

Chapter 1763

If that did not happen, then how could there be a car accident?

Hector had been scheming his whole life, but in the end, he had caused his daughter to die because of this scheme. Hana, on the other hand, was not harmed at all, and she married a rich man who was almost ten years younger than her. Thinking about that, Hector sat on the floor and bawled his eyes out.

Some people, who were previously his neighbors, came to visit him. They seemed to be here to console him, but it was more accurate to say that they were here to come see his downfall and to reprimand him.

“Hector Caven! To think that you were already a man in his thirties back then, but you bullied Hana, a little girl who was just almost eighteen. You brought her home, but you properly spend your life with her. You were the one who clearly had been in the wrong, but you wanted to drain her of all her hard-earned money in this life, and you actually still didn't let her and her daughter acknowledge each other!”

“Serves you right!”

“You brought this on yourself!”

“You'll be left alone for the rest o

6 years left!”

"Serves you right!"

"You brought this on yourself!"

"You'll be left alone for the rest of your life!"

"You'll have no family and no wife to take care of you!"

"You deserved it!"

The group of people cursed him disdainfully. It was at that moment that Hector only deeply regretted his action! He regretted that he had gone overboard. He had been plotting schemes all his life, but in the end, his daughter had died because of his schemes.

That night, many people heard Hector's incomparably miserable wails. It sounded just like a flying squirrel that was miserable wails. It sounded just like a flying squirrel that was close to being frozen to death in the winter. When the day gradually dawned, the voice also gradually faded off. No one knew when Hector died. Anyway, his body was already emitting a foul smell when they found him.

The passing of Hector and Tessa did not cause too much shock or impact in Hana. However, because Hana was sad for losing Tessa, she was hospitalized to prevent miscarriage. During that time, Zayn had been staying closely by Hana's side. It was fortunate that she was staying at the best hospital and had the best doctor to take care of her, only then did she manage to keep their precious baby.

Not only did Zayn meticulously took care of Hana, but even his closest family had been coming t o the hospital whenever they had the time. It was particularly so for the little child, Aino. She did not go home first after school
every day, but she came directly t o the hospital instead. She laid b y the side of Hana's pearly white hospital bed and talked nonstop
like a little lark.

"Madam Sharpe, no, you are my aunt now. Aunt Hana, are you feeling happier today?"

The six-year-old little girl had been running over to console her every day. The members of the Smith family had also been

Hana was incredibly moved by them. At the age of forty, Hana finally truly felt the care from her husband's family.

Hana gently stroked Aino's head. "I am already much better. Aino, if you keep running here and there like this, you will make me worried, do you understand?"

Aino looked smug. "I am already six years old, Aunt Hana! I will be going to elementary school soon! Now, I can run all the way here by myself after Uncle Kingston dropped me at the entrance of the hospital. Actually, I already know how to

Kingston dropped her at the entrance of the hospital.

Actually, I already know how to get here from the entrance of my kindergarten!”

Kingston was only seen entering behind the little girl. He smiled. “
Master Zayn and Missus Smith,
the little princess is especially
good at remembering routes
now. I didn’t even have my navigation system on, and she knew which road to turn into.
She had been thinking of coming to visit her aunt every day as soon as school was over.”

“Thank you, Kingston. Thank you very much. Hurry up and send Aino home. I’m afraid that Sabrina would be worried,”
Hana said with concern.

“It’s fine. In a short while,
Missus Ford and Missus Poole

...anna would be worried,"
Hana said with concern.

"It's fine. In a short while,
Missus Ford and Missus Poole
will be coming to visit you together. They are stuck in traffic, but they should be here
shortly."

Hana was instantly surprised. "
Really?"

"Of course! Not only will they be here, it seems that Miss Mann and Yvonne are coming too. All o f them wanted to come visit you.
In the future, your ward would become more and more lively.
Even if you're put on bedrest to prevent miscarriage, you also
will not be too lonely."

Hearing those words, Hana was s

up. Just as she wanted to thank Kingston, an exclamation was heard coming from outside the door. "Oh!"

Everyone in the ward was so shocked that they all looked out
the door at the same time. Hana was startled. "What happened?"
