

"I, I, I'm sorry.."

Jax was just an ordinary person. How could he stand Tom's aura? His mind went blank and he apologized without any resistance.

Tom stopped after he heard the apology. Only then did Jax come back to his senses, and sweat burst out on his forehead.

But he had no idea why he had reacted like that. He thought he had gone to too many nightclubs these days and his body became weak.

But immediately, he realized that he had apologized to Tom in a daze and stammered. It was so embarrassing!

He only felt a feeling of anger and embarrassment. He stared at Tom and felt more and more uncomfortable.

Over the years, he had mainly lived abroad, so he had no idea how famous Tom was in H Country. His impression of Tom remained in the past, thinking that Tom was the son-in-law of the Scotts, and was a useless man.

He had a deep contempt for a man to be a live-in son-in-law.

So he looked down on Tom from the bottom of his heart. When he knew that his aunt had arranged for Tom to pick him up and let him take care of Tom, he was very unhappy.

However, for the sake of his aunt, he had no choice but to agree and plan to dismiss Tom.

But this useless man, Tom, actually dared to scold him and make him apologize. And he actually apologized. This was a huge humiliation for him!

Then he got angry and pointed at Tom.
"You..."

He really wanted to beat Tom up, but at this moment, one of the white people beside him began to talk in an impatient tone. "Jax, I'm hungry. Hurry up and find a restaurant."

Another white man also said, "Jax, after dinner, I'll take you to our boss. Our boss is a big shot in Country M. As long as you can get his appreciation, then you'll have a promising future and you can make a good living here."

Hearing this, Jax was overjoyed.

Chapter 1032

Jax came to Country M again to see the boss.

He knew how powerful the boss was, even in Country M. If he could really the boss' his favor, then he would no longer have to live as miserable as before. He, the direct farmer, turned over to be the owner of the land, and then he could also do whatever he wanted in Country M. And he could have both money and women easily.

It took him a long time to make friends with the two white people. They were the capable subordinates staff of the boss, so he spared no efforts to please them.

He even took them back to H Country for play around, and now it finally worked, hahaha...

He was so happy that he didn't want to argue with Tom anymore. He quickly nodded and said, "Okay, okay! Thank you so much, buddies. Haha."

The two white men nodded, patted him on the shoulder, and said, "Okay, then take us to dinner. We're hungry."

"Ok! Let's have dinner right away!" Jax nodded quickly.

Then, he looked at Tom with his eyes rolled. It must cost a lot of money for taking them to have a dinner. Now that Tom was here, he would definitely not let this opportunity go.

So he said condescendingly to Tom, "Where's your car? Take us there."

Tom had realized quickly that Jax was obviously trying to curry favor with them, and that he wanted to see the boss. Thinking of it, him frowned again.

To be honest, he didn't like most people from Country M, especially the forces of Country M.

Because he knew that these so-called bosses would all bully and treat people from H Country badly.

Over the past few days, he had eliminated many such forces.

However, his own force was limited.

In addition, he spent little time in Country M, with most of the activity in H City. Therefore, there were still many forces that he could not reach.

At this time, he was only to find that Phoebe's cousin wanted to be the brother of the boss of Country M, which really made him angry!

He was only unhappy with his bad attitude before but was not angry. After all, Jax was his compatriot, with H Country's blood embedded in his bones.

However, if he was going to knuckle under to Country M, he would never agree.

So he narrowed his eyes, stared at Jax, and said, "What did you say just now?"

Are you going to see the boss?"

Jax didn't know Tom was angry with his behavior. He thought Tom was just envious and suddenly became even more complacent. "That's right! How's it going? You want to go with me too?"

Tom continued, "Is this boss you worship from Country M or H Country?"

Tom had to be clear about this point. If he was from H Country, it would be better. If it was from Country M, then he would never agree.

However, Jax looked at him as if he was looking at a fool. "What a bumpkin you are. You really know nothing. He is in Country M! Do you understand? Can people from H Country be the boss in Country M? Do you have a pig's brain? However, if I get the boss's appreciation, it's possible for me to become a boss. The first boss from H Country. Hahaha..."

After speaking, he put his hands on his hips proudly.

Tom narrowed his eyes and did not speak.

He could tell that Jax was a pushover with no national character in his bones.

"Many people from H Country are bullied by these so-called bosses in Country M. As a person from H Country, do you still want to succumb to these so-called bosses and bully your own countrymen with them?"

Tom's eyes were fixed on Jax.

Jax snorted and said disdainfully, "Those who are bullied aren't my relatives. What does their life have to do with me? Moreover, they're stupid and don't know how to act flexibly. Look at me. I'm living very well in Country M. After getting favor from that boss, I'll be successful and rich! Forget it. You won't understand me, why I talked so much to you."

Hearing this, Tom's heart was once again filled with anger.

If it weren't for his mother-in-law's sake, he would have slapped Jax to death right now!

"Those people are your countrymen, with their blood the same as yours. As a person from H Country, you have no national spirit at all." Tom said in a low voice.

"You're crazy." Jax said impatiently. "Talking to you is a waste of time. Hurry up and send us to dinner!"

The two white men also frowned unhappily, scolding Tom in English arrogantly, as if they would hit him if he didn't obey their order.

All of a sudden, Tom said, "Jax, the boss you're talking about has a lot of men and great force, doesn't he?"

Jax raised his head, looked very proud and worshipped, and nodded, "Of course! He is awesome. Country M photographed an autobiography based on his life! He's my idol. If I could be his staff, that would be the happiest thing!"

The two white men also said a few words, showing their extreme respect to that boss.

