

Chapter 911

However, the couple in front of her did not even bother to look at the showcase unit. They just took a glance at the sandbox and inquired about the price. “No need. We’re in a hurry to move in!” Fane flashed a wan smile and responded emotionlessly. “Well. If you were to pay in full, surely there would be a discount for you. The company is now promoting cashback for these units. So, it’ll be 110 million bucks per unit!” The young and pretty salesgirl hung a smile on her face, but muttered inside her heart, ‘Don’t tell me they’re really planning to buy a villa!’ It was precisely because of the price of these villas; they could hardly sell even one unit per month. However, if they were to successfully sell one unit, the commission for that month would be a lot. “110 million per unit? So if I buy twenty units, it’ll be 2.1 billion, right?” After calculating in his brain, Fane replied in a carefree tone. “Twen—twenty units?” The pretty salesgirl released a deep breath of surprise, doubting her own ears—whether did she heard wrongly. It was not twenty bucks or 200 bucks but freaking 2.1 billion. Could it be that this couple came from a rich family? “Yes. This side, the side near the gate, I want twenty units. But, I have a small favor to ask!” After pondering about it, Fane pointed at the sandbox and uttered. “What is it?” The salesgirl gulped loudly, thinking that could it be that this man before her was setting a trap? Was he trying to do something bad to her? After all, she had been hearing that some thugs and b*stards always liked to tease salesgirls like them. These thoughts made her heart pound harder than ever; she could not help but worry for herself. She was afraid that Fane was one of those b*stards. But the worries soon subsided when she saw a woman stood next to Fane—Selena. She felt that she was overly worried. No words could describe Selena’s attractiveness and beauty. Such a woman was hundred times better looking than her; how could Fane possess dirty thoughts when he had such a beautiful wife in his life? Besides, if Fane really wanted to do something bad to her, he would not be doing it in front of his wife, right?

“Can the developer enclose these twenty units with walls? Separating our villas from others. This should not be a problem, right?” Fane gave a light smile and then only slowly uttered his request. “This, this can be done! It’s only a small matter. I’ll talk to our manager right now, and you can look at the map here, pick the unit you want, and circle it with this pen!” The young salesgirl took out a pen, a leaflet of the villas as well as the layout map. She handed these over to Fane as she spoke. She requested Fane to circle the unit they wanted. “No freaking way? Twenty units? Did I hear it right?” The other two salesgirls—who were talking about Fane a moment ago—passed by the three and overheard the conversation. Their jaws dropped to the ground and their eyes were widened as large as saucers. They doubted their ears. 20 units of villas? The commission of these 20 units, for them, would be... “Sir, no problem, absolutely no problem. Have you circled up?” The manager of the store and the young salesgirl appeared before Fane again. The manager asked cautiously, with excitement, delight, and joy plastered all over their faces. After all, if these 20 units were sold off, the manager could receive a lot of bonuses, though it would not be as much as what the young salesgirl would receive. “Yup. It’s done. Just these 20 units. Let’s sign the contract!” Fane spilled nonchalantly as he handed the pen and leaflet to the other party.

