

The Three Little Guardian Angels by Ginger Bud Chapter 1141

Chapter 1141

Yorrick kept silent.

Nolan chuckled and said, "I have to say you're good at pretending. For the Persian Gulf project, why don't you-"
"You're so annoying." Yorrick interrupted as he turned around to look at Nolan. His face was drenched cold as he frowned annoyingly.

Nolan walked into the ward and sat down on a chair. "I didn't expect that the womanizer Mr. Hathaway would end up like this for a woman."

Yorrick leaned against the window. His heart was so cold that he couldn't feel the coldness seeping into him from the cold rain."
"Ridiculous, isn't it? I also find it ridiculous."

He said, "It's ridiculous that I would let a woman into my heart after only knowing her for three months, right? She isn't very pretty either. Although I have to admit that she has a nice body shape, she has a nasty personality. She may look smart on the surface, but she's just a naive and innocent girl deep down."
While playing with his watch, Nolan lifted his head to look at Yorrick but didn't say anything.

He set his gaze at the world outside the window, and his eyes were dull. "I care for her because she's as innocent as Sharon. Initially, I was just teasing her,"

He came to an abrupt stop before he could finish his sentence.

Yorrick took a deep breath and tapped on the windowsill in a regular tempo. Water droplets dripped from the corners of his eyes, but no one could tell whether they were raindrops or tears. Nolan slowly rose to his feet and asked.” The daughter of the Nixes is dead. Do you know about that?”

Yorrick was stunned. He lowered his head without saying anything, his expression calm and cold.

Meanwhile...

The Nixes had come to the St. Donnor Estate to confront the Hathaways. The man standing in the front of the group was Mandy’s father. His face was stern as he looked at Madam Hathaway, who was sipping on her tea. “What do you mean by this?”

Holding her teacup, Madam Hathaway smiled at him and replied, “I’m sure I’ve made myself pretty clear. Ms. Nix’s death has nothing to do with Yorrick. What’s more, what does what Ms. Nix has done or who she has offended have anything to do with the Hathaways?”

Mr. Nix smacked the table and snarled, “Yes, Mandy harmed Yorrick’s woman, but who knows whether Yorrick has or hasn’t taken revenge on Mandy for that woman!”

Madam Hathaway scoffed coldly. Although she was old, she was still as confident and calm as she used to be when she was young. “Mr. Nix, I’m sure you yourself know very well how many enemies your Nix family made when you started to work with the underworld.”

Master Nix set his jaw tightly and frowned.

Madam Hathaway slammed her teacup on the table and replied confidently, “If Yorrick wanted to avenge that woman, he would’ve done it himself a long time ago. Yorrick was injured because of this incident as well. If those people were his men, would they hurt their own master? What would they get for doing that?”

Mr. Nix clenched his fists tightly.

Madam Hathaway glared at Master Nix and said sternly, “Mr. Nix, if you want to be unreasonable, then the Hathaways won’t be reasonable to you either. The choice is yours, Mr. Nix. You can choose to end this in a peaceful way or a rough way.”

Mr. Nix harrumphed and went away with his men.

Holding Xyla’s luggage, Maisie came to a farm in the suburbs with a cab. The air was filled with the scent of mud after rain. There were many chained cows on the grassland, and the endless aspen trees and grass made this place look like a paradise.

At that moment, a middle-aged man in a denim jacket with a bearded cheek walked out of the warehouse with a cigarette in his mouth and grains in his hands.

Maisie approached him with the luggage and asked, “Hi, I’m sorry, but may I know if the girl you saved here?”

The bearded man put the grains down and took a drag from his cigarette. He turned his head around to study Maisie and asked expressionlessly. “You’re her friend?”

The Three Little Guardian Angels by Ginger Bud Chapter 1142

Chapter 1142

“Maisie.” Xyla was standing in front of the door. She was wearing a dress from the man’s daughter. Although it did not go very well with her body size, she still looked rather good in it.

Xyla came forward and said to the bearded man. “I’m sorry, Mr. Sullivan. She’s my friend.”

Sullivan nodded. Then, he went away to do his own stuff with his cigarette in between his lips.

Xyla pulled Maisie into the house.

Although the house was not as luxurious and spacious as those rooms in the mansion, it was clean. There was a young boy and an old woman in the house other than them.

“Hi,” Maisie greeted them, and the boy waved his hand back at her shyly.

However, the old woman did not give Maisie any response, as if she did not get what she said.