Hearing this, the corners of Tom's mouth moved slightly up, revealing a malicious sneer, and said playfully, "Really? It indeed sounds great, and I'm a little interested. Fortunately, I've met a lot of bosses recently. Perhaps, the boss you mentioned also knows me as well."

Jax laughed at Tom's words with disdain after hearing what Tom said, thinking that Tom was a fool and it was foolish to even say such words.

However, he was still a little proud of what Tom thought. He was a little proud of him and pat him on the shoulder, saying, "Brother-in-law, right? I know that as a son-in-law, you have been very unhappy in my aunt's, and usually suffered. But it doesn't matter. Here is Country M. When you get famous and return to H Country, you will be awesome as well. By then, no one will dare to look down on you. If you follow me, you won't be disappointed."

Jax looked very ambitious.

Tom smiled meaningfully, nodded, and said with a smile, "Okay."

Chapter 1033

Jax was very satisfied with Tom's sensible behavior and smiled.

But soon, when he walked out of the airport and saw that Tom was driving an old Jetta, his face immediately darkened. "Is this the boneshaker you drove to pick me up?"

Tom said, "Yes, is there a problem?"

Jax labeled Tom as a bumpkin and wanted to teach Tom a lesson, but he held back.

The two white men also looked very unhappy and felt that they had been neglected. They thought they were big shots. Especially in front of people of the H Country, they should be treated at the highest level.

If they went back to their boss in a Jetta, they would be laughed at.

However, they were indeed hungry. They glared at Tom and Jax fiercely and cursed. They didn't want to bother themselves arguing with the likes of Tom.

They made up their minds that when they were full, they must teach Tom a lesson to let him know that people from Country M were the noblest.

Next, according to Jax's instructions, Tom drove to a very high-end restaurant nearby and treated the two white people to dinner.

The meal was expensive, costing thousands of dollars.

During the meal, Jax flattered the two white people and idolized the boss they mentioned. It was as if as long as he followed that boss, he would be successful.

This made Tom a little interested.

Of course, he was interested only because it concerned Jax. Since he had promised his mother-in-law that he would take good care of Jax, he must be dedicated.

And most importantly, he could use this opportunity to change Jax's mind.

After eating and drinking, the two white men said they could go to see their boss, which made Jax especially excited.

However, after the two white men made a call, they told Jax that their boss was busy today and asked Jax to visit him tomorrow. This disappointed Jax a little, but he didn't show it.

After sending the two white men away respectfully, he complained to Tom, "It's all your fault. You brought me bad luck. I was going to see the boss today!"

Tom looked at him deeply and said, "Jax, do you admire people of Country M so much? H Country is not inferior to Country M, right?"

Jax immediately looked at him as if he was looking at a fool and said, "You are really a bumpkin. How can H Country compare with Country M? We are weak and poor... Forget it, I don't want to argue with you."

At this time, his phone rang. He took it out and looked at it. A smile appeared on his face. He answered the phone and said, "I'm in Country M. Where are you? Okay, I'll come to you now."

After hanging up the phone, he said, "Cut the crap. Since you're my cousin's husband and I'm in a good mood today, I'll take you to meet some friends. They're rich kids and are doing well in Country M."

Tom was not interested in Jax's friends, so he rejected Jax directly.

However, Jax ignored his rejection and pulled him away.

In the end, Tom had no choice but to go with Jax.

Fortunately, he had adjusted himself well and was in superb form. He was very confident in the next battle with Adam.

Half an hour later, Tom met Jax's so-called friends. They were basically a bunch of playboys.

There were also many young playgirls who dyed their hair colorful and smoked. Seeing Tom in sportswear and acting so formally, they found Tom very boring.

In their opinion, Tom was just a boring ordinary person who idled the days away.

However, when they heard that Jax was going to see the boss tomorrow, their eyes lit up and they looked at Jax with envy and admiration. A few good-looking playgirls even surrounded Jax and shook his arm, asking him to take them to see the boss tomorrow.

Being surrounded and becoming the focus of attention made Jax feel extremely excited and proud!

After drinking a few glasses of wine, he waved his hand and said boldly, "No problem. Come with me to see boss Scott tomorrow!"

When they heard Jax's words, they were all excited. A few little playgirls even kissed Jax. The scene was extremely chaotic, which made Tom shake his head.

However, he could tell that Jax's cronies were all from H Country. They were ill-bred and rebellious, so they drank and smoked. They just idled and did no decent work. They wanted to work for Scott. Their families were rich, but because they were from H Country, they were bullied in Country M, so they were very eager to get shelter and become stronger.

They all knew that Scott was strong and powerful, who was definitely the super boss of this generation. If they could really become Scott's subordinates, then they wouldn't be worried.

Even if they couldn't become Scott's subordinates, only meeting him once was something to boast about!

Tom did not say anything. After they went to meet the so-called Scott tomorrow, he was gonna do something to convince these playboys.

"Tom, listen, I only take you to see the boss for the sake of my aunt and cousin. You have to behave yourself and don't get me into trouble!"

The next day, Jax threatened Tom seriously as soon as they met.

This was a great opportunity for him. Whether his life would be better depended on this meeting. He had to ride on Scott's coattails no matter what!

He was afraid that Tom would get him into trouble.

Tom nodded and said meaningfully, "Don't worry, I won't make any trouble for you."

Jax warned again and again. Seeing Tom's good attitude and honest manner, he slowly relaxed.

However, after thinking about it carefully, he felt that it was unnecessary to worry. Tom was a useless matrilocal man. Tom couldn't even raise his head when he was bullied by his family. When Tom was in front of the boss, he would be scared to death. He felt Tom might not dare to say anything then.

Chapter 1034

After thinking through it, he was completely relaxed and he did not worry too much.

