One Night Stand With The Uninvited Wolf President Chapter 31

Chapter 31 Kill Him and Everyone Will Be Free

Ceres struggled hard. She wanted to shout at the masked man, but her mouth was covered.

The man dragged her into the corridor and let go directly. Ceres just saw Mike when he was ready to shout.

“It is me!” Mike shouted in a low voice.

Ceres did not understand why Mike did this. “What are you going to do?”

Mike winked at the man just now, and the man went directly outside the corridor as if he was on sentry duty.

“Do you want to be free from the Winsors?” Mike lowered his voice and looked serious.

Ceres did not know what he was up to. “Of course, I have thought about it. I’m like at the jail.”

“Well, do as I say.” Mike curled her finger towards Ceres, and Ceres turned her head. When she heard Mike’s words, her eyes suddenly enlarged, and she stepped back.

“You want me to...”

“Keep your voice down!” Mike immediately yelled.

Ceres didn’t finish her words and seriously looked at Mike.

Mike stuffed a bottle of medicine into Ceres’s hand, “As long as you add this to Johnny’s nutrient solution, you can kill him unnoticed. Even if Johnny’s family carries out an autopsy, they will not find any problems. What’s more, Johnny is a vegetable and he couldn’t live for more years. Johnny is the precious son of his family, they cannot do an autopsy.”

Ceres still could not accept Mike’s idea of killing Johnny. She was shaking all over. She thought she had been fearless since she was a child, but at that moment, she was suddenly so afraid.

“When Johnny dies, I will take you back from the Winsors. In addition, I will continue to help you with your father. I have started to apply for re-examination of the case of that year, and there should be results in a few days.” Mike went on to say.

When she heard about her father, Ceres came to her senses. “Will it be on trial again?”

“Of course, I have the best lawyer, and the application has been submitted, but I can withdraw it at any time.” Mike raised his eyebrows.

Ceres understood that Mike was threatening her. Once she did not do it, Mike would withdraw the application.

She tried to keep herself calm. "Let me think about it first. After all, it involves killing someone."

Mike smiled sarcastically. "Johnny is only barely alive. He is not a human being. It is more painful to live like this than to die. Maybe he is looking forward to someone that could give him an end. When he dies, he will be relieved."

Ceres looked at Mike's scary face, but what Mike said was also reasonable. In Johnny's situation, it was more painful to live than to die. Sometimes living was no easier than dying.

"Are you sure this thing will not be found out?" Ceres shook the medicine bottle in her hand.

"No, if they found out, I cannot escape either. I will not do such a stupid thing."

"I will ... think about it." Ceres left with a medicine bottle.

She washed her face in the bathroom to calm herself down. She looked at herself in the mirror, which seemed to say, "Do it, your father can be released from prison, and you can be freed from Johnny. You can pursue your dreams ..."

The masked man outside was anxious. Ceres walked out of the bathroom, and he suddenly pulled her hard.

“What are you doing?”

“Don’t talk!” The masked man suddenly covered her mouth

Chapter 32 What About

Ceres held her breath and saw the masked man poking his head out of the wall. He seemed to be observing someone, and Ceres also carefully poked her head out, curious about what was happening, then she saw Mary!

Mary snuggled up in a man’s arms, looking like an innocent girl. She pounded the man’s chest with a sweet bite, and her mouth seemed to say “hateful.”

The two people were in front of a jewelry counter, which should be choosing jewelry. They look very closely, just like a couple in love.

Ceres had never heard of Mary falling in love before. After all, she had been with Mary for so many years. Ceres also knew Mary very well. In school, Mary had a lot of suitors. But she was too proud and she often made fun of or tease those suitors.

Mary was always proud that she was the daughter of the Morris family, and she was beautiful, so she always felt that she needed to marry the most handsome and rich man in the world.

She felt that if Mary was born in ancient times, she's sure that she would not marry anyone except the emperor. However, when she looked at the man carefully, she felt that he was familiar. The man was handsome, but she felt rage all over her body.