Xyla came forward and said, “She’s Mr.

Sullivan’s mother. She’s deaf.”

Maisie was stunned. Something crossed her head, and she turned around to look at her. “Yorrick thought you’re dead. Can you tell me what happened?”

Xyla was stumped for a moment before she lowered her head. “Do you know Ms. Nix? Yorrick’s fiancée? She abducted me and wanted to humiliate me. I thought I was going to die as well.”

She sat on the couch and ran her finger across the wound on her shoulder that had been treated. “Mr. Sullivan saved me.”

The Nixes had ties with the underworld, and Sullivan had worked for the mafia when he was young. The Nixes had killed his daughter when she was 18.

Mandy had been the main culprit.

Sullivan’s daughter had been studying in the same school as Mandy. Sullivan’s daughter had offended Mandy, so the latter arranged for her to receive Xyla’s treatment. She had found someone to violate Sullivan’s daughter, and an accident happened. Sullivan’s daughter ended up dead, so Mandy made it look like she had killed herself.

Sullivan could not believe that his daughter had killed herself, so he looked into the matter himself. In the end, all the evidence pointed to the Nixes, but the local police dared not to take any action. After all, the Nixes had a lot of influence in the area, and they were connected to the underworld, so the police didn't want to get themselves into trouble.

Since nobody wanted to help Sullivan, he had no other choice but to swallow his humiliation and become a bodyguard for the Nixes while looking for a chance to avenge his daughter. When Mandy abducted Xyla, Sullivan was there. Just as she had been under the impression she was a goner. Sullivan suddenly attacked Mandy.

Xyla rubbed her forehead and said, "I just remember Mr. Sullivan threw a jacket at me so that I could put it on. He asked me to get a cab and go to the address he gave me. I was scared and didn't want to return to the hotel, so I came here. Mr. Sullivan's mother took care of me. She treated my wound and gave her granddaughter's dress for me to put on."

Xyla still couldn't help but shudder when she thought about that scene.

Maisie grabbed her hand and asked, "Are you not going to tell Yorrick that you're still alive?" Xyla lifted her head to look at Maisie. She fell silent for a few seconds before averting her gaze. "It was his fiancée and mother that put me in my current situation. I won't have an easy life if I stay in Yaramoor.

Since he has already let me go, I... I should just leave."

"He's been hospitalized." Maisie looked at her, the corner of her lips curving up a little. "He was ambushed when he went to save you. He thought you're dead, and he's heartbroken."

Xyla was stunned. "He's heartbroken?"

Maisie nodded. "I heard that he's having some kind of mental issue. It seems like your death has hit him pretty hard."

She looked at Xyla, who kept her head low in silence, and added, "Maybe he really does care for you."

When Maisie returned downtown, Nolan was waiting for her in the hotel. After entering the room, the first thing that welcomed her gaze was his back. He was standing in front of the ceiling-to-floor window.

She went forward and hugged him from behind. "Honey." "Are you done with your affairs?" Nolan grabbed her wrist, turned around, and secured her in his arms. "You went to see Xyla, right?"

The Three Little Guardian Angels by Ginger Bud Chapter 1143

Chapter 1143

Maisie was stunned. She lifted her head and looked at him with a smile on her face. "How did you know?"

Nolan scratched the tip of her nose and said, "I knew it from the moment we found out that dead body was Mandy."

Maisie lowered her head but did not say anything.

She guessed Sullivan wanted to avenge his daughter, so he had treated Mandy the same way she had treated his daughter to get back at her.

“The Nixes won’t let it go, will they?” she asked.

Nolan chuckled. “There’s nothing they can do even if they don’t want to let it go. If one of their enemies killed Mandy, they wouldn’t dare to make any moves since they don’t know who their opponent is. Besides, do you think Yorrick will let them have their way?”

Maisie found a comfortable spot in his arms and played with the button on his shirt. “Then Yorrick should know that Xyla is still alive, right?”

Nolan carried her to the couch and kissed her with a gentle smile on his face. “That’s his business. It isn’t something we should worry about.”

Two days later...

Xyla came to the hospital, but there was no one in the ward. She asked the nurse, “Do you know where the man who stayed here a few days ago is?” “So. you’re the one Mr. Hathaway talked about.” The nurse smiled as if she knew something. “Mr. Hathaway was discharged from the hospital yesterday, and he told me to give you this letter if you came here to look for him.”

The nurse gave a letter to Xyla.