Because Jax had drunk with a group of friends yesterday, he had promised to take them to see boss Scott. So early in the morning, all the playboys arrived, and they were especially excited and nervous.

Jax woke up last night and felt guilty. After all, when he bribed the two white men, they agreed that he would only take Tom to see boss Scott.

But as a result, there were so many people would come with him. He was afraid that Scott would be angry.

However, he had boasted that he could do it, and it was not easy for him to go back on his words, so he made a phone call. Soon, he got the affirmation, saying that there was no problem and as long as they were his friends, they could go to see the boss.

After hearing this, Jax was especially excited and proud!

This meant that Scott had taken him seriously. As long as they were his friends, they were allowed to go there.

That was great!

His eyes flashed with excitement, as if he had already seen himself become a right-hand man of boss Scott, with an imposing manner.

When everything was ready, he led a dozen people to go to boss Scott's place.

The place where they met was a large clubhouse with all kinds of leisure and entertainment. The decoration was also resplendent. It was obvious that it cost a lot of money.

"You're here. Go in. The boss is waiting for you."

The white man he saw yesterday greeted them at the door with a playful smile on his face. He saw seven or eight playgirls following behind Jax. They were all pretty, and his expression became even weirder.

Unfortunately, Jax and others were too excited to notice his gaze.

Tom could tell immediately that something bad would happen today, and Scott definitely plotted against them.

He remained silent and pretended not to see it. He followed Jax in.

This clubhouse was very big, with many entertainment projects, a large part of which was related to sex, and this was not a legitimate place.

Tom also found that many of the staff here were oriental, and most of them were from H Country. Their eyes were numb, more like a tool, without a soul.

What made Tom most angry was that he saw fear and dread in the eye of people of H Country.

Tom was not stupid. He immediately realized that these people must have been treated unfairly here!

Moreover, when these people from H Country saw them come in, some sympathy and pain flashed in their eyes, as if they were watching them go into a fire pit.

Two of the older men opened their mouths, obviously wanting to say something, but when the words were on the tips of their tongues, they did not dare to say anything and lowered their heads.

Tom sighed. They were all poor people. But there must be something detestable about these poor people. As people from H Country, they did not live in their motherland but chose to come here through mountains and rivers and were bullied by foreign races. To some extent, they asked for it.

However, no matter what, Tom still couldn't hate them. These were his countrymen.

Soon, Tom sneered. He could not interfere all the injustice in the world, nor could he save all his countrymen in danger.

However, he met them now, so he would not stand by and do nothing. He would try his best to use his ability, his reputation to sow the seeds of self-esteem and self-improvement.

Soon, with his thoughts, he followed Jax and others into a huge poolroom.

He stopped thinking and looked around. In less than a second, he gathered all the information here.

It was a large poolroom. Many people played billiards here. They were all tall from Country M. There were hundreds of them.

After they came in, these people from Country M all looked at them, and then continued to do their own things as if nothing had happened.

These people seemed violent, and it was obvious that they frequently had fights with others, and they were brutal and cruel.

Many of them had guns with them, and some even put them on the table, which was very arrogant.

But it was normal. There was no gun ban here.

When Jax and others saw the this, they immediately became nervous and their breathing became rapid.

Especially those playboys, who walked lightly and did not dare to make too much noise. It was like a sheep entering a tiger's mouth.

They were not afraid that much, but more excited and worshipped.

What really caught Tom's attention was a man in the middle, dressed meticulously in a purple suit, shiny leather shoes, and a tie.

This man was filled with a dangerous aura, which made people shudder at a glance.

Especially his eyes, which were like poisonous snakes, making people tremble at one sight, as if they were facing a demon.

Of course, this was only for ordinary people, and for Tom, he was a nobody.

Tom was a genius who could fight with the Strong in the God Becoming Level. He was extremely talented. Of course he wouldn't be afraid of just a boss of the underworld.

To Tom's surprise, the boss actually had the strength of the third stage of the Innate Realm, which was not bad.

Originally, he thought that there were no martial arts masters in Country M, but now it seemed that there were still some. Just a boss of the underworld actually had the strength of the third stage of the Innate Realm.

Jax and others saw Scott. Although they were very nervous, they were very excited. Their faces turned red and their eyes shone. They were looking at their idols!

Bang.

Boss Scott kicked off the ball and cleared the table with a single stroke, which showed his strong strength and caused a lot of applause from his subordinates.

Jax and the others clapped even harder. Their palms were swollen, but they didn't feel any pain at all. They did this just to impress Scott.

The white man walked up to Scott and said, "Boss, these people from H Country are here. They say they admire you and want to follow you."

Scott put away the cue stick and looked at Jax and others. He did not speak immediately, but looked at them carefully first. His eyes were extremely sharp, like a sharp sword, which could pierce through their hearts and see their secrets clearly.

Jax and others were looked by him. Their legs were shaking, and they were especially nervous. Cold sweat broke out on their foreheads.

However, they did not dare to lower their heads and could only bear the pressure.

When Scott looked at Tom's face, he frowned.

Chapter 1035

He felt that he had seen Tom somewhere before. He looked familiar.

But no matter how Scott gazed at Tom, he couldn't recognize him. Soon he shook his head and didn't take Tom seriously. He thought that Tom was ordinary.

In fact, he had seen Tom before. After all, Tom had been famous in Country M recently. He was the most popular one in Country M.

However, Tom looked too ordinary. He was overbearing on TV, but now he was completely different. Moreover, Scott had difficulty in recognizing the easterners. Tom was so ordinary that Scott couldn't recognize him at all.

He glanced at Tom and stopped looking at him. He regarded Tom as an ordinary man of H Country.

He looked at the people of H Country and turned up the corner of his mouth. He wore a meaningful smile.

"You want to follow me?"

