

Chapter 1864

"Lily Parker! Are you here to die?" Ruth was holding a short wooden stick in her hand, and Yvonne was standing next to her.

Yvonne was also holding the same kind of wooden stick. The wooden sticks looked very solid at glance. Both the women approached Lily one step at a time.

"Lily Parker! I have not hit a person for a very long time, and my hand is itching for it now. If this small wooden stick were to land on your ass, no...I mean if it were to land on your face, try to guess if your face would be swollen to a size as huge as your ass?" asked Ruth, as she smiled and looked at Lily.

Lily was scared out of her wits. She was dumbfounded. "You... where did you come out from?"

of them during that period was to take care of Jane, as well as Zayn's wife, Hana, who was just nearby. It so happened that they had just gone out to help Hana buy some things, and they also wanted to buy some diapers and so on for Jane's child.

It was fortunate that they had not gone far. They were just at the store near the hospital that sold maternity essentials and infant supplies. Just as Parker! Ruth and I rushed over like mad because you're here! Both of our high heels fell off as we ran over! You b*tch! Didn't you see us not wearing any shoes? Ruth's bare foot was even cut by a stone! She even has something pricking her toe now! All of this will be on you today!"

However, what she did not expect was that Jane only calmly replied, "No need to call for a nurse. I can delay her for at least three minutes. I can even do up to six minutes. Don't worry."

"Jane, do you...have any good solutions? Lily is a reckless and perverted woman. How could you handle her? You have to protect yourself and your baby well. We'll be right there in another five minutes. We're running over like mad..." Yvonne asked.

Jane was still calm. "You have to rush over as soon as possible. I'm afraid that woman might be too cunning and I won't be able to deal with her alone in the end. However, I have to let that woman named Lily know what it means to be a mother!

You can offend anyone in the world! You just can't offend a mother! I have to let Lily have a taste of how great I can be today! I want to let her know what a tigerish woman is!"

What she said made them laugh. "Way to go, Aunt Jane. Do your best! You have to protect yourself well! Yvonne and I will be there in another four minutes!"