Xyla was stunned. She took over the letter, and the nurse left.

She walked to the bench and took her seat. She opened up the envelope, and the letter was filled with Yorrick’s handwriting.

“If you’re reading this letter, it means you’re here. If not, it means you’ve left Yaramoor. I’m sorry. I was the one who brought you here against your will, but I couldn’t protect you well. I was traumatized by Sharon’s death, and my heart died after her passing. I thought I would never fall in love with any woman anymore. You’re right. I was the one who approached you first. I should’ve put an end to all of this, but seeing how naive and innocent you are, I just... I just couldn’t help myself but go out of my way to get closer to you.

I’m sorry. I didn’t want to admit that you indeed have attracted me, so I could only keep on denying myself in an extreme way. However, when I thought the person who died was you, I have to confess that I have fallen for you. But the person who made you suffer all this harm is me, so I won’t stop you from leaving if you want.

Whether you read this letter or not, I hope you will have forgotten everything about me if you live a happy life. I don’t want to become an obstacle to your pursuit of a happy life. If you’re leading an unhappy life, don’t forget that someone is waiting for you in a distant foreign country.” When she saw the word “Yorrick” on the bottom left corner of the letter, a drop of tear blurred the word. Xyla lifted her head, and her eyes were red around the rims. She tried to hold back her tears but to no avail.

She covered her mouth with her hand and let out a laugh. Then, she broke down, and tears fell out of her eyes like broken beads, blurring the paper she had crumpled.

Soon, Xyla came out of the hospital and put on her sunglasses. She stood in front of the entrance for a while, calmed herself down, flagged a cab, and went away.

Nolan and Maisie were having a meal in the restaurant. She rested her chin on her hand, looked toward the outside through the window, and sighed. “Do you think Xyla will go to see Yorrick?”

Nolan chuckled. Gripping the foot of the glass, he shook it slightly and said, “Unless she has a thing for Yorrick too.”

Maisie picked up the knife and cut the steak. “You’re right. If Xyla doesn’t have a thing for Yorrick, she will probably not go to see him.”

Nolan took a sip of wine and lifted his brow. “Who knows.”

At that moment, Maisie received a text message on her phone. After reading the message, she sighed. “Just like we expected. Xyla has returned home.”

Chapter 1144

Nolan lowered his head and laughed, “Well, we should let them handle their own stuff.” One week after Xyla returned to Zlokovia, she received an invitation to a talk show. Everyone knew that the host of the show was a bold one to ask anything. She even asked about her scandal with Yorrick in front of the audience.

When the camera focused on Xyla, she fell silent for a few seconds before answering with a smile, “The scandal is real.”

The host was stunned, “Really?”

Xyla maintained the smile on her face.” Yes. It’s just that the relationship between Mr. Hathaway and me is rather complicated, so I decided not to tell anyone about it.

The host chuckled and continued. “You really are very honest, Xyla.”

Then, she followed up with a question. “So, can you tell us what kind of relationship you and Mr. Hathaway are in right now?”

Xyla played with her tassel earrings. She had put on light makeup and was wearing a frost green halter dress. She looked pretty and gave off an elegant aura.

“Right now?” She looked toward the camera and said, “If Mr. Hathaway is watching this program overseas at this moment, I have something to say to him.”

Both the cameraman and the host were stunned. The good thing was that the host came to her senses quickly and said, “So you have something to say to Mr.

Hathaway on our show today? Well then. Let’s hear what you have to say. I’m sure everyone is interested.”

Xyla lifted her brows and smiled. Then, her expression turned serious as she spoke.” Yorrick, we’ve never had a relationship because it never started. Therefore, my return to my country doesn't count as breaking up. Right now, all you have to do is wait for me. I won't give you a chance to regret it because I'm going to win your heart from today onward."

#Xyla announces that she's going after Mr. Hathaway on the show#

On the same day, the entire Internet was filled with topics about Xyla. Netizens gave her their approval, while some complimented her for her courage. Some netizens also expressed their admiration for their love, and most of them became her fans because of her bold and straightforward personality.

At Royal Crown

Mindy rushed into the office and asked, "Xy, are you serious!?" Xyla was sitting on the chair, flipping through a magazine. Without lifting her head, she said, "Deadly serious."

"You have only been traveling abroad for a short period." Mindy said incredulously after she took a seat beside her, "It's fine if you acknowledge the scandal between you and Yorrick, but how could you say that you are chasing him in front of the audience across the country? Are you not afraid he is going to reject you?"

