Chapter 1041 He's Extraordinarily Supportive of Us

After such an embarrassing situation last night, Nicole tossed and turned on the bed until midnight before she could fall asleep.

However, she was a president of a company, so she would not become so delirious just because of a kiss that she could not leave the house.

Nicole promised to take Lil Michael to school with Clayton, so she postponed her morning meeting.

She set an alarm clock and went out with a clear head as soon as it was time.

When the Sloan father and son arrived, Nicole smiled at Clayton and knelt down to greet Lil Michael.

"Good morning, new student!"

Lil Michael thought of last night's scene and felt disheartened.

However, when he thought about his father's warning earlier, Lil Michael still forced a smile no matter how bitter his heart was. The smile was formal and very perfunctory.

"Good morning, Pretty Lady..."

Lil Michael's heart was still uncomfortable. 'Pretty Lady said that she'll wait for me to grow up. How did she suddenly fall for my old Daddy? Pretty Lady didn't keep her promise!'

Nicole expected that Lil Michael would not be happy about what happened, but she did not expect that he would be this upset.

The boy's smile looked worse than crying.

Nicole stroked the boy's head. "When we get to school later, if you don't like it, just say s o."

Lil Michael's eyes lit up and nodded.

'Now, that's a happy face.' Nicole thought as she took Lil Michael's hand and led him to the car.

Lil Michael looked sorrowful as he sat in the car and listlessly bowed his head. Nicole ate the breakfast that Clayton brought her and was enjoying it.

Not long after, Clayton handed over a bottle of milk. "Eat slowly. Be careful, don't choke."

Nicole smiled and took the milk from him.

When their eyes met, there seemed to be sparks colliding.

Nicole hurriedly averted her gaze. 'Lately, Clayton has been trying to seduce me every chance he gets! I can definitely tell!

They arrived at the school.

Nicole looked at this private elite international school. It was beautiful and grand.

This school was extremely low-profile in West City, but everyone in the circle who had some family background wanted to place their children here. Thus, the comprehensive assessment for school admissions was also very strict.

The faculty and environment here were unbeatable.

Of course, the tuition fees were also ridiculously expensive.

It was no surprise that Clayton chose this school.

In the beginning, several teachers met with Clayton individually. He came out after a few words.

Everyone knew who Clayton Sloan was, so they did not even need to inquire about it.

Next was Lil Michael's pre-admission briefing.

Before Clayton sent Lil Michael in, he spoke in a soft tone, "Behave well. If you're not satisfied, we'll go back to Liberty for schooling."

That simple statement instantly dispelled Lil Michael's thoughts of simply making do with the situation.

A father really knew his son best.

Lil Michael was very sad and walked inside with a heavy pace.

Clayton sat next to Nicole, looking relaxed and happy.

"We'll leave in a moment. The nanny will pack up Michael's clothes and send them over."

Nicole was curious. "How are you so sure that he'll like it here?"

Clayton smiled. "He'll like it. He loves learning!"

"What a lie!" Nicole smiled speechlessly while she felt heartbroken for Lil Michael.

"Last night, Lil Michael saw us... Uh... He won't be unhappy, right?"

Nicole knew that Lil Michael liked her a lot, so Nicole was worried that Lil Michael would not be able to accept it if she suddenly went from "Pretty Lady" to "Daddy's girlfriend".

Clayton raised his eyebrows and spoke with certainty.

"Don't worry, he's extraordinarily supportive of us!"

Nicole was speechless for a moment. 'Alright then.

Sure enough, Lil Michael agreed to stay back in the end.

Lil Michael did not look very happy, but he sure was determined!

Chapter 1042 Her Nudes

Clayton sent Nicole back to Stanton Corporation's office.

Nicole was catching up with the postponed meeting.

J&L Corporation's project had reached the closing stage, and there was a major breakthrough

Clayton also started to get busy with a series of procedures for their exhibition in Europe.

Tucker, whom Nicole had placed in J&L Corporation, was transferred back to Stanton Corporation and temporarily assumed the role as an assistant in the finance department.

Logan walked in with some documents. "President, Mr. Lincoln Zelman passed over the latest project progress. Everything went well, but the Zico Company's hired killer's daughter, who had leukemia, just passed away yesterday."

Nicole was silent for a few seconds.

She sighed.

"Forget it, let's turn the page on this matter."

Logan nodded.

Lincoln Zelman's power would not be around for long. The anti-criminal inspection team had started to investigate Lincoln's matter, and there would be results soon.

