

Chapter 1832

On the other end of the call, Gloria had already been crying so hard that she could hardly speak. "Sabbie, I only have one request. Don't end your own life. You have to stay alive. You have to live on, alright, my child?"

Sabrina was speechless. 'Mom! Do you know how hard it is to stay alive?'

She was all choked up. "Mom, I ..."

"Stay alive! You have to stay alive! Don't let Aino be without a mother, don't me, an elderly woman, be without a daughter! I only have one daughter."

"Mom..." Sabrina said.

"Promise me, alright? I know only have one winter.

“Mom...” Sabrina said.

“Promise me, alright? I know that you can live on. Think of a way to live on, alright?” Gloria pleaded again. Sabrina was so heartbroken that she cried. At that moment, it was actually much easier if she were to die than to stay alive. If she did not manage to get a chance that time, then she could just find another chance again. She could still die and be relieved one day. However, what about her mother? Her mother had spent most of her life wandering out there. If were to lose her daughter at such an age, then she truly would suffer terribly. There was also Aino. Therefore, Sabrina agreed with difficulty. “Mom, I promise you. I will

Sabrina agreed with difficulty. "Mom, I promise you. I will certainly stay alive."

Her mother smiled instantly. "M m-hmm. That's my good daughter. Sabbie, I'm telling you that I will take care of Aino. You don't have to worry. You got it, my child?"

Sabrina nodded. "I got it, Mom. Mom, put Sebastian on the phone."

At that moment, Sebastian had already took over the call. "Sabrina, remember everything your mother had told you. You have to live well."

"Sebastian...Malvolio wants to seek revenge on you. You have to be careful."

"Listen up" Sebastian said " seek revenge on you. You have to be careful.”

“Listen up,” Sebastian said. “Stay alive and live well. I will rescue you as fast as I can. No matter what you’ve become, you’ll always be my beloved wife. Doesn’t matter what happens to our child. You just have to save yourself. Do you understand that?”

“Sebastian...” Sabrina was very touched. After a pause, her voice became incredibly soft. “Sebastian, I will be of one mind with you as a couple and we can coordinate from both inside and outside.”

Just as Sabrina said that, she saw Malvolio, who had already been bandaged up, walking out of the cabin.

cabin.

"I'm hanging up," said Sabrina.

Malvolio had already approached her when she ended the call. He then snatched Sabrina's phone out of her hand. Sabrina had ended the call, but he could still call the number. After a short while, the person on the other end picked up the call and it was still Sebastian's voice. "Sabrina ..."

"Sebastian, I hope you've been well!" said Malvolio. 📞

Sebastian's tone was very calm. "Hello, Malvolio."

"Aren't you worried?" asked Malvolio.

"Worried about what?" asked Sebastian.

"Worried about what?" asked Sebastian.

Malvolio laughed hysterically. "Haha! Sebastian, it's so rare to see that you will also end up like this one day! Do you know how long have I waited for a day like today? It was your younger twin brother who had given me this opportunity! Not only do I have your younger twin brother in my hand now, but I also have your wife! Sebastian, your brother only knew that you had been going against him, so he wanted to lure me to the island and work together with me to go against you. He said as long as he could have you dealt with and as long as he could marry your wife, then the entire island would be mine. On the other hand, he only wanted a small piece of an estate and the rest of his life with

On the other hand, he only wanted a small piece of an estate to spend the rest of his life with his wife. However, your brother did not know that you did not besiege him. That large ship of yours which was parked off the island was simply filled with supplies, and all of those supplies were for him.”

Malvolio spoke with a bright and loud voice. Holden, who was in the cabin, heard everything clearly through the curtain. He was shocked, so much so that his entire body was frozen. He was so shocked that he did not even feel the pain when the bullet was taken out from behind his knee.

That turned out to be the truth! It turned out that Sebastian had never intended to attack him. It turned out that that ship was full was shocked, so much so that his entire body was frozen. He was so shocked that he did not even feel the pain when the bullet was taken out from behind his knee. 1

That turned out to be the truth! It turned out that Sebastian had never intended to attack him. It turned out that that ship was full of supplies that could enrich his island. It was Rose who had lied to him.