hard, and her car flew forward like an arrow shot from a bow. However, the car did not even move more than fifty meters before plunging into a large sewer.

"Haha! Great success!" Aino laughed smugly behind the car.

Chapter 1868

Maysun, who had fallen into the sewer, was confused. At that moment, she felt like she was a hair's breadth away from death. Her mind was completely blank. After pausing for a few seconds, she remembered she had a hammer in her car. Immediately after that, she took the hammer and broke the glass window. When the glass broke, a pungent smell elegant young lady. However, you can't do it in the middle of the road. You have to stick a little closer to the side. Go to the side..."

Maysun just wanted to let Aino get down the car quickly and then go to the side. After that, Maysun would turn the car around and leave this desolate piece of land.

However, just when she started her car and was prepared to turn the car round to go back, a monster suddenly appeared next to her car door. That monster was hairy and was like a big gorilla. That monster looked at Maysun, who was in the driver seat, with an incredibly ferocious face. It also laughed very wickedly in her face. "Hahaha..."

Maysun was so frightened that she was covered in goosebumps. Her face became terrified and she shouted, "G-Ghost!"

At the same time, her foot slammed down in an instant. If that happened, then she truly would drown to death in the sewer that was not even a meter deep. Oh! Maysun had never been in such a wretched situation growing up!

She endured the pungent smell hung out of the car with half of her body inside the car and half of it out of the window. She shouted with all her might. "Help! Quickly help me! Aino, you d*mned thing. You'll die a horrible death..."

Aino, who was hiding in her Uncle Kingston's car on this end, was giggling. After that, she looked at Kingston with slight concern. "Uncle Kinston, would she ...die?"

"Do you wish for her to die?" Kingston asked.

Aino shook her head. "No, I don't."

Kingston was speechless. She was still a child after all, she was only six years old. She was still a very kind child. Even though she hated this woman who audaciously came to snatch away her mother's position, Aino still did not wish for this woman to die. The child was very soft hearted. She did become like a grown up, but she still was not as vicious and cruel like the adults.

Kingston suddenly felt heartbroken. He wrapped an arm around Aino, and whispered, "That won't happen, little princes. This sewer is very, very shallow. She won't die. Even if her car really did overturn, I will go and save her. Besides, in another few minutes, the garbage truck would be here. She will then be saved. She won't die."

Aino immediately raised her and looked at Kingston in relief. "Then, that's good, Uncle Kingston."

Kingston was speechless. He pulled the arm that was wrapped around Aino even tighter. He did not tell the little princess that Maysun, Lily, and Rose, the three of them had originally joined hands and wanted to throw Aino away. They even had the idea of getting Aino killed. The reason was that Aino was Sabrina's child. Aino was not easily disciplined. Aino was not close to Sean, and was even more distant to Rose. The harm that they had done to Aino was far more than what Aino did to them. To put it bluntly, no matter how cruel a child was, how could she be even more cruel than a few adults combined? If they wanted to blame someone, then they could only blame themselves for not being as smart as Aino and not having as many ideas as Aino.

However, at that moment, Kingston did not tell Aino anything. He did not want to make Aino sad and then make her appear even more like an adult than she had become a few days ago. She was still young. However, what she had experienced was enough to cause her pain. Kingston did not want to let Aino suffer any blows anymore. He only gently