Nicole was busy all day.

In the evening when Nicole was about to leave work, Logan suddenly rushed in with his iPad.

His face was extremely flustered.

"President, something happened!"

Nicole's expression changed. "What is it?"

'Why is Logan panicking? No matter how bad the situation, we can still count on Grant, right?' Nicole thought.

Logan did not know how to tell Nicole, so he handed over the iPad to her.

(Out-of-fame model Roman exposed his former boss XX Nixon's nudes.)

'XX Nixon? Isn't that Julie Nixon?'

The room was silent for a while.

Nicole took over the iPad in shock. This entertainment news headline was already on the trending topics.

After a period of silence, Roman, who was kicked out from the international fashion circle, rose again and set off huge waves in the entertainment circle that had been relatively calm recently.

Roman not only exposed the chat records of him and Julie, but he also exposed Julie's nudes.

Those photos were taken in various positions, and Julie did not look like she was conscious when those photos were taken.

Although the critical parts were all censored, Nicole could clearly identify the tattoo of the letter "Q" on Julie's ankle.

Only Nicole and Yvette knew of this tattoo because they accompanied Julie to get it.

Nicole suddenly felt a burst of vertigo. Her mind was blank, and her body was unconsciously shivering.

She felt extremely cold.

[Is this an example of casting couch? A lady boss demands sexual favors from a male model. I didn't expect the fashion industry to be so dark.]

[I've always liked Roman. He's clean and pure. He's just humiliated by Ms. Nixon. Roman can no longer mingle in the circle because she kicked him out. That's why Roman retaliated!]

[A man exposing a woman like that is just too overboard!]

[Roman is a drug addict! He can't ever whitewash himself!]

[Perhaps Roman's withdrawal from the circle has been planned by those big bosses. What Roman is trying to say is that the rich b*tch Nixon wanted to dump him after she liked another person. Roman was already in love with the rich b*tch Nixon and didn't want to leave her. As a result, she set him up!]

Most of the comments online were unpleasant to look at. Nicole was furious to see it. She dared not imagine what the prideful Julie would do if she saw these. Would Julie go crazy?

Nicole picked up her phone with trembling hands and called Julie.

After one ring, it was hung up.

Nicole called again, but Julie's phone was turned off.

Nicole was so anxious that she immediately called Dominic.

It took a long time for Dominic to pick up the phone. He sounded so tired.

"You're also calling about the exposed photos on the internet, right? Your third brother was here and almost smashed everything in the office. I've contacted the media platform. They just wanted two days of hype. Seeing that Julie Nixon has no background or power, they didn't want to spend any effort to suppress it..."

Chapter 1043 Kill Him

Nicole was too angry to be rational.

"So, they're just going to let it be? Everyone's scolding Julie now. What did she do wrong?"

Julie only abandoned a vain Roman and made Roman taste his own bitter fruit.

Why should Julie have to face all this?

Dominic sighed.

"I understand, but it has already happened. Even if we withdraw it, it'll be too late. The most important thing is to stop that guy from talking. Your third brother has gone out to find him. I'm now worried if someone will get hurt..."

Nicole's expression changed dramatically. She immediately hung up the phone and ran out.

"Logan, if there's anything, get my big brother to deal with it. Don't contact me if it's not urgent."

Logan replied, "Understood."

He knew that Julie was Nicole's best friend, so at this time, Nicole would never stay out of it.

Nicole called Kai like crazy, but no one answered.

With Kai's temper, he could really beat Roman to death!

She asked Dominic.

"Do you know where Roman is now? Where did my brother go to look for him?"

Dominic replied, "He seems to be in his hometown, Brick County."

Nicole hung up the phone and immediately stepped on the gas pedal. She rushed over as fast as she could.

She was apprehensive and concerned about Julie. She was also worried that Kai would do something stupid.

Nicole wanted to split herself into two.

She then called Yvette.

"Did you go to Julie's place?"

Yvette also panicked. Her tone was anxious.

"You finally called! I was scared to death. I'm on my way there now! I heard that Julie went to the office but was blocked by the media and Roman's fans, so she went home. Everyone was cursing her and saying all kinds of harsh words. I was so angry and scolded them online..."

Nicole's tone was stern. "Never mind the internet. The most important thing is that Julie is fine. Go to her house and watch her."

"You're coming over, right? I'm afraid I can't handle it alone!"

