The Divorced Billionaire Heiress Boss Chapter 2051

The Divorced Billionaire Heiress Boss Chapter 2051 Doesn't Know How to Act

Zach was observing Tina's reaction. Tina was not hysterical as he had imagined, and she did not mention divorce. She must have already thought it through and accepted it.

Zach was relieved and chased after her.

"Wifey, don't worry. I'm always loyal to you. That woman will never appear in front of you again!"

Tina went inside with a calm face.

The aerospace exhibition was on the thirteenth floor of this building.

Zach and Kirsi came here for another event, and they did not have an invitation letter to attend the exhibition.

Thus, Zach could only watch helplessly as Tina and Nicole entered the venue. He smiled and took out his phone.

"Babe, where are you?"

As soon as Tina entered, her expression changed. She was no longer in the mood to check out anything.

Nicole took Luke around and came back to see Tina in the lounge, lost in thought.

Luke paused when he saw Nicole's hesitation.

"Ms. Stanton, I won't go over there. I'll go over and consult Dr. Campbell about something."

Nicole pursed her lips, smiled, and had a sudden thought.

"Mr. Youngblood, will you really give up such a big piece of pie? You must know that even if Tina gets a divorce, her family is ultra- rich! Not to mention, she's not ugly. Everyone says that she's as beautiful as a movie star. Aren't you moved?"

Luke paused and looked at Nicole strangely.

"Ms. Stanton, based on my looks, I can still take my pick even if I'm looking for a sugar mommy. Not to mention, I prefer to rely on my capability."

Nicole raised her eyebrows.

"Off you go then."

Luke immediately left.

Shane followed Nicole.

Nicole sat opposite Tina and sighed.

“Look at you...Didn't you say that you don't care anymore? Why do you look like you've lost your soul?”

Tina clenched her teeth tightly.Her face was pale.

“I don't.I just think that cheating couple got away too easily.”

Nicole raised her eyebrows.

“Your lawyer will settle the accounts and find a problem with Zach, so it'll be easy to get back at them.”

Tina looked at Nicole quietly.Her lips were pressed tightly into a straight line.

“Nicole, please do me a favor...” Nicole frowned at her.

An hour later, Nicole Luca stood by the railing on the thirteenth floor, quietly waiting to watch a good show.Luca frowned and said in a low voice, “Miss, are you sure it'll work? I'm worried that their act will fall through!”

Nicole pursed her lips and said in a low voice, “No, women are born to act, and Tina is a master!”

Luca said, “I'm talking about Shane.There's a reason that he didn't become an actor!”

Shane stood with Tina.

Tina was clinging to Shane's arm, trying to act the part and make it seem like they were intimate.

However, Shane stood there stiffly and looked alert as he observed the surroundings, like he was ready to attack at any moment.

The venue below was very spacious, and many people were chatting and laughing. It was a press conference for a niche brand.

This was also why Zach came to accompany Kirsi.

After all, a business owner like Zach was very attractive to the entertainment industry.

Thus, as soon as Zach appeared, everyone greeted him with respect.

After all, he attended the event with an actress, which meant he had a foot in the entertainment industry.

This meant he was interested in developing in this area.

Naturally, everyone would not let go of an investor.

Kirsi was injured, so she had been restricted to film.

Ever since Samuel Lindstrom stopped backing Kirsi, most of Kirsi's already dwindling resources were taken away by newcomers.

If it was not for Kirsi being pregnant and Zach pampering her, it would have been harder for her to attend such an event.

If she could not become a famous actress, she could use the little bit of advantage she had to be behind the scenes.

That was what she thought.

Thus, Kirsi wanted Zach to connect with the people there immediately. It was very smoky inside.

Kirsi could not catch her breath and went out for a breather. She did not expect to see Tina, Zach's legal wife, as soon as she went out.

Kirsi froze for a moment, rolled her eyes in disdain, and walked over.

"Are you waiting for me, Mrs. Gilbert?"

Kirsi looked at Tina with a hint of mockery, smugness, and arrogance that made her seem superior.

Kirsi's frankness did not make her seem like a mistress.

That was because Kirsi now had the confidence to hold her head high.

Kirsi touched her belly, as if to show off, covered her mouth, retched for a while, and glanced at Tina, who had a gloomy face. She hooked her lips and said,

"Mrs. Gilbert, you probably know about me and Mr. Gilbert, so I won't hide it anymore. The sooner you get divorced, the better it is for you. Otherwise, I'm afraid that you'll lose your reputation if you drag it any longer."