Chapter 912

“Sign...Sign the contract?” The manager was taken aback. Never in his life had he seen such a quick purchase. “Stop gibbering! I don’t have much time. I still need to buy some house supplies later and I’ll have to move in this afternoon. Do you want to sell or not?” Fane, on the other hand, did not entertain the manager further but shot him a deadly glare. Fane was impatient. The manager was dumbfounded once again. “Of course, Sir! Just that I’ve never seen such a generous person like you!” The manager returned with a smile on his face, meanwhile, the salesgirl was getting the contract over for the transaction. A small smile appeared on Fane’s face as he said to the manager, “By the way, all these sales must be credited to this young salesgirl. This is because she is the one who served us well. Don’t you dare to steal her credit!” The young salesgirl was touched when she heard Fane’s words that she almost cried. This couple was so kind-hearted that they thought of the low position employees. “Don’t worry, this will not happen, because manager’s bonuses depend on the total sales of every month. Even if I wanted to take credit for today’s sales, it would be useless and meaningless!” The manager chuckled and responded. Soon, Fane completed all the formalities. He then stood up, ready to go over to swipe his credit card for payment. However, to everyone’s surprise, Selena pulled his sleeve and whispered, “Swipe my card. These houses are bought for the Taylor family, so naturally, it should be paid with the Taylor family’s money!” “Alright, Dear, since you said so, I won’t compete with you this time. Anyway, whatever is mine is yours and yours is mine!” Fane shrugged his shoulder as he spoke. A gentle smile plastered on his face. The two saleswomen who have been watching the scene at the side were completely speechless. It was a 2.1 billion bill, and this couple was actually competing to pay the bill. It seemed like this couple was not short of money, perhaps buying another 20 units would not be a problem. After the money was paid and the formalities were completed, the manager asked all the employees to line up in two rows, saluted Fane and Selena, and saw them off the store. “Damn, rich people really do have deep pockets, huh?” The manager of the sales department looked at the back of Fane and Selena with an envious look. The manager then wheeled around and faced the young salesgirl. “Carol, let me say this to you, you’re now officially a permanent staff member. Also, I’ll call the general manager and inform him about today’s incident and advise him to promote you to the supervisor position. It just so happens that we lack a supervisor.” “Ah! I...thank you so much! Thank you so much, Sir!” Carol was overly shocked that her tongue was tied. In the beginning, she did not think that Fane and Selena could afford a villa, let alone 20. However, with a humble mindset of taking it as a business practice, she went forward and served them well. Little did she expect that the two of them changed her fate in just half an hour. The commissions of these 20 villas were enough for her to buy two houses and may even allow her to save a lot of money. This was basically a miracle—to become wealthy in just half an hour. Moreover, the salary and year-end bonus for the supervisor position was outstanding. “No way, Sir, she has only been here less than a month, how can she be a supervisor?” The two saleswomen could not hold back any longer, approached the two and questioned the manager in an exasperated tone. The young salesgirl had already taken so much commission today, which they were envious and jealous of, and now the manager had actually wanted to make her a supervisor? They could not approve this matter. After all, the two saleswomen were promising candidates for the supervisor position. They were not only veteran staff but also very discerning and often observed how customers entered their shop—whether in sports cars or sedans—and estimated roughly which unit to sell to them. They knew how to choose customers. However, they did not expect that today they missed out on Fane and Selena—the ultimate filthy rich customers.

Chapter 913

“She’s been here less than a month, so what’s wrong with that? Her sales and performance today is something you can’t achieve. You two were with her just now at the entrance, why didn’t the two of you bother serving the two customers and make such a sale?” The manager retorted. He could not be bothered by their resentment instead, he left to report to the general manager about today’s incident. The two saleswomen exchanged glances. Right now, they could not feel anything at all other than regrets. Meanwhile, at this time in Gin City, the head of the Lambert family, as well as Patronum and the elders, were gathered together. “We couldn’t get hold of Lucas. I’m afraid that something bad has happened. We’ve been trying to contact him for these past few days. And it’s not just him, we couldn’t keep in touch with the other three too. The head of Freeman has been coming over to ask us the whereabouts of his daughter—Snow Freeman. Snow went with Lucas and it's Lambert's responsibility to keep her safe!" The head of the Lambert family frowned. His features were terribly unsightly. The loss of three Lamberts had already broken the members' hearts. Moreover, Lucas Lambert was the son of the second master of the Lambert family. They could not get hold of him for the past several days, it was highly likely that they were dead. The death of Snow Freeman had worsened the situation. Snow was the fiancée of Lucas and the two initially decided to get married soon. However, nobody had expected that bad things would happen to them at this time... "They went to the Middle Province. Looks like sending our men to investigate the matter is the only way." An old man finally spoke with a bitter smile on his face. "Middle Province is just a small city. What kind of person can actually kill the four of them?" Another person responded to the old man's suggestion instantly. The head of Lambert family pondered and then said, "In the Middle Province, only some eight-star or nine-star, and God of War is capable of killing them. They went to Middle Province to kill Ivan Taylor because they didn't expect that Ivan was still alive. But, this time they..." "The grand wedding that the Taylor family held previously, I heard that the son-in-law is the Gods of War's exclusive doctor. That's why all Nine Great Gods of War attended his wedding." The grand elder of the Lambert family paused for a moment to ponder over some matter, and then said, "So, I guess Lana Zechs, the Goddess of War in Middle Province had killed them!" "Damn. How could this Lana Zechs offend the Lambert family just because of some guy named Fane. Doesn't she know that there's a more powerful existence backing us?" The second grand elder barked. His resentment grew within him like a tumor. The third grand elder had not spoken anything, but his face was the most unsightly among others. He was no other than Lucas Lambert's father. The thought of his son dead had caused agonizing wrenching pain in his heart. "This afternoon I'll go to meet with the Freeman family, ask them to bring a few good fighters, and go with us to the Middle Province. Maybe the head himself will be going because of his daughter's death!" The third grand elder—Tao Lambert—balled his fist firmly as he uttered. "Alright. If we successfully identify the killer, you guys must avenge the four of them!" The head of Lambert family bobbed his head to give permission. He then added, "Tao, when do you plan to leave?" "I'll go to the Freeman family's residence in a moment and plan with them. We'll leave early tomorrow morning!" Tao was gloomy all the while. After finishing his sentence, he took his leave. "Sigh!" The head of the Lambert family could not help but to only breathe out a deep sigh.