Nicole said, "I have to look for Roman first. Kai also went to find him, so I'm afraid that there will be fatalities. It won't be easy to clean up then."

Yvette panicked for a moment.

"Okay, then let's split up. Go ahead and get Kai to calm down. Leave that bastard Roman's life to me. I'm going to find Julie."

Nicole hung up the phone with a faint "mm".

The half-hour journey was shortened to fifteen minutes.

Roman's detailed address had been sent to Nicole's phone.

Nicole went upstairs according to the address.

The main door was open.

She went in and saw a mess inside the house, as if a fight had just taken place.

The sound of a chair falling came from inside, so Nicole ran toward the noise.

She saw that Roman was being pressed against the window and strangled by Kai. Roman's face was blue and purple as he gasped for breath. Roman even kicked down the chair from his struggle, but to no avail.

Roman struggled and was horrified, while Kai's face was cold, stern, and unwavering.

Kai was going to kill Roman!

The force on Kai's hands was constantly increasing as he wanted to choke Roman to death or throw Roman off the ledge.

They were on the 16th floor, so Roman would certainly die if he fell from here.

Nicole's expression changed as she rushed over.

"Kai!"

She yanked Kai's hand away with great force. The veins on the back of Kai's hand were bulging and well-defined. It was evident that Kai was extremely furious at this time.

Roman sighed in relief and knelt on the ground as he covered his neck and coughed violently.

Kai's eyebrows were cold and depressed. His gaze was gloomy, and his overwhelming emotions sank the instant he saw Nicole.

"Why are you here? Hurry up and leave!"

Nicole's eyes were red.

She could tell that Kai really wanted to get rid of Roman.

Nicole's eyelashes trembled. She paused for a moment. Her voice was very anxious as she said, "Kai, don't be silly. This matter can't be solved like this. If he dies, it'll really be over for Julie!"

Chapter 1044 For the Money

Not to mention that no one would be able to step forward to clarify for Julie, Roman's death might even be blamed on Julie.

When the time comes, Julie would not be able to rid herself of those slanderous allegations.

Kai's eyebrows twitched slightly. His Adam's apple bobbed.

He said in a hoarse voice, "I'll kill him to avenge her!"

Roman's body trembled violently.

When he heard this, Roman cowered in the corner in fear.

Nicole tugged on Kai's arm and stared at his face.

"There's no rush for that. He'll get his comeuppance eventually. Don't get your hands dirty. I'll keep watch here and wait for someone to come and take him away. You should go look for Julie!"

When Kai heard Julie's name, a hint of darkness crossed his eyes.

He could not bear to see this happen to Julie and felt heartbroken.

Kai did not want to leave because he did not want to let the son of a b*tch Roman off the hook so simply.

Nicole tugged on Kai's arm. "Go! Don't let Julie do something stupid!"

Kai's body trembled for a moment as he glanced at Nicole.

His lips turned white.

Compared to killing Roman, Kai wanted even more for Julie to live well.

Kai took a step back without saying a word and suddenly turned around to stride away.

Hearing the sound of the car engine revving below, Nicole was relieved.

Nicole stared at Roman's swollen face. Roman used to look bright and cheerful, but now, he had sunken cheeks. He was so thin that he lost his charm.

She walked over and looked down on him. Her voice was icy cold.

"Judging by your face, you didn't go for drug rehabilitation?"

Roman shuddered and opened his eyes.

Suddenly, he ran to Nicole and knelt down in front of her.

"Ms. Stanton, you're rich, so please lend me some money. I'll definitely pay you back later! What happened to Ms. Nixon was my fault. As long as you give me money, I'll immediately clarify this matter!"

The room was silent for a few seconds.

Nicole's eyes were cold and deadly still as she glared at Roman.

"Just for money?"

Roman hurriedly nodded. "Yeah, it's all for the money. Previously when I asked her for money, she still gave it to me, which means that she still likes me, but recently, she stopped giving me any. I can't even see her. She's obviously rich, but she didn't help me..."

Ah—"

Roman let out a miserable cry and fell on his knees on the side.

Nicole kicked him right in the center of his chest viciously.

She was shaking with anger.

"Help someone like you? Are you even worthy?"

Nicole pointed at Roman. Her voice was cold without a hint of warmth.

"Look at your ghastly appearance! Back then, Julie trained and promoted you. She wanted to make you an international supermodel, but you shot yourself in the foot and still want to drag her down with you?"

Nicole walked over and kicked him in the chest again.

Every pore of Nicole's body wanted to kill Roman.