The two people seemed to be not very satisfied with these jewels, so they left. When they left, the man's hand was pinched on Mary's waist. Mary beat the man and left talking and laughing.

"Who is that man?"

"Mr. Henry..." The masked man quickly added.

"You mean Johny's brother?" Ceres immediately covered her mouth.

That was to say, Mary collided with Johny's younger brother, and now Ceres probably understood why Mike could not wait for Johny to die.

The Winsors had two sons. The choice of an heir had not been announced for a long time. Because Jack felt that his eldest son, could still wake up. He had high hopes for Johny. If Johny was gone, the Winsors would only have Henry as an heir.

That time Mary and Henry were together. Mike wanted to completely relieve worries for Henry, so Henry would become the heir of the Winsors. Mary would marry Henry, and he would be Henry's father-in-law.

What a calculation!

“Mr. Henry has always wanted to hurt Mr. Johny, so we should be careful.” The masked man turned his head and looked at Ceres and found that she was waiting for a while. “What are you thinking?”

Ceres suddenly returned her consciousness. “No, nothing, then let’s hurry and go back.”

“All right.” The masked man did not want to meet Henry, so he simply drove back with Ceres.

Ceres froze all the way and did not say a word. The masked man asked her what was wrong, but she just said nothing, maybe she was tired of shopping.

After returning, she went directly back to her room and talked to herself with the big rooster in her arms.

“My husband, what do you think I should do?”

Although Ceres knew that Mike did this for Mary and the Morris family, it was also good for her too. She could leave here early and work hard again. And maybe she could strive to become an exchange student next year so that her father could go out quickly.

But if she needed to kill Johny, she really could not start anew. After all, it was murder.

What to do?

She was at a loss while holding the bottle of medicine.

Chapter 33 Get Me Out of Here!

Late night.

The masked man found Ceres standing on the balcony in pajamas, and the wind blew her scattered long hair. He thought she wouldn't come out. He didn't expect her to be here so late.

"Why are you wearing so little clothes here outside? Are you not afraid of catching a cold?"

Ceres did not speak. He thought that she's not acting quite right. It started when they went to the mall earlier, and after she went to the bathroom, she was acting a little weird.

He approached her and smelled alcohol. "Have you been drinking again?"

Ceres did not move or did speak.

The masked man gently put his hand on Ceres's shoulder. "What happened?"

Suddenly Ceres hugged him at once. "Get me out of here!"

He was surprised. At first, he did not know where to place his hands. This was the first time that Ceres threw herself at him. His hands slowly fell on her back. Through a thin layer of pajamas, he could feel the cold of her body and felt her shivering.

“What happened?”

Ceres just held the masked man tightly without saying a word. He became more and more curious. What happened in the bathroom? Or did she just drink a little wine, thinking that it was not worth marrying Johnny? She regretted it, and she wanted to escape.

The masked man gently held Ceres’s face up. “Tell me, what happened?”

Ceres’s watery eyes were shining and her delicate red lips were like sweet fruits waiting to be picked, making the masked man wanted to taste the sweet taste himself.

He stroked her face and slowly lowered his head.

Ceres knew what he wanted to do, but she did not know if it was because she drank wine that her own body seemed to be out of control.

His lips fell gently on hers. That soft and sweet lips once again stimulated his desire! Just when he wanted to go further, Ceres suddenly pushed him away. “I drank too much!”

After speaking, Ceres quickly ran back to her room.

The masked man stood in place and hit the railing with his fist.

He would be cuckolded soon, and this cuckolded hat was still put on by himself, which was really ironic.

Johny suddenly felt very funny. He used another identity to contact her and approach her. When he found out that she was slowly falling for him, he felt a little crazy.

Ceres returned to her room and curled up into a ball. She patted her face gently. "What am I doing?"