Chapter 914

Fane and the others went out to buy daily supplies before shopping for a new car. They then started moving happily. At the same time, in one of the villas located in the villa neighborhood, a beautiful superstar could not help it but to complain to another beauty. "This is so weird. I saw the developer ordering for a wall to be built on my way back. When I went over to enquire about the situation they told me that somebody had bought 20 villas in one go and asked them to build a wall to surround the area!" "20 villas?!" The beauty on the other side inhaled deeply. "This person must be rich and powerful to be able to afford so many villas. Well, there are so many rich people here in the Swallow city that this is considered as normal!" The other beautiful lady pursed her lips and started complaining, "It's quite normal but you weren't there to see it yourself. After this person puts up the wall, the afforested area that we can carry out activities in will be reduced. I bought this property because I really liked the green areas. Now that this person has built a wall around the 20 villas, our homes will be right next to the wall." Blake Knight could only smile bitterly. "Well, what can we do? People like us can only accept our fate. Somebody who can buy so many villas in one go is not someone we, as celebrities, can offend!" Tianna Scott also said, "Yes, we seem well-regarded as celebrities as many people chase after us for our signatures wherever we go. However, we really can't afford to offend people who are really rich and powerful.” “Don’t even think about offending them, it’s nice enough if we can sing and earn money in peace!” Blake once again smiled helplessly. “By the way, Blake, didn’t a director ask you to join his movie? How is it? Did you think about transitioning?” Tianna thought about it and asked curiously. After all, many singers dreamt of transitioning into movie stars. It would benefit their careers in the future if the movie they filmed got famous. This was a good opportunity to grow their income. Different to Tianna’s imagination, Blake started complaining, “Don’t even mention that bastard. He’s a dirty old man. He asked me out for a meal the other day with the excuse that he wanted to discuss some details about the character. Turns out, it was just the two of us and that guy started touching me right after I began eating. I was so angry that I turned around and left!” “Sigh, nine out of ten directors nowadays are womanizers and it’s really difficult for us to meet one who’s not. I think it’s best if we continue singing and produce records. At least, this industry is much cleaner!” Tianna sighed and spoke with a hint of helplessness. The developers acted really swiftly. The next day when Fane and his family woke up, the walls were already done. “I’ve already asked Skyler and his disciples to help get news about the Dragon scale. Let’s hope that we can get some clues soon!” Lana walked over to Fane and said to him. “Alright!” Fane nodded and walked over to Selena. ”Selena, let’s go take a stroll so that we can familiarize ourselves with the environment. After all, the Taylor family will be staying here for a long period of time!” Fane smiled and said to Selena. Selena nodded. “Sure, I was about to go out and take a look. I want to look around this area and see if there are anywhere suitable for us to start some businesses so that we don’t waste time.” Fane, Selena, and Lana soon walked out. They had no idea that when they started their stroll, they would see two beautiful women coming out from the side door and it looked like they were going shopping. Whoosh! At this moment, two cars halted in front of them and several men came down. They restrained the girls and were about to stuff them into the car. “Help!” Tianna was extremely frightened and immediately started yelling loudly while struggling. However, her struggles did not work as there were three to four men restraining her.