Kirsi's smile was an eyesore. She only dared to say that because she was pregnant.

Tina's gaze landed on Kirsi's body. She snorted lightly.

"If a b*tch like you can keep your reputation, what do I have to lose?" Tina laughed and walked to Shane's side. She pulled the man closer to her, held his arm intimately, and smiled.

"Don't worry, you can keep that good-for-nothing man who only has looks but no brain. I only want money. If I'm rich, I'll be able to get anyone I want!"

When Kirsi saw Shane, her expression changed slightly.

Back then, Kirsi almost lost her future because of Shane's over-shoulder throw.

Shane was so strong.

Kirsi's face turned glum, and she became a little uncomfortable.

Kirsi intended for her agency to make Shane pay a large compensation.

As a result, because of Shane's background, he did not pay her a penny, but even sent her a lawyer's letter.

Kirsi had to pay all the medical bills herself.

The newcomer, who Kirsi thought was easy to bully, suddenly overtook her, which frightened her.

Kirsi's manager also warned Kirsi to be careful not to offend Shane and his backer.

Shane looked at Kirsi indifferently.

Kirsi shuddered, clutched her belly, and suddenly felt short of breath.

Kirsi turned slightly pale. She did not want to be at a disadvantage in front of Tina.

However, her stomach inexplicably felt a little uncomfortable.

Kirsi looked back with a glum face, searching for Zach's figure in the venue.

"Zach..."

As soon as she shouted his name, Zach noticed her. He saw Kirsi and Tina standing together and suddenly panicked.

Zach ran over quickly and glanced at Tina.

"Wifey..."

His tone was cautious.

When he saw Kirsi's pale face, he suddenly turned livid. He quickly held Kirsi and glared at Tina fiercely.

"What have you done?! I already told you that I'll break up with her. Why are you bullying her? She's not feeling well. Do you know that she's..."

Zach suddenly stopped speaking, and his expression changed dramatically. He could not let Tina find out about Kirsi's pregnancy.

Kirsi tugged at Zach's arm nervously.

"Zach, take me to the hospital..."

Zach took a deep breath, carried Kirsi, and ran out.

Zach and Kirsi hurriedly left the venue. Some of the guests present were acquainted with Tina. They all looked at Tina weirdly.

Everyone was aware of the Gilberts’ situation.

Usually, marriage is : over once a man starts to defend his mistress in public. It was truly pathetic.

Shane was not bothered about Tina’s situation. He subconsciously looked up at Nicole.

Since Kirsi left, was his mission over? Tina stood there and felt the coldness from all directions. She stared blankly in the direction where Zach and Kirsi left, and her desire to get revenge instantly disappeared.

All that was left was frustration. Tina always thought that Zach was only putting on a show due to his indifference and greed.

As long as he was not sincere to other women, Tina was just watching a good show. However, Tina understood Zach well.

That was how Zach protected Tina back then. Now, he protected Kirsi the same way. This scene was truly an eyesore. It was as if all her warnings had hit her in the face.

No matter how shameless that mistress was, she had won over that man.

Tina took a deep breath and walked to the door in a daze.

When Nicole went downstairs, she only saw Shane. Shane walked over quickly.

“Madam...” Nicole nodded and looked at him with a smile.

“You did well.” Shane acted as a prop, which did not require any acting skills.

Thus, she could not be too critical of him.

When the event was over, Nicole left slightly earlier with Shane. Someone stopped them at the entrance.

“Ms. Stanton, Mr. Youngblood just said that there’s another banquet. Please stay back and join him.”

“Mr. Youngblood?”

Nicole snorted lightly and thought, ‘Will Luke Youngblood dare to ask a waiter to convey his message like this?’

Just as she was about to say something, the weird feeling in her heart reemerged. She looked at the unfamiliar waiter in front of her and raised her eyebrows.

“Okay.” She smiled.

Nicole was very reluctant to link this to what happened last night. However, since there were so many strange things, it was hard to say whether all this was created by the same person.

Since the other party was willing to show their face, she wanted to know who it was! Nicole glanced at Luca, who immediately understood became vigilant.

Nicole stretched out her hand, and Shane immediately walked over and stretched out his arm.

Nicole gently held his arm and returned to the exhibition again. She glanced around and saw that everyone left one by one.

Luke was also out of sight. She paused.