She was really a little depressed, so she stole the wine in the wine cabinet to drink, but this time she knew the discretion and did not drink much.

"Ceres, Ceres, you never want to be a coward, and this time it is the same! Now that things have happened, face it!" She said to herself.

The masked man was about to leave when he found Ceres added another piece of clothes and came back.

"You come to my room. I have something very important to tell you."

Chapter 34 Kill Him

He snorted. Ceres had been unwilling for him to go to her room before. He always said that men and women should keep some distance to avoid affairs. This time, she offered to let him go to her room.

So, she really decided to seduce him?

The masked man strode into Ceres's room. As soon as he entered the door, Ceres took out a medicine bottle from the drawer and handed it to the masked man. He was puzzled.

"What?"

"Medicine." Ceres looked cold. "Medicine that can kill people."

The masked man's pupil reflected a sharp light. "What do you mean?"

"Didn't you ask me what happened? I met Mike when I went to the bathroom."

"Mike?"

"Yes, he is not my dad at all. He is my stepfather. I am not Mary Morris. My name is Ceres Taylor. Mike is reluctant to marry his daughter off, so he let me marry instead of her. The one we met in the mall was the real Mary." Ceres simply said everything in one breath.

The masked naturally asked, "What does he want from you?"

"Kill Johny." Ceres said calmly, "Just use this medicine. He said that it can be done unnoticed. You also saw Mary and Henry together. I think Mike wants to help Henry. If Johny is dead, Henry will become the only heir. At that time, Mike can become Henry's father-in-law."

Everyone in the world wanted to have contact with the Winsors. Becoming relatives with the Winsors was equivalent to having a backer that no one could shake.

"He said that if Johny died, I could be freed from here, and I could continue to go to school and continue my own life." Ceres sighed and sat on the bed. She did not say anything about her father. After all, it involved her father, and she did not dare to say it rashly.

"You cannot do it, and you want me to take you out of here?" Asked the masked man tentatively.

Ceres shook his head. "I just had a whim and did not mean anything else. I really do not know what to do now."

The masked man was as calm as ever, like stagnant water that could not excite any ripples.

"Anyway, he's barely alive. You can do it unnoticed and just got rid of him. You are so young that you cannot be trapped here all your life. To tell the truth, he is a vegetable, so it is possible for him to live for seven years, eight years, or even ten years and twenty years. At that time, you are no longer young."

Ceres looked at the masked man in consternation. She did not expect him to say that.

“How could you...”

“What I said is true, is it not? You are still so young, there is no need to spend time here. He is dead. It will be a relief for him. He just cannot talk. If he can talk, who knows if he wants to die?” Said the masked man.

Ceres could not say a word.

Probably everyone in the world would think so too, was that idea correct?

Was she wrong?

She should listen to Mike and kill Johny, which was a relief for everyone. But she still hesitated. No, to be exact, she thought it was wrong!

The masked man saw Ceres hesitated and walked out of the room directly. “Think about it yourself. This is for your own good.

Chapter 35 Who Stole Her Medicine?

Ceres was sitting in her room. She still decided that she could not do it!

Although Johny was a vegetable, he had a trace of thoughts as long as he was alive. As long as he had breath, he had the possibility of waking up, and no one could make any decisions for him.

Everyone thought that Johnny's death was a relief, but what if Johnny wanted to live?

Ceres firmly believed that she was right! She lay in bed with a deep sigh of relief, she made a decision. She would not do what Mike said. She could not harm Johnny because of herself and her father. If her father knew that she had done this, he would never forgive her.

The night passed by, and Ceres slept very soundly, she did not even have a nightmare.

In the morning, she got up according to the previous time, packed herself up, prepared Johnny's washing utensils, and went directly to Johnny's room, only to find that the bed was empty.

That was the second time to see that the bed was empty. Ceres turned around and saw Adam standing behind her. Adam looked sad.

"Where is Johnny?"

