Never Late, Never Away Chapter 2438 - 2440

Never Late, Never Away Chapter 2438

"Aww, don't be like that, Caiden. After all, I'm going to work here in the future," Noelle said kittenishly.

Hearing that, Caiden felt his blood ran cold.

Is she kidding me? This is the Owens family's company. What can she do here?

"Since you're here for work, why can't I be here?" she asked while pursing her lips.

Well, she's right in that no one can stop her from coming here. But why must she come here without giving me a heads-up first? A cold glint flashed within Caiden's eyes.

This is too much! Noelle works here but didn't tell me about it in advance!

"What's wrong? Are you not happy to see me here?" she suddenly asked.

Do I have to state the obvious? When was I ever happy to see her? How could she be so delusional?

"Noelle, why are you here? Get on with your work, and don't mess around. It won't be good if other employees see it," Jaden came up to and reminded her.

"Alright. Caiden, I'll get going then!" With that, Noelle left the office.

Caiden stood still as he stared at Jaden coldly with his piercingly sharp eyes. Knowing that Caiden was angry, Jaden decided not to explain it.

"These are all the documents you need. Please take a look." He turned around and left as soon as he finished.

"Why is Noelle here?" Caiden got straight to the point.

Noelle has been pestering me for a long time. I don't want her to continue messing with me for the rest of my life!

"Your mom asked her to come work here. She said Noelle is meticulous enough to deal with some administrative work," Jaden replied.

How on earth is she meticulous? She had the personality of an obnoxious shrew. Why would Mom ever think that she's an elegant lady? What a joke!

"I know that you aren't fond of her, but she's actually serious at work," Jaden explained.

Fine. I'll let it pass. Since she's your sister, you'll surely protect her, thought Caiden.

"Why are you leaving again? I don't want to see you leave." In the room, Joan hugged Larry tightly and refused to let go.

"I came back this time for you. Now that our problems are solved, I have to go deal with other matters," Larry answered while stroking her hair.

He had gone abroad last time because Mr. Lancaster, an overseas manufacturer who partnered with Larry's company, was framed. However, he immediately stopped his work and came back right after receiving Jessica's call.

"In that case, take care of yourself. Also, don't look at the beautiful ladies there," Joan said softly while putting on a necktie for Larry.

"When did I ever look at other beautiful ladies? Rest assured that there'll be only one woman in my life— you."

Hearing that, Joan was elated and touched.

She loved him more than life itself, and so did he.

"Alright, I have to leave now. Stay at home and take care of Lucius, Delilah, and yourself. Call me whenever you have a problem," Larry said and patted her shoulder.

"Don't worry. I'll take good care of them."

Larry eventually left. Same as last time, Larry made the arrangement of leaving Caspian in the country to protect Joan and the rest.

“Larry, are you sure you don’t need me to go with you?” Caspian asked while carrying Larry’s briefcase.

“I need you to stay here to take care of their safety. Be mindful of any possible dangers no matter if they are at home or in the office,” Larry said in a hurry.

“Larry, why don’t you let me go with you? There must be something that I can do to help you,” Jessica suddenly said.

However, Caspian was reluctant to see her leave. Since when has she become so kind-hearted? Caspian peered at the woman but said nothing.

“I won’t mind that at all but I’m worried that someone will be pissed off if I take you with me.” Larry glanced at Caspian as he spoke.

“It’s fine. Don’t worry. I can go with you as long as Joan is okay with it,” Jessica replied.

Men should be more magnanimous than women. Jessica flashed a smile at Caspian. She believed that Caspian wouldn’t have a bee in his bonnet about her leaving.

However, she overlooked the fact that men could be jealous too.

“No, it’s okay. Just stay here and don’t go abroad. It’ll be troublesome if I have to take care of you over there,” Larry said.

“Larry, aren’t you looking down on me a little too much? I just wanted to be of help! Forget it. I don’t want to talk to you anymore,” Jessica replied disgruntledly.

Her cuteness made Caspian grinned.

“Alright, stop flirting with each other. I’m not a three-year-old kid, you know...” Larry complained.

Caspian scratched his head awkwardly. On the other hand, a bright red blush bloomed across Jessica’s cheeks.

After Larry board the plane, only Jessica and Caspian were left.

“Let’s go,” she said loudly and pretended to look relaxed.

“Jessica, have you made up your mind?” Caspian suddenly asked from behind.

Upon hearing the question, Jessica stopped in her tracks and became nervous.

“What do you mean?” she deliberately asked, her body was stiff, and she felt as if she couldn’t move an inch.

“How long do you want me to wait? A year? Two years? The rest of my life?”

Jessica was at a loss for words, for she didn’t expect Caspian to say such things all of a sudden.

Although she loved him, she couldn’t choose to be with him now.

“Caspian, can we not dwell on this? I’m tired and want to go home to get some rest.” With that, Jessica turned to leave.