Scott quickly looked at Jax again.

Suddenly, Jax became nervous and excited. He stammered, "Yes...Yes, Mr. Scott. My name is Jax, and I'm your super fan! I want to follow you. I hope you can take me in!"

Jax was extremely surprised and excited. The playboys behind him also looked at Scott excitedly and admiringly, as if he was a superstar.

Scott smiled more slyly with their reaction.

Instead of answering him immediately, he began to play pool again, leaving them to the side.

He was indifferent. They were embarrassed, but they were more nervous. Why did Scott become so cold? They couldn't figure out if they made Scott angry.

Scott ignored them and they didn't dare to speak first. They could only stand awkwardly and nervously by the side and watch Scott and his subordinates play pool.

Scott was charming. He was good-looking and well-proportioned. As a master of the third stage of the Innate Realm, he was eye-attracting.

Tom stood there without saying anything. He looked at Scott with interest.

Finally, Scott noticed his gaze and looked at him. However, Tom did not dodge but looked at him boldly. It made Scott uncomfortable and he frowned again.

Soon, a subordinate next to him pointed at Tom and scolded him rudely, "Brat, who are you looking at?"

Tom said faintly, "Of course him."

Tom was so calm. Scott was displeased, but he was also curious. He was a master of the third stage of the Innate Realm. Few people in Country M could surpass him.

He was also well-known in the underworld. Few ones could be his match.

With his status, ordinary people would be overwhelmed when facing him.

It was not normal that he was not afraid of him at all and looked at him boldly.

The subordinate was even angrier. He clenched his fists and made a crack. He was about to teach Tom a lesson.

When Jax saw it, he was immediately dumbfounded. He couldn't figure out why Tom had the guts to stare at Scott so boldly. Wasn't he afraid of death?

He would never think that Tom was much stronger than Scott. In his opinion, Tom must be a fool. He had no idea how awesome and terrifying Scott was so that he did it.

When he saw that Scott's subordinate was going to hit Tom, he didn't think too much and came with a fawning smile. He said, "Mr. Scott, it's a misunderstanding! He's my brother-in-law and my driver. He is not normal. He is neuropathy. Don't respond to him!"

Jax bowed to Scott and his subordinate to plead for Tom.

Tom felt a little strange for Jax's action.

He didn't expect him to plead for him. It seemed that Jax was not so bad and was brave.

Scott took a deep look at Tom and found that he was not afraid at all. He was cool. His eyes were like a clear pool or an ancient well without waves. He shook his head and regarded Tom as neuropathy. Otherwise, normal people would definitely be afraid of his oppression.

Since Tom was a lunatic, he would not take him seriously. He waved his hand to stop his subordinate.

The subordinate glared at Tom and retreated.

Scott played pool for another hour. Jax and the playboys waited for another hour. Scott stopped and lit a cigar. He waved to Jax and said, "What's your name?"

Jax walked over with his waist bowed respectfully and said flatteringly, "Mr. Scott, my name is Jax."

Scott stared at Jax and said, "Are you from H Country?"

"Yes, I from H Country." Jax nodded.

Scott continued to say, "Do you know that I never take people of H Country as my subordinates?"

"Well..." Jax was stunned for a moment. He felt disappointed. Looking around, he didn't see the people of H Country. His subordinates were all white and black.

Jax tried hard to smile, "But I want to follow you. Although I am from H Country, I want to stay in Country M. Please take me in! You won't be disappointed!"

Jax was serious. It seemed that he was willing to die for Scott.

Scott's smile was even more sly. He looked at Jax and said, "It's no use just saying it. I never accept the people of H Country. If you want me to break my rule, show me how sincere you are."

When Jax heard it, he knew that he had a chance. He immediately patted his chest and said, "As long as you can take me in, I am willing to do everything for you!"

"Really? Kneel down and lick the soles of my shoes, and I'll take you in."

Chapter 1036

Scott smiled playfully, his expression extremely teasing. He looked at Jax as if he was a clown.

Jax was dumbfounded when he heard this.

What was going on? Scott wanted him to kneel and lick the soles of his shoes?

Why did it sound like Scott was humiliating him?

For a moment, he froze and didn't know what to do.

Scott saw that Jax did not move, and he quickly narrowed his eyes, revealing a cold light. A strong momentum emanated from him, and his eyes were fixed on Jax, "What, aren't you willing to?!"

Jax saw his eyes and shivered violently. He could only feel the numbness and goosebumps all over his body. "No, no, no, I didn't mean that, just..."

He stammered and panicked so much that cold sweat broke out on his forehead.

The playboys behind him frowned when they heard that they were going to kneel and lick the soles of his shoes, which was different from what they thought.

Scott continued, "I don't have much patience. I'll count to three. If you don't kneel, humph!"

He didn't finish his sentence, but his eyes were especially cold, revealing a huge dignity and oppression, and even murderous intent, pressing on Jax's body, making him dumbfounded and extremely frightened!

In particular, hundreds of Scott's men in the poolroom moved forward at the same time, tightly surrounding Jax. Their eyes made him tremble constantly, his legs swinging, and a layer of cold sweat appeared on his forehead.

Jax had never seen such a scene. Looking at Scott's eyes, he had a strong premonition. If he didn't kneel, then Scott would definitely not let him go!

Especially there were so many thugs here, it was not impossible for them to sink him into the sea and feed him to the sharks.

For a moment, his heart was filled with fear and regret. Under such a huge pressure, he couldn't care less about his dignity. As long as he could live, his dignity was not important.

So he knelt down and licked the soles of Scott's shoes subconsciously.

However, just as he was about to kneel down, a hand suddenly appeared behind him and grabbed his shoulder tightly, accompanied by a cold voice, "If you dare to kneel, I will break your legs."

