

Florence's face had been disfigured as a result. It was a horrifying scene; blood gushed out from her wounds nonstop.

Everyone was stupefied because of how inhumane Zeke had behaved. He had not bothered to hold back.

Arghhhh!

Florence fell to the ground and shrieked as she held on to her face.

She rolled on the floor due to the racking sensation she felt coming from her face.

No words could describe the sensation Florence felt.

She had no time to curse Zeke due to the excruciating pain she felt.

Florence had been prioritizing her face all her life.

Due to the disfigured face of hers, she actually wished to end her own life.

Everyone's eyes widened in fear as they stared at Zeke.

Demon! He must be a demon!

He actually threw a pot of boiling water in Florence's face!

She's none other than Evan's wife!

What a wicked man!

Lacey and Dawn exchanged glances, their hearts skipping a beat as well.

They had never seen Zeke behaving in such a brutal manner before.

Zeke surveyed the surroundings and asked, "Who else was involved? Step forward!"

Everyone avoided Zeke's gaze as they were utterly horrified by him. It felt as though the grim reaper was there to reap their souls.

They tried to head over to the entrance and was about to flee.

However, they suddenly recalled what that Zeke had locked the door the moment he entered the office.

They wouldn't be able to run away from him.

Zeke laughed viciously. "Are you guys afraid? I'm afraid it's too late!"

"You guys shouldn't have done such things in the first place!"

Zeke rushed towards the bunch of co-developers all of a sudden.

He could no longer suppress his anger and finally went berserk.

A loud noise ensued once again as the bunch of co-developers, who had been gathering around, was sent flying everywhere by Zeke.

The bunch of co-developers knocked on the fixtures and furniture in the office, turning the office into a pile of rubble.

They were buried under the pile of rubbles. Everyone let out howls of anguish because of the tormenting experience they had to go through.

Florence could barely pull herself together because she knew Zeke meant what he said.

He would really finish her off if he wished to.

She immediately reached for her phone and yelled to the person on the other end of the call, "Evan! Hurry up! Your wife is about to die!"

Zeke chuckled before making his way back to Lacey's side.

He held Lacey's hand and asked, "Does it still hurt?"

Lacey ignored his question and replied cautiously, "This is the first time I've seen you behaving in such a brutal manner!"

“Well, it's the first time you've been hurt, right?”
Zeke asked rhetorically.

Lacey could no longer suppress her emotions as tears streamed down her cheeks once again.

Thump! Thump! Thump!

Someone knocked on the door all of a sudden.

“Hurry up! Please open the door!”

It was none other than Evan, who was at the doorstep.

Everyone was delighted because they thought their saviour had finally made his way to them.

Thank God! It's Evan! He's here to save us!

Zeke! It's over for you! You're doomed!

Everyone struggled as they tried to make their way to answer the door.

However, they couldn't even get up on their own because Zeke had gone all out against them just now.

In the end, Zeke was the one who had to answer the door. Evan began to sweat profusely once again the moment he made his way in.

He was trembling in fear when he saw the miserable scene inside the office.

Oh, God! All of them are in such pathetic conditions!

That's not the point! They've actually made a move against Mr. Williams?

Damn it! What a bunch of jerks!

Everyone rushed over and put on a pitiable front in front of Evan.

“Mr. Schneider! Help! You have to save us!”

“Zeke has gotten full of himself! He actually beat everyone up over a minor disagreement!”

“He's the one who impaired Mrs. Schneider's face! Zeke was aware she's your wife, but made a move against her nonetheless! Obviously, he's trying to defy your words!”

Florence, who had been rolling on the floor in agony, lifted herself up. “Evan! You have to avenge me!”

“If you can't finish him off, I'll file for a divorce!”

Dawn and Lacey were horrified when they heard Florence's words.

They stood up for Zeke and explained, “Mr. Schneider! Please do not listen to them!”

“They were the ones who made a move against us first! Zeke had no choice but to defend us!”