“Jessica, how long are you going to dodge this? I’m sure that you’re aware that I’m waiting for you. Besides, you’re fond of me, too, don’t you?” Caspian raised his voice.

So? Does he want me to just be together with him immediately? That’s impossible! I have so many things to do, including developing my career!

“Jessica, can you not bury your head in the sand? Since we both love each other, why can’t we be together?” As Caspian spoke, he pulled her into his arms and gazed at her affectionately.

Is he getting impatient because he has been waiting for too long? After a while, Jessica slowly raised her head and gazed at him apologetically.

“Caspian, I’m sorry to keep you waiting. But...” Jessica faltered.

I have to devote my time to my career!

“I understand that you wish to develop your career, and I would never stop you from doing it. In fact, I can wait for you. However, can you please stop pushing me away?” Caspian said affectionately.

His words moved her.

Standing in the airport, the couple looked happy as they embraced each other.

“Caspian, I’ve heard that you’re dating Jessica now?” Nancy was gossiping about it excitedly in the living room.

Although their relationship was over a long time ago, deep down, Nancy still felt guilty toward him. Back then, she hurt him because of her capriciousness. Now that he had finally found his true love, it was only natural that she would be happy for him.

“Who did you hear this from? Don’t talk nonsense,” Caspian replied.

“Come on, why don’t you admit it? I mean, Jessica has admitted it, so why are you still hesitating to tell me?” Nancy teased him.

In actuality, she only intended to sound Caspian out, for she hadn’t seen Jessica for quite some time.

“Is that true? Did Jessica really tell you that we’re dating?” Caspian came up to Nancy and asked cautiously with a hopeful expression.

Nonetheless, he still had his doubts. Even though Larry and Joan could see that they were in love, Jessica had told him to keep it a secret.

“Well, judging from your facial expression, it appears that you guys are really together,” Nancy giggled suddenly.

Never Late, Never Away Chapter 2440

She tricked me! Caspian shook his head and heaved a sigh.

She's always so mischievous and loves gossip.

"Stop laughing at me. Anyway, for now, we're just going with the flow," he said.

What do you mean by going with the flow? That is just an excuse! Nancy glanced at him but didn't speak.

She believed that Caspian and Jessica would end up together.

"What are you chatting about? You guys look happy," Joan asked as she approached them with a smile on her face.

"Joan, Caspian has some news to share," Nancy blurted.

"That's enough. Why do you love to gossip so much? I mean, you're already a mom now, yet you still like to tittle-tattle," Caspian murmured.

"Caspian, that's where you're wrong. Any news about you is important news!" Joan interrupted.

"Yes, it is. After all, Caspian is important to all of us, particularly when it comes to his marriage."

As the two women took turns to tease him, Caspian felt rather awkward.

Since Jory went to his company, the only people left in the villa was them and the kid.

"Hey, lower your voice. The kid is still sleeping," Caspian reminded.

"Don't worry. My daughter is a good girl and always sleeps soundly."

With that, the two women continued to grill Caspian for more details with no intention of letting him go.

All women are the same! Regardless of their age, they still love gossiping about others.

“So, tell us what happened that made your relationship took off so fast?” Joan got straight to the point.

“Not much, actually,” Caspian murmured.

The next moment, the two women burst into laughter.

They were only trying to sound Caspian out but were surprised that he fell for it so easily.

“Hear that, Joan? As I said, he has some good news but doesn’t want to share it with us. How can he be so petty, am I right?” Nancy dissed.

As Joan looked at Caspian, her lips curled into a smirk while a glint flashed across her eyes.

“Let me be the one to share the news, then!” Suddenly, Jessica walked over to them slowly.

Shocked to see her here, Caspian immediately stood up to welcome her.

“Why are you here?” he whispered.

“I asked her to come,” Nancy interjected.

Jessica swept her gaze around her surroundings before sitting down beside Joan, looking composed as though nothing happened just now.

“Alright. It’s time to spill it, then!” Joan said as she gave Jessica a nudge.

“Why do I have to state the obvious? As you can see, we’re together now. However, we’re keeping our relationship a secret for now,” Jessica answered bluntly.

Caspian couldn’t help but feel excited upon hearing her words. She finally admits to it!

“So, when will you guys make it public?” Nancy asked.

“We’ll make it public once I have a stable career. As of now, the time isn’t ripe yet,” Jessica replied.

Joan and Nancy were aware that Jessica was a career-focused woman. They understood how the latter had to rely on herself to be successful since her parents had passed away while her relatives avoided her.

“Okay. Caspian, you mustn’t bully Jessica, you hear? Apart from that, no matter at home or work, you must help her and bear the responsibilities of a man!” Nancy decided to give Caspian some gentle reminders.

She admired Jessica’s personality and treated Jessica as her true friend. As such, she wouldn’t allow anyone to bully or make things difficult for Jessica.

“Nancy, what are you talking about? I’ll certainly take care of my girlfriend, you don’t have to be worried about her,” Caspian answered, his gaze determined as he pulled Jessica into his arms.