"Mr. Johnny he..." Adam sighed. "The alarm rang again last night. We urgently sent Mr. Johnny to the hospital. He entered the intensive care unit. The doctor said he was in a bad situation this time."

Ceres's basin instantly landed and fell to the ground with a heavy sound.

"How could..."

"You don't have to be too sad. This is his fate. He has been lying in bed for more than three years. Maybe this is better than suffering like this."

“No, it will not. Why all of a sudden...”

“Have a good rest today. You are too tired to take care of Mr. Johnny recently. Let us wait for news here.” Adam sighed deeply and left the room.

Ceres froze in place. ‘Is this the so-called fate?’ She thought to herself

Just when she felt that no one could decide for Johnny. Just when Johnny might want to live, he suddenly died. Was he really unwilling to live?

Ceres’s eyes suddenly enlarged, she quickly ran back to her room, and then opened the drawer! Her medicine was gone!

“No, I must have been put it somewhere else!” Ceres rummaged back and forth in the drawers. She even opened all the drawers. But she was not in there for a long time. She did not have many things, and the stuff in the drawer was clear. After searching, she confirmed that the medicine was missing.

“Who stole my medicine? It can’t be Mike, right? Maybe he arranged someone else?” At that time, Ceres suddenly thought of one person, the masked man!

He said yesterday that Johnny’s death might be a relief. Did he steal the medicine and ended Johnny’s life?

Ceres lost her balance and suddenly collapsed on the ground. This must not be true. It must be a dream.

At that time, Mike called, and she answered the phone.

“Ceres, I cannot believe that you are really so fast. Johnny has already entered the intensive care unit. It is estimated that he will die today. You can rest assured that what I promised you will be done. You just wait.”

Chapter 36 How Are You Going to Reward Me?

Mike hung up the phone without waiting for Ceres to speak.

Ceres was completely confused! She had been very sure that the masked man stole his medicine and put it into the nutrient solution for Johnny!

It was really over.

Office of the President.

Henry sat on the chair and turned around several times. His hand stroked the chair, which symbolized status and power.

Although Henry had been acting as president for three years when Johnny was in a vegetative state, he was an agent, and there was still a step away from becoming the real president.

The next day was the moment when the Winsor Group would announce the position of president, and he would really sit in the position soon. Never before had he felt that the chair really belonged to him.

Johny entered the intensive care unit, the doctor said his life was now completely maintained by machines. That was to say, he had only two days.

“Three years, I finally have waited for you to die!” Henry laughed in the office. He could finally truly become the master of the Winsors.

“Knock, knock-” the sound of knocking at the door. “Come in!” Henry shouted, cocked his legs, and looked condescending.

The secretary walked into the office with Mary. “Mr. Henry, Miss Mary is looking for you.”

Henry had always disliked Mary going into his office. After all, before he became the real president, he still needed to pretend, but now it was different. He winked at the secretary and hooked his fingers towards Mary.

Mary sat directly on his thigh and put her hands around his neck as soon as he passed. “My dad said that Johny will die soon. I cannot wait to come here after I found out about this.”

“My dear cutie is quite well informed!” Henry’s hand stroked Mary’s leg restlessly.

Mary pouted. “He should die, right?”

“His body is as feeble as a piece of paper. He only needs to push it gently, and it will be scattered. He entered the intensive care unit. Take it easy.”

Mary immediately beamed when she heard this. “That’s all thanks to me. How will you reward me?”

Henry looked at her charming little face and pinched it hard on her chin. “What credit do you want?”

“I want you to marry me!”

Henry curled his lips and smiled. “Baby, are you too impatient?”

“I gave you my first time, don’t you want to marry me? If you do not marry me, then you do not have a conscience!” Mary poked Henry’s chest.

“Then we need to do it for the second time, the third time, and the fourth time. What do you think?” Said Henry directly. Mary picked up and walked towards the back lounge.