Hearing this voice, Jax shivered even more fiercely. His legs, which were about to kneel, jerked and stood up straight.

He didn't dare to kneel anymore.

At that moment, this voice threatened him more than Scott.

Subconsciously, he looked back and saw Tom's calm face. It looked like an ancient well, which was hard to see through.

He was stunned for a moment, then came to his senses and scolded angrily, "Tom, why the hell are you holding me back? Let go of me!"

As he spoke, he was about to push Tom away and kneel down for Scott.

Anyway, he wanted to be the subordinate of Scott, so there was nothing wrong with kneeling.

When Tom saw him like this, a cold light flashed in his eyes and a strong sense of disappointment. He said, "Jax, you are a man of the H Country, and your bloodline is of H Country. Don't you feel ashamed to kneel down and lick the soles of shoes for a man from Country M?"

Jax was stunned for a moment, as if he did not expect that such words would be said by a trash like Tom. When he came to his senses, he cursed, "Psycho, who do you think you are? Forget it about bloodline of the H Country. Get real! Let go of me."

Tom let go of him, but his eyes were fixed on Jax as if he was able to pierce his pupils and pierce his soul. Tom said, "If you dare to kneel, I will break your legs."

"You..." Jax wanted to scold Tom, but he could tell that Tom was not joking.

And for some reason, Tom's eyes looked terrible. Jax had no doubt that if he really dared to kneel, then Tom would definitely break his legs!

However, they were in Scott's territory now, if he didn't kneel, Scott would definitely not let him go. For a moment, he was in a panic, in a dilemma, and was about to cry. He pleaded to Tom in a low voice, "Dude, I beg you. Haven't you seen the situation yet? This is boss Scott's territory. If we don't kneel, we will be killed! Aren't you afraid of death?"

Tom said indifferently, "What the hell is Scott?"

When Jax heard this, he was not happy, nor relaxed, but more desperate. He thought Tom was a lunatic.

Although they were speaking mandarin, and Scott and the others couldn't understand it, they could figure out what was going on. It was obvious that Tom didn't let Jax kneel. Scott's eyes immediately narrowed, very cold, like a poisonous snake, which looked very scary and frightening.

"You have guts. No one dares to disobey me in my life. You are the first one." Scott said with a smile and even clapped his hands. He looked as if he was praising Jax, but there was no joy on his face. It was a typical half-smile that made people especially scared.

Jax was even more frightened. He quickly explained, "Boss, it's none of my business. This guy won't let me kneel. He said that as long as I kneel, he will break my legs... Boss Scott, I really admire you and want to be your man!"

As he spoke, Jax cried and was very depressed. In his plan, he could have joined Scott's organization very smoothly, and the glory could have allowed him to do whatever in his circle.

But in the end, Scott was so cold to him that he didn't care about him at all and even asked him to kneel down and lick the soles of his shoes.

Moreover, This guy, Tom, actually ran out against him, making him in a dilemma.

He couldn't explain why he was afraid of Tom. He always felt that Tom's eyes were terrible, like a cat staring at a mouse.

When Scott heard what Jax said, he immediately looked at Tom.

This time, his eyes were very cold, like a poisonous snake, staring at Tom.

"You seem to be proud. I like people of H Country with backbone the most."

He smiled fiercely, then snapped his fingers, gave his subordinates a look, and said grimly, "I want to see how strong you are."

His men took the order, smiled grimly, and walked towards Tom, obviously trying to teach Tom a lesson.

Chapter 1037

Seeing this scene, Jax was both nervous and anxious, but he could do nothing.

Scott was the boss of this place. There were hundreds of strong fighters. Even if Jax wanted to save Tom, it was impossible.

Now Jax was especially regretful. If he had known that Tom was a troublemaker, he would have brought Tom here!

Now he was not only regretful, but also full of resentment towards Tom and his aunt Elizabeth. If she hadn't asked him to take care of Tom, nothing would happen.

Faced with such a big trouble, Jax was in a dilemma, as if he was being roasted on the fire!

Beside Jax, the playboys who came with him were all very nervous and scared. Although they bragged yesterday that they were very powerful, they were actually timid when in trouble.

Facing these subordinates, Tom did not take them seriously. Scott and they were insignificant. How could Tom be afraid of the weak?

When the two men walked up to him and smirked at him, he looked calm. It seemed that he was shooting at two mosquitoes casually. The two tall men were immediately slapped to the ground by him and fainted.

Tom's attack was so fast that it seemed to others that the two tall men were as fragile as paper.

Originally, Jax was ready to see that Tom was going to be defeated. But when he saw this scene, he widened his eyes and thought it was incredible. What happened? When did Tom, who was regarded as trash by Jax, have such strong force?

Tom's move shocked everyone. It was not expected that he would easily knock out two strong men. It seemed that it was a piece of cake for him.

Even Scott was stunned for a moment and then he came to know what had happened. He narrowed his eyes and looked at Tom with interest, and said, "It seems that I misjudged you. You're still a superpower, tsk tsk."

He sneered and became extremely grim.

After what happened, the atmosphere suddenly changed.

Most of Scott's subordinates were still playing billiards, but after Tom made his move, they immediately surrounded and looked at Tom, Jax, and many other playboys.

They were especially frightening, ruthless and aggressive, which made Jax and others tremble with fear and almost cry.

Jax pointed at Tom angrily and scolded, "Are you crazy!?! You trash, how dare you hit someone? You... I'm so fucking implicated by you!"

Jax was extremely scared and bore resentment toward Tom, as if Tom was his enemy.

Beside Jax, those playboys scolded Tom one by one. They also begged for mercy from Scott and said that they didn't know Tom.