Xyla put the magazine down and said, "Well, it's not going to be the first time I get rejected." She smiled and continued. "I also had said in front of everyone that I would get Louis back to my side, but what happened in the end?"

Mindy replied with a bitter smile. "You broke up."

Xyla chuckled. “So I have to start a new relationship.”

“Xy, have you ever thought about what if it doesn’t work?”

Mindy felt that Xyla had not been on a trip for a break but for brainwashing.

Xyla looked at her and replied matter-of-factly. “Trust me. It’ll work this time.” When Xyla returned home, her parents were sitting in front of the computer, looking at something. When they saw Xyla, they hastily averted their gazes.

She walked upstairs, and her mother called out to her. “Xyla.”

Xyla stopped in her tracks and looked at them. “Dad, Mom, I know what you want to say to me, but I have made up my mind. I won’t regret it.”

“I’m not going to talk you out of it. Besides, would you even listen to me?” Mrs. Mary Mayweather shook her head.

“Someone sent a message to you.”

When she heard what her mother had said, Xyla rushed down the staircase and stormed up to them. “How could you two read my messages again!?”

Mr. Mayweather smacked his lips and replied, “We were browsing through Facebook as we don’t want you to get... insulted by those netizens. Then, the message came in.”

Chapter 1145

Xyla picked up the laptop. She looked at the screen and a message popped into her vision.

[I'll be waiting for you)

One month later, Xyla was invited to attend an event by a high luxury brand in Yaramoor. She wore a custom-made dress by Somnus Star. It was a dress spotted with star rhinestones that would phase from light blue to dark blue. There was a silk scarf falling from her shoulders that swayed with her movements. She stood on the red carpet with a smile on her face and waved at the media reporters. After that, she walked with the staff to the autograph wall to put on her autograph.

Suddenly, a commotion broke out in the crowd. Xyla turned her head and saw Yorrick walking in her direction with the people from the brand maker.

The man with broad shoulders and narrow waist who walked in an upright position at the center was the one whom she had not seen for a whole month. Under the flashes, his features were carved to perfection, and the people beside him were pale in comparison to him.

It seemed like he had changed, but it also seemed like he hadn't changed at all.

When their gaze met, Xyla offered him a smile. She handed the pen over to the staff member beside her and walked past Yorrick. However, no one saw that Yorrick coiled his finger around hers.

His movement was swift and light, but it caused Xyla's heart to skip a beat Xyla continued to walk forward, but a smile was tugging on her lips. Xyla returned to the hotel, and the bell rang right after Mindy left. Xyla had already changed into the sleeping gown she had brought with her. When she opened the door, she did not even have a chance to look at the person in front of her as she was pinned to the wall while a shower of kisses rained on her.

Xyla stretched her arm to coil around his neck and asked, "Didn't I ask you to wait for me, Mr. Hathaway? Or you can't wait anymore?"

Yorrick scooped her up from the floor and carried her to the couch. He pressed his lips on her cheek and said, "I've waited for you for a moment. I was worried that you might stand me up."

She chuckled. "I just asked you to wait for me. I didn't say I'm going to take a flight and come to look for you right away."

He buried his head into her shoulder and laughed. "Are you really going to chase after me?"

Xyla began to undo his buttons one by one and lifted her eyebrows to look at him." Yes. It's still not too late if you want to back out right now. Once I start to chase you, I won't accept a no as an answer anymore."

Yorrick pulled his tie off and kissed her. "I think you're the one who will back out in the end."

Xyla wrapped her arms around him. His kisses that landed on her like rain tickled the tip of her heart, making her tremble with ecstasy.

“The one who backed out will be a chicken!” The ice and the fire finally reunited. Their blood boiled, and they fell deeper and deeper into the abyss of desire as their movements swayed along with the tempo.

When Yorrick announced his relationship with Xyla to the public, the Internet server had an outage. After all, Yorrick had been known as a womanizer. He had never admitted to the public that he was dating anyone, and this was the first time.

The media from Yaramoor was familiar with Xyla, and her name could be found in every corner of the Internet. She was a “retired” supermodel, a spokesperson for numerous luxury brands, and the daughter of the director of Royal Crown.

Nobody had expected that she would be the one to take Yorrick down. Yorrick did not expect he would fall in love with Xyla as well. Perhaps even Xyla herself did not think that they would work out in the end.

Xyla and Yorrick came to the restaurant.