Chapter 915

Beside Tianna's, Blake was also struggling to break free from these people. The both of them were leaving the house to go shopping. They had sunglasses on and did not have any bodyguards with them. Who knew that they would meet with such an awful incident as soon they stepped out of the house. "How dare these people kidnap commoners under broad daylight?" Lana could not help and started scolding. She stepped forward and kicked a small pebble she saw by the road. The pebble flew forward and hit one of the men's thigh. "Ah!" The man was in so much pain that he almost knelt on the ground. "Who did that? Are you trying to get yourself killed?" The man was extremely angry. He turned his head around and his eyes lit up when he saw Lana running toward him angrily. "Oh my, it's a sexy and pretty lady!" "Are you suicidal? Bring this one with us, maybe our director will like her too!" Another man said with a smile on his face. "That's right! She has such a nice body. Haha, she might just get famous if she stars in a movie!" Several men from that group of people temporarily let go while the others continued to hold on to Blake and Tianna. "I was wondering why their voices sounded so familiar, it's them!" Fane glanced at the duo. He recognized them although they had on sunglasses. Bang! Bang! Bang! Lana defeated those people with just a few moves. They fell to the ground and started moaning in pain. "What sort of director is this? Is he suicidal? How dare he kidnap somebody under broad daylight!" Lana scolded those people. They used all their might to climb up before leaving in their car. "It's you!" Blake and Tianna covered their mouths in surprise when they saw Fane amongst the people walking over to them. "Oh my, you guys came over to Swallow City?" Tianna was in disbelief. She looked at Fane from head to toes. "Thank you so much! We would have been done for if it weren't for you! Normally we won't meet with incidents like this. Who knew that we would be so unlucky just as we were about to leave the house!" "Cough, cough... It's us... We've moved here to start a new life here!" Fane was embarrassed and immediately reminded them. "Oh yes, please don't tell others that we are from Middle Province. The wedding happened some time ago and not many people remember me and Selena!" "Don't worry, we won't say anything!" Blake smiled as she spoke. How could they go around spreading news about Fane when he had saved both of them? They did not even know how to repay his kindness. Apart from that, there must be a hidden reason for them to be here as Fane purposely mentioned this to them. "The car seems to have come from that direction as if they knew that you guys were leaving the house!" Fane thought about it and looked at both ladies. Soon, he stepped forward and stretched one of his hands out toward Blake's chest.

Chapter 916

The startled Blake's face turned crimson red when she saw Fane reaching out his hand toward her chest. How bold of him—she was a famous superstar! Had she not known Fane was a decent man and Selena was not with them at that moment, Blake might have thought that Fane was a pervert that tried to take advantage of her. Blake's heart raced, out of control. Still, she did not step back with the belief that Fane was not trying to take advantage of her. Selena frowned, curious as to what Fane would do. Fane merely smiled as he freed a button on Blake. "Ah!" yelped Blake, blush searing her face as she crossed her arms at her chest. Her collar was exposed after Fane unfastened one button. "A tapping and locator device." Fane smiled coldly and, with just a small force, crushed the button between his fingers. Everyone saw a small chip hidden among the broken button's remnants. "How's that possible? It's so small and..." Blake took a sharp intake of breath, shuddering at the thought. Fane chuckled. "I think they took the opportunity to do something because they knew you're leaving the house without bodyguards with you, all with this small device,” remarked Fane. “Where did you buy these clothes, Blake? How can it...” Tianna was equally frightened. None of them would have known Blake had a spying device on her if Fane had not come to them. Blake’s face darkened. “That damned director gifted it to me yesterday, some time ago. It looked pretty, so I’ve been wearing it these few days!” Blake grew angrier the more she thought about it and scoffed, “It’s best if we go back and change, and I’m throwing this away. It seems best to not take any clothes people give me!” She turned to look at Fane, her gaze kinder as she smiled. “Thank you very much for today, Brother Fane. I hope to treat you to dinner whenever we have the time. I want to thank all of you!” “Haha! That’s mighty generous of you. This is my name card, call me if that bastard director still comes causing trouble. Since we’re neighbors now, I’ll get to swiftly come to your aid.” Fane smiled and passed his namecard to them. He initially had no name cards, but Tanya made some for him when he worked as the Drake family’s bodyguard. He carried some with him so that it would be much easier to pass his contact to other people. “Thank you so much!” Blake and Tianna exchanged glances and were delighted. They immediately exchanged contacts with Fane and the others. “By the way, Brother Fane, you’re staying in this neighborhood too, right? Which building are you staying at?” asked Blake, curiosity peaked as Fane mentioned they were neighbors. “I live here, in this area that’s surrounded by the wall!” Fane pointed at the area behind him. “What?!” Blake and Tianna gaped at the revelation. It was just yesterday that they both talked about who it was, wealthy enough to have bought so many villas in one go. They even grumbled at how such a wall would reduce their greenery significantly. Astounded were they when Fane revealed it was him and his wife who bought that area!