Noticing their action, Tom was once again disappointed, but he was not surprised because he had also expected this outcome. He never expected that these playboys would have much courage. If they had such a virtue, they would not have been idle all day and waited to die.

To put it bluntly, such a playboy still had to learn a lesson.

Scott clapped. "Okay, great!"

He stared at Jax and said with a cold smile, "You are Jax. You are very bold. You are the boldest man of H Country I have ever seen. How dare you come to my place and make trouble? It seems that you are very confident in yourself! Therefore, I have to greet you properly!"

When Jax heard these words, he was so scared that his body collapsed. He sat down and cried for mercy, "Boss!

Scott! It's none of my business. I didn't know he was such a lunatic. It has nothing to do with me..."

Tom frowned when noticing that Jax was pleading for mercy.

Other playboys also knelt down angrily and begged for mercy. They distanced themselves from Tom and said that they had nothing to do with the man.

Scott sneered at this scene. He coldly smiled and had contempt for these people of H Country.

He stood up, walked up to Jax and said, "Trash. Trash like you, you want to hang out with me? Bah!"

After he finished speaking, he spat on Jax's face.

But Jax did not dare to have any anger or hatred at all. He now hated Tom more. He thought that Scott treated him in this way was purely due to Tom. Tom had implicated him!

Then, Scott made another snap of his fingers. Immediately, more than ten burly thugs came out of the crowd. They were all holding weapons, guns, and sticks in their hands, staring at Tom with a cruel smile. As long as Scott gave the order, they would pounce directly at Tom.

They would tear Tom into pieces.

"There has never been a man of H Country who dared to be arrogant in front of me. No one can, now and even in the future!"

Scott coldly stared at Tom teasingly.

It was as if Tom was a prey that was about to die under his knife.

Tom was not in a hurry and said calmly, "It seems that you are very hostile to the people of H Country. Do you think they are not a threat to you?"

Scott immediately smiled disdainfully. "A threat to me? Just you?"

"Yes, just me." Tom smiled faintly.

Scott seemed to have lost his patience with him. He snapped his fingers and immediately, the men attacked Tom. Because they were armed, the threat they posed was far greater than the two thugs just now.

Jax clenched his fists and felt that Tom was doomed to die this time.

Jax wasn't as nervous as he was just now. He was more relieved because he thought that Tom, the troublemaker, would better die.

However, what happened next shocked him.

Chapter 1038

Tom was still standing there relaxedly. Then without too much movement, he took action casually against the thugs coming from all directions, and cleaned up them all!

Moreover, although he looked very relaxed, he was merciless and extremely ferocious. Every man who fell into his hands screamed like a pig being killed, and several bones were broken.

In particular, two men were directly slapped on the forehead by him, and they bled to death on the spot!

It was too fierce. All his fists were punched on their flesh.

Jax and those playboys were stunned for a moment. They didn't expect Tom to be so strong!

Jax, in particular, was completely dumbfounded. He looked incredulous as if he was seeing a ghost.

He was confused now. Wasn't Tom a useless son-in-law of his aunt? Why did he become so powerful now? It was impossible!

He remembered very clearly that a few years ago, not long after Tom got married, he had met Tom once. At that time, Tom was a complete waste, unable to fight back or talk back.

But it had only been a few years, and Tom had become like this?

Now he seriously suspected that the man standing in front of him was not Tom but someone else!

Otherwise, no matter how big a person's change was, it wouldn't be so big, would it?

Just then, Tom looked at Jax. That kind of disappointment and shamelessness hurt him deeply, making him lower his head in a hurry and not dare to look at Tom.

Tom's fierce attack just now made everyone around him gasp.

They no longer looked down on Tom, but became afraid. Although they were thugs and had killed a lot of people, they had never seen such a ferocious man!

When Scott saw it, his pupils constricted. He was a master of the third stage of the Innate Realm. No one else could see it, but he could tell that the man from H Country in front of him was definitely not an ordinary person, but a master of the Innate Realm!

And the most terrifying thing was that he didn't realize it at first, and he thought that Tom was just a man from H Country who was trying to get himself killed.

Now, when he faced Tom again, he no longer looked down on him and was a little afraid.

However, he was more furious and murderous towards Tom. If Tom was just an ordinary man from H Country, he would only cripple Tom and wouldn't kill him.

But now, he didn't think so. Tom had to die!

The smile on Scott's face was even colder, and he even twisted his neck. He looked like a psychopathic killer, which made people shudder at a glance.

Seeing Scott like this, not to mention Jax and these playboys, even Scott's underlings could not help but feel their hearts quicken because of fear. Because they all knew that when Scott showed this expression, it meant that he was really angry and had a strong murderous intent. When Scott acted like this, he was extremely dangerous and terrifying!

They had seen with their own eyes that Scott had torn an opponent to pieces alive, and that Scott had tortured his opponent so cruelly.

Now, they seemed to have seen Tom die in Scott's hands, and it was extremely miserable!

Jax's body trembled so much that he knelt on the ground and didn't even dare to raise his head. He was completely scared out of his wits.

Scott was not in a hurry to find trouble with Tom. Instead, he grabbed Jax up with one hand. He stared at Jax with his red, murderous eyes. "You bastard, how dare you scheme against me? Don't you know that I hate you people from H Country the most in my life? Originally, I just wanted to grab you and tease you. But now, I changed my mind. Tsk tsk, I'm going to break your head, extract your brain, and make your skull into a urinal, ha ha ha..."

He smiled, but his voice was extremely unpleasant. It was as if he was scratching a blackboard with a ruler. It was an extremely sharp and high frequency voice, which made people scared, numb, and uncomfortable!