Madam Hathaway, Nolan, and Maisie were already waiting for them inside.

Holding Xyla’s hand, Yorrick came up to Madam Hathaway and greeted her, “Aunt Hathaway.”

Madam Hathaway smiled and replied, "Have your seat."

Xyla sat beside Maisie. This was the first time she was meeting Madam Hathaway.

Madam Hathaway looked at Xyla with a smile on her face and said, "I heard that you're familiar with my granddaughter-in-law. This must be fate. After seeing Nolan form a family of his own, my nephew finally got himself a girlfriend now. I don't have any regrets anymore, and I can die in peace."

The Three Little Guardian Angels by Ginger Bud Chapter 1146

Xyla exchanged gazes with Maisie and smiled. "Maybe it's just fate."

Maisie supported her chin in one hand. Noles and I were still concerned that Yorrick was going to be a bachelor for the rest of his life some time ago. I really didn't expect this."

Nolan scoffed. "After all, he's a middle-aged man who's about to turn 37 years old this year, so there's not much time left."

Yorrick glared at him. "You're only three years younger than me." "Okay, just how old do the both of you think you are now? And yet, you're still quarreling with each other as if you're still kids. Zee and Xyla are still here, so can you two not embarrass yourselves when they're around?" Madam Hathaway might seem to be reprimanding those two men, but she had a wide grin on her face throughout the whole time.

Xyla and Maisie both tried their best to hold back their laughter.

“Xyla.” Madam Hathaway looked at her and picked up her wine glass from the table. “I would like to apologize for what Yorrick’s mother did to you before this.” Xyla was stunned for a moment. She then got up and grabbed her wine glass in a hurry. “Madam Hathaway, I actually-”

“His mother. Yuna, is the daughter-in-law of the Hathaways, so I’m apologizing to you on behalf of her as well as the Hathaways.” Mrs. Hathaway interrupted her. “His mother has always been the one who’s at fault, and I’m apologizing to you and Sharon,” Xyla squeezed the foot of the glass tightly and glanced at Yorrick, who was silent as if something was going through his mind.

Yuna loves her son too much, and she’s too selfish. She’s always been afraid that her son will leave her. That’s why she had been trying to get her child to live the lifestyle she wanted him to have so that he would turn into someone she likes him to be.” Mrs. Hathaway sighed. “What happened to Sharon is a debt that the Hathaways can never pay back to her family. However, the tragedy back then has already created an irreversible outcome, and you’re lucky enough to escape the same fate this time around. So, no matter what, I must apologize to you.”

Since Madam Hathaway had finished her wine in one go, it was only natural for Xyla to finish all her wine too.

Maisie and Nolan looked at each other and smiled.

This might be the best and the luckiest outcome.

Later that night...

While they were on their way back after dinner, Xyla leaned on the back of the seat and was on the verge of falling asleep. And because of the alcohol that she had consumed before that, she could not even lift her eyelids.

Yorick took her into his arms, and she rested her head on his shoulders. Her soft, long hair wrapped around his arms gently like silk

“Are you drunk?” Yorrick pecked her forehead softly, and she felt itchy as his warm breath brushed over her skin.

She nodded, stretched out her arms, and wrapped them around his waist. “Yeah, I’ve drunk a little too much.”

“Oh really?” Yorick stared down at her blushing cheeks and could not help but give off a smile through the corners of his lips. He then inserted his hand through the bottom hem of her blouse,

Xyla trembled instantly, sat up straight and pressed her body against his arm. Yorick Hathaway!”

He chuckled softly, “Didn’t you say that you’re drunk?”

Xyla ignored him and leaned back down again. She asked after a while. “You still can’t let the memory that you had with Sharon 90. can you?”

Yorrick rested his chin on the top of her head and smiled. “Are you jealous of her?”

She muttered, “No.”

“Sharon is someone of my past already.* Yorrick stroked the dark hair that was hanging on the side of her body. pressed his palm against her cheek, and forced her to look up at him. “But you’re my present, and of course, my future.”

Xyla suddenly thought of what he had said back then—something about her being his second woman and even his last.

She smiled and kissed his lips. “You can always miss her from time to time, but I must be the only woman that you’re allowed to think of in the future.”

Yorrick laughed and rubbed her lips with the tip of his thumb. “I’ll only think of you in the future as soon as you become the official Mrs. Hathaway.”