“What! They actually made a move against both of you?” Evan's pupil constricted all of a sudden.

He sized Lacey and Dawn up and realized that they had indeed been injured.

Finally, Evan rushed over to Lacey and Dawn's side.

Everyone thought Evan was about to teach Dawn and Lacey a lesson.

Hence, the two were trembling in fear as they had no idea what they should do next.

Meanwhile, Florence and the bunch of co-developers were delighted.

Evan used to be part of the special force. He's skilled in terms of martial arts as well!

Both of them are as good as gone! They can't possibly make it out unscathed since Evan's the one they're going up against!

However, everyone was stupefied by what happened next.

Evan bowed respectfully after he rushed over to Lacey and Dawn. He seemed as though he had no intention to beat them up.

“I'm so sorry for the tormenting experience, Ms. Lacey, Ms. Dawn! It's my fault! I've failed to discipline my men.”

“Don't worry! I will definitely avenge both of you today!”

What!

Everyone's eyes widened in disbelief when they heard what Evan said.

*Evan has no intention to teach them a lesson!
Instead, he bows at their presence?*

Something must have been wrong, right? Look at your wife! They're the reason behind her disfigured look!

We must be seeing things, right? That must be the case!

Florence yelled hysterically with all her might, “Evan, have you lost your mind? Why the hell are you apologizing?”

“I want them dead! You must finish them off...”

Slap!

Evan slapped Florence hard in the face without any hesitation.

It was such a loud slap that it blew everyone's mind away.

Initially, the shattered pieces of pot were on the surface of Florence's skin. However, they pierced right into her face due to Evan's slap.

Arghhhh!

Florence shrieked once again as she held on to her face. “F*** you! Evan! Why the hell are you siding with the outsiders?”

“You actually slapped your wife because of those two little b*****?”

“I won't let off the hook! I'll get those from my family to avenge me!”

“Have you forgotten who has been the one contributing to your success the most? It's none other than my family!”

Evan was infuriated as well. “What the hell? I have to behave myself in front of Mr. Williams too! Who the hell do you guys think you are? How dare you guys offend Mr. Williams?”

W-What!

Evan's words blew everyone's mind away once again.

Evan has to behave properly in front of Zeke?

Zeke is but an executive working for Lacey, isn't he?

I mean, Lacey has to behave in front of Evan as well! She acts like his humble employee!

How on earth does an executive working under

It seems Zeke isn't who we think he is!

Evan rushed over to Zeke's side and bowed once more. "Mr. Williams, I'm so sorry! My men have caused you so much trouble! I'll definitely discipline them in the future!"

"Please tell me how I should deal with them next..."

Zeke turned around and looked at Lacey, "Dawn, Lacey, both of you are the sole victims of their actions. I'll have both of you decide their fate."

Meanwhile, Lacey was zoned out as she looked Zeke in the eyes.

I used to think Zeke was acquainted with Evan ever since he managed to win the project, 'Love in a Fallen City'.

I've always thought their relationship was a supervisor and a subordinate one.

I mean, Evan seems like the supervisor, while Zeke seems like his subordinate...

However, it seems like I've been wrong all along! It's the complete opposite of what I had in mind!

Evan is the subordinate, while Zeke is his boss!

Is this Zeke's actual capability? Am I going to figure out what he's really capable of soon?

Actually, what Zeke had been portraying all along was but a percentile of his actual capability. However, Lacey would definitely deem Zeke to be lying again, even if he were to tell her the truth.

Lacey finally returned to her senses after Zeke repeated himself once more.

She took a deep breath and looked at those around her.

She initially held a strong grudge against them.

However, she couldn't help but sympathize with what they had gone through when she saw how pathetic they looked.

They had merely slapped her in the face for once, yet Zeke went all out and beat them up to a pulp.

They could barely get up on their own.

Florence was the most pathetic one amongst others because her disfigured face was as good as gone!

Lacey had long gotten rid of the grudge she held against the villainous bunch.

She replied cautiously, "Let's... forget about it?"