Jax was timid and scared. Now that he heard Scott's words, he couldn't bear it. He was so scared that he wet his pants and begged for mercy with tears and snot. "Boss, it's none of my business. Please don't kill me. I don't want to die. Please, boohoo..."

He was in such a state that he was extremely embarrassed and wretched. Seeing him like this, Scott became extremely rampant and relieved. "In the past few days, there has been a very hot topic in our country. A man from H Country came to my our country and killed all over the country. He was extremely arrogant and even threatened to save all the people from H Country in Country M!! He killed many people of our country. How arrogant and hateful he is!!! Tsk-tsk, I thought you people from H Country were all so powerful. Now it seems that you still have cowards in H

Country!"

Jax's face was pale and he kept talking.

"It's none of my business. It's none of my business!"

Other playboys also knelt down and kowtowed seeing this.

Tom shook his head.

Scott let go of Jax and Jax fell to the ground like a ball of soft mud. Then Scott said ferociously, "Today, none of you can leave! How dare you act wildly in my place?!"

He was crazy and frightening.

Tom scolded Jax, "Jax, why are you crying? Stand up. As a man from H Country, you should have the backbone!"

This sentence directly irritated Jax. He pointed at Tom and cursed, "Fuck you! You almost get me killed! Why don't you die? I don't want to die. I don't want to die yet..."

Tom looked at him deeply. "You won't die today. With me here, no one can take your life away. But your behavior makes me feel shameless."

Scott wrung his neck and made a clicking sound. As he walked towards Tom, he said, "I haven't fought with others for a long time. These days, that damn man from H Country is arrogant in our country! Sooner or later, masters of our country will kill him! But today, you have to die."

After saying that, Scott disappeared from its original position. The next moment, he appeared in front of Tom and punched Tom hard in the face. He wanted to torture Tom with no mercy.

Chapter 1039

The moment Scott struck, it was like thunder falling to the ground. The scene was terrifying. To everyone present, it was as if the sky was about to collapse.

Jax and the boys got frightened from the bottom of their hearts.

There was no thought of resistance at all.

Scott had absolute confidence in himself. Although he could tell that Tom was a master of Innate Realm and Tom's strength was not lower than his, he still did not take Tom seriously.

In fact, he was more excited, and his muscles tensed as he got ready to the fight.

At this time, he possessed the kind of pleasure of a cat playing a mouse.

For the past few days, that damned man from H Country had been so arrogant and murderous on the ground of Country M, which was a very unpleasant thing for him.

Since even a top player like Hannibal was not a match for Tom, he was far not a match for Tom.

Even so, it did not mean that he did not dare to attack Tom.

In fact, the more this happened, the more he hated the people from H Country!

When he learned from his subordinates that a few people from H Country wanted to follow him and made him their boss, he came up with an idea to make fun of these damn people from H Country.

Now, Tom's presence was not a threat to him, but an exciting accident.

The more powerful Tom was, the happier and more satisfied he felt when he defeated him.

He moved almost in the blink of an eye, and he was already in front of Tom. A punch of him could directly break Tom's head!

Of course, he didn't intend to kill Tom with one punch. He hadn't used his best move yet. As long as Tom took one step back, then what awaited him was the fierce attacks, an absolute crushing!

In Scott's mind, there was already a picture of Tom being beaten to death in a crushing manner.

However, when his fist was almost hit Tom, he did not see him dodge. Instead, he saw a disdainful smile on Tom's face.

The next moment, with a bang, his punch hit heavily on Tom's face.

He was stunned for a moment, because he did not expect that his punch would hit Tom, and he didn't use his big killing move.

Jax, who was kneeling on the ground, saw this scene. He closed his eyes and was extremely afraid. He knew that Tom would die here and thought, "This idiot dared to provoke Scott and act arrogantly here. He was doomed!"

However, there was no scene of Tom screaming and falling heavily on the ground.

Instead, Scott let out a painful groan and took a few steps back. He was in shock and disbelief.

Scott felt that he was not hitting a person, but on a piece of iron, and this piece of iron also had a huge rebound force! It made his fist numb and extremely painful.

However, Tom didn't get hurt at all, not even bleeding or swelling. This scene was too shocking and incredible.

"That, that is impossible!!!"

Scott screamed. He looked like he had seen a ghost. He couldn't believe everything that unfolded before her eyes.

That's right. Even though he didn't use all his strength, he used most of his strength. Not to mention a human face, even if it was really a piece of iron, it must be cracked!

However, Tom actually wasn't injured by that. Except for a slight swaying of his body, there was nothing else, as if he had just been bitten by a mosquito!

To be honest, Scott's mind was completely blank. He didn't understand why such a thing happened. "Even a God Becoming Level expert might not be able to block his punch with his face without any injury, right?"

Not only him, but also the men around them. They were also stunned. The teasing smiles on their faces immediately stiffened, and their eyes now widened. That expression was funny.

They also couldn't believe that Scott's terrifying power hit Tom on the face, and nothing happened to him!

"That was not true, wasn't it? We must be hallucinating."

At this moment, Tom smiled and said, "Is that all you have? It's not enough to tickle me."

Scott came back to his senses completely. He realized that Tom was tough to deal with. He was not an ordinary person, but a super invincible master!

Moreover, he was from H Country. With recent things, he could figure out the real identity of Tom!

It was obvious that he was the terrifying master who defeated Hannibal yesterday!

And he didn't recognize Tom and even attacked him...

"What, what should I do now?" Scott thought.

At this moment, all his confidence, arrogance, now turned into bubbles at this moment. His face had lost its color and was pale. Now, facing Tom's playful and cold eyes, he felt his scalp tingle, his body felt cold, and his legs were trembling!

"You, you, you, you are Tom, that man from H Country, that invincible man!!"

