

Chapter 1849

Aino immediately tugged on Maysun's arm. "Miss Maysun, Miss Maysun, let me tell you. My Dad is actually in a very, very bad mood."

"What's wrong?" Maysun asked. Actually, she did not need to ask to know that it was because Sebastian's wife had been snatched away by someone.

Aino called out to Maysun softly. "Miss, come over here, and I will tell you."

Maysun then followed Aino out.

Aino looked miserable. "Miss Maysun, do you know? The man who snatched my mom away is not just anybody. He is my dad's younger twin brother. He is my uncle. My uncle was already in love with my mom when we were on Star Island back then. In fact, my mom..." Aino suddenly stopped mid sentence. She hung been so fierce to you. I just did not want others to snatch my mom's place away. But...but, I'm worried about my dad even more. Miss Maysun, may I please...ask you for a favor?" Aino raised her head and looked at Maysun with a pitiful expression.

Maysun was puzzled. "What favor? Go ahead. I will help you as long as it's something I could do."

'Actually, it's not that her head.

"What's the matter with your mother?" asked Maysun.

"No...nothing!" Aino kept shaking her head.

There was a pause before she looked at Maysun again. "Miss Maysun, my dad is in an immensely terrible mood today. I already knew that you and my dad go way back. Could you help me console him? I was wrong just now. I shouldn't have hard to win a child over!

Maysun sneered secretly.

"Miss Maysun, could you accompany my dad when my mom is not back yet? When my mom has returned, you just...return my dad to my mom. Could you? If you agree, I...will not curse and say that you're a mistress. I would even agree for you to be together with my dad," said Aino.

Maysun was speechless. At that moment, she f both worlds!

"Little girl! Who do you think your dad is? A king? He could just have the woman by his side be at his beck and call? You even wanted me to keep him accompanied when your mother is not around, but you wanted me to return him to your mother when he comes back. If it's according to what you said, then I'm just a temporary substitute," Maysun said deliberately.

turned out that the little girl was not targeting her when they were in front of her grandparents earlier on. She was just using her as an excuse to hold forth, and she was just trying to assert her dominance over her grandparents. Ha! As expected of a child.

Maysun could easily make her divulge everything on her mind with just a few simple words.

Maysun squatted and coaxed Aino softly. "Alright, alright, little Aino raised her head and looked at Maysun. "

Hmph! If you're not willing, then so be it! In any case, there will be many people coming over to pay their respects to my great-grandpa in a moment. There should certainly be someone as beautiful as you among them. I can just look for another beautiful woman!"

Maysun stuttered. "You..."

Aino was incomparably

own mother's marriage?
However, Aino apologized to her mother in her heart. 'I'm sorry, Mom.
I'm sorry! Dad and I are thinking of you and we just want to rescue you as soon as possible. I'm sorry, Mom. This is just a strategy. It's a strategy that Dad and I had discussed.'

Maysun was dumbfounded when she saw that Aino was so arrogant and spoke with such an unyielding tone.

Aino was right. There were countless women who wanted to steal her father away from her mother. Everyone wanted to take advantage of this opportunity to hurry up and snatch Sebastian away.

"Fine! I'll agree with you, but I'll have you know that I am only willing to temporarily go out with your father because I pitied you," said Maysun.

Aino immediately lit up. "

"Just now? You mean in front of my grandparents?"

"Aino asked.

"That's right!" said Maysun.

Aino pouted. "I hate everyone who is around my grandparents! I hate my grandparents! If you were to go near them again, I would still hate you! I absolutely would not let you approach my dad! Hmph!"

Maysun was speechless. She understood it! It and she also did not like her great-grandfather. She had a little bit of affection for her grandfather, but ever since her grandpa had tricked her, she hated him greatly. Therefore, she was even more reluctant to stay at the Ford Residence any further.

"Miss Maysun, are you willing to bring me along and sneak out to play? My dad can't leave this place, so he definitely wanted someone to watch over m e," said Aino with her head tilted.

"Aino, you're a very clever child and you are very defensive. You clearly could not stand the sight of me half an hour ago.

How could you suddenly have a change of attitude and even want me to take you out to play? Who are you trying to fool?"

Although Maysun did not have as many sinister thoughts as Lily, she also could figure out that this did not make sense.