The dark night sky outside the window looked like the background of a dream because of the embellishment of the neon lights, and the beauty was almost ethereal.

Xyla cuddled in his arms as she stared at the scenery that went by the car window in a snap of a finger and changed in a matter of a split second as if she was bidding her past self goodbye.

It turned out that being in a relationship was not a one-sided thing. It would only work when both parties in the relationship had the same idea in mind. Thus, even if she had only taken one step toward the other end of the spectrum, the other party would happily take all the remaining steps just to get closer to her.

The Three Little Guardian Angels by Ginger Bud Chapter 1147

Chapter 1147

A few days later, at Stoslo...

Ryleigh saw in a news article of the magazine she was reading that Yorrick had admitted to dating Xyla. The article also had the picture a reporter had taken for the couple.

“I didn’t expect that they would become a couple!”

Louis, who was sitting on the side drinking his coffee, raised his eyebrows slightly.” Isn’t this good news?”

“Of course, it’s good news. Xyla has finally found the happiness she deserves, and she won’t think about you anymore.” Ryleigh supported her chin in her hand and held her smile back.

Louis almost choked on his coffee, and he put down the cup. “So, this is the thing that you’re worried about?” She chuckled. “I’m only joking with you. I’m not worried about this. I was just thinking about...” Ryleigh lowered her gaze. “She loved you so much back then and even spent six years of her adult life on you. She must have been very sad when the two of you broke up. And now that she found the happiness she’s been looking for, she can finally walk out of that sour past. I’m so happy for her.”

Louis smiled. “Yeah, I feel the same way for her too.”

Ryleigh put the magazine down. She seemed to have started to feel hungry again minutes after having her last meal. She rubbed her stomach and said to Louis, "I feel like eating again."

Louis lifted his head and looked at her. "You're sure to put on weight if you continue to eat like this."

Ryleigh was instantly upset when she heard that comment. "Are you starting to complain that I'm fat already?"

"I'm not complaining." Louis massaged his temples helplessly, got up, walked toward Ryleigh, and rubbed the top of her head while staring at her affectionately. "I'll go and make you something to eat."

Ryleigh smiled and nodded.

The next day, Ryleigh stood on a scale to weigh herself and cried when she saw the figure that appeared on the scale. "I actually gained ten pounds!?"

She pinched her waist and realized that it had become even thicker than it used to be.

'My slender waist is already this close to bidding me farewell forever! No wonder Louis hasn't even touched me these few weeks. It turns out that he really dislikes the fact that I'm turning fat!

"Louis Lucas!" Ryleigh rushed into the bedroom angrily, and before Louis could get up from the bed, he was hauled out of bed and got scolded. "You said you weren't complaining about my weight. But I really put on a lot of weight, so tell me right now!

Have you been so cold to me because I've... I've become fat and ugly?"

Louis propped the side of his forehead against one hand, lay on his side on the bed, and stared at her with a languid expression." What do you mean by me being cold?"

You... You don't even want to touch me now, and you're telling me that you're not complaining?" Ryleigh smacked him with a pillow. "You men are all liars. Before you men get to marry the woman that you love, everything's lovey-dovey, but as soon as you get her to marry you, the woman of your life will immediately be turned into a decoration!" Louis grabbed the pillow that was coming his way, pulled her into his arms, and laughed. "How long has it been since your last bleed?"

"What do you mean by how long has it been since I last bled?" "What do you think?" Louis pinched her chin, raised her face lightly, and said seriously. "You're a woman. Haven't you realized that your menstrual cycle has been a few weeks late?"

Ryleigh was astonished.

"Now that he's mentioned it, my period should've been due a long time ago, but I haven't been taking it seriously." Louis pinched her cheek. "I'll do the math for you. Your period has been delayed by at least five weeks, you've gained weight, you're either eating or sleeping all day long, and you get agitated extremely easily. Don't all these point to the fact that you're currently pregnant?"

” ..” Ryleigh looked at him in surprise.” How are you so clear when it comes to this matter!?”

“He actually knows my cycle better than I do!?”

Louis covered his face with his palm and could not help but laugh out loud. Ryleigh could see his squinting, sly eyes through the gaps in between his fingers. “That’s because I’ve been planning to get you pregnant, so how would things work if I didn’t know when exactly your period started?”

Ryleigh choked on her saliva.

‘So, does that mean that I’ve won the jackpot?’

At noon, Louis brought Ryleigh to the hospital for a checkup, and the result of the checkup was that-she was pregnant!
