

Wonder Doctor Read Online Chapter 1

In front of a car wash in Temagami City.

Lin Ran took out the salary he had just been paid and handed it to Zhao Yu.

“Xiao Yu, I love you, this is the salary I’ve just been paid, hand it over to you!”

Lin Ran looked at Zhao Yu expectantly, but the latter took the money, but shook his head disdainfully, followed by a handful of money that was not much in the first place and slammed it in the former’s face.

“Don’t dismiss me with this money, it’s not even three thousand, what can I do with it? Lin Ran, we’re over, I’m not going to waste my youth on a loser like you anymore!”

Boom!

Lin Ran only felt five thunderstorms, his brain went blank.

“Why?” Lin Ran asked eagerly.

“Why? You’re still asking me why? What have you given me in the four years of university? Every day you ate canteen food and drank plain water, and every time you gave me a gift of more than a hundred dollars on New Year’s Day? Even a few days ago, I went to see a movie on my birthday, and it was the cheapest 1D movie, but now it’s 6D, do you understand? You still have the face to ask me why?”

“Xiao Yu, although we are not in a good position now, we are all high achievers, when we finish school everything will be fine as long as we work hard!”

Lin Ran said bitterly.

“Work hard? How long can you work hard enough to buy a $10,000 bag? How long will you be able to afford a $100,000 diamond ring? How long will you work hard enough for me to get on a yacht? A high achiever? I’m still just a poor working man!”

Zhao Yu said and raised the bag in her hand, the ring.

“See? It’s from Brother Wang, just for one night!”

“You and him

Lin Ran feels like his heart is dripping blood at the moment, but he doesn’t want to give up, this is his first love.

“Xiao Yu, give me some time, I can send you too!”

“You’re sending me? I’m afraid it will be difficult in my next life!”

Zhao Yu said disdainfully.

“But Xiaoyu, we have feelings, can’t four years of feelings resist

Lin Ran said in pain, but before he could finish his words, a mocking voice came over.

“What is affection? Can you eat or drink? Can it make you sleep with a beautiful woman in your arms or can it make you feel good on a yacht?”

As the words fell, a young man walked out from the side, and Lin Ran was instantly struck by the fact that the person who came was none other than Wang Qiang.

Wang Qiang was a famous rich young man in Tanjiang City, moreover, he was his classmate, he was famous for being horny, it was said that he had made girlfriends, not a thousand but eight hundred, just before he refueled, most of the women were backwards.

Lin Ran and Zhao Yu had heard of his deeds, but he didn’t expect that his girlfriend, who was very pure in his heart, would be with such a person, how could he accept this?

“Zhao Yu, don’t you know what kind of virtue he has? You’ll regret being with her! For sure you will!”

Lin Ran shouted angrily.

Wang Qiang, however, swept Zhao Yu into his arms, his palm smoothly touching the latter’s waist with a face full of enjoyment.

“Regret? Feelings are bullshit in front of money!”

“When you have money, I’m afraid the earth will be destroyed, and how will you have money? Sell a kidney? Or a prostitute? You don’t have to take a look at yourself, Zhao Yu is blind to be with you!”

“Brother Wang, I’ve already started from scratch!”

Zhao Yu burrowed into Wang Qiang’s arms and twisted her waist, making the former’s heart itch.

“From the beginning? From which head?”

“You’re bad, Brother Wang!”

Zhao Yu said shyly.

Lin Ran's entire face turned red, his fists clenched in anger in his heart.

Wang Qiang gave him a disdainful look and teased.

"I forgot to tell you, this car is also mine, pick the stones clean for me or I won't pay a cent!"

Lin Ran looked at a Porsche hanging in mid-air next to him, his heart incomparably sour.

"Let's go!"

Wang Qiang wrapped his arms around Zhao Yu and left with a smile.

"Zhao Yu! You will regret this, I will make you regret this! One day I'll make you kneel at my feet and repent for what you've done!"

Lin Ran slammed his fist on the tyre of the car next to him, rushing to turn his head back and continue his work.

But no one noticed that just as he was getting under the car, Wang Qiang in the distance was giving a wink to a yellow-haired young man next to the car wash.

The yellow-haired young man immediately got up and walked over to the car wash and flicked a switch.

"Bang!"

The Porsche, which was hanging, suddenly smashed down, filling with dust and splattering blood.

"Fight with me! I'll make you die without even knowing how!"

"Blame it on you for having a good time with Zhao Yu, Laozi's woman, even if she's an ex, Laozi won't let you go!"

Across the road, Wang Qiang lit a cigarette with satisfaction, gave Zhao Yu a fierce kiss on the cheek, then drove away.

Not long after, Lin Ran was finally pulled out from under the car, at this time his whole body was broken in many places, covered with blood, and in a deep coma.

In a haze, Lin Ran found himself in a strange space, surrounded by flames that were blazing hot.

Suddenly, a voice exploded violently in Lin Ran's mind.

"My descendant, if you can enter this Xuan Yang space, it means that you are destined to me and can inherit my mantle, remember! In the future, you must be gracious to the world and good to others with your medicine, you must not bury the prestige of my Nine Heavenly Mystical Maiden!"

As the mysterious and ancient voice rang out, a piece of golden silk hovered in Lin Ran's mind, this piece of silk was glowing with golden light, and at a glance, it was ancient and vicissitudes, giving people a strong sense of weight.

On top of the pallet, four large characters were engraved in strong, majestic and exquisite brush strokes: "Xuan Yang Pharmacopoeia".

Lin Ran was unconsciously drawn to these four words and fixed his eyes on them.

Immediately, the four words glowed brightly, and then a scene of images appeared, including the practice of medicine, medicine identification, acupuncture, moxibustion and massage, subduing demons and subduing devils, charms and incantations, and geomancy

For a moment, Lin Ran felt like he had lived for thousands of years, experiencing all the scenes on these images, and his entire aura began to become vicissitudes and heavy.

"This medicine dictionary, the full name of which is the Nine Heavens Xuan Yang Medicine Dictionary, is actually a divine object passed down from the Nine Heavens Xuan Nui in ancient mythology. Moreover, it's also a Daoist cultivation method!"

Lin Ran's heart stirred and he understood that he had stumbled upon a treasure, so he immediately sat down on his knees and began to meditate according to the method of the Xuan Yang Pill Canon.

It didn't take long before he felt a stream of heat gushing out of his dantian, and the heat flowed through his whole body, making him feel comfortable and the fatigue he felt was gone.

Lin Ran's heart was overjoyed and he was sure that all this was not a dream but was real. In his heart, he vowed that he would follow the teachings, be gracious to the world and be good to others with medicine, and at the same time, he would return all the insults he had received this time.

When he thought of this, Lin Ran opened his eyes with a jerk and realised that he was actually in a hospital room, thinking that someone from the car wash had brought him here.

Just as Lin Ran was about to get out of bed and leave.

"A young doctor in a white coat walked in and scolded Lin Ran when he saw him.

“Who told you to get out of bed, lie back down!”