Scott's voice changed now, and it trembled and became sharp.

Tom smiled and said, "You just recognized me now. Looks like I am not famous enough in your country."

Hearing this, Scott felt his teasing and coldness. Now he felt nothing but the fear and regret!

Although he was so arrogant and mean to other people from H Country, he was still very scared when he met a powerful opponent.

Tom was a super expert that even Hannibal couldn't beat, and he even wanted to challenge Adam! Scott was just at the third stage of Innate Realm. Tom was not someone he could provoke!

Scott tried to squeeze out a smile and said, "I'm sorry, I'm sorry. I didn't recognize you just now. It's my fault. It's definitely my fault!"

As he spoke, he slapped himself in the face, panicking. His arrogance disappeared.

The others were all dumbfounded when they saw this. They could not imagine why Scott was so afraid of Tom. There were hundreds of his men, and they had guns.

For Jax and others, they were very stupefied...

Chapter 1040

Jax could not come back to his senses for a long time and could hardly accept it.

What's going on?

Scott, a powerful man, was so afraid of Tom? Ridiculous!

His body trembled, and he kept slapping himself to beg for Tom's forgiveness?

What the hell had happened?

He had just closed his eyes and did not see that Tom was unscathed after taking a punch from Scott. So he was confused and could not believe that everything just happened was true.

It was subversive and unbelievable. In his mind, Tom was the most useless son-in-law in his aunt's family.

Over the years, he could often hear about Tom even if he was studying abroad--Tom was a loser, he was nothing, he was already a joke and a disgrace to the whole family.

To be honest, if his aunt hadn't asked him to look for Tom and build a good relationship with him, he wouldn't talk to Tom at all. Talking to Tom would embarrass him.

As a result, Tom had changed into a big shot that even Scott was afraid of? Unbelievable!

But it was unreasonable. Scott treated

Tom badly just now. Why did he change his attitude in the blink of an eye?

He began to wonder if Scott had teamed up with Tom to tease him.

At this moment, Tom didn't care about Jax's thoughts at all. To him, if Mrs. Scott didn't tell him to take care of Jax, he wouldn't talk to Jax at all.

He did not deliberately hide his power, but it was not the right time.

He was now staring at Scott, and his momentum changed drastically. He was no longer the ordinary person just now, but a super expert, an existence that no one could ignore!

He just stood there, like a grand mountain, like a god, making people tremble and not dare to disrespect him.

Jax also found that Tom was different now, but it was still difficult for him to understand why Tom had become so strong. In his mind, if Scott hadn't joined Tom to lie to him, then he must have the illusion.

"You have the guts to bully my countrymen even though you know I'm here these days. Do you think I couldn't make trouble on you in H City?" Tom spoke faintly as if he were talking about something unimportant. But his tone was the devil's voice to Scott, making him even more afraid and nervous!

Because he could feel Tom's teasing and indifference towards him.

He watched the live broadcast of the fight between Tom and Hannibal. That was a fight between immortals. It was not an ant at his level could imagine!

Apart from anything else, his punch that hit Tom's face was nothing towards Tom. Instead, his fist was hurt and numbed. He knew that the gap between them was extremely big, and he had no intention of resisting at all. Because he knew that once he dared to resist, he would die with more pain!

He slumped to his knees in front of Tom without hesitation and pleaded for mercy, "Honorable Mr. Howard, I was blind. I did not recognize you and disrespected you. I feel extremely afraid and regretful! I beg for your mercy. Please forgive my ignorance."

He kept talking and even kowtowed when speaking with a sincere attitude. It was out of everyone's expectation.

For all the men present, their eyes were widened with anger. They could not imagine why their invincible boss had kneeled to a Chinese and was so frightened. This was completely unreasonable. They all seriously doubted that this Chinese had hypnotized their boss. Or, he had used witchcraft on their boss!

Otherwise, how could this happen?

Those playboys were also dumbfounded.

The corners of Tom's mouth curved even bigger. He said, "You are a weathercock. You kneel so directly. No wonder you can sit in today's position."

Scott did not dare to speak, only to keep kowtowing. He knew very well how horrible the God of Death was.

But those subordinates didn't understand. They thought that Scott was bewitched by Tom. They absolutely couldn't accept they would kneel and beg for mercy for a Chinese!

Besides, they had so many helpers and guns. They were afraid of nothing.

A man with a fiery personality stepped forward first and said, "Boss! You were bewitched by this damn Chinese! Boss, we will avenge your hurt and killed this damn Chinese!"

Then, he raised his arms and shouted to gather other men to kill Tom!

Scott immediately looked up and said, "You..."

He wanted to stop him, but immediately, he thought about something and then shut up.

He knew that Tom was a terrifying expert comparable to the person at the God Becoming Level, but he could not defeat many people at the same time. Even if Tom was invincible, he believed that Tom could not break through when facing the siege of hundreds of fighters at once!

Then, he could run away at that time.

He already knew that Tom would never let him go. And that was his best chance to escape.

It had to be said that he reacted quickly and could remain calm at this time. However, how could his actions escape from Tom's eyes? Tom captured his thoughts instantly.

"Come on, guys! Let's go together and kill this damn Chinese!"

All of a sudden, all the subordinates there began to fight Tom. They were taller than Tom, and others saw that Tom was suddenly besieged by them.

And Scotty took this opportunity to turn around and run away with all his strength.

However, a few minutes later, he heard Tom's disdainful voice. Tom said, "You want to run? Do you think you can escape?"

Hearing this voice, Scott's muscles tensed up suddenly. He got scared immediately and even held his breath.

Then, he heard a few loud bangs behind him. He looked back and immediately saw a scene that scared the living daylights of him!