The waiter pointed to the side hall.

“Ms. Stanton, this way please.”

In an instant, Nicole could feel Shane’s stiffness and alertness. She smiled expressionlessly and walked over.

The side hall was relatively quiet, and the dim light made it a bit mysterious.

A familiar person sat there in the corner.

When he saw Nicole, he waved happily.

“Nikki!”

Nicole was dumbfounded and walked over.

“Nathaniel?”

Nathaniel happily stood up and hugged her.

“Nikki, did you miss me?”

Nicole speechlessly pushed Nathaniel away, looked at his tanned skin, and was stunned for a moment.

Speaking of which, Nicole had not seen him for a while.

Nathaniel was either participating in shows or going out on an adventure. He spent very few days in Atlanta. But why did he suddenly come back? Shane was very alert at first, but he noticed that Nicole seemed to know the man.

Thus, he wondered whether he should go up and stop him.

Nicole laughed.

“No, I didn’t miss you. Why are you back?”

She still remembered that Nathaniel had a fallout with Livia before he left.

Livia got back together with Keith.

Nathaniel was still the same, like a manchild who would never grow up.

Nathaniel smiled frankly.

“I came back for a few days and paid respects to my great-grandfather in the meantime. By the way, let me introduce you to a friend...”

He pointed to the person sitting on the opposite sofa. It was a woman that Nicole had never seen before.

The woman stood up with a smile, looking very honest and demure.

She wore a pink puff-sleeved dress that made her look very innocent. She looked at Nicole and smiled.

“Hello, Ms. Stanton. My name is Yasmin.”

No one would refuse such a sweet and innocent smile that held some kind of magic. It was just the right arc that made one feel comfortable around her.

Nicole immediately responded with a smile.

“Hello, my name is Nicole.”

The woman should be about the same age as Nicole. She had clear and pure eyes. She looked like an ignorant college student who just left the campus.

Nathaniel smiled excitedly and said, “I thought you looked familiar just now. I didn’t expect you to be here too! Yasmin and I came late. Why don’t we have dinner together?”

Nicole paused and glanced at him.

"How do you know that I know Luke?"

Nathaniel was stunned.

"Luke? Who's Luke?"

Nicole's face sank.

Shane's eyes also became cautious.

Yasmin shook her head in confusion.

"We don't know Luke..."

Nicole took a deep breath.

"Didn't you guys ask me to come?"

Nathaniel shook his head.

"No, we've been here the whole time and plan to sit for a while before leaving."

Nicole's heart sank a little. She looked at Luca behind her.

"Search for the waiter just now..."

"Yes, Miss."

Nathaniel saw her and refused to let her go.

"Nikki, this is my friend's first time here, so she's not familiar with Atlanta. Eat with us before you leave!"

He winked at Nicole desperately.

Nicole frowned.

“Sure”

Yasmin blushed and looked up at Nathaniel from time to time like she had a crush on him.

Nicole smiled and did not expose it.

Shane also sat down.

Before Nicole could introduce Shane, Nathaniel recognized him.

“Shane Libb? Why don't you film anymore? Your image is very suitable for acting as a tough guy!”

Shane paused.

“Oh, I just don't want to.”

Nathaniel did not mind Shane's indifference. He heard from other people in the circle that Shane had a weird temper.

Nathaniel looked at Nicole with a meaningful smile.

“Nikki, you got another man? What about Clayton? Does he know about this?”

Nicole rolled her eyes at him.

“What does it have to do with you?”

Nathaniel smiled.

“I'm just asking. It's not my second uncle anyway!”

Nicole rolled her eyes, looked at Yasmin, and smiled.

“Are you two dating?”

She changed the subject because she did not want Nathaniel to pry into her private life.

Yasmin was stunned for a moment, then shook her head embarrassedly, pure and pitiful.

“No.”

Nathaniel coughed awkwardly.

“Not yet.”

He looked at Nicole and winked, signaling for her to be more mindful of her words.

Nicole snorted coldly.

Halfway through the meal, Luca still did not return.

However, Yasmin went out to use the bathroom.

Nathaniel thoughtfully asked the waiter to lead the way for Yasmin.

Nicole looked like she was watching a good show.

“Why don’t you just follow along?”

Nathaniel clicked his tongue, sat back, and moved his neck.

“Don’t scare my friend, she’s so pure and ignorant of the world. I’m currently pursuing her, but she’s still watching me reservedly! “