Soon there was the sound of a man and a woman breathing and having sex in the room.

The next day, the sun was shining brightly.

That day was an important day. Because starting that day, a new Chapter would be open for them, because that day, the Winsor Group would announce the successor and the new president.

In the conference room, many people had come, and everyone was whispering and talking about succession.

Everyone knew that Johny was admitted to the hospital because of an unexpected situation yesterday. It was estimated that the Winsor Group would announce the news of Johny's death today.

Chapter 37 Proclamation of the Heir

Henry finally appeared in a black suit. When he entered the conference room, he was firm and sad as he slowly walked.

Many people came forward. "Do you know how is Mr. Johny? You are..."

Henry sighed deeply at first. "My brother's situation is not very good. I should not have come to this meeting today. But we've decided this meeting a long time ago, and I cannot live up to everyone's expectations."

"Yes, do not be too sad. After all, it has been three years since Johny became a vegetable. It is also a relief for him to go early, isn't it?"

"Johny put all his heart is all in the Winsor Group. Mr. Henry, please stop mourning and complete the unfinished business so that Mr. Johny in heaven would be relieved."

Henry looked up with sadness in his eyes. "Yes, I have no talent. I hope you can look at try your best to support me and complete my brother's unfinished business."

"Yes, we will do our best!"

Everyone echoed and expressed their heartfelt wishes.

Everyone there had their very own thoughts. They did not care who was sitting in the position. They only cared if they could get the best. Johny used to be flattered by these people in the past too.

Henry took his seat, and his heart was already full of joy. From that moment on, he would become the master of the Winsor Group.

Jack entered the conference room accompanied by lawyers and secretaries, and the entire conference room suddenly became silent. Everyone knew Jack had been carefully cultivating Johny. Even if Johny became a vegetable, he did not give up on him, so no one dared to show any joy, and they all had a tight face.

Henry saw his father coming, so he got up and nodded at him. Jack gave him a sign to sit down.

Jack also sat in the position of chairman. Jack was 60 years old. Years ago, he worked hard for his career. When he had Johny, he was already 30 years old. Although Jack was sixty years old, more than half of his hair was white. After Johny became a vegetable, he aged faster.

“Today’s meeting officially begins.” The secretary announced the opening of the meeting.

Everyone sat upright. For these people, that day’s meeting, they were all just observers. They were nothing more than just confirming certain news.

Jack cleared his throat. “Presumably, everyone is very concerned about who is the next heir of the Winsor Group. Before that, my eldest son Johny was in charge of the entire group. He made splendid efforts and worked hard to lead the Winsor Group a new level. However, my son was unfortunate. A car accident made him a vegetable. Although I worked hard with the doctor’s team for a long time, I still couldn’t wake him up. But the Winsor Group cannot be without an owner for a day. It is getting harder for me to do things as I get older, so today I want to announce a major decision.”

Jack choked when he said this.

Maybe he was really old, or maybe he had experienced too much and could not stand tossing anymore.

“I declare...”

The secretary’s cell phone suddenly rang, and everyone frowned subconsciously. For such an important meeting, everyone must turn off their mobile phones, but Jack’s secretary had made a big taboo.

But what they did not expect was that Jack grabbed the mobile phone and answered the phone. “What did you say? Did he wake up? Good, good...”

Chapter 38 War Begins

Jack hung up the phone and said into the microphone, “We will have to postpone the meeting today.”

Then he left the conference room in a hurry like a child. He left the people in the conference room looking at each other. Because Jack’s microphone was still on, everyone heard him clearly over the phone.

“What do you mean? Who is awake? Is he more or less awake?”

“My goodness, he is not awake, is he?”

“If he woke up, it must be a miracle!”

Everyone was talking noisily, and the entire conference room was in a mess. Henry was very close to Jack's position. He naturally listened clearly, and his eyes were even shaking.

How was that possible?

Shouldn't Johnny die in two days? Why did he wake up? No, it could not be true, it must be a mistake, and it must be!