Nicole finally experienced the urge to kill that Kai felt earlier.

Roman's body trembled as he hugged himself.

It was so painful that he violently gasped for breath. Nicole was not the slightest bit soft-hearted and kept kicking him like she was kicking a dead dog.

She still remembered the first time that Julie introduced Roman to her. Back then. Julie wanted Nicole to bring Roman to the auction.

At that time, Roman's career was still on the rise.

He was optimistic, bright, ambitious, and had a good sense of proportion. He had a bright future.

Nicole did not expect that it was all faked.

When she thought about those things he did to Julie, she really felt the urge to bite him and chew him up.

Roman begged for mercy in pain and agony as his worthless tears flowed down his face. His body was curled up.

"Ms. Stanton, I was wrong..."

Nicole paused for a moment, took out her phone, and started to record a video.

Her voice was cold as she asked, "Those photos... When did you take them?"

Roman shuddered. His eyes were so swollen that he could not open them, so naturally, he did not notice that Nicole was recording a video.

"When we were dating, she wouldn't let me touch her. So, I drugged her, but I didn't touch her! I was afraid that she'd wake up and flip out."

Chapter 1045 Blackmail

Nicole closed her eyes.

No wonder, when Julie broke up with Roman, she did not even know that he had her nudes.

Roman was just a monster in a human body. No one expected him to save this trick up his sleeve.

"I was afraid that she wouldn't want me, so I wanted to have something over her. I warned her about it when I asked her for money, but she didn't listen or believe me... Hahaha..."

Roman grinned, not sure if he wanted to cry or laugh.

Nicole gritted her teeth. She really used a lot of effort to hold back her anger so as not to kill him.

"You cheated on Julie with a top executive for a runway show abroad. To please that woman, you even learned to do drugs, yet you still have the cheek to come back to Julie for her to clean up your mess?!"

Julie helped Roman to pay the penalty for his contract termination, which was already very nice of her.

However, Roman was not satisfied and wanted more, so he harassed Julie again and again.

Since harassment did not work, he began to blackmail her.

Nicole tried hard to control her emotions, then very sensibly called the police.

Since the online public opinion could not be instantly redeemed, they could only rely on the police.

The police's words still had a definitive prestige and effect on the internet.

Not long after, the police came.

Nicole sent a copy of the video to Dominic for backup, then handed it to the police.

She also followed along to the police station.

Before going over, Nicole called Floyd to tell him about the situation.

Floyd agreed and told her not to worry.

Nicole knew that Floyd had contacts, so she wanted to use them at this time.

Besides, this was the truth. Nicole just wanted to ease the process.

In the police station, everyone politely asked about the situation, and Nicole told them all that she knew.

However, she did not mention a word about Kai ever trying to kill Roman.

The police were very experienced and immediately knew that Roman was a drug addict, so they were not so polite to him.

After Nicole's statement was recorded, the chief sent her out.

"Ms. Stanton, thank you for your cooperation."

Nicole smiled politely.

"As I should. I hope that the police will get to the bottom of this sooner so that Ms. Nixon will get her due justice. It's best to post the results of the investigation online to calm the doubts of netizens."

The chief smiled. "Since this involves slander and misinformation, we won't handle it quietly. However, you shouldn't post that video because recording statements under coercion is illegal and invalid."

Nicole understood his good intentions. She only kept the video to show it to Julie.

Moreover, it was indeed not very good to post a video after beating someone up until their face was swollen.

After leaving the police station, Nicole headed straight to Julie's house.

She floored the gas pedal all the way there because she was really anxious.

Many reporters were hiding around Julie's house, trying to get first-hand information.

Thus, Julie's gates were tightly shut.

However, Nicole saw Yvette's car nearby and knew that Yvette must be inside.

Nicole called Yvette. Not long after, Julie's maid ran over and opened the door for Nicole.

The maid's eyes were a little red.

"Ms. Stanton, you're here."

Nicole nodded. "Is Julie okay?"

The maid shook her head.

"No, she didn't eat or drink all day and locked herself in the room. Ms. Quimbey and Mr. Kai are here, but she didn't come out either..."

Nicole took a few quick steps and ran inside.

Yvette's eyes were red as she sat on the sofa. She was cursing those netizens and was so furious that she cried.

Kai returned from Roman's house and had been sitting there since.

It was silent.

The room was very cold.

As soon as Nicole entered, Yvette stood up.

"Julie's in the room. She refused to see us..."
