The Divorced Billionaire Heiress Boss

Chapter 1171

Read Chapter 1171 of The Divorced Billionaire Heiress-By I Wanna Eat Meat

No wonder in his sleep, Clayton did not hear any cooking movements in the kitchen. It turned out that Nicole bought all these from a private chef.

The taste of this private chef's food was very familiar, but when Nicole was looking at him earlier, Clayton did not notice this familiarity.

Clayton looked down at his stomach. 'I ate so much for nothing?'

He felt vexed yet funny.

Then, he gently packed up the things.

Before going to bed, Clayton sent a message to Nicole.

[Let's order from another private chef the next time for a change of taste.]

Nicole asked. [Didn't you love this restaurant?] Clayton suddenly choked. 'Did I love it?'

To Nicole, eating all of it was a sign of his love for the food. There was nothing wrong with that.

Clayton patiently replied. [I only love it because you brought it.]

Nicole's face was slightly hot.

[Okay, thanks for today...] Clayton replied. [...]

Nicole put down her phone and went to sleep. She never had much trouble sleeping. Even Yvette envied her good sleep.

Dominic Young was simply trying to rebel.

Logan listened to Nicole's words with fear and could not really concur.

Although Falcon Entertainment had a capital injection from Stanton Corporation, the real shareholder was Kai.

Kai might agree with Nicole's decision, but with Logan's status, he was absolutely not allowed to express any opinion on personnel changes even though Logan felt that Nicole was right.

After a while when Nicole's cursing gradually stopped, Logan only mustered up the courage to ask.

"President, now..."

Nicole coldly grunted. "Don't care about it first and let it be. Anyway, it's good to have hype. Once we turn around and reverse the situation, it'll also be in our favor."

Logan breathed a sigh of relief. "Okay, do you need me to send a car to pick you up?"

"No, I'll drive there myself," Nicole said and hung up the phone.

She picked a simple jumpsuit with suspenders that made her look young and full of energy.

Of course, one must first ignore the indifference in her eyes. Stanton Corporation.

Nicole finished the department meeting before she had time to read the latest developments online.

The trending topic #ArrogantHarvey had been online for three hours.

[How long has he whitewashed himself that he's now putting on airs?]

[Why are artists so self-conceited nowadays? Is it that great to be an artist?]

Nicole paused, raised her eyes, and looked at the bearded man in front of her. He was the one who chattered and cursed over the phone with Clayton yesterday?

Sully was also watching Nicole. He narrowed his eyes, stepped forward, and extended his hand.

"Ms. Stanton, nice to meet you."

Nicole smiled and walked over to shake hands with him. "Sully, I didn't expect you to come here in person. We spoke last night."

Sully shrugged his shoulders helplessly, looking like a helpless little old man.

"I know. I hung up the phone and bought a plane ticket just so I could come here to see who's coveting VJ Magazine. But it's an honor to meet you, Ms. Stanton. With your status, we're willing to sell our shares to you."

Nicole could not help but smile. This mature man had a slick tongue.

Sully probably negotiated the general terms already, so this flattery was to salvage his reputation.

“Thank you, I hope we can work well together in the future.” Nicole raised her eyebrows and spoke with a smile.

She shot Logan a look. Logan then immediately turned around and called Stanton Corporation’s lawyer to come and draw up the contract as fast as possible.

Sully looked at the scene and suddenly rubbed his temples helplessly.

“My God! It seems like it’s impossible not to sign the contract, huh? But there are some things I have to say beforehand...”

Nicole nodded and looked at him very seriously.

Sully continued, “The male artist you recommended is very questionable in terms of character. Even if he’s in our magazine, it won’t change anything, and our magazine won’t do any guarantee for him. Moreover, VJ is a fashion magazine. He doesn’t have any fashion brand endorsement under his name, nor does he have any fashion potential. It’s impossible for him to get on the cover with just a not-so-impressive face. Since you’re our soon-to-be shareholder, I’ve discussed this with the editors. At most, we can introduce him in a small section within the magazine...”

Sully held out his hand and gestured.

It was indeed tiny, and not worth mentioning.

However, for Harvey, this was already an extraordinary exception.

Opposite him, Nicole just sat there quietly with downcast eyes. Although she was smiling gently, it was clear that she was not satisfied with this request.

If not for the cover page, what was the point of her doing so much?

Everyone was only concerned about the cover model. The rest were merely “other people”.

Logan and the lawyer sat on the side, waiting for the result of their discussion.

After a long time, Nicole raised her eyes. Her smile was a little indifferent.

“Sully, I can well understand the conditions you’ve stated for the sake of VJ Magazine, but please believe that you won’t go wrong in choosing Harvey. None of those rumors about him are true, and the truth will soon be revealed. His commercial value lies in being a professional actor, not a fashion model. Most importantly, Sully, I also know that with his status, if he’s forcefully placed on the cover, it may backfire. So, I suggest getting him a partner.”

Sully looked at her in shock. This was something he had not expected.

“A partner?”

Nicole smiled. “Stanton Corporation’s previous spokesperson was Naomi. Since she retired from the circle, she no longer endorses any brand. If we get her to shoot the cover with Harvey, it’ll certainly have a good effect.”

Sully was stunned and immediately looked incredulous.

“That’s impossible. Naomi doesn’t accept any interview invitations in the circle. She hasn’t shot a magazine cover for almost ten years. How could she agree to this?”

Chapter 1173

Chapter 1173 Who's Scolding Him?

Kai hurriedly hung up the phone.

On the one hand, Dominic was considered his good friend, but on the other hand, Nicole was his sister.

Was it not clear whom Kai would side with?

In the office of Falcon Entertainment.

Dominic sneezed fiercely. 'Who's scolding me?'

Nicole hung up the phone and received Clayton's call.

"Baby, are you in a better mood today?"

"It was horrible! But I feel much better now that I received your call."

Nicole did not mean for this to sound romantic. However, Clayton did not know the inside story.

Clayton laughed in a low voice. "Turns out I have this kind of charm, huh? What an honor!"

Nicole thought, 'How can I still be in a bad mood when Kai just said that Clayton helped me so much? I'm really grateful!'

Clayton paused. His voice was warm.

"By the way, I have good news for you. You can send someone to approach VJ Magazine. Although you can't buy it completely, they have agreed to sell you two percent of their shares."

Nicole could not help but