Henry clenched his fists and could not sit still any longer. He got up and left the conference room directly. He must find out what was going on.

Outside the intensive care unit of the hospital, the doctor was reporting Johnny's situation to Jack. In the past, the doctor always looked serious, but today he was quite different, and he got a smile on his face that was hard to hide.

"It amazed me with the critically ill patient's recovery and with the patient's stimulation! Mr. Jack, this is simply a medical miracle!"

Jack was shaking all over. His son woke up?

"Doctor, do you mean what you said? My son, he is truly alive."

"Mr. Jack, do not get excited. He has woken up. His vital signs are back to normal, although he has been lying in bed for three years. He just woke up and needs close observation, so he is still in the intensive care unit for the time being. We will observe him for another day. If there is nothing wrong tomorrow, it will prove that he is good."

Jack was in tears at that moment, and the secretary hurriedly helped him. "Chairman, this is a good thing!"

"Yes, this is good!"

Hiding in the dark, Henry had heard the news, and he hit the wall with his fist.

In the past three years, he had been trying to assassinate Johny. But it was a pity that Jack had protected him so well that Henry could not succeed. Originally, he thought Johny could not wake up as a vegetable, but it surprised him when he woke up!

His eyes sparkled with resentment.

"Johny, were you born to be against me? I will surely not let you go, definitely not!"

He looked at Jack's exciting appearance and left with resentment!

When he left the hospital, he looked up at the sky. It was still sunny in the morning, but now it looks cloudy and dark as if heavy rain was about to fall.

Even God was crying for him. He must take everything back from Johny.

“Cheers!” There was a joyful sound of celebration.

The most exciting one was Bill. “Johny, you did not see it. Henry’s face was so ugly. That was right, and I have never seen him so angry before!”

Bob chuckled and smiled, but he was much more stable than Bill.

“Johny, after you announced you woke up, the war officially started. You should have a plan, right?”

Bob turned to look at Johny, and his face was gloomy and terrible.

Chapter 39 Isn’t This What You Want?

“Can you stop always talking about plans? Let’s just celebrate for now. Everyone, please drink.” Bill drank up his wine.

Bill put down his glass and filled Johny’s glass, “But this time, thanks to the old Mike, he even thought of using that ugly monster to drug my Johny, just let us seize the opportunity and go back to this matter. Let’s look into it thoroughly, and remove the Morrises.”

Hearing those words, Johny looked up and drank another glass of wine.

Bob winked at Bill assiduously, but Bill looked at Bob with some ignorance. “Am I wrong? By the way, Johny, your role-playing is very successful. That ugly woman wants to poison you, and then run away with another you. If she knows that you are one all along, she might get annoyed.”

Johny suddenly dropped his glass, which startled Bill.

“Johny, what’s the matter? Shouldn’t you be happy?” Bill looked at Bob with incredulous eyes.

Bob shook his head, and he did not know what was wrong with Johny. Johny’s reactions shocked him.

Johny pretended to be a vegetable and had been dormant for three years. It was reasonable to say that it was time to announce his awakening, and he suddenly decided to wake up the other day without planning his next step.

“Maybe it has something to do with that woman.” Bob guessed.

“Oh, you mean that ugly woman? Johny must have been carried away by hatred with that ugly woman. I must introduce more women to him to change his taste later.”

Johny drove to Evian Town.

He had never been so angry that Ceres truly dared to drug him.

When she told him everything that night, he said it on purpose, just to see if she would kill him for her future, and she certainly tried. So, did she want to kill him and run away with the bodyguard now? He stepped the bottom of the gas pedal and the car engine roared.

Ceres had been waiting in her room, waiting until it was dark again, but there was still no news about Johny. She wanted to hear the news, but she was afraid at the same time. She was afraid to learn that Johny had passed away. She did not even dare to go out of her room. She felt guilty that if she had kept the secret, and did not tell the masked man about it. If she did not say that because she was drunk for a while, maybe nothing would have happened.

It was raining outside, there was thunder and lightning, adding a little more to her inner fear, she was curled up in a corner, and shivering with the cock in her arms. Suddenly, she looked up and found a figure appearing at her door, and she let out a cry.

A flash of lightning lit up the room, and she saw clearly that the man in front of her was the masked man. Ceres immediately stood up.

“So, you came back. I have got something to do...” Ceres’s words have not finished yet, and the masked man rushed forward in three steps, taking Ceres’s waist with one hand, raising her chin with the other hand, and kissing her directly.

Ceres froze!

She did not expect the masked man to kiss her as soon as he came back.

She came to her senses and pushed the masked man away. “What are you doing?!”

“Isn’t this what you want? To have someone take you out of here!”

Chapter 40 I Beg You, Don’t Do This

Ceres instantly understood what the masked man was saying as soon as she heard his words. The masked man stole her medicine and killed Johny, and he wanted to take her out of there! She did not need to ask anymore.

“How could you do such a thing? You...”

Ceres did not know what to say. After all, she once told the masked man to let him take her away while drinking. There was no way she would make a big mistake with just that one sentence.

When the masked man was in Ceres’s stupidity, he once again pushed her against the wall and kissed her crazily.

Ceres struggled to death, but she couldn’t beat the powerful hands of the masked man. The masked man clamped Ceres’s hands with one hand and held them high above her head, while the other hand directly reached inside her shirt.

At that moment, Ceres realized something, and she struggled more desperately. "Don't! Do not do this! Stop it right now!"

But the masked man did not seem to hear her cry.

The drunk masked men greedily sucked Ceres's soft and sweet lips, but he was not satisfied with the collision of her lips, and his hands directly tore her clothes open.

Ceres, who struggled desperately, had no strength, and she hardly ate those past two days.

The masked man was probably aware of Ceres's weakness. He let go of her hand, and then conveniently pulled and tear her coat.

Ceres felt insulted when she heard the sound of her cloth tearing apart!

"Do not do this! Will you stop?" Ceres's voice was almost imploring.

But as if he could not hear anything, the masked man tore open her coat and then her trousers. The cold forced Ceres to endure such humiliation. Suddenly, she looked up and saw a fruit knife on the table. While the masked man was kissing her body, she stretched out her hand hard and took the fruit knife.

"Go away!" Ceres stabbed the masked man's arm with the knife.

The masked man suffered from pain and retreated a bit. He covered his arm and saw Ceres gasping and holding a bloody fruit knife in her hand.

“Do not come near me!”

The masked man suddenly sneered. “Isn’t this what you want?”

When Ceres heard him, she felt like a knife was stabbed into her heart. Yes, she said that to him when she was drunk, and everything was her fault! She should not be doing this to the masked man. The masked man just got the wrong idea.

The masked man saw Ceres hesitate and immediately came forward. “Is this how you repay me?”

Ceres immediately raised the fruit knife. “Do not come any closer! If you do, I will die with you!”

The masked man’s eyes just flashed with a flash of panic, and then his lip corner hooked. “You finally got everything you want, and now you want to die!”

And he stepped forward again.

Ceres slipped the fruit knife toward her arm, and now blood flowed down her arm!

When he saw the blood flowing out, the masked man finally woke up. “Do not move!”

“Get out! Get out!” Ceres picked up the fruit knife and prepared to row it down on him.

“Do not move. I will go. I will go at once.” The masked man appeased Ceres and retreated slowly.

Ceres had been holding a fruit knife and looking at the masked man with resentment.

The masked man finally retreated to the door, “Ceres...”

“Fuck off!” Ceres roared.

The masked man knew that if he stayed, she would only do something more dangerous, so he turned his head and left.

Ceres threw away the fruit knife and sat down on the ground, holding her body, and crying bitterly.
